Cotton Plaids Are Picked for 1950-51

MAGIC nylons, silky synthetic fabrics and eye-catching rayon blends all have their place in the modern fashion world but for all around usefulness, old-fashioned Dame Cotton still holds her place in Milady's limelight.

And so small wonder that the all-cotton wardrobes displayed by the National Cotton Council in New York have been fetching "ohs" and "ahs" from fashion fans everywhere.

"Scotch, please," seemed to be the request of the NCC pattern creators when they designed the chic scoop-neckline dress at right, for their 1950-51 collection of winter fashion pieces.

Featuring a reversible tuxedo coat with black velveteen on one side that contrasts pleasingly with the Galey and Lord's metallic-striped plaid on the reverse side (right), the dress is ideal for "after dark" occasions requiring sophisticated glamor.

Scotch plaid patterns are twice-blessed choices in that they can be used in both cocktail costumes and casual "around the house"

Furthermore, pleasing cotton plaids can be obtained with warm colors that will ward off Old Man Winter's cold breath at notch-thrifty prices.

Ohio produces 17,000,000 tons of limestone annually.

The Plaid Fad

Checking Attendance Record Adds Variety To Teacher's Job

By Myron T. Seifert

Globe trotter, cheerleader, carpenter and pedagogue best describes social science instructor Harold Washburn, book exchange supervisor at West Senior High School and Evening High, respectively.

At day school he is confidant and counselor of the boys at West High School, in addition to his teaching chores. In charge of boys' attendance, he is frequently brought into contact with many boys who need valuable counsel and advice. He serves as co-ordinator of youth problems, as related to the school and the home. In a position to guide erring youth, students of many years standing thank Mr. Washburn for his suggestions and help.

Using a psychological approach the attendance man at West High attempts to understand the underlying motives of the boy's behavior and makes constructive suggestions in helping the boy help himself.

Not only the boys who have violated school rules (cut school, for example) are counseled by Washburn, but those who are good students, sound in character, are invited to his office (some go voluntarily) for guidance.

When Johnny is absent it is the duty of Washburn to call his home and ascertain the reason. Many and varied are the reasons why students are not in school, and his records are filled with a multiplicity of them — many bona fide, others perhaps a bit naive, if not amusing.

Varsity cheerleader during his college years at Ohio State, the peppy pedagogue shows the same spirit in his school work.

In 1933 he made five ocean voyages to Europe, visiting many countries.

The following year he added two more voyages to Europe and China, and in 1935 made a cruise of the Mediterranean. He served as ship steward on these trips.

In his travels abroad, Washburn learned at first hand many of the ideas that supplement his teachings. His experiences there, he avers, are invaluable.

Most amusing among his memoirs is the story he likes to tell concerning his detention (not school detention) on his Mediterranean cruise.

His boat, he relates, was anchored near the Baleric Islands, two miles from shore. Donning his swimming trunks, he swam ashore, and while there decided to do some sightseeing from that vantage point. It wasn't long, however, until a policeman picked him up and hurried him to headquarters where he was charged with wearing scanty clothing.

The chief of police read him the law in the native tongue, and, unable to understand the English language of Mr. Washburn, the "gendarme" was unable to "ungarble" Mr. Washburn's explanation of his swimming togs.

Both finally settled on French and Washburn's explanation in French as to his mode of dress, which was the accepted style in his home town, Atlantic City, gained him his freedom. He was released and swam to his boat, just five minutes before sailing time.

Total log of Washburn's ocean travels covered more than 140,000 nautical miles, where he visited 20 countries and five continents.

In day school he dispenses more than 7,000 books to students each semester; in evening school he is guardian of 3600 school volumes which he issues at the beginning of the term, and receives again at the close of the school session.

Two summers ago he built his own home at 189 Nottingham-rd, where he now lives with Mrs. Washburn and their four children.

The largest sandstone quarry in the world is at South Amherst, Ohio. It measures more than one mile around its edge.

BIBLE COMMENT

Worry Can Only Be Banished by Attaining Faith

WHAT sort of life is ours going to be?

To those constantly tormented by this question, I should like to point out that no life can be strong that is marked by doubt, distrust and incessant worry.

"Yet faith is not always easy and we would be less than human if we did not worry when things go wrong. The attainment of deep abiding faith is no small accomplishment. Without spiritual strength, undesirable situations are apt to depress and conquer us.

The teachings and life of Jesus offer us a means of meeting life's problems cheerfully. According to Jesus, our life will be what we make it. Love will make rough roads smoother. Humility will increase our stature. Charity, will provide us with an opportunity to learn, through aiding others in the solution of their problems, more about meeting our own misfor-

We must take these teachings of Jesus to heart if we are to learn to live above worry. And we must also put these teachings into action.

Compare the lives of the many church members who go to church when they feel like it with the life of the real Christian who has made the service of God and his fellowmen the supreme thing in his life and not a matter dependent upon mood, whim and convenience.

Every age and situation needs those who will serve and love. And only those whose beliefs take concrete form in action, such as churchgoing, will find themselves equipped to meet the challenge of everyday life with faith, strength and an unshakeable belief in God.

Television Increases Home Interest, According To Poll

Forty per cent of the homes of West High students own their own television sets, a recent survey at the Hilltop School shows; and an additional 15 per cent make haste to friends' and neighbors' homes to see the telecasts at regular intervals.

Television to 65 per cent of the Hilltop teen-agers is a common daily experience, and an important factor in the lives of busy youth.

Most significant fact, perhaps, learned in the video poll, is the transition of interest to the home where television is seen. Two-thirds of the students who cast their votes said they stay home more now since they have TV.

Few students, however, find more time for leisurely reading. TV takes more of their time now with the advent of the new invention.

Attendance at sports events, card games, outdoor play have not been substantially changed, the young set at West High aver. Study habits and hours for home work do not vary materially with the pre-television days.

Supper to most of us (dinner to others) remains pretty much at the same hour, the students said. Comparatively few eat their evening meal with the TV dial on. More students do their home work in study periods at school, and fewer than before do their home work after supper at home.

Parents, it is learned, have little to do with the type of program seen by Hilltop teen-agers (so they say) and students are permitted largely to select their own programs.

Surprisingly enough, approximately one-half the student-body polled devote more than three hours daily to video.

Comedies command top spot in choice of programs. Other popular types follow in this order: mystery, music, sports, drama and news. The majority say that TV implements their interest in sports.

Most common criticism of the telecast is "too many commercials" and "too many old movies".

Almost half of the teen-age TV fans listen to radio the same evening, proving that the double feature is not confined exclusively to [illegible].

Most students prefer to have radio off during their study period at home; however, about 40 per cent said it was a "must" to study. Two-thirds of the students have a radio in their study rooms at home, and one-third of the student body has its own private study room.

One-half of the students polled indicate that they listen more than three hours daily to the radio. In addition to TV and radio, one-half the West High students attend movies at least once weekly. Like television, comedies are first choice of radio programs.

Radio programs preferred by the younger set are Bob Hope, Red Skelton, Aldrich Family, Talent Scouts, Bing Crosby and Fibber McGee, etc., in the order named.

Milton Berle is the favored TV character, with Arthur Godfrey crowding Berle for the top rung. Wrestling takes third spot.

Complete tabulation of results shows the pattern of voting at West High School, as follows: RADIO: Counterspy, 334 votes; FBI, 569; Guy Lombardo, 449; Aldrich Family, 689; Mr. Keen, 477; Father Knows Best, 308; Sports for All, 218; Crime Photographer, 617; Duffy's Tavern, 286; Supper Club, 266; Dragnet, 241; Lone Ranger, 479; Can You Top This?, 190; Dr. I. West High Students Becoming Adept As Stage Property Crew

They set the stage at West High School for every show — both literally and figuratively.

Sixteen boy members of Mrs. Evelyn Hall's stage crew, at the Hilltop school, are indispensable to the success of every type of program presented there.

Theirs is the responsibility for seeing that necessary properties are obtained for the theatrical productions of all programs, and place them on the set to best advantage.

Timing in changing the scenery, as well as the expediency needed in the work, is an important duty which adds to the effectiveness of this program.

On hand for every school and community project staged in West's High's auditorium, the energetic crew, as the various school and civic groups can tell you, make possible all of the fine exhibitions at the Hilltop school.

Adept at every sort of maintenance the boys often build necessary scenery. The custom-made scenery has elicited many complimentary remarks.

Lighting and sound effects, so important in any production, are managed by these boys. By the time they have finished their stage training they become almost past-masters in doing theatrical properties.

Starlet Explains Make-Up Magic

Applying her favorite cake with a brush, Miss Roman will next brush on powder, then pat her face with a cold damp sponge.

GIRLS who compare their own slapped-together looking make-up with the smooth, finished appearance of movie stars often wonder what tricks they use to achieve this perfection.

Ruth Roman, well-known film actress, reveals a few of her dressing-table secrets in these tips on applying cosmetics.

For that "portrait look," she borrows a painter's technique, brushing on her make-up.

To apply rouge in this way, she touches the bristles of a soft brush to a cake of the shade best suited to her complexion and costume, and then gently strokes her cheeks with the brush until the color is well-blended.

In the same way, she applies dry powder, using another soft brush reserved for just that purpose. Care should be taken, she warns, to avoid caking powder in your hairline.

After applying lipstick, she finishes her make-up job by patting her face all over with a cold, damp sponge. She prepares the sponge for this fresh-up task by dipping it in ice water and then squeezing it well to eliminate extra moisture.

A small bowl of water is standard dressing-table equipment for Ruth. She finds it particularly useful when she is applying eye make-up. A small, slightly-moistened cotton swab is excellent, she finds, for removing smudges of mascara.

To remove mascara smudge, the Warner Bros. starlet finds that a small, slightly moistened cotton swab stick will do nicely.

Camp Chase Post News

By John Martindale

Armistice Day may mean one thing to you but it may mean something entirely different to your neighbor. It's meaning may be influenced by just how many winters we have struggled through. To those of youth and vigar, Armistice Day may be only a date in the history books. To those who knew World War II at its worst the Nov. 11 date is closely allied with and somewhat overshadowed by V-E and V-J Days. Yes, the meaning of Armistice Day, to those in these two groups, is somewhat vague.

Armistice Day to those of World War I days each year brings with it a flood of memories, memories so real that some are even yet like a nightmare. Those were cruel winters in '17 and '18 both at home and "over there." Screams and shouts of relief came from the throats of the folks, here at home, when on Nov. 11, 1918, the signing of the Armistice was announced. The boys would soon be home, rationing would end and no more pain for war wrecked bodies of loved ones and no more grief would come to families by means of those ominous messages from Washington because this was the war to end wars. To those in the camps, on the seas and "over there" the armistice brought many reactions, to many great joy, to some a numb wonder of uncertainty . . . at least the fighting stopped.

Since that memorable day Armistice Day brought an added meaning with each coming year, to the veterans of World War I, and their families. They so soon found that the job wasn't finished and they would have to fight on and on. The veterans organizations which each year celebrate and seek to perpetuate Armistice Day came into being because the men and women of that Great War banded together to complete their job.

That's the way the American Legion got it's start.

You may have heard that the National Convention at Los Angeles voted to make Legion membership possible for those in the armed forces in this Korean conflict. There will be a delay before they can join however as Congress must amend the Act of Incorporation of the American Legion to provide for their becoming members.

All members of the Camp Chase Post are urged to take part in the Armistice Day parade. The Legion will form on E. Fulton-st between High and Third-sts, and the parade will start at 10:30 a. m.

Next Saturday afternoon and evening the post will hold "open house" (stag only).

In 1863 while an exile in Canada, the "Copperhead," Clement L. Vallandigham of Dayton, ran for governor of Ohio on the Democratic ticket.

Former Hilltop Pastor Is Featured Speaker At Father-Son Banquet

Rev. C. P. Mitchell

Rev. C. P. Mitchell, pastor of First Lutheran Church of Mansfield and former pastor of Hilltop Lutheran Church, will be the speaker at the annual father-son banquet of the Hilltop Church at 6:30 p. m. Friday in the church.

The banquet is sponsored by the church brotherhood.

E. T. Stone, teacher at West High School, will present a magic program.

In 1825 the Ohio legislature earmarked one-half mill out of every tax dollar for education.

Prince Of Peace Cotest To Be Held Today

The Prince of Peace contest, sponsored each year by the Ohio Council of Churches, promotes peace throughout the world.

The local contest will be held today, the county, Dec. 3; the district, Jan. 7; he state, Jan. 29.

Any student wishing to compete should get in touch with his minister, who will obtain the necessary information by contacting the Ohio Council of Churches.

Several speeches are offered, and each pupil may choose the one he prefers to deliver. The speeches must be memorized and given before a church congregation. The speeches are usually ten minutes long.

In the first contest each person gives his speech in his own church. Winners are notified as to the church in which the second contest will be held.

Speeches are judged by manner of speech presentation, feeling, and memorization.

Winners in the first contest are awarded medals, and in the final contest, scholarships and trips.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

DO YOU KNOW . . .

That the newest baby of the Hi-Ridgers is the son of MR. AND MRS. ELMER MILLER born last Friday? He's as good as gold.

That MRS. VINCENT won a TV set through a Folger Coffee agent? So ladies, don't hide when you hear someone knocking at your door. Maybe you'll win a million dollars. Who knows?

That BOB SHERMAN'S son HARRY and JOHN HYER who lives on Mound-st, are the future artists of Columbus? They were both prize winners in the Hallowe'en paint jobs in store windows. They both did some pretty neat work. Congratulations.

That the PAUL GREENOS have a new TV set? It hasn't affected the missus' cantasta playing at all. She's all for playing cards.

That MRS. FRANK SHEA is recovering from an eye irritation caused from watching her television too closely. She can't fool us. We know she's been winking at Godfrey all along.

That we neighbors are all going to a party next Wednesday at the American Legion Post, the pink building near Wheatland at 2322 Sullivant-av? We're going to have nothing but fun from now on. All you new and old neighbors who like to eat and play cards, come to our free for all party. For info on this call MR. RUMFIELD on Butler-av, or ask any of your neighbors. Come and meet me, too. I can't possibly know everyone. So this is our chance to become acquainted. We'll even plan dances. Doesn't that sound like fun?

That MRS. L. L. WARD held her church social last week? She always looks forward to entertaining, and she's quite a success at it.

That we Hi-Ridgers should be proud of ourselves? Here it is November and our flowers are still handsomely holding up their heads and nodding at the frost. We could give honorable mention to about 30 people especially, who've gone all out for fall flowers. However we don't have the space for all the names, so we'll just drop around and distribute $100 or so to the individuals. We're kidding, of course.

That P. K. Murnane says, "We dare them all"? He jokingly tried the Phillip Morris test at a neighborhood party and after doing everything he shouldn't have done such as "inhaling", "sputtering," and "blowing rings through his nose," P. K. forgot which cigarette really burned his nostrils. They'd never put him on TV. That's a sure thing.

That ANN McWILLIAMS bought three pairs of shoes last week all for her very own self? One pair was house slippers — but still!!! She said she needed them, so why shouldn't she? We're glad we don't need ration cards these days, anyhow.

Well folks, this winds up the gab session for the week. Don't forget the party on Nov. 15. Come and get my autograph!

It Costs . . .

To Outfit Cowboy Band

It costs a pretty penny to outfit the West High pigskin fashion plate — including squad rope twirlers and marching band—that has added many hours of entertainment to the life of an otherwise dull Friday night to Hilltoppers' nocturnal life.

The well-dressed Cowboy football attire costs $128.90 per head, Coach Mack Pemberton advised. Sixty boys are outfitted at a cost of $7,734, he said.

Equipment of the marching band, exclusive of instruments played, averages $56.75 per capita. The famous music makers' outfits cost $4620 for the senior high band; Junior High members buy their own equipment.

Itemizing the musicians' equipment, the figures read as follows: megaphone, 50c; uniform, $60; plume, $2; spats, $2.25; lights, $1.25; gloves, 75c.

Rope twirlers sport an $18 outfit to amuse the crowd with their rope antics.

That football hero must of necessity have an expensive look.

When the flashy "Cowboy" dons his complete outfit and flashes his wares before the thousands of enthusiastic spectators on Magly Field — or elsewhere — you not only see an animated physical figure of approximately 196 pounds of action (grossing almost a ton of flesh for the 11 players) but a well-groomed colorful aggregation of the best-looking football players in the country, bedecked with togs that would make any community proud.

With a down-pour of rain or snow, there comes a dearth of mud blemishes and if the togs are too soiled, they are immediately sent to a local dry cleaner for renovation and pull into circulation for the next game.

Broken down, individual football player's wardrobe reads, helmet, $16; jersey, $14; pants, $30; belt, 80c; sweat socks, 75c; T-shirt, 90c; supporter, $1.25; shoulder pads, $13; hip pads, $11; thigh pads, $2.20; tape, 20 rolls at $3.65; hooded coat, $20; shoes, $15.75; and cleats, $1.50.

Mrs. Paul Royer, 311 Pasadena-av, entertained with a delicious spaghetti dinner Thursday, in honor of Mrs. John Phillips of Salt Lake City. Other guests present were Mrs. Glenn Stoody, 293 Pasadena-av; Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, 318 Lenox-av; Mrs. A. Amicon of Grandview; Mrs. S. Andrews of Millersport, and Mrs. Bob Layton of Columbus. Mrs. Phillips is the mother of Mrs. Glenn Stoody.

WEST BROAD SCHOOL NEWS

Last Thursday we went on a trip to the State Capitol Building. Mr. Maher was our guide. We visited the Senate and House of Representative halls. We heard three fine lectures. We enjoyed sitting at the desks of the representatives. Then we went into the governor's private office. Betty Carson got to sit in Governor Lausche's chair. After this there was a visit to the beautiful reception room. Our visit has brought about an interest in different kinds of architecture. Groups are working on this for our display during open house.

Sharon Washburn

Holly Hunt's father, Walter Hunt, is bringing his band to the Deshler next week. Our class enjoyed listening to some of his records during a music period. We like to hear Holly play the piano.

Betty Carson

The boys and girls in the third grade in Room 3 are making a study of building materials, glass and plastics. The children have listed, in the form of questions, the things they want to find out about these subjects. They will be doing both individual and group research to find the answers. The class as a whole has been gathering materials to use in their study. They wrote a business letter, and six letters were chosen to be sent away to the glass and plastic companies. Answers have been coming back and the children are very much interested.

As this unit of study goes forward, basic understandings of human relationships are being learned. The children are learning to cooperate as a group and as individuals. They are learning to respect jobs and the people who do them. They are finding that the world must cooperate as a whole, since progress can advance in no other way.

Film strips, library books, pictures, plus the material from the glass and plastics companies are being used in the classroom.

Later, group projects will be started, and perhaps a field trip will be arranged as a culminating activity.

"I found a way to build a world of love for our children"
says
Maureen O'Sullivan
famous movie star and wife of director John Farrow

Photographed for May I VOGUE?
"These are my children—Michael, Patrick, Maria, John, Prudence, and Stephanie."

"In some homes, children say their prayers at their mother's bedside. In our home, my mother said her prayers at my bedside. She was a deeply religious woman. She took me to church every Sunday. And she never tired of telling me that the happiest of all women is the one who has discovered the Kingdom within. Certainly my mother's 'lovingness' and firm sweetness showed she had discovered the Kingdom within. She had strength and peace of heart that made her glow with happiness. Even strangers quickly saw it. And she used to say: 'If you know right from wrong . . . if you learn to taste the joy—and the discipline—of knowing God, you will know love and happiness all your life.'

"This is what we are trying to give our children—almost from the time they are able to walk. So when our friends say they are thinking of not sending their children to church until they are old enough to understand and make up their own minds, John and I cannot agree with them.

"How else will a growing child acquire the strong sense of moral right and wrong that will lead him to happiness? Only our churches can teach him.

"John and I honestly feel that even with our strong religious backgrounds, there are still many questions of right and wrong that perplex us. (And as every parent knows, there are many—not only those that arise in the home, but also from neighbors, schools, clubs.) And especially with moral values fluctuating as they are doing in the world today, we want our children to have the guidance and fortitude that only the Church can give them. We know it ourselves. And how incalculably it has helped us!"

take your problems to Church this week millions leave them there!

Early Days Of Hilltop Settlement Varied Greatly With Today's Modernity

When we daily walk along our present main thoroughfare, W. Broad-st, and look upon the numerous busses, automobiles and trucks that give it life today, we can hardly realize that more than 100 years ago the real life of that highway—then the National Road was its numerous stage and mail coaches, freighters, etc., with the sound of their rattling wheels accompanied by the cracking whip, or echoing horns of their cheery drivers as they drove their steeds over this line between Columbus and the West.

Just fancy a journey over this road, say back in the early forties. How many persons the traveler met! How many interesting and instructive conversations were held with fellow travelers along this journey, and persons of note that one met.

In the old coaching days along this road the passenger and mail coaches were operated similar to our present railway service. Large companies owned and operated different lines, and at times competition was very keen between these companies, both in fare cutting and speed between Columbus and other points. One of the lines operating over this road west of Columbus was known as the Ohio National Stage Co.; another was Neil, Moore & Co.; both of which were Columbus companies.

Those old stage coaches were very handsome in their day, painted and decorated inside and out, with a capacity of about a dozen persons, including the seat beside the driver high up in front, which was an enviable one in good weather. The coach rested on thick, wide leather straps which served as springs, and gave it a sort of "rocking" motion as the high rear wheels traveled over the road. The baggage was carried on the rear end. Ten miles an hour was an ordinary rate of speed for these coaches. But as competition between lines was keen, the driver was often urged to go the speed limit.

There was one line which advertised as "leaving Columbus daily, for Cincinnati, at 8 a. m., and through in 36 hours, with a stopover of six hours at Springfield."

Traveling after night was somewhat dangerous, especially through hilly country, when a misstep might cause an accident, besides the four or six horses could not be controlled as easily going down steep grades or sharp curves at night.

The U. S. mail was carried by contract with the government, similar to the railroads today. There were fast mail lines and way mail lines, also separate stages carrying such mail as newspapers, etc. Some would think with our fast mail trains of today that the stagecoach mail was carried at a snail's pace in comparison, but when we learn that it was carried from Columbus to Indianapolis in 20 hours, and to St. Louis in 40 hours, we come to the conclusion that it was not so slow after all.

Passengers traveling on the coaches would buy their tickets at the beginning of the entire journey. When coaches came to a toll gate—which was about 10 miles from its preceding one—the toll gate keeper counted the passengers and kept a strict account of the same, and the stage companies settled with the authorities.

One of these toll gates was located on the Hilltop and stood in its later days a little west of the corner where N. Wheatland-av and W. Broad-st are now located. It has been moved at various times.

Coming west from there on the National Pike (Broad-st) you approached Franklinton, by which name that locality was then known—but no railroads.

If you were on the market for a marriage license, or wished to transact some legal business, maybe you stopped at the old Franklin County Court House, which stood where the Franklinton School now stands, at the northeast corner of Broad and Sandusky. Continuing west past the convent grounds, with a few houses along the way, you were in the country with farms on both sides of the road.

On reaching the foot of the hill which was considerably steeper than at present one could see, by looking closely, the old log house that stood on the top of that knoll on the north side of the road and east of the main drive into the State Hospital grounds. It was occupied by Andrew Stierhof, the hostler and handyman for hospital officials.

To the west of the driveway and south of the main entrance of the main hospital building, which was being constructed, stood a double frame house which now stands on the back end of the lot between Whitethorne and Belvidere, on the south side of Broad.

The territory between these two avenues at that time was occupied by a brick manufacturing concern, engaged in burning brick for the new hospital building.

Opposite this, on the north side of the road, was built a temporary structure for housing the workmen employed on the building. It extended east and west along the road, with a bar in one end of it. It was called "Kramer's Boarding House," and, as could be imagined, was a pretty lively place, especially after working hours. The partitions dividing the sleeping rooms, which were wooden, were only about six feet high, offering temptations to the occupants for landing an old boot or a pumpkin or cabbage onto the bed of his sleeping neighbor; or, if short on "AA" smoking or chewing tobacco, it was easy going "over the top" when the coast was clear.

A story is told of two tramps who appeared there one day with a bundle of men's socks of the "salt and pepper" variety prevalent in those days, which they tried to exchange for a supply of the "oh, be joyful" at the bar. The boarders put up a scheme on them. Herman Michaelis, now deceased, who had previously served as constable in Marietta, pronounced them under arrest, and, turning to the bar keeper with a request for his rig as a conveyance to haul them to jail, purposely gave them a chance to run, which they did, and the gang followed them, showering them with bricks and stones over the hill to the hollow now used as a ball ground, nearly to the river, after which they returned and divided up the socks.

Next morning some children on their way to school ran a ground squirrel under the stone curbing of the old well that stood about where Midland-av comes out, and there found another bundle of socks.

Local Ministers Carry Campaign Message To Kiwanis Club

Meeting with the Hilltop Kiwanis Club last week at its regular Thursday noon-day luncheon were many ministers of the Hilltop Community carrying to the service organization their message of "Religion in American Life." Purpose of the current campaign by local and other ministerial groups is to emphasize the importance of all religious institutions as the foundation of American life and to urge all Americans to attend and support the church or synagogue of their individual choice. Particular emphasis was given to the slogan "Take your problems to the church this week . . . millions leave them there." Chairman in charge of the meeting with the Kiwanians was Bob Cramer. Pastors attending the meeting were Rev. Carl Smith, Rev. Chester Stanley, Rev. R. S. Parr, Rev. A. L. Roth, Rev. A. J. Wold and Rev. Herold Dutt.

West High Junior Achievement Groups Lead All City Schools

By Myron T. Seifert

West High students, 84 strong in number, lead all high schools in the city, in promoting Columbus' newest industry, Junior Achievement of Columbus, Inc., with headquarters at 79 N. Third-st, Lee Edwards, executive director, said today.

Edwards, together with sponsoring business men and a teenage speaker, presented the Junior Achievement idea to Columbus West High students recently.

Each company is chartered under Junior Achievement Inc. To get starting capital of $100 to $300, the students sell stock at 50 cents a share and a five-share-to-a-person maximum.

The 30 companies, in which the 84 West High teenagers have a part, follow this pattern:

Achievers Company, sponsored by Columbus Coated Fabrics Corporation, producing novelty items. Student personnel, Tid Biddison.

Jacco, sponsored by Franklin Glue Co. Product, "Kleen-Air." Nancy De Shator, Gail Hinton, Bill Maxwell, Lester Tarbett and John Neff.

General Metals Co., sponsored by Fernstedt Division of General Motors Corp. Product, metal coasters. Personnel, Floyd Foster, Joan Lannon, Richard Kain, Tom Irwin, Dick Ivanhoff, Gene Rigsby and Lugene Spangler.

J. A. Radio Prod. Co., sponsored by Radio Ohio, Inc., production of variety show. Personnel, Jerry Witherspoon, Skip Balthaser, Shirley Rein, and Janet Simms.

Petite Plastic Products, sponsored by Ohio Fuel Gas Co. Product, plastic novelties. Personnel, Carol Perry.

New City-Wide Street And Sewer Program Includes Local Projects

A city-wide program to add $300,000 worth of street projects to the already huge $2 million program for 1951 was launched this week by Columbus City Council.

The lawmakers approved a $1,279,000 expenditure to relieve surface and basement flooding during heavy rains, in addition to a schedule for resurfacing 24 major city thoroughfares.

The legislation was introduced by Chief Engineer Orris Bonney of the Division of Sewers and Drains, and Robert F. Werner, city engineer.

Werner's 1951 program already calls for building 35 new streets and 10 concrete alleys, and resurfacing 14 streets. Orris said the sewer improvements will be the first such program in 35 years, and will constitute the first major sewer program of its kind in Columbus since the WPA projects of [illegible].

"We may as well invest the money we have right now. There's no use waiting," said Werner. "Our objective is to catch up with the city's rapid growth and then keep pace, and we intend to."

The bulk of the sewer projects will be located on the lower West Side. Relief sewers, closing of the Hardesty and Dry Run ditches, and manhole repairs will require the major expenditures. Another $100,000 will go into sewer rebuilding.

Lower West Side relief sewers will be included in the three projects ready for bidding at an estimated total cost of $180,000. Miscellaneous sewer work in the East-Central area, along Westgate and in Westgate Park, is now under way. Cost is set at $130,000.

The list of street improvements includes Greenlawn-av, Scioto River to Harmon-av; Sullivant-av, McDowell-st to Central-av, and Central-av to Hague-av; and Town-st, Sandusky-st to Central-av.

Police found a small empty bottle, apparently once containing headache tablets, on a table beside the bed where the body was found. Miss Smith left a suicide note saying she was taking her own life because of the strain and pressure of her work.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, coroner, performed an autopsy on the body, but said results were "negative." He withheld a verdict in the case pending a toxicologist's report on the contents of the victim's stomach. Funeral arrangements are being completed at the Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

McKinley Dump Question Creates Controversy Between City, County

City Asks Health Board To Close Area; Brands Site As A Nuisance

The city of Columbus declared war on the McKinley-av dumps this week, and the county health department countered with a blast of its own.

The campaign started with a diplomatic letter from City Smoke Engineer Harry C. Ballman to Franklin County Health Commissioner H. C. Mitchell to take the necessary steps to eliminate the dump area.

If that fails, the offensive probably will turn into a bombardment of West Side, Hilltop and Westgate signatures, and perhaps from Valleyview and Grandview.

The McKinley-av dumps have been burning many years. In the fall, when winds are frequently from the north and northwest, the entire West Side is engulfed by the noxious smoke.

In the spring and summer, when winds blow more frequently from the south and southwest, the West Side gets a breather and Grandview takes a dose of the smoke.

The dumps are located near the planned new extension to U. S. Route 40, and many citizens complain that the dumps will cause an unpleasant eyesore to motorists driving along the highway.

Ballman's letter, reviewing past talks with county officials, said: "The City of Columbus, through my office, is requesting that you . . . take the necessary steps to cause the nuisance of smoke, fumes and odors whose source has been found to be open dump fires along McKinley-av to be abated.

"It is our understanding that your division of county government in conjunction with the Prosecutor's Office has the necessary authority to eliminate conditions about which we have received so many complaints.

"It is only reasonable that the citizens of Columbus should be protected against this continued nuisance and you are here petitioned to use your good office in effecting the necessary relief."

Asked how he would answer Ballman's letter, Dr. Mitchell said that he was not yet sure, but he posed a question. "Ask the city what they are going to do about their dump."

Mitchell in asking his question referred to blast directed at the city Tuesday by county Health Inspector Howard Reynolds, who said that if two private dumps west of the NYC railway are closed, a city-operated dump in the same location will also be closed.

"If we close one of them, we'll close them all," he asserted.

Reynolds also revealed that a temporary restraining order was granted May 25, against Charles E. Henry, 1994 McKinley-av, operator of one of the private dumps. It was not enforced, Reynolds said, because a $100 bond requested by the court was not posted by the West Side residents who brought the action.

Reynolds said that if the bond is put up that the county health department will close Henry's dump. But in justice to Henry, he added, the health department would also close the other two.

There were indications that further preparations were being made to continue to fight, if necessary. Lists of West Side civic associations, service and business groups, and women's clubs were being compiled at City Hall as potential sponsors of petitions. Possible future alliances with Grandview and Valleyview were also discussed.

The strategy developed as the result of the successful anti-nuisance work by the County Health Department on a dump near North Linden several years ago, and recently in Alum Creek-dr., where the sheriff's office lent a hand in dynamiting a fire ordered extinguished.

Two Local Men Narrowly Avert Death In Crash

West Board School News

W. BROAD SCHOOL NEWS Is OPEN HOUSE

More than the usual significance will be attached to the "Open House" to be held at West Broad St. School Thursday evening, Nov. 16, for on this occasion, Miss Matilda Stuart and her faculty will welcome parents and friends to rooms and halls beautifully redecorated and equipped with modern lighting facilities.

There will be a display of the children's work in the various rooms from kindergarten through the sixth grades. During these past weeks each child has been carefully assembling his own special displays of work for the eyes of the two whose approval he values most, Mom and Dad.

The theme of this month of Thanksgiving is carried out in the pictures displayed on the walls of the first floor hall. These drawings, beautifully done with colored chalks and crayons illustrate three familiar hymns.

The fifth and sixth graders prepared the illustrations for the inspiring "America the Beautiful;" the third and fourth grades chose "Three Hundred Years Ago," while the pictures for the lovely hymn "A Child's Thanksgiving" were drawn by the first and second grades.

From 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock the teachers will be in their classrooms to welcome parents. At 8:15 all will gathey in the auditorium for the general meeting.

Rev. A. J. Wold, pastor of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church will give the invocation. The speaker of the evening will be Mrs. W. W. Miller, assistant superintendent, in charge of elementary schools in Columbus.

Audio-Visual Work

Increased use is being made of audo-visual materials at West Broad School this year. The PTA recently presented the school with a fine filmstrip and slide projector. This has proved to be a valuable teaching aid and is receiving frequent use at all grade levels. The teachers have contributed room funds for the purchase of filmstrips and slides so that they may be readily available.

West Broad teachers are also making good use of the newly-organized department of Audio-Visual Education for Columbus schools. Films, filmstrips, and recordings have been borrowed for classroom study.

On Oct. 23, John Sittig, the director of this work, spoke at a faculty meeting. He discussed the use of audio-visual materials, demonstrated a tape recorder, and showed several new filmstrips.

We Give Thanks

On this truly American holiday we give thanks for the many blessings He has deigned to deliver on us. We give thanks for the strength He has endowed us with, enabling us to preserve those liberties we have inherited. We thank Him for the rich fields and bustling factories that bring us great wealth and comfort. And we thank Him especially for revealing His truth to us, giving the greatest wealth of all.

But above all else we give thanks for the freedom we enjoy . . . freedom of speech and religion as well as freedom from fear and want.

As business people in this fine community we give thanks for an opportunity to play our daily parts in carrying out the functions of building a better community while we serve.

Boys of Today - - - Men of Tomorrow

The boys of today are the men of tomorrow. No phase of our community life is more important than the training of our younger generation. For years the Boy Scouts of America have carried on a program of character building and citizenship training. Since 1910 more than fifteen and a half million boys and men have been enrolled in the ranks of Scouting. Let us do all we can to help this great movement as it goes forward with its crusade to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty."

Never before in the history of the United States has there been a greater need, than that of today, for the wholesome training of boys and young men. Boy Scout Troops are organized in cities, towns and villages and are carrying on their crusade to "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty." The more Scouts we have today the better citizens we'll have tomorrow.

America's Boy Scouts and leaders, now numbering 2,300,000 strong, are so woven into the American way of life it is difficult to recall when our nation did not have this character-building, leisure time program for its youth.

Since 1910, more than 16,500,000 American boys and men have had the benefits of the training, fellowship, handicraft skills and high adventure of Scouting. America is all the richer for it. Many men in high places in American affairs today proudly credit Scouting's influence in their lives.

The year-in, year-out civic and emergency service to the nation by Boy Scouts, needs no recital here. Scouting brings to boys at an important time in their lives a program of worthwhile activities, under high grade volunteer leadership.

The need is for more boys to have the advantages of Scout training. Although more than 2,300,000 boys and leaders are now in Scouting, there are thousands of boys still outside the organization. They can get into the fun if more institutions open their doors to them in their own neighborhoods, and if more men interested in boys, volunteer their time as leaders. It's an investment that pays off richly in personal satisfactions.

"Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" is the slogan adopted by the Boy Scouts of America for their crusade to reach more boys. Wherever you find Scouts, you'll find them enjoying themselves camping and hiking and having fun at troop meetings. Thousands upon thousands of other boys could be Scouts if more troops were available. Is there a Scout Unit at your church or club?

More tile roofing material is produced at New Lexington, O. than any other place on earth.

"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

Small businessmen are reporting signs of a business slump. While mounting prices are a contributing factor there is a greater primary cause.

"We are being jaw-boned into a depression," observers say. They point to the great number of bureaucrats, from cabinet rank on down, who miss no opportunity to cry "Wolf."

An example of this is the statement by Commerce Secretary Sawyer that heavier taxes, serious shortages, and business controls can be expected for many years to come.

Observers say Sawyer may or may not be a competent Commerce Secretary. But all agree he is ill-equipped to assume the role of a prophet; even less qualified in international relations.

It is pointed out that bureaucrats were almost openly scornful when Gen. MacArthur in July said the turn in Korea had been reached.

Yet, MacArthur with inspired American fighting men scored a success. But since the end of World War II in 1945 no single bureau plan for the promotion of peace has succeeded.

According to all reports, there is now a concerted drive to keep war scares and rumors flying so that the people will not get curious about domestic affairs.

Responsible military men are saying nothing. Some did explain how peace could be secured; were immediately cracked down on by bureaucracy.

The facts are that socialistic planners have been uncurbed too long. That's the reason for the present inflation.

Now there's only two alternatives. One is to honestly admit what has happened. The other is to further socialize private enterprise.

Washington observers don't look for honesty. They see, instead, the drive under way to further socialize America being pushed.

The plan is "Scare them to death, and a frightened people will sign away their freedom."

In the meantime, bureaucratic spending of taxes takes weird forms. Now, it develops Marshall Plan funds are being used to play traffic cop to the world.

ECA Bulletin #6 reports that Marshall Plan funds have been used to build a traffic inspection station in Athens so Athenian police can check vehicle registration, license plates, brakes and lights.

Use of American tax dollars for such purposes could create a storm that would topple over entire bureaus.

So public attention is kept focused on a constant series of alarms. Lead mouthed bureaucrats fail to realize they are shattering public morale; slowing down the American economy.

And this fact may cause the eventual disappointment of Socialist planners.

For whom, and if, they take over the goose that laid the golden eggs—independent American enterprise—they may find the goose died from fright.

Here's the Answer

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. If you are healthy and of average size you have a trillion and a half platelets in your blood stream. They are tiny, colorless particles which help to coagulate the blood after an injury.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. A group of teachers in Baylor, Texas, persuaded the University Hospital in 1929 to provide 21 days of hospital care via a prepayment insurance plan. The name Blue Cross was given to this type of plan later. Now Blue Cross has approximately 38,000,000 members and millions more are protected by other health insurance plans.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. Well, look what has happened to smallpox. It has almost disappeared in the United States because of vaccination. The Armed Forces use preventive vaccines against typhoid, tetanus (lockjaw), typhus, yellow fever, cholera, plague and smallpox. Immunization agents also are useful against diphtheria, whooping cough and scarlet fever.

Nature's Scales BALANCE ACCURATELY

VITALITY EFFICIENCY

MOTHER NATURE still rules in spite of modern civilization and wonders. Cardinal physical requirements remain the same fundamentals—fresh air, water, exercise, rest, sleep and simple foods. Our ancestor's lives were geared down to a speed approved by nature, and their living habits necessarily simple, but, in those days, scourges of typhoid, malaria, cholera, smallpox, diphtheria and other unconquered diseases cut down the life span.

In these modern days, the great majority of people seem to think that public health efficiency automatically takes care of their own physical welfare. They disregard all of Nature's laws and live on a low health scale, simply because they refuse to be guided by common sense.

AIR IS FREE, yet how many breathe enough fresh air to keep plenty of oxygen going into the blood?

WATER IS CHEAP, but every physician will tell you the vast majority of people do not drink enough water.

EXERCISE IS FREE, but laziness, or a supposed lack of time, keeps most of our tissues inactive, and makes us old before our time.

REST IS POSSIBLE to practically all if they manage their affairs properly.

SLEEP is the most abused natural restorative of modern living. You can not "make up" sleep. Nature requires so many hours [illegible] in each twenty-four.

West Topples Central By 27-13 In City Grid Season's Finale

By Dave Miller

Hitting paydirt twice within the opening three minutes of the fray West's footballers concluded their 1950 grid season last Friday, whipping the last-place Central, 27-13, before a small gathering on the downtown gridiron.

The Cowboys looked their best since the Aquinas game in the first half—tallying all 27 points in the initial two quarters. However, Coach Mack Pemberton turned over the third quarter to next season's prospects and the final period was saved for the varsity who were making their final appearance as West football players.

The Cowboys were the superior team on the grid in the opening half, but after turning the game over to the reserves in the third period, Central's first string took advantage of the situation and scored their two six-pointers to add their bit to the offensive side of the show.

The game was overshadowed in the City Loop by the North-East affair—which helped to hold down the crowd.

West concludes the season with a won-five, lost-four overall record while holding a 4-2 mark in the league—good enough for a second place tie with Aquinas. Central's loss was their seventh of the year in eight attempts and their loop mark holds an 0-6 rating.

After four exchanges with the pigskin, West finally settled down to initiate the day's offensive parade. Jerry Johnson returned the kickoff to the West 29, but three plays later, Jim Eisnaugle of Central recovered Carmine DeMatteo's fumble on the 33. However, on Central's first play, End Jim Daly of the Cowboys pounced on a Central miscue on the 33.

West failed to go and Jerry Trabue punted out of bounds on Central 15 where Howard Cassady bobbled the pill and Dick McDermitt hopped on it to set up West's first score.

Jake Johnson's on straight bucks went to the 12, from where Quarterback Chuck Leibensperger, playing with a banged-up nose, tossed in the end zone to Johnson for a touchdown. Ronnie James jump-passed to George Crissinger for the extra point to make it 7-0.

A failure to punt on fourth down set up West's second touchdown moments later. With fourth down and one yard to go, Marv Hairston, sent through the middle in an attempt to get the first Central first down, was stopped and West took over on the Pirate 28.

James and DeMatteo went to the 18 and Leibensperger again TD-passed, this time to sophomore end Jerry Trabue, who scored unmolested. Dave Lazenby's extra point kick attempt was wide.

With less than three minutes elapsed in the second quarter, West struck again. Central, still deep in their own territory as a result of the kickoff, punted to the Cowboys dead on the Pirate 38 from where West drove to their third tally.

Leibensperger's aerial to Ronnie James was completed on the 12—the turning-point play toward the next TD. James went to the five off-tackle and Jerry Johnson passed to End George Crissinger for the 19-0 count. Lazenby kicked the extra point perfectly to soar the count to 20-0.

Cassady fumbled Lazenby's kickoff and the loose pigskin was recovered by Don Greer and Jerry Johnson on the 35. Central was later penalized on their own 25, from where West's fourth and final score came by the aerial-route. Leibehsperger passed to Johnson in the end zone. Lazenby's kick just barely made the crossbars to set the count 27-0 as halftime.

Considering the "runaway" score Central didn't get discouraged and figured they were still in the game. Their constant screen and over-the-line passes kept the Cowboys guessing as to just what was coming next.

Led by the running of Ron Clark and Howard Cassady, Central wasted little time in grabbing their first score in the early portion of the third quarter. Cassady, the Pirate quarterback, scored from the 10-yard stripe on a fake handoff, and then racing up the middle. Cassady's jump-pass to Ted Alexander was good for the extra marker to make it 27-7.

On the seventh play of the fourth period, the Bucs tallied their final TD—that coming on a 13-yard aerial from Cassady to Clark who fought his way over from the five. Clark's aerial to Bob Reed was incomplete and the scoring was over although the Pirates battled to the West one-yard line on the last play of the game.

The line score:

West	13	14	0	0	—27
Central	0	0	7	6	—13

West—TD, J. Johnson, 2 (passes from Leibensperger); Trabue (pass from Leibensperger); Crissinger (pass from J. Johnson). Extra points—Crissinger (pass from James); Lazenby 2 (placekicks).

Central.— TD, Cassady (pass from Cassady). Extra point—Alexander (pass from Cassady).

Safe Crackers Hit Local Store

At the Westgate Hardware Store, 3109 W. Broad-st, during the week-end burglars moved the safe from the front to the rear of the store and gained entry by smashing a front panel.

An unestimated number of unindorsed checks were taken together with $50. Police said the thieves also stole $50 from the cash register, a mixmaster, and a .32 caliber revolver.

Ohio possesses about one-sixteenth of the national wealth, or about $50,000,000,000 at current prices.

Dayton, then a town of 6,067 persons, was host to an estimated 100,000 when the Whig presidential candidate, William Henry Harrison, attended an "endorsing convention" there in 1840.

The kegling scores on the Hilltop soared high as many good scores were bagged. The spotlight shone on Orvall Parisey who had a fine 266 in a nice 639 total. His 266 is the highest since Ward Reynolds had his 279.

In the Business Men's Loop George McCoy, the 18-year-old January 1950 graduate of West High School, had a 254 in a 602 series, his second 600 on the still young season. Dick Ardle had 224-621 to lead Spire's Shell Service to team honors of 967-2741. It was his twelfth 600 of the year.

The Recreation League was highlighted by Hugh Stimpson's 239. Alex Fisher with 227-609 paced Seiller's Department Store to 965-964-943, in a 2872. This total is the highest at Hilltop since Allen Milks and Finneran & Fischer battled it out 2878 to 2875.

Bob Barok with 234 paced Stewart & Neff to the fourth 1000 game of the season, a 1008 in a 2586 total. Harry Leach came in with a nice 585.

Bill Coleman blasted 237 as Jerry Entigh had 560. Audograph Sales had 862 and Wahl Builders connected for 2465.

Paul Leighninger of Seiller's had 219 and Chuck Ranney 559 to lead the Suburban. Schmelzer's Bar had 889 and First National Cleaners' "Southpaws" 256.

Lucille Redman connected for 246 as Kay Kunz totaled 538. Vierick's again captured team laurels with 832 as Corner Cafe squeezed in 2355.

Kate Cecil came in with 210 as Vera Swisher subbed a 544. Martin's Super Market had 825 and Lytle's Pure Oil 2221.

Marg Liston Frogatt had 204-494 as West Side Motors totaled 811-2274.

The Ohio Workmen's Compensation Law was enacted in 1911.

SPORTSLANTS

By Dave Miller

The future of the gridiron picture at West High was presented last week at Central in the third period when Head Coach Mack Pemberton, for the first time this year, felt as though "he could let them go."

He let them go to the extent of watching as to how each individual reacted to his position on different plays, how alert he is, etc. Pemberton and assistants, Dave Randall and Fred Heischman, all had their ideas because they have witnessed the individuals in practice — but to watch them in real game experience was another thing entirely.

Jerry and Ted Johnson took turns at the quarterback position although Jerry, a regular all year, has seen duty at fullback, quarterback, halfback and end. Both are back for next year's services.

Charlie Hunter, first string right halfback all season, presently a junior, tasted a bit of defense in that third period and was outstanding. Flashy Charlie needs no introduction to the offensive picture. Doyne Bayse, who has been a standout on the reserve squad this season, also saw action in the backfield.

On the line, Dave Randall viewed not only regulars Jerry Trabue and Eddie Gleibs, who are both back next year, but he also watched Ron "Chicken" Erly, Ronald Raike, Jim Martin, Roger Meyer and Gene Harrison.

In addition to this list, Jerry Fedderson and Pat McMillian, the junior varsity mentors, have come up with one of the rare successful reserve teams at West.

Both McMillian and Fedderson are high on their team and think that the present status of the reserves will continue on through the varsity seasons to come.

The reserves have won four tussels and tied one—yet to be beaten. They have defeated St. Charles, Aquinas, Linden and South while playing to a 13-13 standstill with East. The baby Tigers and West are currently tied for the City Reserve League leadership.

The local yearlings are scheduled to close their season tomorrow afternoon at Magly Field hosting to Central's eleven. East, scheduled to meet North this week, will be idle as the Bears are this year unrepresented in the loop.

SHORT BITS: Ronnie James, stellar West halfback, presently headed for an all-city berth, was honored last Saturday morning on the "Star of the Week" show along with Tackle DeBolt of South and Quarterback Frank Trott of Hamilton Township . . . Ronnie was the first West player represented on the program which weekly awards the top high school footballers of the Greater Columbus area on the WLW-C television program.

The first official West basketball practice was held last Saturday morning in the West gym with the football candidates "raring to go." Two West reserve members recently were sidelined by injuries. They included Bob Guiffree and Back Don (Whitey) Smith. The reserves, incidentally, in their latest outing, whipped South 20-13 last Thursday at West. Doyne Bayse, Don Meres, and Elva Cunningham made the Bronco TD's. Bayse's TD was the picture play of the day, grabbing a South pass on his own, and racing the necessary 85 yards for a touchdown.

New Time Report Service Is Inaugurated

If you're a Hilltopper or from the outlying suburbs, you take the received off the telephone in the usual way, dial MAin 6451, and a man in Georgia answers you last month and gives you the correct time . . . this minute . . . in Ohio.

Time out of joint? Seems that way—but let's take it from the beginning.

Recently the Far mBureau Insurance Companies heard about an amazing machine that, when hooked up with an automatic telephone exchange, will give out the correct time to anybody who calls — 24 hours a day.

The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies are now sponsoring this service in Columbus and its suburbs. The machine itself—called an "audichron"—has been installed and will be maintained by the Ohio Bell Telephone Company. The Farm Bureau Insurance Companies are the first insurance companies in the world to sponsor such a service.

Into the machine, directly from the central telephone office are 34 or more trunk lines. When you call Ma. 6451 the mechanical equipment connects with one of these lines so that you hear what the machine is reproducing from the film — a message and the correct time every 10 seconds.

Letters to Editor

First: I don't believe the people are getting what they are looking for in a spiritual way, after they do go to church. In other words our ministers do not preach, or bring a message in a way that convinces the people they are sold on what they are talking about, they will explain to you, they don't want any emotion in their service at all.

Do you ever hear any amen's from the congregation any more? I wonder what would actually happen if a good old sainted lady should rise up and start shouting as they used to do when I was a kid. I really believe it would scare the most of the people so bad they would flee from the church as though there was a big fire started.

Second: I believe if we had more old fashioned preaching, such as condemning sin instead of condoning it, and some good old roof lifting singing, and our clergy would use and believe the verse in the Bible that says,, "If I Be Lifted Up, I Will Draw All Men Unto Me," there would be a great awakening of interest in the laws of Christ, and our church attendance would increase by double in a short time: I am a believer in the minister preaching the word of God, regardless of whom it hits, and I can and will say that I would probably be one of the hardest hit in the congregation. But I like to go to church for spiritual food, not what I can sit down and read from a book, newspaper, magazine, or other source.

Frankly I am worried about the attendance in our churches today. I believe it's time we really did something about it, and that something is just what we can do about it. Let's go to our ministers and have a good old heart to heart talk with him, and if he is really interested in doing God's will, I am sure he will be glad of the opportunity of having a talk with us. He has probably been just wishing someone would do this. Let's give it a try, and just see what happens.

Starlifk, Patience Make Rope Twirlers

By Myron T. Seifert

Many West High students have attained a high degree of dexterity in rope twirling, a popular extracurricular activity at the Cowboy school.

One group in particular devotes many hours to training routine, under the expert guidance of E. T. Stone, chemistry and bookkeeping teacher, who is adept at rope-twirling.

Steeped in the intricacies of "handling the manila," the twirlers refuse to take a back seat with any other high school rodeo-twirling group in the country.

Traditionally a part of West High, the story of the West High ropers stems back to the year 1946 when among others, Jim Cockfield and Don Watkins, later students at Ohio State, introduced to West High School the adroit handling of the lasso.

That quartet of girls who spin the ropes between halves at West High football games has completed a rigorous course of instruction. Mastery of unusual rope-throwing techniques must be performed to gain varsity twirling berths.

An innovation this year in twirling circles is not only the [illegible] "home-spun" dresses worn by the four girls.

The outfit, costing but $5 per girl, is original and styled by the girls themselves.

It is a blue denim with vest and cullottes, bedecked with red fringe, made from genuine leather. Western buckles, and regular western shirts and cowgirl boots are also worn.

The girls made the uniforms from a pattern designed by the home economics instructor, Rhoda O'Harra. Girls who wear these uniforms must be advanced and experienced in rope-twirling, Advisor Stone said.

Those qualifying this year were Frances Wright, Thelma Lou Murgrauge, Carolyn Gordon, Barbara Gordon.

Pins and letters are also given the girls for their service.

The 47-story American Insurance Union Building, now the Leveque-Lincoln Tower, was completed in Columbus in 1927 at a cost of $8,000,000.

Fifty-four of Ohio's counties each have more than 2,000 employed in manufacturing.

"Puss-In-Boots" Show To Begin Jr. Theatre Series

When the curtains swing back on the stage production of "Puss-in-Boots" on Friday, Nov. 24, at Memorial Hall, the children of Columbus will believe the players and dancers have just stepped out of a Fairy Tale Book, so quaint and picturesque will be the setting of both scenery and costumes. The period of the play is the middle ages and the location is provincial southern France. Strawbridge's dramatic presentations are always made effective by accurate period costuming.

"Puss-in-Boots" marks the beginning of the 1950-51 Community Junior Theatre series of five performances to be presented for the entertainment and education of local children. Edwin Strawbridge has appeared here in previous years and was enthusiastically received for his highly entertaining and beautifully staged productions.

Season tickets can be obtained in all public elementary schools on Monday, Nov. 13, and Monday, Nov. 20, where they will be sold by Junior League members.

The Cincinnati Union Terminal was completed in 1933 at a cost of $43,000,000.

Pen-Pal Club At West High Learns Of France

By Myron T. Seifert

Learning the French language and about French people, via of letter writing is a project of many West High School students enrolled in Miss Leona Glen's romance language classes.

Exchanging ideas with French school boys and girls of comparable ages, the West High linguists learn much from their pen-pals, first hand, about France. Native French boys and girls, who correspond with the Hilltop youth, gain many aspects of our American way.

Election Wager Is Paid

Saturday afternoon was the payoff date for an election bet by two Hilltoppers who closely followed the political fortunes of Robert A. Taft and Joseph T. Ferguson. Harold F. Cunningham, staunch Democrat averred that Ferguson would win and Bob Maxwell was just as sure of his defeat. A bet was made and Maxwell Saturday found himself in a wheelbarrow propelled by Cunningham on W. Broad-st. Shown above Noble Allen places the appropriate signs on the participants and acted as starter of the wheelbarrow pay-off. sighed Cunningham as he piloted the barrow, "Jumpin' Joe let me down. I should be riding instead of pushing."

West High Photoplay Club Gives School Movie Screen

Latest addition and improvement noted at West High School was made possible through the efforts and interest of the Photoplay Club which appropriated a regular size movie screen, making possible better pictures, and subsequently better talkies, for the student body.

It was used publicly, for the first time recently when a showing of "We The People," and "Now The Peace" was made. The students expressed satisfaction and gratitude for the donation.

Guided by Mrs. Adolph Kittel, adviser, the group embraces a membership of 60. Purpose of the group is to study talkie and movie productions, and to learn to evaluate the multitude of films that emanate from Hollywood.

One of the most active clubs in the school, the members are ever alert to the virtues of the many movie productions.

Officers of the cinema club follow: Jean Mason, president; Donna Mayhew, vice-president and program chairman; Jean Forrer treasurer; Phyllis Truitt, secretary; Nancy Johnson, sergeant-at-arms.

The members are Nancy Constans, Nyla Grabill, Mary Haudenschild, Shirley Truitt, Sue Hardy, Janet Williams, Luanne Hartley, Catherine Hostetter, Phyllis Phillips, Gail Hinton, Marcia Patridge, La Donna Mithoff, Martha Spangler, Jo Ann Inboden, Patty Sands.

Cleaner Washings, Better Rinsing
Greater Satisfaction!

LESS VIBRATION!
No Bolting Down!

WITH THE NEW
A.B.C-O-Matic
COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC WASHER

IT'S NEW- IT'S DIFFERENT- IT'S BETTER!

Never before in the history of washers has there been such a remarkably efficient washer developed. Entirely new in conception, new in washing action, new in rinsing principle, the ABC-O-MATIC leads them all in washing and rinsing ability. Don't expect just another automatic washer. This new ABC-O-MATIC was developed by industry men who helped pioneer the first power-driven washer.

JUST LOAD IT... SET THE DIALS AND WALK AWAY FROM WORK!

AMERICA'S FINEST AUTOMATIC WASHER

Cleaner Washing

"CENTRIC" AGITATION
A sensational improvement in washing action. Up to now, the standard agitator represented the most effective way of getting clothes clean. Now "centric" agitation is an important improvement. Instead of two-way start and reverse action, "centric" agitation is a continuous washing action—easier on the clothes and more effective because of even clothes distribution. It does not reverse—it pulsates.

DISTRIBUTES CLOTHES EVENLY
It makes no difference how you place clothes in your ABC-O-MATIC. "Centric" agitation action will quickly distribute the clothes evenly in the tub—automatically. The result is better, cleaner washings.

This washing principle causes clothes to circulate counter-clockwise and are surged from the bottom upward and down again every 30 to 50 seconds.

- There is no tangling of clothes . . . no balling . . . clothes are flexed, gently rubbed and squeezed.
- Clothes are swirled by the washing action . . . washing with, instead of against, the agitator. This means clothes are washed with more safety and less wear and tear.

Better Rinsing

REVOLUTIONARY 3-STEP RINSING FOR CLEANER CLOTHES

1. DEEP POWER SPRAY RINSE
While tub fills with fresh water, the agitator is loosening all dirt and soap scum from the clothes.

2. FLOSHING OVER-FLOW RINSE
After the agitator stops, water continues to flow, over-flowing tub and carrying away dirt and soap scum.

3. SPLASH-AWAY POWER RINSE
With tub full of water, the agitator splashes water up and out of the tub . . . dirt can never circulate back through the clothes.

SPINNER DRYING
ABC's wide tub allows greater centrifugal force to get clothes dry faster. Clothes are dry in a minimum of time, wrinkle-free, easy to iron.

Greater Satisfaction

THESE ADDED FEATURES MAKE THE AUTOMATIC AN EVEN BETTER BUY:

SIGNAL LIGHT
Shows when washer is operating. A convenient and step-saving feature — when light goes off, it indicates washing cycle has been completed.

AUTOMATIC LEVELIZER
Self-leveling device that compensates for the difference in floor level. This provides sturdy footing to eliminate excessive vibration even during the spin cycle of the washer.

LESS VIBRATION . . . NO BOLTING DOWN
Harmful vibration is reduced to a minimum without additional mechanism for balancing. "Centric" agitation washing principle in the ABC-O-MATIC distributes clothes evenly automatically, and provides a better balance of clothes in the tub during the spin period. Therefore, no bolting down is required. This feature alone adds years to the life of your washer.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

The FRANK MILANOS must always be on the "go." The sharp green paint job on their house is going to brighten the looks of the dreary winter ahead.

The JOHN HUMPHREYS on Mound-st, have a new car. Buzzing from here to there keeps their filling station attendant busy filling up their gas tank.

A new vacuum cleaner for the H. M. Jones. Wes Herman talked into it like he was the electric stove last year.

ESTELLA MERRIMAN had some pencils monogrammed through the mail, and when she received them she got the initials "M.E.". She didn't know whether to keep them or not since "M.E" spells "me" and were definitely not wrong.

CAROL KEARNS can't get the vinegar smell out of her hair. She had shampoo and vinegar rinse all ready, when her phone rang. By the time she had finished her conversation it was getting late and she had to hurry. She returned to the basin and hurriedly poured plain vinegar and plenty of it on her head instead of the shampoo.

CAROL tried to soap it out, but the odor remained. Maybe she should use "air wick" on her tresses?

SUE WILLARD made up her mind she can't change a tire. It's too inconvenient. By the time she broke two finger nails and made a run in her hose, she got some help from a passing car driver out on the CCC highway.

A new tank for the LACEY family. BURTON got an automatic this time. They were always forgetting to turn the old one down. So when it wore out, they knew just what they wanted.

What are your pet peeves? Having them is a good old American custom and privilege. Since they are here to stay, if I may paraphrase an old song, you tell me your peeves and I'll tell you mine. One of mine is being forced to stand politely mute, while someone turns the pages of my books by wetting his thumb; another is listening to an alleged comedian laugh hysterically at his own jokes. All right so I'm a grouch.

If you are one of us who must attend church via radio, may I remind you that the West Side's own Rev. D. S. Mills conducts services each Sunday morning from 11 to 12 over WHKC. He pulls no punches where his Satanic Nibs is concerned, yet is not holier-than-thou in his attitude and not condescending. And you will enjoy the music too. Hear him, then write and tell him you listened. As mentioned here before, ministers, radio and tv personalities like to be praised for they are human too.

Not long ago, one Michael Sweeney—age not known but he must be a very young man—dropped his school paper in my yard. Michael is a fine writer and his answers were mostly correct, if I remember my science. Two of his answers were "A geyser is shooting water" and "A bay is a lake with hooks onto the sea." I'd like to know Michael.

91st Birthday Is Observed By Delia Jenny, Veteran Hilltopper

The lovely and gracious lady, Delia Jenny, 2255 W. Broad-st, who passed her 91st mileatone recently, grew up with the Hilltop.

Practically all her life was spent in Hilltop environs, where she has observed many changes through the years.

By Myron T. Seifert

Born and reared in pre-school years on a farm along the Georgesville-rd (two miles south of the National-rd), the family migrated when she was six years of age, north of the "National Pike" and further east in Camp Chase.

Her father, Benedict Jenny, purchased a 160-acre tract following the Civil War at $60 an acre, which in that early day was a scandalous figure to pay for unimproved property "far out in the sticks." Its value, however, has increased many-fold since the original Jenny investment. The first railroad here bisected the farm.

A pioneer in the construction business her father plied his trade extensively in this section. A multitude of homes and buildings, many still in use, evidence his craftsmanship. Barns and homes spanning the Alton-Hilliard area were built by Benedict Jenny. St. James Church, an imposing brick structure in this same fertile area was built by Mr. Jenny, is a monument to his genius and workmanship.

It was no picnic to raise a family of six in the Camp Chase backwoods. The elder Jennys made sure, however, that their three girls and one boy, would gain all their education and religion in that day provided.

Miss Jenny vividly recalls her schools days in the Mix School, and her daily treks over the muddy National-rd in order to attend Columbus High School, "far down in the city," and from which she graduated 70 years ago in the class of 1880.

Confirmed in the Reformed Protestant faith, early in life she attended this church on E. Mound-st in which her parents were active. She later became identified with the Methodist movement on the Hilltop, and is at present a devout member of the Glenwood Methodist flock under the leadership of Rev. Shellhaas. For years she was very active in the affairs of this church, particularly in the women's societies. Today she reads her Bible with alacrity, and enjoys visits from her minister and friends.

Broadminded and alert in her thinking she has learned much from her many travels. A veteran globe trotter, she has seen much of the world. As late as 1925 she made an extended tour of Europe, visiting practically all of the important sectors of that continent.

Especially did she enjoy her visit to Berne, Switzerland, whence came her parents. There she visited the school attended by her parents more than a century ago.

Favorite food, "fit for a king," Miss Jenny avers, "is good old fashioned custard pie," and which she is past-master at making. Her recipe, learned by long experience, follows this pattern: three eggs, well beaten; three tablespoons of sugar; one teaspoon vanilla, and two cups of milk. Heat the ingredients, and sprinkle nutmeg on top. Heat oven to 450 degrees and bake 10 minutes; lower temperature to 325 degrees and bake till a knife comes out clean when inserted. Miss Jenny excels in every respect at the culinary art. Our mouth is drooling now.

The Rea-Bow Association News

By Dorothy Fowler

A capacity crowd attended the Armistice Day social which was held in Rea-Bow Hall Saturday night, Nov. 11.

The social was opened with the floor show of the Lawrence Whitaker Players. They were Vickie "Texas" Kraft, singing and dancing, Kenny Karns, tap dancing, Susan Vince and Joe Capauano, acrobatic dance, and Jack Close, cartoonist. Joe Capauano and Jack Close were two new acts which had never been in Rea-Bow Hall before. This floor show was under the direction of Lawrence Whitaker, a sightless veteran of World War I.

A community sing was led by Marjorie Thompson, with William Marot at the piano. Jack Close sketched some of the members' pictures during the social.

Mrs. George Wolfe, wife of the lifetime president, made a service flag which was unveiled by the two mothers who were present Saturday night. The flag has a star for every boy who is a member of the association and is in service now. The parents present included Mr. and Mrs. John Doughty of Whitethorne-av, whose son is in the Marines, and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, whose son is in the navy. The mothers were presented a corsage from the Rea-Bow Association.

Les Graham, 953 Midland-av, led the crowd in a prayer for peace.

After the floor show the regular Saturday night social was held, with the Rea-Bow Rangers furnishing the music. George Wolfe and Woodrow Irvin did the calling for the square dancing. Canteen service was under the supervision of Mrs. Homer Freeman and Mrs. Cleo Irvin.

Many more cigarettes, playing cards, magazines and jig-saw puzzles are needed before Dec. 3. These are being collected for the veterans at the Chillicothe Veterans' Hospital. The Lawrence Whitaker Players are putting on their show at the hospital Dec. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Cy Martin were Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Freeman, 852 Midland-av.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfe of 856 Midland-av, had as their Saturday evening guests Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Montgoner.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Walters and son, Leo, 840 Clarendon-av, went to St. Louis to see their other son, Paul, who is in the service.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfe of 856 Midland-av attended a show at the Orient State Hospital Sunday, Nov. 12.

Mrs. David Henry of 853½ W. Broad-st is still confined to home with illness. Mrs. Henry is the daughter of Mrs. Laura Fowler of 2249 Whitehead-rd.

First Public Showing of Movie 'City of the Sick' Slated for Monday

Dr. Bateman, superintendent of Columbus State Hospital, is posing for a shot from "City of the Sick." Marjorie Watson of the mental hygiene division of the Ohio Department of Public Welfare, pictured checking the script, will show "City of the Sick" at Hilltop Church of Christ, Monday, Nov. 20, at 8 p. m.

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the Hilltop Church of Christ is sponsoring "City of the Sick.", the first documentary film about life in a mental hospital on Monday, Nov. 20, at 8 p. m. in the church auditorium.

Mrs. Marjorie Watson who helped in the production of this film will introduce it and conduct a discussion on the problems of mental health.

"City of the Sick" was filmed at the Columbus State Hospital and many scenes will be familiar to Hilltop residents. This movie tells the story of an attendant who learns for himself how mental patients can be restored to useful living. All ward and activity scenes were taken as they happened in the hospital's routine. Hospital staff members shown are those actually employed in the hospital with the exception of the leading attendant whose role is played by a professional actor.

This film has had excellent previews by psychiatrists and other medical men. Recently it was reviewed most favorably in The Journal of the American Medical Association. This review commented on its "excellent photography, clear commentary and authoritative direction" and added that "this motion picture is destined to give the general public a realistic glimpse of a public mental hospital."

Because this film is of such general interest to members of the Hilltop community, the Christian Women's Fellowship issues an invitation to everyone who is interested to take this opportunity to understand more about the neighboring institution, the Columbus State Hospital. All men and women are urged to attend this first public showing in the Hilltop this Monday, Nov. 20, at 8 p. m.

Looking Ahead with J. W. WORREL

Well, here we are smack in the middle of the atomic age. The world of yesterday is gone—already it is a thousand years behind us. For better or for worse we must go forward into a future that will be dominated by the coloesus of atomic energy. It is difficult to foretell the direction—much less the shape—of things to come. Scientific apostles of gloom forecast the instantaneous disintegration of the world under the force of the cleaving atom. Other equally scientific prophets expect an era of plenty with mankind finally freed from drudgery by the harnessing of the mighty mite.

What will it ultimately be—destroyer or creator? We little people can only hope for the best, and perhaps take heart from the fact that the blinding flash that heralded the birth of the new era also presaged the end of a terrible war.

There is little that the average person can do to control the destiny of atomic energy. But there is something all of us can—and should—do for our future security, as well as for our present peace-of-mind. Life Insurance is the best protection against the proverbial 'rainy day'. Provide today for tomorrow. I shall be happy to discuss your insurance program with you at no obligation to yourself. Call me—or drop in—today.

"GOD'S IN THE GRANDSTAND"

JACKIE ROBINSON

member of the Brooklyn Dodgers and winner of the National League's Most Valuable Player Award

"My mother has a favorite expression: 'Whenever you take one step toward God, He'll take two toward you.' If you know the power of prayer, you know how true this is."

"When I was a small boy in Pasadena, California, I used to hear my mother tell this story over and over again: 'Your grandfather was a slave when he was young, and he never had the opportunity to learn to read. One day when I came home from school, he told me his great desire: to be able to read the Bible before he died. And so every afternoon, I, though only ten, would give him lessons in how to read.'

"It was some time before I appreciated that story and felt the tug of religion as my mother and grandfather had. In fact, as a boy I was somewhat skeptical of the need for formal religion. Playing ball instead of going to church seemed much more important.

"And that seems to be a problem familiar to many families . . . the 'thing' which is more important than going to church. The reason I know is because people have written to me about it ever since the day I spoke before Congress and said that I was a religious man. I like to reply with this: I can still remember my mother turning away from her dishwashing, and saying: 'If you plant a crop and don't cultivate it, nothing grows. That's the way with religion . . . it dries up if you don't tend it.'

"That's why we regularly take Jackie, Jr., to church with us though he's only three. For my wife, Rachel, and I want him to know, as early as possible, the faith that will guide and help him all his life, as it helps and guides us. To be without the help of the friendly hand of God is something we cannot imagine. I know without His help, I could never do my job."

Take your problems to church this week — millions leave them there!

Savory Vegetable Dishes

By BETTY BARCLAY

Don't allow yourself to get into a cooking rut where you serve the same meat, vegetable or fruit in the same old way, day after day and week after week. Unfortunately, far too many women have fallen into such a rut.

Baked tomatoes are delicious. So are tomatoes in many other forms. Get into the habit of serving them in as many ways as possible. You'll be surprised at the reaction of your family and your guests.

Seek new ways of adding tang or flavor to your vegetables. If you have no Lea & Perrins Sauce at home, by all means get a bottle. Place it on the table with your salt and pepper and use it with soups, fish, and meats, as well as vegetables.

Here are two recipes of vegetables served in ways that might be unusual in your home. Incidentally, you will note that the sauce mentioned above, has been called upon for that added tang.

Stuffed Baked Tomatoes

Remove the tops from firm tomatoes and scoop out the pulp. Moisten bread crumbs with milk or stock. If you have a little left-over meat or fish, grind it and mix with the crumbs. Add a little minced parsley and onion and the pulp that was scooped out and season well with salt and Worcestershire Sauce. Fill the tomato shells with the mixture, cover the top with dry crumbs, add a bit of butter and bake in a hot oven (400°-450° F.) until the tomatoes are cooked.

Corn Fritters

2 eggs, beaten
2 cups canned or fresh corn
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons Worcestershire Sauce
½ teaspoon soda
Fine cracker crumbs

Mix beaten eggs, corn, parsley and seasonings. Stir in soda, dissolved in a little warm water. Add just enough fine cracker crumbs so you can shape the mixture into cakes. Melt enough butter or other fat to well cover the bottom of frying pan. Fry about 4 minutes on each side, till golden brown. Makes 12 fritters. Or drop by tablespoons in deep fat and fry 2 minutes. Use less crumbs when frying this way.

Let's Please "Dad"

Yes sir! I'll say "Dad" looks pleased — and who wouldn't be if he were surprised with a delicious dish like an Orange Gingerbread Rennet Dessert.

After all, "Dad" is really "Junior" grown up, and a number of things he relished as a child, still have the same appeal.

But by all means do not limit this fine, healthful delicacy to "Dad" alone. Mother will find it a welcome treat at her Bridge luncheon. The kiddies, too, will declare it a taste treat for parties and "before-bed" snacks. It also rates high with video viewers and radio fans who desire something light while enjoying one of their favorite evening shows. Really women, try the recipe below and you will be convinced that the result will be devoured "any time at all":

Orange Gingerbread Rennet Dessert

Gingerbread cut in 1⅛" x ⅛" strips
2 cups milk (not canned)
1 package orange rennet powder
Honey Whip Topping

Place 3 or 4 gingerbread strips in each of 4 or 5 individual dessert glasses. Warm milk slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When COMFORTABLY WARM, (110° F.) not hot, remove at once from heat. Stir contents of package of orange rennet powder into milk quickly until dissolved — not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into dessert glasses over gingerbread. Do not move until set — about 10 minutes. Then chill in refrigerator. Just before serving, top with whipped cream or Honey Whip Topping.

Honey Whip Topping: Beat 1 egg white until stiff but not dry. Gradually beat in 1 tablespoon honey.

Ohio's capital city of Columbus is not only the center of the state, but also is the approximate hub of 75 per cent of the industrial activity of the United States.

Sacred Concert To Be Presented At Burgess Avenue EUB Church

A sacred concert, an inspiring message in word and song, a program which people will appreciate, will be given by Marion Embleton, soloist, in one of her all religious programs at the Burgess Ave. Evangelical United Brethren Church, Sunday, Nov. 19. Miss Embleton has had wide and varied experience as a soloist in Columbus churches, both concert and radio work.

From the Winona Lake School of Music, Homer Rodeheaver says: "Miss Embleton is one of the loveliest and most gracious singers I have ever heard; she not only has much personal charm, but linked with that a very beautiful voice. The young people of any church would be especially pleased with Miss Embleton and any program they might want to sponsor for her would be a real success. I most heartily commend her and would congratulate any church or organization lucky enough to engage her for one of her splendid concert programs."

From Capital University, Ellis M. Snyder, who is head of the voice department, makes the following recommendation and statement: "Miss Marion Embleton has prepared a most interesting group of sacred vocal programs interspersed with inspirational poems. Miss Embleton has studied with me through many years and has been soloist in my church choir. Throughout her time her work has been distinguished by its sincerity and the natural beauty of the voice. She possesses the ability to appeal directly to each member of her audience through clean-cut diction, sensitivity to emotional content and by an unusually lovely voice quality. Her Christian life speaks through her voice."

Girl Scout News

It seems that every few weeks a new Girl Scout troop is established on the Hilltop. Coming into existence soon will be two new troops at West Broad Street School and two at Wilson Road School.

Every other Friday intermediate Scouts from John Burroughs and St. Mary Magdalene Schools tuck their swim suits, caps and towels under their arms and board a bus for their swim at the K of C downtown pool. West Junior and Senior High troops go every other Monday for their swim session. A leader accompanies the groups and a Red Cross instructor gives swimming and diving lessons. Any leader desiring further information may contact Mrs. H. C. Booth, RA. 8583.

Pat Mathews, a recreation worker at the newly redecorated Glenwood Shelter House, welcomes Girl Scout troops at any time. Troops may use the gym and recreational facilities, and Miss Mathews, a former Girl Scout camp counselor, will teach various crafts to the girls.

Senior Girl Scout Troop No. 8 will soon hold their investiture ceremony. In the meantime, though, the girls have been very busy. Recently they biked to Clime Road Day Camp site; Saturday, Nov. 4, they held a bake sale at Chubby Distelhorst's Market. Now they are making stuffed dogs and saving comic books for children at Children's Hospital. Mrs. Worthy Law is their leader, Ellen Crawford her assistant.

Troop 113 held its fifth birthday party last Monday. The members are making some of their own Christmas presents and are planning to donate a basket of food to a needy family for Thanksgiving.

Troop 157 held a Hallowe'en party at the home of Mrs. Fred Heischman, 875 S. Hague-av, Oct. 28. Everyone came masked and the girls received Girl Scout barrettes from their mothers. Other fall activities of the troop have included a wiener and marshmallow roast at Westgate Park, and the mailing of a "schoolmates" bag to the Philippine Islands. Leaders are Mrs. Elmer Look and Mrs. Clarence J. Veit.

The association also agreed to sponsor a baby contest which will be climaxed at the Christmas party Dec. 19 at the home of Mrs. Rosa Triggs, 44 S Oakley-av. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, 338 S. Wheatland-av, Nov. 21, 8 p. m.

ARMISTICE DAY ASSEMBLY

The Armistice assembly Friday was opened by the audience singing "God Bless America", accompanied by Joan Landis and Avonlea Woods on accordions.

Oscar Buck then read the "American's Creed" and offered a prayer in regard to World Peace.

Harold Byers explained the Prince of Peace contest, and announced the speakers, Karen Myers, Albert Hogan, Charlotte Spears, and Lois Ann Moore. The judges were Mrs. Richard Brasher, Mrs. Robert King and Franklin McCaw.

While the judges made their decision, Oscar Buck, Harold Byers and Delbert Galentine demonstrated how the American Flag should be displayed. Mr. Patterson then spoke a few words about freedom of speech.

The judges then announced Karen Myers the winner and awarded her a bronze medal. Albert Hogan was chosen as second.

Assembly was closed by the audience singing "America", accompanied by two accordions.

BASKETBALL OUTLOOK

Coach Tom Swope has one of the best basketball outlooks in the Mid-Six League. Not only does he have height but speed as well.

Jack Galbraith and "Shorty" Honsen are the two returning lettermen. Other prospects are, captain, Fred Barrett, Owen Miller, Allen Hunt, Dick Fisher, "Baldy" Rogers, Gary West, Jim Swormstedt and Joe Winkler. Most of these boys should be able to play some good varsity ball this year.

The reserve team should have a good year too, since they have a number of experienced sophomore and junior boys.

Hilliards plays the first game Dec. 5 with Madison Rural at home.

—By Dick Hansen

NEW PROJECTS LISTED

Industrial arts boys are learning to build bigger and better projects with the help of new tools, better knowledge of drawing, wood construction, and help of Mr. Pickens.

Some of the boys are now working on projects. Frank Bowman is building a colonial coffee table shaped like a cobbler's bench. Wilbur Matheney is working on a large natural finish cedar chest. Mervin Evans has made a white pine, clear finish end-table. Bob Kent is making an oak shearing stand, for use in shearing sheep.

VOLLEYBALL PLANNED

A playday of volleyball is scheduled Saturday, Dec. 9, at Capital University. The best volleyball players from Hilliards High School will be chosen to make up two teams of eight players each.

Teams from all the schools in the county will also participate.

Mrs. Peterson has been observing the girls play so as to decide the best players. Also, she has been teaching them the method of making tricky serves and plays.

—By Phyllis Ball

FEAR OVER

Nothing should ever be reported lost in girls' gymnasium class in the future. This problem has been solved by the use of locks on the lockers, a key board and a wallet holder.

The key board is a flat board with small hooks to keep the locker keys. The wallet holder is a small trough where wallets may be placed while participating in gym class.

Mrs. Peterson thought of these ideas, and with the aid of Mr. Pickens they were established.

—By Phyllis Ball

The flood control and water-conservation project in the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy District was completed in 1936 at a cost of $43,500,000.

Camp Chase Post News

By John Martindale

The people of this nation have just recently written a new page into the nation's history. This page may be entitled Election Day, 1950. The results of the election cannot alone be considered on the basis of who was elected because the more important phase is what will now be done by these representatives of the people. Great is their responsibility and also great are their opportunities.

Since the very beginning of the American Legion its members have brought many matters of vital importance to the attention of these office holders in all of the various echelons of government, yet at all times taking no part in politics as an organization. Many of these matters of importance have been presented to the House and Senate and others to the state legislature.

Before any such matter has been brought to the attention of any such legislative body the Legion has required that the matter pass through a screening process that would indicate the will of its members. A resolution is first submitted by some legionaire at a meeting of his post. If adopted, it goes from his post to the next department (state) convention. If adopted there, it then goes to the national convention. If adopted by the convention it becomes a mandate upon which the national legislative committee must exert its best efforts to carry it to accomplishment.

There are some matters of national importance that may be referred to the national executive committee instead of the national convention if time is at a premium. Other matters are of importance within that state, thus only go through the department convention and become a mandate to the department legislative committee. Thus our legislative committees are not policy making bodies but are controlled by mandates from the legionaires themselves.

What started the Legion on such legislative work? One of the first problems brought to the attention of the organization was that when the World War I veterans returned there was not one government hospital to care for the service-connected veteran. That was reason aplenty for the new veterans' organization, pledged as it was, and still is, to service to the disabled, the distressed, the widowed and the orphaned. Since then the Legion has taken a very active part in legislative affairs.

The Armistice Day breakfast last Saturday was so well attended that the committee was hard pressed to get the hens to lay eggs fast enough and Dewey Stout wasn't able to dig potatoes enough for quite everyone. Even so; from all reports everyone seemed to enjoy over-eating. This is perhaps the first breakfast in history at which a flag was presented.

Coming events: Post meeting Friday, Nov. 17, 8:15 p. m. Annual past commanders' and past presidents' banquet (date to be announced later); national commanders' banquet at Deshler-Wallick Dec. 9; Christmas party for the kiddies (date to be announced later); New Year's Eve dance.

Peggy Hastilow and Carolyn Cooper planned the meeting, Nov. 7. They brought materials and showed the girls how to make crepe paper butterflies. Everyone was very pleased with the results and decided to save them to give with their Christmas favors.

The Daisy Camp Fire Group went visiting Nov. 2 at Omar Bakery. There the hostess, Mrs. Dorothy Herbert, showed them through and described, briefly, the method for making and icing, rolls, bread and doughnuts.

At the end of the doughnut line each girl enjoyed eating one. They toured the decorating room and many "Oh's" and "Ah's" were expressed.

Mrs. Earl Floyd Kiechle, Mrs. Albert Taylor, Mrs. V. L. Creasap and Mrs. Frederick Gramlich accompanied the group of 11 Blue Birds and two visitors.

The Ta-O-Ka Camp Fire Group held its meeting at Joyce Arbaughs. Frances Wright was elected the new secretary. Plans were discussed on what to make the mothers for Christmas and what to do for Christmas cheer.

Games and refreshments were enjoyed by all. Mrs. Richard Wright is the leader, assisted by Mrs. George Miller.

Last Friday two Blue Bird groups saw "Old King Cole" at Memorial Hall. The Happy Blue Birds had 14 of their members attending with their leaders Mrs. Michaelis and Mrs. Steele.

Mrs. Ruth Draper and Mrs. Fox accompanied 12 girls from their group to the play.

The To-Wan-Ka-Con Camp Fire Group at Dana Avenue School held a spelling bee at its meeting Nov. 6.

It was unique in that they used Indian symbols instead of regular words. They then wrote a story with them as part of the Trail-seekers rank.

The North Main Street viaduct spanning the valley of the Little Cuyahoga River in Akron is 2,810 feet long, 72 feet wide, and 135 feet high. It rests on 2,371 sunken piles and accommodates five lanes of traffic. It was completed in 1922 at a cost of $1,227,859.

BIBLE COMMENT

Children's Questions About God Require A Patient Answer

CHILDREN, through the ages of four to eight, find the world a huge question-mark. And they are apt to besiege their elders with a barrage of questions, almost all of them beginning with the word "Why—."

Many of the questions are apt to concern God. "Who is God?" "Does He know when I don't brush my teeth?" "If He loves children, why doesn't he ever play with me?" These are but a few of the queries the parent is likely to be confronted with.

The answering of these questions poses a challenge if the parent is to explain the mysterious and loving ways of God in a simple, truthful and convincing manner. A chance remark or offhand explanation, carelessly phrased, may contradict earlier answers and set the stage for later confusion and disillusionment.

How then can parents be sure they are properly preparing their child's attitude toward religion?

One answer is by meeting the child's questions with direct and honest answers. A sure way to test their adequacy is to ask yourself, "Would this clear my confusion on the topic?" Another way of acquainting your child with the rewards of worship is by making daily prayer a part of the child's life. Sunday school nurseries will also help your child find the answers to many questions about God.

Most important, though, is the realization that a child, emerging from a chrysalis of self-preoccupation into the complex world about him, has need of spiritual guidance if he is to form a set of values that will enable him, in later life, to live a truly Christian life and derive personal strength from fellowship with God.

If his questions seem never-ending, remember that patience is the crown of self-control and that religious education is the parent's greatest responsibility, just as surely as Jesus said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me."

The Gate Post

By Pat Martindale

The Glenwood Recreation Center has an extensive program to offer the West Siders and Hilltoppers this season. Activities are constantly being planned for every age.

The Golden Age Club originated from a suggestion by the mayor to the head of the recreation department, N. J. Barrack, started out with only thirteen members and has increased to a membership of 125. It is a club for adults who are fifty years old or over and is especially designed to fill in lonely hours. The meetings are purely recreational to suit the needs of the members attending. Various types of card games, checkers, bingo or other games are played. Books and magazines are available for reading or, if the members wish they may just visit. Movies are shown often and refreshments are served at each meeting. Special parties are held from time to time. There is no charge or dues connected with the club and anyone wishing to join may contact Pat Mathews, the club advisor, at the center or call Ra. 7416.

For the girls, basketball games are held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at 3:30 p. m. and Saturdays at 10 a. m. in the junior department and in the senior department on Wednesdays from 7 to 10 p. m. Craft classes are held on Mondays at 3:30, and on Wednesdays at 3:30 and Saturday at 9 a. m. Tumbling classes at 10 a. m. and on Saturday tap dancing classes are held.

For the boys from 10 to 13 years old, basketball practice is on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 3:30, tumbling classes Tuesday and Thursday at 3:30 and Saturday at 10 a. m. Craft classes are held on Friday at 3:30.

For the senior boys (14 years and over) basketball is held daily from 6 to 7 p. m. with the league games on Tuesday from 7 to 10 p. m. Wrestling on Monday and Wednesday at 8 p. m. Boxing on Monday and Wednesday at 7 p. m. and tumbling classes on Fridays at 7 p. m.

Dancing instructions are given every Thursday for all ages from 8 to 10 p. m. Round dances are held the first and third Friday and square dances are held the second and fourth Friday of the month from 7 to 10 p. m.

The first square dance of the season was held last Friday night with the Sunset Valley Boys furnishing the music. Sixty boys and girls attended. The dance proved to be a success with six square sets on the floor and everybody enjoying themselves.

Glenwood Recreation Center will sponsor a basketball clinic Nov. 29. An interpretation of the rules and regulations of the game will be made and a question and answer period will be conducted. The center is hoping to have the Ohio State basketball team present at that time.

The Glenwood Center in conjunction with the Hilltop Community Council will place a Christmas decoration on the hill in front of the Glenwood Recreation Center. The youth of the center with the help of the staff will make the decorations. The plans are to have a huge sleigh drawn by Santa's reindeer with a Christmas greeting attached. This will be placed in a position to meet the view of passersby in either direction.

Following the 1913 flood the Miami Conservancy District was established and the Taylorsville, Englewood, Huffman, Lockington, and Germantown Dams were built. This project was completed in 1922 at a cost of $32,000,000.

Dowel Joint Calls For Care, Accuracy

AS SOON as you take your saw in hand and approach your workshop with the idea of "making something," you approach at the same time the problem of producing true and solid joints in whatever the piece might be.

There are many different kinds of wood joints—but joint, miter joint, lap joint, rabbet joint, dado joint, mortise and tenon, dovetail and dowel joint, all of which serve certain purposes.

Possibly the strongest and best all-around joint is the dowel type.

Joining with dowels is actually a very simple process, if you work with accuracy. Here's the normal procedure for joining, say, three lengths of board to make a table top:

You're fastening the adjoining edges with three dowels, spaced equidistant along the length of the boards. Place the pieces to be joined side by side, all flush at the ends, and with a try-square held against a face or edge, scribe a line across all three edges to mark the position of the dowels. Now, with a marking gauge set for the exact middel of the wood's thickness draw intersecting lines across the first lines. At the intersections make starting holes for your drill with a centerpunch or an awl.

Next select a drill bit with a diameter equal to that of the dowel you're using and drill out the dowel holes in the pieces to about ⅛-inch deeper than half the dowel pin's length. Now make a trial assembly by inserting the dowels in the holes in one board and butting the joining board to it. If the holes have been drilled properly and are exactly perpendicular to the edge, the joint will be square and the survace of the two boards will be level. If they're not, you may have to start a new dowel holes.

If the joint meets with your satisfaction (and your wife's), separate the trial pieces again and countersink each dowel hole to a depth of about 1/16 inch. This is to keep any excess glue, displaced by the tight-fitting dowels, from forcing the joint apart.

Final step is simply to apply the glue to the dowels, test the assembled piece for squareness and clamp it for drying.

EMERGENCY SQUAD RUNS

Extended Bus Line Is Much Needed

The current controversy over the extension of the bus lines to western sections of the Hilltop is one that might result in no further extension of the service unless it is carefully investigated by the city.

We believe it stands without question that an extension of the present bus service is much needed. Hundreds of people are forced to walk long distances at present due to the termination of the bus lines so far east.

We have not made a sufficient survey to be qualified to say just where the lines should go or what routes they should take but we feel an overwhelming percentage of the people in the areas west, now without bus service, will welcome the extension of the lines.

Organizations and individuals of the community should move rapidly to take advantage of any opportunity to get such service.

Another dog with rabies has been discovered in the area north of the Hilltop near Wilson-rd. This is the fifth such dog to be found in this section of the county in the last few weeks.

This can mean but one thing: No doubt several other dogs and other animals have been exposed to rabies and there is every possibility that a widespread outbreak of rabies may result.

The health department has recently ruled that hunters who take dogs to the fields should do so only if the dog has been immunized against rabies within the past three months. How many hunters take this precaution is not known.

If you have a dog you will be doing yourself and your family as well as thousands of people around you a real service if you will see that the dog is taken to a veterinarian for rabies shots at once.

A real danger may be lurking right around the corner in this community.

Warren Avenue Church Of Nazarene To Conduct Corner Stone Laying Of New Church On Sunday

SHOWN ABOVE is the architect's conception of the appearance of the new church edifice currently being constructed at S. Warren-av and Whitehead-rd by the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene. The new structure of stone will provide a seating capacity of approximately 1,000.

Special ceremonies will be conducted Sunday at the site of the new Warren Ave. Church of the Nazarene, 650 S. Warren-av, when the cornerstone of the newest of the Hilltop church edifices will be laid. The all-stone edifice which is now under construction is expected by builders to be completed within six months, according to Rev. Harris B. Anthony, pastor of the local church.

In the special ceremonies scheduled for 3 p. m. this Sunday the principal address will be delivered by Dr. Harold Reed, president of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Ill. Represented on the program also will be representatives of other churches of the Hilltop, the local Ministerial Association and city and state dignitaries.

Preserved for posterity and entombed in the corner stone will be records and documents of local interest, according to Rev. Anthony who said that the contents of the stone would be, a Bible presented by The Hilltop Record; a history of the congregation; roll of members; roll of Sunday school; church directory; copy of church manual presented by Mrs. Bertha Mayer; copies of church periodicals; copies of local newspapers; church pictures; program of corner stone ceremony and the church bulletin.

Laying of the cornerstone for the new church marks the culmination of efforts for members of the local church to erect a lasting and beautiful home for their congregation on the Hilltop. Rev. Harris B. Anthony, pastor of the local church for the past 14 years, has been one of the motivating forces driving for the new church. Recently he accepted a new three-year call by the congregation to continue.

The new church when completed will measure 102 feet by 88 feet. It will cost approximately $200,000 and have a seating capacity of approximately 1000. Although the edifice will not be complete for another six months it is hoped that the first church services will be held in the new church about Jan. 1 if possible, according to Rev. Anthony. At present time services are conducted every Sunday in the auditorium of West Broad Street School.

The program slated for Sunday will open with a hymn by the congregation followed by prayer offered by Rev. Harris B. Anthony.

Rev. R. S. Parr, pastor of the Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church and president of the Hilltop Ministerial Association will read the scripture and a responsive reading will be conducted by Rev. Anthony.

Following the reading, greetings will then be read from Governor Frank J. Lausche and Mayor James A. Rhodes will appear on the pro-

Rabies Warning Issued Locally

Franklin County Board of Health officers today issued a warning to residents of western Franklin County of the existence of rabies in what may be epidemic form in this area.

The warning was sounded after examination of heads of five dogs, one bull and one cat definitely indicated the animals were afflicted with rabies. The animals were taken in the vicinity of Walcutt-rd, Trabue-rd, Sciote-Darby-rd and N. Hague-av.

Health officials urged that residents in the area immediately have their pets and other animals vaccinated and request that hunters not take their dogs into the affected area so that the outbreak might be localized.

Residents were also asked to report immediately to the Health Board any suspicious ailments of pets and livestock.

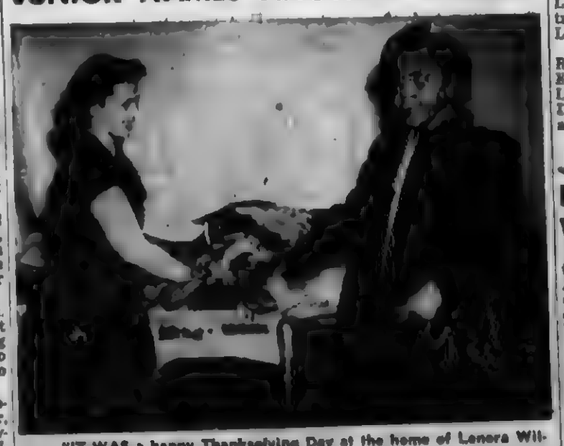
A bullet, fired accidentally by her husband, took the life Sunday of Mrs. Alma Gebhart, 31, of 4562 Harrisburg-pk.

She died at 11:30 a. m. at Mt. Carmel Hospital with a bullet wound in her right temple.



Sheriff's Deputy James Potts said Mrs. Gebhart and her husband, Charles S., 55, were watching a television show Saturday night. The husband was repairing a .22-caliber revolver when it discharged.

Emergency squadmen took Mrs. Gebhart to the hospital. Gebhart was questioned about the shooting and released. The Gebharts, who had been married 30 years, have no children.

New Transit Line Proposal Hits Snag Before Council

Extended bus service on Mound-st and Sullivant-av on or before Dec. 15 was suggested this week by the Columbus Transit Co. in a plan presented to City Council and Mayor Rhodes.

When presented however the new proposal ran into a snag Monday evening during the Columbus City Council session when some residents of the area voiced objections to the proposal. Net result of the meeting was that council has tentatively scheduled a trip for Nov. 30 to personally view the situation.

Council President Henry Koontz, a Hilltopper, disclosed these developments among the residents of the Hilltop area following the proposal by the Columbus Transit Company.

Forty-five residents of the 700 block of Roys-av oppose the present Mount-st loop on their street and presented a petition to that effect.

Other residents in the area favor the loop.

Residents living south of Mound-st between Harris-av and Binns-blvd want the Hague-av crosstown line extended south in Hague-av to the south corporation line to connect them with the Hilltop shopping centers of Sullivant-av and Broad-sts.

Residents beyond Derrer-rd want service in Sullivant-av to Derrer-rd instead of a terminus at Demorest-rd.

Residents living north of Wicklow-rd want the proposed Westgate Park loop routed over Palmetto-st instead of over Wicklow-rd.

Roys-av residents propose the bus in Mound-st instead of making a loop over Roys, Eakin and Wiltshire, turn into Binns, a block farther west, back into Mound and return eastward in Mound-st.

The city attorney's office said that council on the other hand may not direct or authorize such a switch around because it would violate the traffic laws.

The transit company had proposed the Mound-st bus line be extended a distance of 12 blocks from its present terminus at Wayne-av, to Roys-av. The line would loop at Roys-av by way of Eakin-rd and Wiltshire-rd and return eastward on Morse-st.

The Hilltop Record, on Nov. 2, pointed out the possibility of extending the Mound-st bus service upon the completion of the 11-block segment of new pavement on that thoroughfare.

Sullivant-av service would be furnished further west by the Hague-av crosstown line. Additional buses would be put on the line, and it would be routed around Westgate Park on a 15-minute schedule.

Oscar R. Hott, vice-president of the transit company, said the Hague-av bus, instead of going out Sullivant to Brinker-av, would be routed north on Huron-av to Wicklow-rd, west on Wicklow to Demorest, south to Sullivant-av, and east to link with the Sullivant-av trolley coach terminus at Binns-blvd.

The Hague-av crosstown line is now operating on a 20-minute schedule, but the plan would enlarge the present schedule to include: 15-minute service each week day until 8 p. m. and 30-minute service on Sundays between 9 a. m. and 12:30 p. m., and between 5 and 7:30 p. m.

Residents of the area beyond the Sullivant-av line petitioned City Council for extension of the line more than a year ago. Lengthening of the Mound-st bus line has been sought by residents of that area since last spring. The recent rebuilding of Mound-st from Wayne-av to Binns-blvd was decided to permit the extension.

Mr. Hott offered the proposal at a conference with Mayor Rhodes and Frank H. Kearns, chairman of Council's Service Committee. Also present were John B. Poston, president of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., and W. Glover Porter, president of the transit company.

Although such matters are normally referred to the Utilities Committee of the Council, the Service Committee chairman was called into conference as the most readily available representative of Council. It was indicated that necessary legislation would soon be drafted.

Fire Renders 18 Homeless On McKinley-av

Eighteen persons were made homeless and two were injured in a $4500 flash fire that destroyed the interior of a two-story frame house at 3150 McKinley-av early Monday.

The blaze started when a kerosene stove exploded in a second floor bedroom. Injured in the fire was George Estep, 53, who suffered serious burns on his face, neck and left arm while making rescue attempts. He is in fair condition at White Cross Hospital. Also injured was Billy Love, 6, who was burned about the face and hands. He was treated by a physician.

Estep was burned as he rescued several children from the flames. Firemen said he inhaled a large amount of smoke as he rescued his 14-year-old son, David, who was asleep.

The 13-room house is owned by the Marble Cliff Quarries Co., where Estep is employed. Nick Stischok, whose family was routed by the fire, also is employed at the quarry.

Made homeless were Mr. and Mrs. Estep, five children, a grandchild and Mr. Estep's mother, Mrs. Charlotte Estep, 78; Mr. and Mrs. Nick Stischok and their seven-year-old son, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Love and four children.

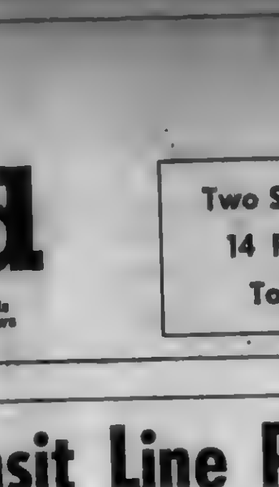
The Love family moved into the home two weeks ago when they were forced to leave their Plain City residence. Mr. Love operates a filling station in Plain City, and is a son-in-law of George Estep.

The fire marked the initial run of the Franklin Township firemen, who battled the blaze for two and one-half hours. The department, located in San Marguerite, was recently formed and equipment arrived only last Saturday.

Sheriff Deputies Check Further Murder Leads

Franklin County sheriff's deputies reported no new developments in the murder case of Charles Chenault, 28, 2021¼ Parsons-av, found brutally slain last Saturday at the bottom of a 100-foot cliff on the west side of the Marble Cliff quarries at Dublin and Trabue-rds.

Investigators said the victim suffered a deep puncture through the forehead and cuts on the back of the head. They said the wounds were not made by bullets.



Chenault was last seen alive Friday night in a tavern at 17th-st and Mt. Vernon-av with two women. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Chenault, of the Parsons-av address, reported he had not been home since the previous Tuesday. They said he was in the habit of carrying large sums of money.

"The victim had no money on his person when found," explained deputies "It appeared he was dragged several feet to the edge of the cliff. Blood stains also were found near the cliff edge."

The victim was a janitor at the Greyhound bus station. He was reported missing Saturday morning by bus officials. Dr. Carl Tetirik, acting coroner, said that Chenault had been dead several hours when found and termed the case definitely a homicide.

The search for the two women is being conducted under the direction of Chief Investigator Lt Ellsworth Beck and Sgt. Fred Selby.

Your Seal Purchase Fights TB

On Monday, residents throughout the West Side area received their 1950 Christmas seals to fight TB.

These cheery harbingers of Christmas and good health completely finance the work of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society throughout Franklin County. Last year's seal sale receipts paid for nearly 40,000 free chest X-rays for Franklin Countians — and discovered TB or other chest ailments among 1600. Since each undiscovered case of tuberculosis is estimated to lead, eventually, to nine more, the numbers of lives saved through the Christmas seal sale cannot be estimated.

Chest X-rays cost the society approximately 45 cents each, on a mass production basis, but might otherwise be prohibitive for some persons. They find TB early, before there are outward symptoms, while the disease can be cured, and before infection is widespread.

Not only does seal sale income make these X-rays possible to local residents, but it pays for education in tuberculosis. It enables the society to educate the public, through talks and films, on the treatment, cure, and prevention of TB. And it has reduced the TB death rate in Franklin County to the lowest in its history.

Tuberculosis should be termed "the unnecessary disease." Its cause is known. So is its method of spreading, and its cure. With adequate support, through the Christmas seal sale, Franklin Countians can help to eventually eliminate this disease altogether.

The results of the 1950 Christmas seal sale, now in progress, will determine the TB control program in Franklin County for 1951. Receipts from the current sale will pay for free chest X-rays—in industries, communities, and schools throughout the county — during the coming year.

Every local resident who values healthful community living will do well to answer his Christmas seal letter promptly.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Congressmen returning to Washington are finding ballots from the nation's independent businessmen reflecting a serious "no-nonsense" attitude toward the defense, or war, effort. These ballots are from the latest nationwide poll of businessmen taken by the National Federation of Independent Business on four issues.

On one of the issues, immediate adoption of Universal Military Training, 75% of the businessmen are for; 18% opposed; 3% undecided.

Many of the businessmen voting are veterans. They know they will pay taxes to support such a program.

But, as veterans, they are familiar with the waste of both men and money that has accompanied the nation's confused "jerry-built" mobilizations of the past.

In the same poll, businessmen took the stand that slashing of foreign commitments should take place before imposing drastic restrictions at home.

The vote on this issue was 83% for; 13% against; 4% undecided.

Verified reports that American tax millions are being used to give tobacco to Europeans; set up luxury hotels; have destroyed confidence in any concrete good coming out of the expenditure of billions of Marshall Plan dollars.

In voting for Universal Military Training, the businessmen acknowledged guns will be needed even if some essentials are lost at home. But, they say, there is a limit to how far dollars can be stretched. Dollars stretched too far cease being dollars; they become wallpaper.

The businessmen's votes also face another issue squarely. For some time, as was done in World War II, monopolies have sought to have the Dept. of Justice cancel all prosecutions for Anti-Trust violations.

Monopolies argue they are too busy in a war effort to defend their violations in court. Or as one Washingtonian observes, "This logic is the same as a burglar asking to be excused from standing trial because he is too busy investing his loot in the stock market."

At the outbreak of Korea the first defense move of many corporations, facing anti-trust court action on alleged violations in 1945-50, was to request court action against them be dropped.

In this current poll, 67% of the businessmen voted against suspension of anti-trust laws; 30% voted in favor; 3% are undecided.

This indicates that monopoly argument that appearance in court curtails their production has not met with common belief. Probably, because most people know that monopolies have big staffs of corporation lawyers for this very purpose.

And as one observer commented, "Whoever heard of a corporation lawyer being any good at a turret lathe. The monkey wrenches they use never build arms."

On the same ballot, businessmen voted 84% against the current scheme of Washington Socialists to reduce the number of business firms in the nation in event of all-out war.

In general, there is a growing sentiment in the Nation's small cities and towns to remove from Washington thousands of officials who are now classified as hydramatic bureaucrats. In current Washington speech, a hydramatic bureaucrat is a shiftless politician.

In Passing

by Esther Weakley

"Dear the people coming home,
Dear glad faces long away,
Dear the merry cries, and dear
All the glad and happy play.
Dear the thanks, too, that we give
For all of this, Thanksgiving Day."
Harriet Prescott Spofford
(1835-1921)

I like this poem written by a local physician:

SPEAKING FORM EXPERIENCE
Now son, we're going to Grandma's house
Thanksgiving Day, for eats.
Take this advice from one who knows:
Go easy on the sweets.
Now take this item, pumpkin pie,
Two slices are enough—
All right, say four, should it be filled
With pungent spicey stuff.
And let me tell you this, my boy:
A turkey is a bird.
It only has two drumsticks, so
Please don't expect a third.

It is hard to decide when trees are loveliest, whether it is when they are new-green or bright red and orange, or when they are only etchings against the sky.

Teen-agers are wonderful! I love them but it makes me feel old and tired to watch them. It is amazing how they can dance, blow bubble gum, listen to a radio program, talk on the phone and do their homework, simultaneously.

The Norman Menges, widely-known magicians, recently moved into their new home at 96 Broadlawn-av. Mrs. Menge is also well-known as a singer, and is in demand as church soloist; at weddings, and has appeared on television.

Walter Gibson, 18-year-old writer of very good verse, who lives at 2661 W. Broad-st, wrote a fine letter which is much appreciated.

Cal Lyon, that good friend and outstanding columnist (Sunday Citizen), once received a letter from Lowell Thomas which said in part: "Next time I pass through Columbus I hope I can find you. It is about time for us to have a session and remind each other how we won the first World War and how World War Two could have been avoided if people had only taken our advice!"

Edgar Allan Poe said "The origin of poetry lies in a thirst for a wilder beauty than earth supplies." Do you suppose that is why he dreamed up the wild "Raven"?

Lifted from the Medical Journal, that probably lifted it from somewhere: "Some doctors believe in shock treatment—mailed out the first of the month."

Mabel Jones ("head man" of the John P. Jones house over on N. Ogden) told me a cute story written to her by her daughter, Dorothy, now married and living near Peoria, Ill. One of Dorothy's neighbors was in a department store toy department, watching an electric train. A small boy was standing near her; he asked her the price of the train. She told him she didn't know, so he pointed to a toy on the shelf and asked if she knew the price of it. She told him she didn't know that, either, and told him to ask the clerk. He looked at her pityingly and said, "Lady, can't YOU read, either?"

Pessimistic note from somewhere: "Civilization is a state of society in which a person who is over 90 has a hope of missing another war."

Happy Thanksgiving, everyone.

Local Church Observes Festival Of Booths

JIM HEINZELMAN and Joan Recob of Westgate Methodist Church School with Harvest Home Donations for Booth Festival.

The membership, Church School and Youth Fellowship of Westgate Methodist Church all combined in their efforts for a Thanksgiving Harvest Home Celebration. All brought donations of canned goods and fruits for a display.

One of the junior classes under the leadership of the teacher, Russell Anderson, arranged the display according to the Old Testament celebration of The Festival of Booths. The other departments contributed and the Primary Department is giving a basket of the donated perishables to a needy family in the community.

The canned goods will be used by the Youth Fellowship in their Booth Festival and will be given to the Methodist Children's Home in Worthington. They are preparing a booth display for the night of Nov. 28 when the Columbus district will gather for its annual celebration of the "Booth Festival."

New Hilliards Athletic Field Assured For The Near Future

Hilliards High School will get 9.6 additional acres to enlarge the school's athletic facilities, it was announced today.

A permanent stadium will be erected for the football field on the property, of which three acres have already been obtained. The remainder of the area, surrounded by three paved highways, will be acquired in the near future.

Two softball fields, two tennis courts, a volleyball court, plus a practice field for the band, and a practice football field will be laid out. When completed, this will compare with the better athletic plants in Franklin County.

Condemnation proceedings were continuing in Probate Court this week on 9.621 acres owned by Carl Eli Rogers, of RFD No. 1. The land is located just east of the Hilliards High School between Hart-rd and Fuller Mill-rd. The area is sought by the Norwich Township Board of Education.

The principal issue between the Norwich Township Board and Mr. Rogers is settlement of the price to be paid for the land. Assistant County Prosecutor Joseph J. Poorman said an agreement on price within the next week is likely.

The board already has acquired nearly three acres from Perry Slyh and his son, William Slyh. A bond issue, voted several years ago, approved the land purchase, a wing for the Hilliards Elementary School, and garages for school buses.

Lone Zero Can Make A Big Difference

A little matter of a "zero" can make a whale of a difference and its all a matter of just where that zero might appear. Ted Bendure, owner and manager of Bendure Tailoring Co., called it to our attention this week and kiddingly suggested that we were holding him down.

The Bendure advertisement in last week's edition of the Record stated that the Bendure firm had a total of only 100 patterns available when as a matter of fact the firm carries over 1000 patterns in stock. "These 1000 patterns from $39 up are available in gabardines, flannels, coverts, sharkskins, worsted and tweeds," says Bendure. He suggested a gift certificate as a Christmas present to that special person.

Bowling scores and averages are soaring high at the Hilltop Alleys this season. As of now there are 23 who are in the select class with 180 or better averages. There have been five 1000 games this season. Three of these came in the Recreation, one in the Tuesday Niters and the last in the Business Men's.

Guy Seydnor, with 245-641, paced his Yoders team to honors of 969-2683 in the Tuesday Niters. The honors in the Recreation loop were split up as Chuck Worthington had 245, Charles Pidock 615, Atlas Supply 977, and Kent Builders, 2795.

Walt Thrailkill came in with a fine 246 in a 609 total to lead the Vee-Dee-ers to team highs of 987-2787. Wally Chrisbaum had 200-203, 205-608, in a nice consistent set. Frank Vincent hooked in 220, Charles Apel, 587, and Wahl Builders, 987-2840.

Lucille Redman again came in for top honors with 218-579. Corner Cafe took team highs with 897-2463. Marian Ferguson had 202-505 to lead Reeb's Confectionery to 742-2140.

St. Aloysius Grid Team Allows Only 16 Pts. For Season

St. Aloysius, middleweight league football champions, had only 16 points scored against them in the entire football season. The score last Friday was St. Aloysius 12, St. Vincent's 7. Games between the champion leagues will be played Thanksgiving Day at St. Vincent's orphanage.

Rev. Monsignor George O. Mason, chaplain of the orphanage, is director of the league and host for the holiday classic, which has been held for the past 14 years.

The tilts, which climax the grid-iron season for the grade school teams, will begin at 9 a. m. and will be played consecutively.

Until last Friday neither St. Vincent's or St. Aloysius had lost a game this season.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

I OVERHEARD

That MARTY MEGOWAN had his voice taped on TV. It was done in Camden, N. J., last week. He'll be back among us Hi Ridgers in a few days. He had lots of fun on his extended vacation.

That the CAMPBELL brothers did so well in their hunting they gave away some of their game to their friends. PAUL has had their big freezer unit for over a year and they just finished eating their bunnies from last hunting season.

That GRANDMA HARRISON is up for all of the holidays, from down South Carolina way. She's with her daughter JULIA MILLER.

That MARIAN SCHMITT'S parents of Wisconsin are here for Thanksgiving. They even brought the turkey with them. Now all Marian will have to do is to buy some frozen pies, prepared stuffing, canned cranberry sauce, etc.—and she won't have to slave like her grandmother used to.

That a new Motorola TV is in FRANK GIVENS' home. They were getting one for Christmas but couldn't wait that long. "It made the kids happy," says Frank. Right! He stays up until midnight himself watching it.

That BILL HAINES' daughter LUCILLE has a "glittter stone" on her third finger, left hand. The date is set for Jan. 4.

That JANE EVANS will have to buy another glass of cottage cheese. Her youngster got hold of her blue aluminum tumbler, put it in her toy box and scratched it all up.

That BOB IRWIN has a slight black eye from playing with his son's punching bag.

That my wife doesn't want to cook this Thanksgiving, so I guess we'll go out to eat . . .

Happy Thanksgiving, folks!

Kiwanian Ad Salesmen Check Results

ADVERTISING for the forthcoming Christmas Edition of the Hilltop Record was handled by the group of Kiwanians shown above as they checked last minute copy and reports before the final deadline for advertising this week. Early reports of the committee indicated that this year's edition would be one of the best ever and that the coffers of the local Kiwanis Child Welfare Fund would be materially strengthened. Shown in the photo seated left to right are Martin Van Atta and Tom Boyer, chairman. Standing left to right are Ed Johnson, Charles Preston and Robert Cramer. J. Van Nostrand, another member of the advertising committee was not present at the time of the photo.

Letters to Editor

C. Carlton Hartley, Publisher,
The Hilltop Record,
2465 W. Broad Street,
Columbus, Ohio.

Dear Carlton:

As a one-time resident of the Hilltop area, and a constant follower of The Hilltop Record while I lived there, you can imagine my pleasure when I received a copy of your Progress Section.

My parents sent me a copy, and I had an opportunity to go over it during the week-end. It's a fine looking paper, and you are certainly to be commended for your foresight in making adequate preparations to handle color.

If TV is going to enter the picture in color advertising soon, it is going to be imperative that all newspapers will be able to provide their advertisers with color facilities.

Your edition has brought back many fond memories of my residence on the Hilltop, and I can recall the day when The Hilltop Record published from a little second floor on Broad-st.

With heartiest congratulations to you and your colleagues, who made such a success of this publication, and with best personal wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
John Colburn

Editor, The Hilltop Record
Dear Sir'

The Rea-Bow Improvement Association, Inc., took an active part in having placed upon the November ballot for the consideration of the Franklin Township voters, the repeal of the zoning law now in effect in that township. The association, after it had been certified that enough names had been filed to assure the placing of this question upon the ballot, did nothing more to repeal this law. Not one cent was spent, and not one meeting was held to gain repeal, although the association was in possession of facts that few of the voters were aware of, and had speakers who were willing to appear and give the people the facts on zoning.

The reason for this action by the association was simple. The Rea-Bow Association is in fact an improvement association, and knows the need for rural zoning. It is aware of the methods used in rezoning, and issuing so-called "use permits" by the Franklin County Zoning Board. This method is the sore spot in zoning. People were told that if zoning was accepted, rezoning would come only after "due notice" and "public hearing". This has not been carried out.

The association opposed, in one instance, the construction of a club-house on a residential lot, and this club was refused after the association had gone to an expense, and appeared before the board to oppose, only to find that the club went back and, without "due notice", was granted this request. A letter of protest, sent over a year ago by the association, remains unanswered. Today, on Eakin-rd, buildings are being erected, and the association has asked residents close by, "What is going in those buildings?" No one knows, but they do know that one year ago these lots were "residential."

Just what is a "public notice," Mr. Editor? A small notice stuck in the Daily Court Reporter? A typewritten sheet stuck on a telephone pole? These may be lawfully legal, but we hold they are morally dishonest, if defended and maintained. Are we of the association wrong when we ask that no "use permits" be granted, and no rezoning be allowed, unless an honest effort is made to notify the people who live within at least a half mile of the affected area?

Notices, in bold type, in public buildings and on the property itself, would be a "due notice" of a public hearing. Ten days should be sufficient time.

Why did over 700 people vote to repeal this zoning law, with no prodding, when every effort was made and money spent to keep it? Something is wrong. Who will help the Rea-Bow Association correct this miscarriage of justice NOW, before a few more hundred want the law repealed? Two years is a short time. I trust this will explain the stand of this association.

Very truly yours,
George W. Wolfe
President

Unity in a community is built by the interests, activities and entertainments held in common for all civic minded people to enjoy. It is with this in mind that the Glenwood Recreation Center is constantly striving to bring to the youth and adults of the Hilltop and West Side a program that can be enjoyed for the asking. It might even be said that such a program may be had "merely for the attending."

Thanksgiving Program

On Friday, Nov. 24, a special program has been arranged for the enjoyment of all ages. Starting at 7 p. m. an hour of special entertainment is to be followed at 8 p. m. with tumbling exhibitions by the Schiller Park team. From 8:30 to 10 p. m. square dancing will be accompanied by the music of the Sunset Valley Boys.

Basketball Clinic

Thursday, Nov. 30 from 7 to 10 p. m. a basketball clinic will be held in the gymnasium of the recreation center. Floyd Stahl, Ohio State University basketball coach will use the basketball players from Glenwood to demonstrate the offensive plays of the game.

Officials from the Ohio High School Athletic Association will demonstrate the offensive and defensive plays of the girls' basketball teams. Official techniques and changes in the rules of the game will also be explained. A question and answer period will follow. The public is invited.

Bowling Classes

For the boys and girls over 10 years old, bowling classes are held on Friday at 4 p. m. at the Hilltop Bowling Alley. Special rates have been extended to the members of these bowling groups. Jeanne Williams, teen-age club organizer of the Glenwood staff is the instructor and further information can be obtained by calling the recreation center.

Newspaper Club

In the form of educational activities as well as enjoyment received, the Glenwood Recreation Center has organized a newspaper club. The paper will be owned and operated exclusively by the youth of the center and will be under the guidance of a capable staff. This club will give the young people of our community an opportunity to become amateur reporters, photographers, artists, type-setters and press operators.

News items will not be limited, however, to the youth alone. Anything of interest to the center from any age will be gladly accepted.

Teen-agers wishing to join the newspaper club may do so by attending the meeting on Thursday at 7 p. m. (There will be no meeting on Thanksgiving). The paper will be issued monthly and a small "Introduction Issue" will be ready for distribution by the first week in December.

Looking Ahead
with J. W. WORREL

Will You Look In The Mirror?

When we gaze into a mirror it gives back the truth, coldly and impartially. The mirror cares not whether the image be as fair as an adolescent dream of love—or ugly as squalor. It stoops to no flattery, is not moved by compassion, cannot err. Remorseless as Time, it throws back dispassionately the thing that IS.

Most of us have become accustomed to seeing the same old countenance day after day. If it is unprepossessing we've become used to THAT too, and reflecting surfaces hold no terrors for us.

There is another mirror, however, into which few dare look. And that is the mirror that reflects the true state of our financial arrangements for our dependents in the event of death.

It is a happy—and a rare—man who can do so and be reassured by what he sees.

Too many of us are content to insure ourselves for an amount that SEEMS like a lot of money. Unless you translate that sum into terms of income replacement for your dependents in the event of your death, you will not have the true picture. Make the test now. I shall be happy to review your insurance with no obligation whatsoever to yourself. DARE you look in the mirror?

$26,000 Sewer Project OK'd By Commissioners

Culminating an eight-year struggle to obtain street sewers to prevent recurrent floods, residents of the Jo-Ann Addition finally received assurance by Franklin County commissioners for a $26,000 project.

The project will place two 12-inch sewers on N. Sylvan-av and one 12-inch sewer each on N. Southampton-av and N. Alganquin-av.

Twenty-five residents were present in the county commissioner's office Tuesday to hear that the project had been granted. They were assured by the county engineer that the work would begin immediately.

The 78 families in the area first petitioned for sewer control eight years ago, and a second petition was submitted after floods caused serious roperty damage in February, 1949.

At that time, N. Southampton-av was covered wtih several feet of water north of Valleyview-dr. In the basements of some homes, the water rose to almost two feet around the foundations, as a result of the heavy rains.

Commissioners announced that the county would pay only 10 per cent of the estimated $26,000 cost of the project. Property owners in the affected area would have to pay the balance, it was revealed. This would amount to an assessment of about $221 per lot.

The sewers to be constructed are planned to empty into a 24-inch sewer on the north end and a 15-inch sewer on the south end of the project.

Beta Lamba Class of Glenwood Methodist will meet with Mrs. J. C. McLish, 118 N. Powell-av, Monday, Nov. 27, 8 p. m.

"Here's one health secret all of us can use"

says Harry M. Tiebout, M.D.

What medical science is learning now can guide you to peace of mind and better health...

Faith's share in the art of healing . . .
Albrecht Durer reproduction, courtesy of J. Greenwald, Inc., N. Y. C.

Speaking from his knowledge of the great advances made by medicine, Dr. Tiebout deeply stresses the importance of faith for its share in the art of healing. "Here," says Dr. Tiebout, "is the only universal path to that peace of mind which must underlie well-being. And the capacity for faith and the well-being it brings will grow as you use what is here to be used."

Little wonder, then, that most physicians feel the open doors of our churches to be as important as those of our hospitals and clinics. Thousands who go to be healed in body find the skills of medical science to be strengthened by the comfort found in churches of every faith.

Find your new strength through faith

Your own problems—whether growing from our present chaotic world, or troubles close at home—were never meant to be borne alone. You'll always find them lighter if you carry them to your church, this week, and every week.

Take your problems to Church this week—millions leave them there!

Briggsdale Enterprise Marks 25th Anniversary In Nov.

Twenty-five years ago in June, Watson M. Emison and Harry H. Schilling bought the Briggsdale Coal Co. from John Canter and David M. Hughes.

Located at 1584 Harrisburg-pk, the establishment was housed in a building 14 by 30 feet and had an inventory of coal and feed of less than $500.

The new partners started their deliveries with a Model T Ford truck and a horse and wagon. After about five months Mr. Emison decided the business would not keep two families, so he sold his interest to Mr. Schilling. Hence, it is the latter who is marking his 25th anniversary year this November.

For about 15 years Mr. Schilling was assisted in the business by his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Schilling give a great deal of credit to their good friends the late John B. Briggs, A. P. Devennish and W. J. Hamilton who made it possible for them to get started in business.

After the firm had outgrown the place at 1584 Harrisburg-pk, Mr. and Mrs. Schilling built a new building at 1740 Harrisburg-pk in 1932 and moved there at that time.

As time went on and business increased, they added hay and straw to their line. After 13 years, with the volume of business still increasing, and with good help hard to keep, Mr. Schilling sold one-half interest to Oakey W. Bapst, who is still with the company. Later they built a hay shed and an elevator on their property and started to handle grain and hay in a larger way.

In 1944, finding that their storage facilities were inadequate, they built an addition of 24 by 50 feet to their store and added to their line such items as hardware, paint, lime, and cement. Now the company is delivering grain, feed, hay and straw to distant parts of Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. They have even made delivery as far as Tennessee.

The company now handles Ubika, Urbana, and Vitality feeds, grain, and Ohio, West Virginia, and Kentucky coals. They also deal in field and sewer tile, lime, cement, brick, sand, gravel, fence and fence posts, lumber, hardware, paint, gasoline and oil.

The Big Snow Hits Newspaper Publishing Too

With apologies, we present a mere eight pages in today's Record, all because of the "big snow." So much snow that on Monday the Record shop had so few employees at work that we closed down the office and sent all help home for the day.

To top it off a load of newsprint is "somewhere in Columbus on a railroad track "but that doesn't help put out a paper this week.

Otherwise we are "back to normal at the Record" and will greet you with a nice fat paper next week.

Due to the shortage of newsprint and available help, publication of the West Side News has been suspended for the week.

Progress Of Printing Recorded By Students

We are in receipt of a mighty fine scrap book from the students of Room 201 in the sixth grade at West Broad Street School entitled "Progress of Printing."

Earlier pages in the book contain contributions of the various students telling and showing the steps in the advancement of printing back from the time man's first records were made in stone.

We were particularly interested in the latter portion of the book which contained the story of "Our Trip To The Hilltop Record" and told of the various steps taken in printing the Record as the students saw them when they recently visited our plant.

Among the contributions was one from David Steele in which he told of meeting the author of this column and said "When I grow up I would like to work for him and some day take over his job." Now there is a gentleman I want to keep in close touch with. I'm always looking for a good man.

All the members of Miss Waymer's class are to be congratulated on this fine collection of interesting stories about the printing trade and the Record in particular.

Local Men Occupy Key Newsie Posts

William F. Krause of 321 S. Richardson-av., is among the 10 probationary memberrs in the Charity Newsies. All will be taking an active part in the 44th annual drive of the "100 Per Cent for Charity" organization. Its annual street sale of special "Have a Heart" edition newspapers is set for Saturday, Dec. 16.

Leroy E. "Lee" Weigand of 3181 W. Broad-st, is filling a key assignment in the welfare organization's pre-sale activities. He is co-chairman of the Solicitation Committee, charged with the responsibility of the advance funds drive now being conducted in factories, offices and stores, and wholesale houses.

William H. Haire of 3107 Ellispl. has been elevated to active membership after serving efficiently as a probationer, President Adam Maurer, Jr., reported yesterday.

The Hilltop will supply many of the most active participants in this drive to provide new clothing and new shoes, and fuel and food for deserving school children. All of these professional and business men will turn back the calendar and become newspaperboys once again when the Dec. 16 sale climaxes the traditional pre-Christmas season campaign. They include:

W. Herbert Dalle, 615 Belvidere-av; Robert L. Durham, 199 S. Brinker-av; Walter W. Grelle, Jr., 2182 Willamont-av; Max Gutkind, 476 S. Burgess-av; C. Carlton Hartley, 2465 W. Broad-st; A. Louis Holzbacher, 97 S. Algonquin-av; Otho Hayner, 787 S. Richardson-av; James W. McDevitt, 462 S. Huron-av; Fred "Fritz" Moritz, 90 N. Warren-av; A. T. Vollmann, 208 Binns-blvd; and Theodore E. Vollmann, 75 Whitethorne-av.

Among those with "veteran life" membership status are Harry Fleming, 104 N. Warren-av, and J. C. Harrington, 3327 W. Broad-st. The late Judge Edward C. Turner was a Newsie founder, and loage one of its most enthusastic supporters.

Weigand has distributed placards, contributors' buttons and solicitation lists from his store at 47 W. Long-st. President Maurer a Newsie founder, and long one cock yesterday hailed the work of Weigand's committee as among the most vital performed by any of the many sub-units in this campaign.

Home Destroyed By Fire In Briggsdale

Fire destroyed a Briggsdale home and left four persons homeless as Columbus firemen answered 34 fire and emergency calls in less than seven hours Saturday afternoon.

Ralph Fleck, 29, his wife and two small daughters were left homeless by the fire at 1439 Hypo Luxo-av, just west of the B&O Railroad tracks at Briggsdale.

The blaze apparently started from a defective flue in a dining room stove. Columbus firemen said the fire destroyed all the family's clothing and a house full of new furniture. No insurance was carried on building or contents. Loss was estimated at $4700.

Mr. Fleck, who is employed as a carpenter at the old Postoffice Building, said the family would temporarily stay with his mother, Mrs. Alice Fleck, 2286 Rankin-av.

Delays in fighting the fire occurred when water froze in a section of hose, and when firemen were forced to re-lay hose under the railroad tracks to permit a train to pass.

Clothing Firm Names Local Man Public Relations Director

Appointment of Ray E. Haughn, jr., of 389 S. Harris-av, as public relations director of The John H. Pumphrey Co., men's clothing store at 18 N. High-st, was announced Tuesday.

A life-long resident of Columbus, Haughn has been associated with the men's retail clothing and furnishings business in Columbus for the past six years.

He is a graduate of West High School and attended Ohio State University, and has been active in amateur theater groups. His appointment is in line with an expansion program of the Pumphrey firm.

ATTEND AIR CONCLAVE

Two Hilltop men will be among a group of 18 Air Force ROTC cadets from OSU leaving Port Columbus Friday by air to attend the national conclave at St. Louis of "Arnold's Air Society," national student fraternity.

Local men making the trip are Louis Capretta, 240 S. Harris-av and George Eley, West Jefferson.

Mid-Year School Commencement Dates Revealed

Mid-year commencement dates for Hilltop and West Side junior and senior high schools was set Monday by Columbus Board of Education, according to announcement from the administrative offices. Between the dates of Jan. 22-24 seven of the city high schools and 11 junior highs will have ceremonies, in mornings, afternoons and evenings.

The schedule for local schools is:

Tuesday, Jan. 23, Starling Junior High at 2:30 p. m. and Central High at 8 p. m.

Wednesday, Jan. 24, West Junior High at 2:30 p. m. and West High School at 8 p. m.

The last day of school for senior high graduates will be Jan. 17. For junior graduates it will be Thursday, Jan. 18. This will enable the graduating students to have time for rehearsals and to plan class parties, according to the announcement.

The semester break will give senior high school pupils two and a half days vacation the week of Jan. 22, and junior high and elementary pupils two days. The second semester starts Monday, Jan. 29.

The vacations will also give junior and senior high school teachers and principals time to prepare new schedules.

To Name First Franklin-twp Fire Chief In January

The first fire chief of Franklin Township will be named in late January or early February, William Maurer, chairman of the Franklin Township's fire fighting committee, said yesterday.

That period will be the approximate time when the township's first 60 hose-and-ladder recruits will have completed their training in the fire fighting. The area's second pump truck is expected to arrive at that time, also.

A minimum of two pieces of fire fighting equipment is required by the Ohio Fire Inspection Bureau before a township can organize an independent fire department.

Although the budding volunteer department cannot carry on fire fighting alone until its second truck arrives, it may use its one vehicle to cooperate with established departments in fire emergencies.

This was demonstrated last Monday morning when the Franklin truck at San Marguerita aided Columbus firemen in battling a blaze at 3150 McKinley-av. On this, its first run, it employed its entire 500-gallon capacity of water and more quantity from a township tank truck.

The new fire protection arm in the township was recognized officially Monday evening when it was accepted into the membership of the Franklin County Fire Fighters, Inc.

The ceremony at Harrisburg School established a mutual protection agreement between Franklin Township Fire Department and all community fire locations in the county. This makes Franklin Township eligible to exchange fire fighting aid with surrounding communities.

Hilltop Service Station Man Is Badly Burned

Seriously burned when sparks from a cigaret ignited his gasoline soaked clothing late last Wednesday, a 19-year-old Hilltop filling station attendant was reported in "good" condition in Mt. Carmel Hospital today.

As Jerry Murnane of 592 Townsend-av, was filling an automobile tank at Jerry's Marathon Station, 3227 W. Broad-st, gasoline overflowed and spilled on his clothing. He went inside the station to light a cigaret and the match flame ignited his clothing, police said.

He suffered first and second degree burns over two-thirds of his body, hospital attendants said.

Local Soldier Said Missing In Korean Action

Pfc. Estell

A 19-year-old former West High School student was reported missing in action since Nov. 2, a Department of Defense telegram has informed his parents.

Pfc. Howard Estell, 227 N. Eureka-av, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Estell, enlisted from West High School in October, 1948. In February, 1949, he went to Japan, where he served with a military police battalion in Tokyo.

The last letter received by his parents was dated Oct. 23. He told them he had participated in the liberation of Seoul, and was in Pyongyang where his outfit, the First Cavalry Division, was awaiting further orders.

Through news reports later, the family was able to learn that division had been cut off north of Pyongyang around the first of November.

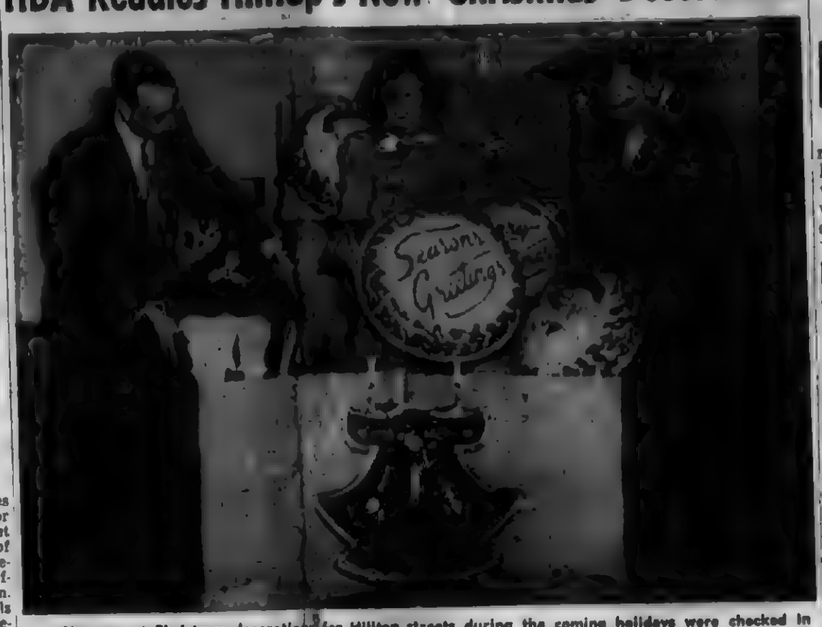
Hilliards Without Water 24 Hours When Big Pipe From Well Freezes

The village of Hilliards was without water from 3 p. m. Saturday until 3 p. m. Sunday due to frozen water line from the wells that supply the community water supply.

First attempts to thaw the pipe were unsuccessful and village officials were unable to get a welder out from Columbus for the purpose. The line was finally thawed by using a molasses heater supplied by the Russell Grain Co. Normal water service was resumed about 3 p. m. Sunday. As far as is known there were no serious consequences as a result of the freeze. A 9000 gallon reserve was held for fire protection.

This is the first time the line has frozen in the history of the village and was apparently due to the very strong wind accompanying the near zero weather.

Hilliards schools were scheduled to reopen Thursday this week.



Barbershop Quartets Postpone Program

There will be no barbershop harmony in Hilliards as scheduled for this week.

Paul Kindinger, music teacher at the high school, along with his wife and month-old baby, are stranded in Pittsburgh where they went to visit her mother.

The barbershop quartet program has been scheduled to take place Dec. 7.

HBA Readies Hilltop's New Christmas Decorations

New, smart Christmas decorations for Hilltop streets during the coming holidays were checked in at the Hilltop Business Association offices, 3183 W. Broad-st, this week when they arrived preparatory to erection at various street intersections. Shown above checking the new plastic decorations which totaled 32 in number are, left to right, Jack Harris, secretary of the organization, Dorothy Hott, new clerk at the office, and Dr. Paul Haught.

In addition to the new Noel decorations, there will be 52 additional wooden Santa heads which will also be erected along Hilltop thoroughfares beginning around Dec. 1 by city work crews.

New Hilltop Shrine Candidates Prepare Tonight For Initiation

PRESIDENT of the Hilltop Shrine Club, Dr. R. J. Miller and secretary, Russell Carter, discuss plans for tonight's fete of Hilltop neophytes.

Tonight several hundred Hilltop Shriners will convene at the West Gate Masonic Temple to fete Hilltop candidates, who will take their initiatory work at the downtown N. Fourth St. Masonic Temple, Saturday.

Red feezes will be much in evidence at the West Gate conclave as the Hilltop "Nobles" condition the candidates for their "trek over the hot sands".

In addition to the festive board prepared by the Hilltop Shriners, a deeper and more profound object will be seen at the convocation.

Known universally for their philanthropies in helping crippled children, many hospitals and clinics have been set up at strategic points in the country. In this project, Hilltop Shriners have had no small part, and have contributed substantially to the endowment of the Crippled Children enterprises. "Best investment in the world." Shriners aver, "is helping these unfortunate children to walk again."

The late Ira Claggett, secretary of the Hilltop Shrine Club for many years, is a typical example of how many Shriners leave living memorials in their bequests—$2,000 was allocated in the will of Mr. Claggett for the Aladdin Temple Crippled Fund. Other bequests of Noble Claggett included $10,000 to the Hilltop Business Association for aiding physically handicapped young men under the age of 30; an additional $9,000 was willed to other philanthropies by the late secretary.

"As ye do it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye do it unto Me," was the uppermost thought of Claggett, and this philosophy will permeate the local meeting of the Hilltop Shriners of the Aladdin Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine of West Gate Temple tonight.

The local club was instituted on the Hilltop nine years ago and has grown by leaps and bounds. The club is frequently given a salute in the downtown Aladdin [illegible] during its semi-annual ceremonials (next of which is Saturday, Dec. 1 and 2) for its excellent work. When apprised of its splendid services at the ceremonial, thousands of Central Ohio Shriners in attendance applaud the local club for its achievements.

Tonight the candidates and the "Elect Nobles" at the mercy of the Hilltop "brutal brothers" will have their turn next spring in initiating a new class of Hilltop Shriners.

The club, this evening, will honor these "Elect Nobles", Charles H Campbell, 91 S. Westmoor; Fletcher Campbell, 793 S. Burgess-av; George R. Carney, 75 N. Eureka-av; William E. Ferguson, 3048 Crescent-dr; Charles L. Hawks, 643 S. Roys-av; Elmer Hegenberger, 106 Binns-blvd; Paul E Leighninger, 2986 Fremont; Lloyd B. Murphy, 338 S. Richardson-av; Irvin Williams, 111 N. Westmoor-av; Ernest Holycross, 316 S. Chase-av; Frank E. Jennings, 216 S. Algonquin-av; John R. Scott, 717 S. Harris-av; Frank P Smith, 420 Townsend; and Herbert P. Young, 376 S. Roys-av.

President of the Club is Dr. R. J. Miller. Russell Carter, successor to to late Ira Claggett, is secretary.

Committees, named by Miller, for the affair tonight include: program, Leo Phillips and Walter Hoelscher; decorations, Merle Haller; candidates, Slim Elder; food, Loren Galloway; make-up of candidates, "Spang" Spangler, and nominations, Curt Wilcox.

Charles A. Bonner, 84, Funeral Held Saturday

Charles A. Bonner, 84, died Thursday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thelma Haworth, 232 Belvidere-av.

Also surviving are two grandchildren and a sister in California.

Service was held at 2 p. m. Saturday at Berlin Center, Ohio, in charge of Noble L. Allen Funeral Home.

"Hilltop Council Not In Bus Fight" -- Carter

Hilltop Community Council president said this week that his group has taken "no action whatsoever" with respect to bus route extensions suggested for the Hilltop.

Russell Carter, the president, branded as "an imposter", an unidentified woman who appeared at City Hall Monday in opposition to the proposed extensions.

He said the council sought "some action" more than a year ago before City Council, but has not entered into the matter since that time.

Two Local Doctors Honored For Long Medical Services

Honored this week by the Columbus Academy of Medicine will be two Hilltop physicians, one still in active practice and the other now retired. The two are numbered among the 34 physicians who are general practitioners, specialists in particular fields of medicine and men who have given much time to medical organizations and associations.

Dr. Howard Whitehead, 2241 W. Broad-st, is the Hilltop physician currently carrying on his practice and Dr. Edgar H. Mallow, 138 N. Hague-av is the physician who is retired. Both are being honored at a banquet being held in the Chittenden Hotel this week for their half-century of service in the fields of medicine.

Each of the local doctors will receive a 50-year certificate in recognition of his long service and a gold emblem from the Ohio State Medical Association. Awards will be made by Dr. Jonathan Forman, editor of the Ohio State Medical Journal.

Dr. Whitehead's service to the medical profession began in 1893 when he became a graduate from Starling Ohio Medical College. Dr. Mallow was formerly president of Montgomery Medical Society and a graduate of Ohio Medical College in 1900.

SUPPER CANCELLED

The Big Brother Association's "Boston Plate Supper for Big and Little Brothers", scheduled for Wednesday at the Westgate Methodist Church, has been cancelled due to weather conditions.

'Big Snow' of 1950 Paralyzes Hilltop

Hilltoppers along with nearly 350,000 other Columbus residents were today gradually digging themselves out of heavy snow drifts and regaining some of the composure that was theirs prior to the sudden onslaught of the elements which lashed this area during the past week-end. Stories of the big snows of yesteryear were put on the back shelf and one and all acclaimed the fact that this, 1950, was the year of the "Big Snow."

As in other Ohio communities the local area was inundated by record snowfall of such proportions that business, industry and the normal pattern of every-day life was brought to a complete and absolute standstill as more than 19 inches of the fleecy substance fell from the skies and during Saturday, Sunday and Monday was whipped by strong winds to blizzard proportions.

W. Broad-st, normally the chief artery of traffic for this area and the city, was completely paralyzed with all transportation facilities at a standstill. Snow piled high in drifts thwarted the efforts of the most stouthearted to clear a path through. Snow shovels and tire chains for cars were at a premium and it is reported that in certain areas a black market in tire chains brought prices of $20 to $25 per set.

For once in its long history W. Broad-st was a dead street with autos trapped in the deep snows and unable to move. It was no uncommon sight to witness eight or 10 autos grouped together, unable to move, with drivers' patience gradually being exhausted to the point that cars were abandoned in mid-street.

Tuesday, however, the populace gradually, with yeoman-like effort, began to win the battle with the elements and the Hilltop, along with the balance of the city, began to assume a more normal air as traffic began to move and transit service was resumed to this and other areas.

The 19-inch snowfall chalked up on Monday was a record breaker for the month but not quite equal to the all-time record of 15 inches which struck the city on Feb. 16-17 of 1910. This latter snowfall came on top of a fall of 10.6 inches on Feb. 11-12, just five days ahead of the 19.3 inches.

Heaviest snow which ever fell before in November was eight inches on Nov. 16-17, 1920. On Nov. 9-10 in 1913 seven and a half inches fell.

Despite the heavy snowfall and whipping winds of Sunday, however, the cornerstone laying scheduled for the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene was carried out on schedule. Rev. Harris B. Anthony reported that although he had earlier postponed the event because of the inclement weather he had gone on with the service when he learned that the principal speaker had made his way all the way from Illinois for the event and had reached this community. Despite cold winds and snow more than 50 persons attended.

Other sidelights of the "Big Snow Storm" were the efforts of former Hilltopper Tom Zelkoff in furnishing donuts and coffee to the radio announcers and workmen at local stations in their long vigils before the mike in advising the public of the emergency and relaying constant news reports on the situation.

One West High School teacher beat out the storm to arrive in the community before it hit in its full fury. He was Mack Pemberton, head football mentor at West, who had been on a visit to Bowling Green. Three other local high school teachers, however, did not fare so well. Helen McCormick was stranded in Cleveland; Mrs. Velma Millhone in Cambridge and Mrs. Moselle Warren in Sidney.

Announcement was made today that the John Burroughs PTA Bazaar which had been scheduled for this week has been postponed until next Tuesday evening from 7 to 10 and again on Wednesday from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

In the meantime Columbus Safety Director Donald Cook has issued a warning to all motorists with autos abandoned on main thoroughfares that unless removed the owners will be fined.

Russell Friend Elected To Lead West Gate Lodge

Russell E. Friend, Sr., Powhatan-av, was elected Worshipful Master succeeding J. Harold Oney of West Gate Lodge No. 623, F&AM last week.

Other officers elected were Harry Fell, senior warden; Harry Weimer, junior warden; Warren Hilbert, treasurer; Kenneth Sheradin, secretary; Howard Hartranft, senior deacon; W. W. Kendall, junior deacon; William Pascoe, tyler and J. Harold Oney, trustee for a three year team.

Friend has appointed Floyd Kaltenbach, senior steward; Clyde Cunningham, junior steward; and Herbert L. Pfaltzgraf as chaplain.

The West Gate Hi-12 Craftsmen's Club presented the newly elected worshipful master with a gavel and pledged their support and cooperation for the coming year.

A combined reception for the new elected officers of West Gate and Luther B. Turner Lodges will be held on Saturday, Dec. 2, at 8 p. m. There will be entertainment featuring the popular Achbar Grotto Chorus and dancing to Burt Wendell's orchestra.

Plan Christmas Display At The Glenw'd Center

The Glenwood Recreation Center in conjunction with the Hilltop Community Council will erect a community Christmas greeting on the sloping part of the grounds in front of the recreation center, it was announced today.

At the bottom of the hill will be a Christmas greeting sign from the Hilltop, directly in back of which will be a huge lighted tree surrounded by silhouettes of two women, a man and three children, cut from pressed wood and painted in bright colors. In the background will be silhouettes of a church and three houses, giving a community atmosphere. The entire decoration will be spotlighted and erected in a position that can be viewed by passersby in either direction from Broad-st.

Russell Carter, president of the Hilltop Community Council, ordered the special materials needed and donated the use of his power saws. The council financed the project and the Glenwood staff and teen-agers are cutting and designing the decorations. It is expected to be completed by Dec. 15.

St. Aloysius Cub Scouts Plan Full Saturday

The St. Aloysius Cub Pack No. 250 is looking forward to two special events to take place Saturday, Dec. 2. The first event will be the pack's appearance on the Safety Time program over Radio Station WOSU at 10:30 a. m. The second event is a bake sale which is to be held at Robinson's at W. Broad-st and Wayne-av. The bake sale will last throughout the day with pastry of every description. The boys say if it's a cherry pie or just a dozen cookies you'll be needing for your next Saturday or Sunday meal, they'll have it.

This Scene Greeted Hilltop Motorists This Week

SHOWN ABOVE is a typical scene repeated many times over the Hilltop on Sunday and Monday of this week when Hilltoppers found cars completely inundated by the heavy snowfall. The only answer to the question was to start digging with the snow shovels or just let the snow covered car set until street clearing crews could get to it.

SONG BEFORE WINTER

Gather the windfall against the winter hunger;
Gather the sheaves for bread, the wool for garments,
For now the light is failing; even now
The hum of the bees is silenced petals fall;
The drained stalks of the summer corn grotesquely
Shudder against the sabre-colored sky . . .
Gather the darkening grain; hasten the harvest;
Taper the wick against the coming darkness.

The Greater Gay-St Baptist Church, corner of Gay and Washington, has many friends and members on the Hilltop as well as in other sections of the city. On Sunday, Dec. 3rd, the church will celebrate its second anniversary of radio broadcasting with a special program. The pastor, Rev. Mr. James F. Fincher, conducts the services which are heard each Sunday night over WVKO, from 10:00 till 11. Many prominent visitors have taken part in the broadcasts, among them Senator Robert Taft. Music is furnished by several choirs and musical groups of the church, and by the entire congregation. The entire service is very fine, and I am a regular listener. Special mention must be made of five-year-old William Foster, who sang a solo last Sunday night. He is wonderful and he will go far.

One of the quotations under the glass on my desk: "I believe in God the Father Almighty because wherever I have looked, through all that I see around me, I see the trace of an intelligent mind, and because in natural laws, and especially in the laws which govern the social relations of men, I see, not merely the proofs of intelligence, but the proofs of beneficence."—By Henry George.

JUNIOR SAYS:

1—The purpose of any subscription campaign such as The Hilltop Record is now having is primarily to secure NEW subscribers—as a general rule we do not have to worry about renewals after Hilltoppers have received, read and used the facilities of our various sections.

2—Everyone has friends and often it is difficult to figure out an appreciated gift for them at a reasonable cost.

JUNIOR SUGGESTS

That you make up a list of Hilltop friends who do not take our community newspaper — Call and ask them if they are subscribers — or call us up and ask us — When you have your list ready, mail or bring it in and we will do the rest.

We will start the Record with the next issue and continue it for a full year and will mail a card at Christmas time advising them it was your gift to them.

BIBLE COMMENT

Transfiguration, Through Prayer, Strengthens Faith

It is said that restlessness without purpose is discontent. And how often we feel tired of everything and long for new goals, a shift of scenery and new horizons.

It was as if in answer to just such a need that the Transfiguration came to Peter, James and John on the mountain.

They were overcome by a vision of Christ in gleaming white and with him other figures whom they identified as Moses and Elijah.

And when the three disciples descended the mountain with Jesus, who was wearing dust-stained garments, they felt a new strength surging through them for they had heard a voice from an overshadowing cloud say, "This is my beloved son; hear ye him."

The message was the true essence of worship—to listen to the voice of Jesus.

The valley appeared different when they at last entered it for the perspective from the mountain caused all things in the valley to sprawl out in clear relationship to one another. And they realized that their trip had changed them inwardly.

Their unforgettable experience was dramatic proof that we need in life both the mountain and the valley.

It is possible for us all to have experiences of Transfiguration that will renew our perspective, redefine our horizons and provide us with a deeper faith in the omniscience of God.

When monotony seems to plague us and our spiritual strength seems to wane, let us, through prayer, journey up a mountain to survey with fresh focus, the purpose of our lives.

And like the disciples, we shall hear the voice of the Master.

West High Basketball Squad Being Readied For Dec. 1 Opener

By Dave Miller

Basketball is in the sportlight now at West High School since the gridders recently stored away their togs to the moth balls and the season of the cage sport around the greater Columbus area will be starting up come Dec. 1.

At West, Head Coach George Williams and his able assistant, Fred Heischman, who again will be in charge of the reserves, are preparing their candidates for their official opener on Dec. 1 at Newark.

The Cowboys not only will be attempting to make a good showing in their 1950-51 unveiling, but also will be very anxious to avenge a 30-47 loss handed them by the Wildcats in the opener last year. From that loss, West went on to finish the year with their second consecutive even year of 10-10 in the overall schedule while drawing up behind co-champs East and South in the City League race.

According to Coach Williams' latest doping, the present varsity consists of two sophomores; three juniors, and nine seniors, and of this group only two are returning varsity lettermen.

The football reserves were scheduled to report to Williams and Heischman last Monday afternoon, and from this group of sophomores and juniors, the coaches hope to glean some prospective materials.

The present reserves include the following: Earl Redman, Dick Hutchison, Dick Wilson, Bert Heyder, Norman Chappelear, Dick Orr, Ken Anderson, Tom Hanley, Eddie Gielbs, and John Chesher. All but Chesher and Hanley attended West Junior. Chesher is a transfer from Logan, O., while Hanley came here from Starling.

Coach Williams is holding off saying anything of the future for the team. After all, how could a coach know how he was going to come out in any games, when he don't even know his first five? Right now, and probably right up until 8:15 p. m. Dec. 1, no one will know for sure who will be included in that starting quintet.

The 1950-51 schedule:

Dec. 1—at Newark.
Dec. 2—Bexley.
Dec. 5—at Grandview.
Dec. 8—at London.
Dec. 16—Central.
Dec. 22—at Chillicothe.
Dec. 29—Marysville.
Jan. 5—South.
Jan. 12—at East.
Jan. 16—at Aquinas.
Jan. 19—North.
Jan. 23—at Linden.
Jan. 27—at Marion Harding.
Feb. 2—at Central.
Feb. 3—Lima Central.
Feb. 6—at South.
Feb. 13—East.
Feb. 16—Aquinas.
Feb. 20—at North.
Feb. 23—Linden.

Boys' Athletic Clubs To Be Organized

The organization of Boys' Athletic Clubs for the second year by the City Department of Recreation was announced today by Nick Barack, Columbus superintendent of Recreation. The clubs will meet every Saturday morning.

"These clubs are designed to provide added recreation service for boys in all sections of the city," Barack stated. The recreation department will use six of its own recreation centers and five school buildings for meeting places.

The first organization meeting for local clubs will be held on Saturday, Dec. 2 at the recreation centers of Glenwood, Sullivant Gardens and Sunshine.

The program at each location will be designed for boys from the fourth through the ninth school grades, and will consist of participation in basketball, volleyball, wrestling, tumbling and group games during the indoor season. Later in the spring the program will be moved outdoors to include softball, baseball, tennis, horseshoes and other outdoor activities.

All equipment for the various sports activities will be provided by the Columbus Recreation Department.

SPORT SLANTS

By Dave Miller

In one of the most impressive banquets in the annuals of amateur sports, the Green Cabs organization paid their tribute to their banner-laden athletes last Monday evening at the Excelsior Club on the east side of Columbus.

Myron B. Hayes, prominent sports backer, and a favorite and follower of the Cabmen was the first of the speakers and slanted his talk toward the never-dying efforts of the Green Cabs' fine coach, Mark Stephans, a Hilltop resident—and praised by many as the top amateur baseball coach in the state of Ohio.

The players who numbered some 17, including three that have recently turned professionals over the past summer, all sat with solemn expressions and were determined to make something of themselves if they failed in their first desire of baseball.

Lou Berliner, one of the finest sports writers in Columbus, and currently in his twenty-first year as amateur writer for the Columbus Dispatch, served as the toastmaster of the big occasion — attended by some 48. Lou, a real favorite of sportsmen around Columbus, did a marvelous job for a marvelous banquet.

Following Mr. Hayes' talk, Mark Stephans was introduced. He talked for a few minutes on the accomplishments of the 1950 Green Cab teams. Overall, the team won 30 games and lost 14, grabbing runner-up in the Senior Knothole League, and third in the Saturday Amateur League. In fact, the Green Cab senior knothole team has lost only two games in the last three years.

Mr. Stephans remarked on a few of the highlights of the year, mentioning Frank Schritzinger's no-hitter midway through the season and Tom Crossley's 20 strikeouts at Galion in the amateur tournament held there during the summer.

Hosts Max Glassman and Frank Kauffman, both agreed to keep their speeches short—but to the point. Mr. Kauffman didn't speak—but Mr. Glassman paid his thanks and appreciation also to the fine work of Mark Stephans.

Jim McClintock, a West alumnus and one of the topflight umpires in the business—and rapidly improving—was the next speaker.

"Last but not least," was the comment of Toastmaster Lou Berliner as he introduced the final speaker, another sports figure in Ben Ratner, sporting goods dealer, who this year as well as in the past, has furnished the team with equipment. He also heads the Saturday Amateur League along with the genial Mr. Stephans.

In attendance (if we got 'em all) were 14 players on the past year's team. Included were Bob Hankel, Dave Caton, Jim Davis, Ted Findt, Jim Lang, Pete Davis, Frank Schritzinger, Mo Dobbs, Howard Cassady, Tommy Wright, Frank Carson, Ron Farley, Clyde Trumbull and Skip Barker.

Johnny Hayes, signed to a Boston Brave contract; Bob Parker, playing under the Detroit Tigers, and Dick Kirk, who finished last season with the Portsmouth club of the Ohio-Indiana League (farm of the Athletics), all former Cab players, were also present.

SHORT BITS: Phil Young, a grad of last June at West and an outstanding basketballer and baseballer, recently inked his professional baseball contract, and is home from a few months of college. East's Tigers are the definite favorites in the City League basketball race this season, as all but one of their starting five returns for service this year. . . . Bernie Granger is ineligible until mid-year because of grades while Dick Linson, Romie Watkins, Rollie Harris, and Bill Truss all return.

Laugh of the week goes to Jerry Trabue, topflight football and basketball star at West. Last week as he went hunting with another cage star, Roger Smith, Trabue hit a rock, and one of the buckshot struck "Smitty" in the leg—just grazing him—and just enough to give them both a big scare.

RIVERS OF Life!

From the wharf of a busy river front watch boats come and go with their cargoes of food and supplies. But, look through a microscope into an artery of the human body, and you see more activity than on any river in China or the world. Red and white corpuscles of the blood act as little boats, carrying oxygen, nourishment and protection, to the most remote tissues of the body. The food you eat and air you breathe must be distributed by these little ships. Accumulated wastes of the body would soon poison you, if these little cell "boats" did not carry those wastes through the veins to lungs, kidneys, and sweat glands, to be eliminated. The "blood platelets," plasma and white cells of the blood constantly circulate, ready to pounce on the slightest pin prick, close it up and form a barricade against infection.
Keep these "rivers of life" in your body teeming with rich, healthy blood, filled with cell boats in good repair and carrying full cargoes.

Letters to Editor

Dear Mr. Hartley:

You must have been particularly proud that West Residential Division led all the rest in percentage of quota raised in the recent Community Chest campaign. Your all-out support had a great deal to do with that triumph, I'm sure.

Thank you, on behalf of the community as a whole, for the splendid part the Hilltop Record and the West Side News played in the campaign. It is that sort of backing that makes a strong Community Chest possible.

Very truly yours,
E. W. KASTNER,
General Campaign Chairman

Junior Achievers Plan Open House Week At Center

Frank S. Williams, chairman of the board of directors of Junior Achievement of Columbus, Inc., has announced that arrangements have been completed for presenting Parents Open House Week, Dec. 4, 5, 6 and 7.

The primary purpose of Parents Open House Week is to acquaint the parents of Achievers as well as any other interested parties with the way Junior Achievement operates, the advancement which has been made through it, and, most important of all, what the young people of Columbus are gaining through their contacts with the essential parts of American free enterprise system.

The parents of all youth participating in Junior Achievement are invited to attend this event at the Junior Achievement Center, 79 N. Third-st. Williams mentioned, however, that this does not mean that the outside public is excluded from this visitation period as the general public is urged to drop in at the Junior Achievement Center any night of the week, Monday through Thursday.

Boys In 13 Club Deserve A Big Hand

Comes Dec. 10 and the 13 Club will have a big party to make a nice present to someone who has supported their charity program recently.

These boys deserve a big hand for their fine work throughout the year. Any needy cases that come to their attention get consideration in a big way.

One of the finest things they have done recently was to present 300 comic books to the Children's Hospital for youngsters confined there. . . .

Post-Thaw Notes: Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Greaves, he of the Easy Method Driving School, announced the birth of John Carson Greaves via a card saying our children would receive the same quality of easy driving instruction when their new son assumed his father's position . . . Patti Holycross is displaying a diamond, placed on her finger by a marine . . . Hilltop Kiwanians will exchange ties on Thursday, the old ties being cleaned and given state hospital inmates, an annual custom . . . Someone drops us a note asking why the Hilltop doesn't have a Santa Claus and frankly we don't know . . . . All I can say is that people like the one who inquired should get in the business association and insist on such things being done . . . There might have been some hot money at the Hilltop Bank one day last week when a lighted match hit a waste paper basket . . . Literary masterpiece of the week, quote Margaret Maxwell: "I don't get up in the morning and go to work; I'm surrounded by it before I even get up" . . . Franklin Sparks is back in the grocery business again, this time on Parsons-av . . . Jan Witham has a boy friend in Rocky River, O., and when he didn't know her street address he wrote her just the same and drew a diagram on the envelope so the postman could find her and sure enough he did, at 212 N. Terrace-av . . . The Viv Haines' and Inspector Scully will become grandparents in the not too distant future when the newcomer arrives at the George Scully residence . .

Christmas Day Arrived Early For Local Family

MR. AND MRS. HARVEY N. CREGO, 366 S. Warren-av, sit beside the Christmas Tree at their home and study the photographs of their two sons now in the armed forces. Christmas came early to the Crego home so that their grandchildren could enjoy Santa's blessings before departure to Germany.

THIS WEST SIDE family of Sgt. Crego which resided at 74 N. Hayden-av, is now enroute to Germany after enjoying an early Christmas on Nov. 27.

A local soldier, his wife and four children will be in Germany, probably in the vicinity of an army air base at Furtenfeldbruck on Christmas Day but their thoughts will undoubtedly be turned toward 366 S. Warren-av, where they observed Christmas in the traditional manner on Nov. 27.

Christmas came early for the family of S.Sgt. Richard W. Crego and his family this year. It came early because his parents, Mr and Mrs. Harvey N. Crego of 366 Warren-av, knew he had returned to this country on a 30-day furlough to take his wife and family back to Germany with him. The close proximity of Christmas could not be ignored especially with their four grandchildren departing for a new home across the Atlantic.

In the living room of the Warren-av home a Christmas tree resplendent in all its glory of tinsel, gaudy decorations, bells and colored bulbs still stands as a remembrance of the delighted squeals of the youngsters who enjoyed Christmas early this year. The toys and gifts are now gone from under the gaily decorated boughs of the young evergreen, but it served well its purpose of bringing the spirit of Christmas into a home that this year will know nothing but apprehension. One son is stationed in Germany and another is currently in the thick of the fighting in Korea.

Following the Christmas celebration at the Crego home last week the local soldier started through the heavy snows to New York taking his family with him to a port of embarkation. Sgt. Crego's wife and children had been living at 74 Hayden-av since his departure for Germany in May of this year. It was only recently he obtained permission for them to go to Germany to be with him.

Prior to entering service in January, 1946, Sgt. Crego attended West High School and was employed by the Texas Co. He is currently assigned to the personnel section of the 36th Fighter-Bomber Wing of the 2nd Air Division.

HBA Schedules Heavy Program For Next Week

The Hilltop Business Association has a busy week ahead of it with the highlight being the annual Christmas Party and election of officers scheduled for next Tuesday evening at Westgate Methodist Church beginning at 6:45 p. m. according to Jack Morris, secretary.

Election of officers at the meeting will place before the association the nominations of John Nippert as president; Alva Nafziger and Harold Erlanbach for first vice president; Dr. Paul V. Haught and Sarabel Henderson for second vice president and Robert Keasley for treasurer. Three trustees are to be elected from a field of: C. H. Campbell, Dr. E. E. McNames, Fred Ikenley, Lowell Sullivan, Gerry Watson, Earl Upp and Eugene Wolfe.

The Hilltop Women's Chorus is slated also to appear on the Christmas Party program the same evening and will offer several Christmas numbers. A gift exchange is also slated as part of the program for the evening festivities.

Other activities scheduled for this week saw the erection of Christmas Decorations beginning on the Hilltop with 32 electric plastic designs and 58 Wooden Santa heads being placed at strategic points over the Hilltop by the Communications Division of Columbus Fire Department.

Slated to start also was the stenciling of Christmas Greetings in a non-permanent paint on all sidewalk intersections of the Hilltop by members of the Hilltop YMCA. The project is sponsored by the HBA and assistance in completing the stenciling operation was volunteered by the local youth organization.

West Hi Youth Makes TV Debut On Youth Forum

By Tyron T. Seifert

Ros Martin, son of Mrs. Lillian M. Martin, 337 S. Burgess-av, is to appear on the WTVN discussion forum, "Youth Has Its Say," Sunday, Dec. 10, at 3:30 p. m.

The half-hour program in which Roy has a commanding part, is devoted to a spirited discussion, along with a panel of several other Franklin Co. youths, on the topic, "What Is the Most Important Problem Facing Our Community?"

One of the top juniors at West High School, Roy is a giant, both physically and intellectually. Towering more than six feet in height, the 11A student is also outstanding in scholarship and forensics.

Honor student, honorary "L" Society member, and top flight student speaker at West High, Roy is expected to give a good account of himself on his TV debut.

Following graduation Roy has designs upon pre-law at Ohio State, where his brother, Dick, is now enrolled in the college of law. The two brothers plan some day to form a law partnership.

Eight Quartets Enter Hilliards Annual Contest

At least eight quartets of the barber shop variety will compete in the Hilliards Barber Shop Quartet Contest to be held at Hilliards High School tonight. This year's contest – which is the fourth annual one—will raise funds for new instruments for the Hilliards High School band and orchestra according to Bassel Johnson, chairman of the contest committee.

First entry received was from the "Country Colonels," made up of Richard Shonkwiler, Clark Van Schoik, Robert Clellan, and Jack Clellan, according to Paul Kindinger, who is music teacher at Hilliards. He says that the "Boola Boys" of last year will be back again. They include Richard Barton, Leon Boucher, Frank McCaw, and Paul Kindinger.

A quartet from the American Legion Post at Hilliards will include Bassel Johnson, Ned Woodruff, Richard Clellan and Edward Damsell. Among the entries in the high school class is a quartet made up of David Ferguson, Delbert McKena, Donald McKean, and Richard Conrad.

The committee of the Hilliards Music Boosters who are sponsoring the contest includes Bassel Johnson, chairman, V. H. Patterson, Mrs. Harold Michel, and Paul Kindinger.

Fractures Leg Again

A slippery spot of ice proved to be the downfall for Robert Lee Wolford, 7, son of Mrs. Laurence Wolford, 117 Haldy-av.

Young Robert, a first grade student at the Open Air School, suffered a leg fracture, giving him a total of four leg fractures he has endured. A brittle bone condition is partially responsible for the frequency of his accidents. He is in good condition at Doctors' Hospital.

Council Approves Bus Line Extensions On The Hilltop

Vote Mound, Sullivant Transit Extensions Effective by Dec. 15

Columbus City Council in Monday evening's session voted approval of extension of bus service on the Hilltop's W. Mound-st and Sullivant-av as proposed previously by the Columbus Transit Co. Legislation to place the extension into opration by Dec. 15 was ordered ready for passage by next Monday evening.

Council members at an earlier date had heard protests by some members of the community relative to the proposed route of the Columbus Transit Co. and had planned a trip over the route by bus before making any decisions. Heavy snows of last week prevented the trip and to all appearances the decision foward passage of the route was made without further plans for the bus ride.

The Mound-st and Sullivant-av bus extensions as approved by council are:

Mound-st—from Wayne-av westward in Mound-st to Roys-av, a distance of 12 blocks, looping by way of Roys-av, Eakin- and Wiltshireds, back to Mound-st and easterly to the downtown area

Sullivant-av—the southerly section of the Hague-av crosstown bus route to loop Westgate Park from Sullivant-av by way of Huron-av, Wicklow-rd and Demorest-av to Sullivant and return to Binns-blvd, linking with the Sullivant-av trolley coach.

The Hague-av crosstown is to go on a 15-minute service instead of 20-minute intervals and its hours of operation increased for both week days and Sundays

In other council considerations Monday night which are of interest to Hilltoppers, council set aside the competitive bidding process for the proposed "white way" street lights for W. Broad-st, and chose a Canton, O., firm's product because it was a design of light considered the most satisfactory for the proposed project.

The board of purchase reported that the action conformed to a standard municipal practice in which large purchases of utility items of specific design, especially in waterworks and electrical materials were obtained.

Daggett Named To National Legion Group

Robert G. Daggett

Camp Chase Post No. 98, American Legion, has been advised recently that Robert G Daggett, immediate past commander, has been selected to serve on the National Committee of the American Legion. Only three others from Columbus and a total of 86 Ohioans are so honored.

Each year after the new national commander is elected, he selects, or appoints, outstanding legionnaires to serve on a large number of national committees.

The recently elected National Commander Erle Cocke, Jr., appointed Daggett to serve on the law and order committee. This committee will be under the chairmanship of Col. George Mingle, superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol. Others from Columbus are Ralph J. Stone to the child welfare and advisory board, and Frank Kunz as an advisor to the rehabilitation committee.

Daggett, a World War II veteran, was the commander of Camp Chase Post for the past year. He has been active as a member of the auxiliary of the Ohio Highway Patrol and holds the rank of captain in the auxiliary unit.

Local Doctor Is Volunteer For Army Duty

Dr. John N. Cross, 2558 W. Broad-st, this week became the first local physician to volunteer for active duty with the armed forces and is scheduled to enter service on Dec. 9, according to announcement made today. In addition to being the first local doctor to volunteer for duty he is also the first physician in the Ohio Military District to offer his services.

Bloodmobile To Visit Here Again Dec. 21

Under the sponsorship of the Hilltop Business Association, the Red Cross Bloodmobile will make its third visit to the Hilltop on Thursday, Dec. 21, at Hillcrest Baptist Church, according to Jack Morris of the business association.

Morris pointed out that in the past visits to the Hilltop that the bloodmobile had left the community with but a few pints of blood. He deplored the lack of interest on the part of the community in supporting this worthy cause, especially since a dire need now exists for blood on the Korean battle fronts where Hilltop youth are now wounded or dying.

Said Morris, "The Hilltop has been asked to give 140 pints of blood. I hope that enough Hilltoppers answer the call this time, in view of the fact that 30 pints of whole blood must be sent to Korea daily from the local Red Cross. Our showing before was miserable."

Hilltop Man Holds Record For Fractures

Breaking bones is an old habit for William E. Jackson, 5½ Clarendon-av. He has suffered an amazing record total of 136 bone fractures in the span of his 46 years.

Jackson is afflicted with the rare bone disease, osteogenesis emperfecta, involving imperfect bone structure. A lack of calcium and other minerals makes the inside of his bones ". . . spongy . . . like a honey comb," he said.

Another record Jackson holds is that of living more years than anyone on record suffering from the disease. Visibly proud of his medical fame, Jackson reported that six outstanding medical schools and the American Medical Association had studied his case.

The nature of his affliction causes the least irregular twist of the body to fracture a member. Of his 136 bone-breaks, 27 have involved thigh bones, three have concerned the skull and others the pelvis, ribs, arms, shoulders and collar bones, hands, fingers and toes.

STEEPLEJACK IDENTIFIED

In the Nov. 5 Progress Edition of The Hilltop Record a story appeared which cited the scarcity of steeple-jacks in the early days of the the community's growth.

According to our informant the identity was unknown of a steeplejack who was obtained to help on the building of the state hospital. This week however his identity was established by Mrs. Mary Stafford of 216 S. Ogden-av. The intrepid worker of those days was her husband Homer H. who is now deceased.

Fractures Leg Again

A slippery spot of ice proved to be the downfall for Robert Lee Wolford, 7, son of Mrs. Laurence Wolford, 117 Haldy-av.

Young Robert, a first grade student at the Open Air School, suffered a leg fracture, giving him a total of four leg fractures he has endured. A brittle bone condition is partially responsible for the frequency of his accidents. He is in good condition at Doctors' Hospital.

Hospitalized Local Soldier Writes Home In Verse

Orville Gahm, Jr., son of Mrs. Orville Gahm, 74 S. Ogden-av. is in the air force at San Antonio, Tex. He is in an isolated ward with virus pneumonia.

Here are some verses he has written and sent home to his mother with his letters.

I came in the hospital feeling fine.
Now all I do is sleep and dine
When from here I get out
I'll help put the enemy to rout

Here I sit all day and read
Except when I stop to feed.
Soon from here I'll get to go
Back where I'll march some mo!

It don't do you any good to sit and fret,
Because you know I'm not out yet.
Take it easy and refrain from worry
As the doctors and nurses are in no hurry.

While you're up North you shiver and freeze,
I'm down South in the warm summer breeze.
If you get cold then just insist
At the recruiting office;
They'll let you enlist.

Special Guest Star To Spark West Hi Show

By Myron T. Seifert

Tomorrow a special guest artist will feature a talent show at West High. The surprise guest has created much interest among students there.

His identity has been kept a secret, however rumors are flying right and left that an outstanding, celebrated West High graduate will take the spotlight.

Dance band arrangements, on the talent program, are made by student musicians Tom Meyers and Jim Lang, Director Mrs. Evelyn Hall advised.

Admission to the show will be $10 sales tax stamps, and student tax computators have been busy this week tabulating tax ducats which have already been garnered by the students. The tax stamps will be redeemed through the Ohio Sales Tax Division, and converted into money for the school fund, and "ear-marked" for a public address system to be used in the school.

The show is an ALL BOYS' extravaganza, and will follow this sequence, Mrs. Hall said: Dance Band and Chorus, "There's No Business Like Show Business; baton act by Cliff Everett; "Hand Me Down My Walking Cane", duet by Bob Suton and Danny Grant; accordion solo by Bob Bushdorf; Boys' Chorus numbers; Dance Band—Temptation; Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer; Mexican Boys; impersonations, Bob Whiting; piano solo—Bob Johnson; vocal solo—Ronny Klein, You're Breaking My Heart; violin solo — Jack Galaway; quartet; dance act—Jim Lee and Dick Briggs; guest artist; Tom Myers — Jim Lang, skating act; finalle—all cast in "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Christmas Shopping and Your Neighbor

Without a doubt, many local people last Thursday following the customary Thanksgiving feast remarked at the end of the day, "Next comes Christmas and we had better begin to prepare for it now."

It is time to prepare for that gala event of the year. There are but three shopping weeks remaining before the Yuletide will be upon every one of us. It is best to plan now and avoid the usual last minute scurrying about for gifts and remembrances to friends and neighbors.

Speaking of neighbors and shopping for Christmas synonymously brings up a question. "How well do you treat your neighbor and good friend, the local merchant at this time of the year?" We do not mean the giving to him of presents, but the giving to him of your patronage at a season when buying is usually at its highest level.

There are many advantages to dealing with the local merchant at this time of year in particular. Right here in our own neighborhood are stores with shelves fairly overrun with top quality merchandise on a par with and better than that which can be found in the downtown area. Prices are in many instances lower because your local merchant is able to effect savings for you by not having to pay excessive rentals such as the large firms in the heart of the city.

Best feature of doing your Christmas shopping with your local merchant is that you are dealing with some one you know. You have a personal contact with the owner or a clerk and he or she by virtue of that personal contact is more concerned with your receiving the right kind of quality merchandise than will be some downtown clerk to whom you represent only another sale.

To illustrate this point let us go back to last Christmas when a localite, who brought the subject to our attention, made his holiday purchases early at a downtown store. The packages of toys, in this instance, were delivered to the home and were stored away unopened until Christmas eve. When the packages were taken from their hiding place to be put under the Christmas tree it was discovered that a portion of one particular unit was missing. No one could be reached to rectify the error and a child's Christmas was ruined. Now, the individual's Christmas shopping takes place at the stores of the local merchant where if such an error had occurred a phone call to the neighborhood merchant would have easily have corrected the mistake.

There are other points to also be considered. In your neighborhood merchant's store you don't find the jostling holiday crowds to make shopping such a miserable task. There is not that cold, impassive stare of a stranger directed toward you from across the counter, instead it's a cheery greeting, a smile and oft times an inquiry as to the welfare of the family.

Here in our own neighborhood we are not beset with problems of parking, nor a battle with the traffic caused by holiday shoppers flooding the area. At most, the neighborhood store is just a few blocks from home. No need for a car or crowded bus when you shop locally.

And one other thing to also be considered. Your dollars which are spent right in your own locality with your neighborhood merchant stay in the locality to work further for you. They don't go of to New York, Chicago or some other center to line the coffers of some large chain group. They stay here to work for you, to aid in local improvements, to find their way into the community funds, to pay taxes and to eventually return to you.

Yes Christmas is but a short few weeks away. It is the season of giving . . . so why not think of that guy next door, your local merchant, and give him your business this year?

Know with whom you deal this Christmas shopping season.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The fight to give statehood to Alaska will be bitter. The affairs of Alaska, on the surface, seem to have little in common with national small business.

However, all retailers and newspaper publishers have a big stake in the outcome of the Alaskan statehood bill. The future of America's newsprint supplies and prices hinge on the action.

Newsprint, essential to newspaper publishing, is practically monopolized by four American companies. They, in turn, apparently have understandings, or interlocking ownership, with Canadian newsprint companies.

Newsprint is made from pulpwood. Alaska has millions of acres of unused pulpwood forests.

For years independent businessmen have tried to establish a newsprint industry in the territory, only to be blocked by bureaucratic directives in Washington.

Alaska is ruled under the organic Act of 1870. This act provides that all resources are controlled by Washington bureaus. Not a tree can be cut unless permission is given by Washington bureaucrats. For some unexplained reason, even in periods of critical newsprint shortages, the bureaucrats have refused any Alaskan tree being used for newsprint.

And, thereby, hangs a tale of continuous opposition to statehood for Alaska.

As a state, Alaska would take over control of its resources. Supplies of newsprint from Alaska would break the closely controlled price structure.

Continual arbitrary newsprint price increases are posing a threat to independent retailers.

Successful retailers use newspaper advertising. The cost of that advertising depends on the price the publisher pays for newsprint.

Today flat newsprint is priced, F.O.B. mill, at $120 per ton. In 1947 it was $104; in 1943 $71; in 1940 $50.

Charles G. Nichols, National Retail Dry Goods Assn. president, has protested increased newsprint prices. Senator John Sparkman of the Small Business Committee and Emanuel Celler, House Judiciary Committee Chairman, want to re-open a Congressional investigation of this problem.

Thus, in Washington, even so simple a matter of giving statehood to Alaska becomes complex.

As one observer states, "It's difficult to take a deep breath in Washington. You inhale and some monopoly resents your taking in air which the monopoly believes it should own; you exhale and some bureaucrat resents the interference with his perogative of issuing hot air."

While the Internal Revenue Dept. figures out new ways to get tax dollars, strange things happen.

For example, ECA Bulletin No. 1833 states the Marshall Plan has given another $200,000 worth of tobacco—this time to French North Africa.

And Washington bureaus are working out a rubber allocation plan.

But we ship rubber to Communist China—2,000 tons in September through the port of San Francisco; equal to the entire 1949 rubber exports to Red China.

IF it wasn't for the hard work of certain nurserymen along about now, Christmas wouldn't be very much of a holly-day.

West High Scholastic Diving Ace Makes Bid For National Title

By Myron T. Selfert

Potential national scholastic diving contender is John Current, 18, erstwhile West High student, of 175 S. Ogden-av.

Last spring John was acclaimed the Ohio scholastic diving champion at the Ohio State University natatorium in competition with more than a score of other aquatic stars of the state. He won the coveted gold medal, and an opportunity to try out, for national rating.

John's phenomenal record as a swimming star stems back four years ago when he was involved in an auto accident resulting in compound fractures of both legs.

Part of the treatment by the attending physician called for submerging and exercising his limbs in a swimming pool.

Capitalizing on his handicap and observing swimmers in the pool, John caught the "swimming fever" and decided then and there that he would like to become a proficient swimmer.

His swimming awards include: Ohio YMCA diving championship for the past two years; local "Y" 50-yard free style, and diving award; Mid-Western Conference diving title, 50-yard free style and breast stroke; the inter-national open diving title; Columbus open diving title; district, Ohio scholastic division title, and a host of other awards.

He is proficient also in hand-balancing, tumbling and tramling, and puts on a one-man show that has great merit. Already he has produced a half-dozen athletic shows before hundreds of spectators. He competed at Springfield recently in these three units for national rating.

West Varsity Cagers Chalk Up Loss, Victory

By Dave Miller

West High's basketballers initiated their 1950-51 season last week end by splitting even in two outings with Newark and Bexley in that order. The Cowboys opened by taking a 53-40 knock on the chin from Newark Friday, and Saturday they whipped Bexley in the local gym.

The Cowboys conceded their Newark triumph seemingly within the initial few minutes after the Wildcats had hopped to a quick 7-2 lead in the first quarter. In fact, West never scored its first bucket of the season until Ted Fladt dropped in a jump push shot with six and one-half minutes elapsed in the quarter.

West pulled to within eight points of the 'Cats in the third period (39-31) and they found in this their nearest approach of the half as far closing the gap between the Cowboys and the Licking Countians.

In the final canto, the Wildcats outscored West, 10-9 in what turned out to be a rather dull affair. After the score reached 53-35 in Newark's favor, both team's coaches turned the game over to the substitutes.

The Cowboys looked like a different ball club against Bexley in the outing Saturday night—only 24 hours later, but it looked like a week's difference in the club.

The Cowboys clipped the nets at a rapid pace and Bexley had a tough time duplicating it. In all, West hit 23 buckets in 55 attempts while the visitors netted 19 of 62.

For West, no one individual can be pointed out as an outstanding player with all the 55 points being chalked up fairly even between the starting five.

Both squads threw their reserves into the fray after West hopped to a 49-31 lead. This was later increased to 53-32 while the reserves were starting into action, and some three minutes later the score had been dissolved to 55-48 as the game finally ended.

Earl Potts of the Cowboys and Bob Bernlohr of the Lions were tied for scoring honors with 12 tallies apiece while Chic Wahoff of the visitors and Jerry Trabue of West grabbed 11. Jerry Johnson with 10, Rog Smith with 10, Ted Fladt with nine, and Paul Ellingsworth, three, finished out West's scoring.

West Hi Cagers Meet Students In Assembly

By Myron T. Selfert

West High basketball players were formally introduced to the student body at an assembly held in the school auditorium Friday, Dec. 1.

Coaches George Williams and Fred Heischman paraded the boys on the stage, and introduced them personally to the student body.

The "line-up" of West basketballers who represent West hopes for a championship team this season include:

Varsity, Ted Fladt, Roger Smith, Jerry Trabue, Jerry Johnson, Dave Caton, Russ Friend, Warren Stephens, Dick Wray, Earl Potts, Dwight Reynolds, Bill South, George Crissinger and Paul Ellingsworth.

West Jr. Cagers Break Even In Two Contests

By Dave Miller

West's junior varsity squad followed in the same steps as the varsity over the recent week-end, breaking even in two tilts, downing Bexley, 31 to 20, and dropping out to Newark's seconds, 48-38.

Both games were considerably close, at least the Bexley fray was. In this one, West overcame a 7-4 first period deficit to grab a seven-point margin at half-time which was never headed by the visiting Lions.

In the Newark fray, a miserable first period hurt the Broncos. Newark, using a perfect fast-breaking offensive, hopped to a convincing 15-3 first quarter lead, and West found it very difficult to overtake, although they outscored the ultimate winners in the final two quarters.

Big Center Bob Thornton, a sophomore, led the individual scoring for West with 12 points with John Chesher's seven markers and Bill Haire's five tallies following in close pursuit.

Like the varsity the local reserves found things pretty smooth in working the first string offense in a teamwork style against Bexley. The team's 31 markers were evenly divided between six players on the squad.

West couldn't quite find their sights in the initial period, dropping behind from the start and falling a 7-4 victim of the Bexley attack by the duration of the quarter. However, an exact reversal took place in the next period, as the junior Cowboys not only found their sights but also put on their "defensive clothes" enough to outscore the visitors, 9-3 in the quarter and grab a 13-10 half-time lead.

From there on, the reserves kept their lead safely, and Bexley never penetrated within three points of the Cowboys in the final half.

Dick Hutchison was top scorer of the night with eight markers, followed closely by Bob Thornton and Kenny Anderson who each had seven.

Art Gallery Visit

Class 203 of West Broad School went to the Art Gallery Tuesday.

The first room was of George Bellows' paintings. He was a great Columbus artist. There were many paintings, one of his mother and another of his father. There were quite a few landscapes and others. There was also a sculpture of George Bellows' head.

The second room had hand-carved chests, one hand-carved cross, and many religious paintings.

The third room was the children's museum. There were Indian clothes and turquoise bracelets. There were books, crayons and picture puzzles.

Works On Farm Unit

The third grade in room 109 has been working on a farm unit.

The study has been limited to the "Importance and Harvesting of the Grain Crops." Questions were set up by group committees. Some of the questions discussed were,

1. What are the important grain crops raised in our community?
2. Of what importance are the grain crops to the farmer and to us?
3. How are the crops harvested?
4. What foods or other products do we get from these grains?

All types of grains were brought to the class room and were shown. For art class, pictures were drawn showing the farmer harvesting the crops.

Plans are underway now to visit a grain elevator or a flour mill. Letters were written to cereal manufacturers and interesting letters were received.

A large class book has been made consisting of pictures and information found as a result of our study.

Community Thanks Go To Harold D. McDowell

Harold D. McDowell and his son, 67 Buena Vista, have received the hearty "thank you" of his neighbors for the job he did during last week's big snow.

Mr. McDowell of McDowell Construction Co. used his scraper to clear streets and driveways in Rome. Many folks could not have gotten out without his aid.

His son was of great help to him as they worked together to free stalled cars and make the community safer.

Friends Churches Join In Youth Rally Program

Highland Avenue and Sullivant Avenue Friends Churches will unite in a Youth Rally this weekend. Walter Crosby and wife of Saint Marys, O., will be the special workers. The two will bring several numbers of instrumental and vocal special music.

Those in attendance will be from six churches including Mount Gilead, Alum Creek, Orange and the Fourth Avenue Church of Columbus.

Hilltop Soldier Takes Bride

Mrs. Harold L. Froggatt
Courtesy Columbus Citizen

The marriage of Miss Margaret Liston, daughter of Mrs. Amelia Liston, 48 Clarendon-av, to Sgt. Harold L. Froggatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Froggatt, 225 Whitethorne-av, took place at 7:45 p. m. Sunday in the main post chapel at Fort Bragg, N. C. Chaplain A. C. Summers officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by First Lt. William E. Houser, the bride wore a soft brown tailored Artel Original with dark brown accessories. An orchid corsage was pinned to her shoulder and she carried a bride's handkerchief and Bible.

Severe Laceration Keeps Mrs. McCleaster Home

A fall from a stoll in the linen closet of her home made it necessary for Mrs. Westlake McCleaster, 3091 Sullivant-av, to have 17 stitches taken in her right leg, submit to four anti-pain or sleep shots, one tetanus shot and one penicillin shot, all within three hours.

Mrs. McCleaster who was taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital by Cruiser No. 4 around noon Dec. 4, was released at 3 p. m. She will be confined to her bed while the laceration on her leg heals and there is a possibility that it may be for the whole Christmas holidays.

Mrs. McCleaster, although very stiff and sore, felt that she had a lot to be thankful for. Besides her narrow escape she had wrapped the last of her Christmas gifts the night before.

Both Monday and Tuesday nights the McCleasters had company, business friends, associated with the Heath Candy Bar Co. Mr. and Mrs. Josepr Bianco, Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams, Cleveland, went on from here to attend a conference with Mr. McCleaster but this time Mrs. McCleaster had to stay home.

'Operation Snow Shovel' By Hilltop Merchants

"Send us trucks to haul away this snow and we'll fill 'em" was the challenge made last week by three Hilltop business men of W. Broad-st to the service director of the city. The appeal was soon answered and E. H. Worley of the Esquire Men's Shop, John Johnson of the Hilltopper Restaurant and Russell Carter, owner of Broadview Linoleum and Tile Co., with two assistants, took up shovels and began to clear away deep snows from the curb outward for the length of a business block between Elden and Terrace-av. Sore muscles and backs were reported later as the result of "Operation Snow Shovel".

Hilltop Masons Receive Advanced Degrees In Central Ohio Meeting

By Myron T. Seifert

Hilltop Masons, along with 500 other Central Ohio Masons, received a series of advanced degrees leading to the 32nd Sublime Princes of the Royal Secret, Nov. 15, 16 and 17, at the N. Fourth Street Masonic Temple.

In addition to receiving the signal, coveted degrees, the candidates were members of the 50th anniversary class of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite of the Northern Masonic Jurisdiction, Valley of Columbus.

Robert H. Pausch, 33d degree Mason, is Thrice Potent Master of the fraternal group, and Hilltopper Judge Cecil J. Randall, also 33d degree Mason, is its Sovereign Prince; George R. Schoedinger, 33d degree Mason, who recently acquired and operates the Floyd Born Funeral Home now under the name of Schoedinger, is commander-in-chief; Burleigh E. Cartmell, well known in Hilltop Masonic circles, also 33rd degree Mason, is most wise master.

That double headed eagle emblem, seen in the lapel of Scottish Rite Masons, or embellished in the setting of a ring, are much in evidence among the newly initiated candidates on the Hilltop. The fundamentals of the fraternity teach and stand for the worship of God, for justice, liberty, fraternity, enlightenment and philanthropy..

Rev. Charles E. Hill Continues As Chaplain

State Hospital authorities this week stated that information appearing in a recent newspaper story was in error concerning the appointment of Rev. Maurice Clark of Bridgeport, Conn., as chaplain at the institution.

Rev. Clark, it is pointed out, does not come to the local institution as chaplain but as the director of a school of pastoral training. Rev. Charles E. Hill, 112 S. Ogden-av, will continue to remain as chaplain at the State Hospital.

Double Ring Ceremony

Mrs. Paul Vogel

Miss Rosella Bolognone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Bolognone, 41 Avondale-av, became the bride of Mr. Paul Vogel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Vogel, 138 S. Terrace-av, Nov. 11 at 9 a. m. in Holy Family Church.

Rev. George F. Gressel officiated the double ring ceremony at a nuptial High Mass before an altar decorated with mums, ferns and aisle candelabra.

Given in marriage by her brother, John Bolognone, the bride wore a gown of imported French Chantilly lace designed with a sheer yoke of nylon tulle, fitted lace bodice, lace sleeves coming to points over the hands and an extremely full skirt which fell over a double net skirt revealing two flounces of net. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a pearl tiara. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis on a white prayer book.

Miss Josephine Bolognone, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor in a gown of satin and taffeta in a shade of coral, designed with a portrait neckline and stand-up collar, a fitted bodice and cap sleeves. The full skirt fitted plainly over the hips widening at the hemline. She wore matching half-hat and mits and carried green mums.

Mr. Richard Vogel served as best man. Ushers were Mr. Rudolph Bolognone, and Mr. Edward Laughlin.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the Southern Hotel. Mrs. Bolognone received in a wine crepe dress with which she wore black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses. Mrs. Vogel wore an ensemble of black with which she wore red roses.

She carried a colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The bride's sister, Miss Carol Luckshaw, attended her as maid of honor and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Mary Jo Cline, and Miss Dorothy Ansel were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identically styled gowns of orange chiffon designed with round necklines edged with a bertha which formed cap sleeves, very full skirts and shirred bodices. Wide bands of orange and gold chrysanthemums formed their headdresses. They carried colonial bouquets of gold chrysanthemums.

Little Patty Gregory was flower girl wearing a green dress styled with a Peter Pan collar, puffed sleeves and a full skirt. She also carried a bouquet of gold chrysanthemums. Bobby Knies, cousin of the bridegroom, served as ring bearer.

Immediately following the service a wedding breakfast for the immediate families and close friends was held at the Seneca Hotel. Later in the day a reception was held at the Seneca.

For the occasion of her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Luckshaw selected a blue crepe dress with a jacket trimmed with blue beading. Her accessories were of a pink shade and her ensemble was completed by a corsage of pink roses pinned at her shoulder.

California Originals
A PABCO LINOLEUM

Look at YOUR floors—Everyone else does.

It has been truly said that nothing is more constant than change. Several centuries ago, floor coverings were what their name implied—something to cover the floor. Today, they have become an essential part of home furnishings, an element of decoration . . . with color, style and glamor. Brought to light is the fact that women buy floor coverings for style and color first: then take into consideration its ease-of-cleaning and wearing qualities. Gone is the idea that floor coverings are solely utilitarian. Pabco certainly has contributed to that change . . . an outstanding example is the California Originals grouping of Fashion Linoleum . . . styled in decorator colors to take its rightful place in any room of a tastefully decorated home. This Pabco "exclusive" has achieved what linoleum manufacturers have tried to do for years—has brought linoleum out of kitchens and baths, into living areas.

New Mt. Carmel Addition Will Provide Better Community Service

SHOWN ABOVE is a view of the new construction currently being carried out at Mt. Carmel Hospital. The new addition will provide more beds and greater facilities for taking care of local community needs and is a part of a six-hospital improvement drive being sponsored in Columbus.

New $3,500,000 Building Hailed As Most Progressive Move

Perhaps the most ambitious project ever taken in the advancement of progress locally is the new $3,500,000 addition to Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Completion of the greater Mt. Carmel Hospital, of more than 370 beds for patients and 68 bassinets for newborn babies, will be made possible by a $2,000,000 allocation from the United Hospitals Building Fund.

The new addition, in the form of an L-shaped wing extending south and east, will be joined to the existing chapel and West Wing, and the School of Nursing. The new structure will have 185 beds for patients and 68 bassinets, complete and up-to-date surgical, obstetrical, physical therapy, X-ray, and laboratory facilities as well as other essential units.

Many sections of the existing buildings are being drastically reconstructed and modernized and the original 64-year-old structure will be razed because it is obsolete and ill-adapted to modernization.

The Mt. Carmel project is but one of seven in the $6,750,000 federated program of the United Hospitals Building Fund. In addition to Mt. Carmel, fund allocations are being made to St. Ann's Hospital (100,000), St. Anthony Hospital ($500,000), the White Cross Hospital ($2,000,000), Grant Hospital ($560,000), Doctors' Hospital ($472,000) and the Children's Hospital ($750,000).

Throughout a long period of years, the Mt. Carmel Hospital has always stood ready to help the community it serves so well. Perhaps the best example is the haven that Mt. Carmel Hospital offered to nearly 1,000 persons in the disastrous Ohio flood of 1913.

Hundreds fled their homes at the time of the crisis, and for three days and nights, the hospital staff graciously gave food, shelter, and care.

Conceived by the far-sighted Dr. W. B. Hawkes in 1885, the first building of Mt. Carmel was completed in 1886 under the guidance of Dr. W. J. Hamilton. On July 5, 1886, the hospital was opened under the able administration of the Sisters of the Holy Cross.

In the ensuing years, the Hawkes Hospital of Mt. Carmel, so named in honor of its founder, has developed into a major medical center of more than 250 beds for patients and 50 bassinets for newborn babies.

Approvals by the American College of Physicians, the American College of Surgeons and the American Medical Association underscore the high standards of patient care that have been established at Mt. Carmel. These standards permit the important function of an intensive teaching program for interns and for resident doctors engaged in the study of medical and surgical specialties at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Progress through the years has been achieved despite numerous difficulties. Today, for example, there is the constant handicap of overcrowding in a center of health that the people of the community have come to rely on more and more for all types of diagnostic and therapeutic care.

It is to solve these urgent problems that the Sisters of the Holy Cross have planned enlargement of Mt. Carmel Hospital, and the United Hospitals' Building Fund has included the project as one of seven in the federated effort to strengthen the voluntary hospital system of the Columbus metropolitan area.

Figures tell a startling story of the compelling need for the expansion of Mt. Carmel Hospital:

	1940	1949
Patients Treated	5,804	10,981
Births	939	2,681
Emergencies	1,585	5,664
Laboratory Tests	35,061	90,865
Patient Days	69,996	101,397

The figures show that Mt. Carmel service has doubled, tripled, and in some instances has increased nearly 400 per cent during a 10-year period that has witnessed no enlargement of the hospital's physical facilities.

More than 300 leading residents of the Columbus area, comprising the citizens' committee of the United Hospitals' Building Fund recently gave unanimous endorsement to the final phase, of the $6,750,000 campaign for the enlargement and modernization of the seven-hospital enlargement and modernization plan.

With $3,000,000 already on hand, an all-out effort was initiated to raise the additional $3,750,000 between now and June, 1951. Harrison M. Sayre, chairman of the executive committee of the building fund, referred to the construction of the new wing at Mt. Carmel Hospital recently, pointing out that the skeleton of the structure is a symbol of progress which cannot be allowed to remain unfinished.

"The time has come," declared Sayre, "to finish the job and I am sure we are going to do it."

Upon completion of the entire building fund program approximately 750 additional hospital beds will be in service,—just enough to meet the urgent minimum needs of the community.

"This will mean," the confident federation president continued, "that overcrowding and waiting lists will be a thing of the past, that fire hazards will be eliminated and obsolete structures will either be torn down and replaced or completely modernized."

Merry Christmas SHOPPING

THROUGH THE ADS IN

THE HILLTOP RECORD

Christmas shopping can be made a lot of fun . . . and can be simplified . . . especially when you do it early and know just where to find what you are looking for. This can be done easily, right in your own home when you carefully read all the messages of your local business firms in The Hilltop Record each Friday.

Shop at home, with your local business people where you will be served by friends and neighbors. They will serve you best because they know you, and you can have confidence in what you buy.

You can shop with ease in this community because you have no parking problem, and you avoid the jostling crowds. Local merchants have gone all out this year to stock up with a fine selection of merchandise they can sell you at prices lower than can be found in the high rent districts.

Make this a merrier Christmas . . . do your holiday buying among your friends.

Heavy Equipment Is Hilltop's Answer To Snow

The Hilltop began to take on a more normal look toward the latter portion of last week as the heavy equipment of George Igel Excavating Co. was brought into play on W. Broad-st to clear away the heavy snows which blanketed the streets. Using a bulldozer and clamshell crane, the workmen labored far into the nights to clear snow from curbs along the main business section of the Hilltop. Six trucks were kept on the move constantly as the huge crane cleared the snow in record time.

About the only ones happy about the Big Snow were the school children. One small neighbor of mine said, "At last we get a break—no school, lots of snow and a brand-new sled!" He didn't say too much about it to his dad, however, who was stiff in the joints from shoveling the stuff and helping push stalled you-know-whats.

Joe Creason has a very clever column in Louisville, Ky. "Courier-Journal." It is entitled "The Grapevine." The following signs appeared recently in his "Signs of these times:" on a cafeteria menu — "Plumb-pudding;" on the back of a truck—"I may be slow, but I'm ahead of you;" on a moving van—"We're interested in your every move."

My candidate for a wonderful family is the Leslie Borton family, 142 N. Powell-av. Mrs. Borton says there is never a dull moment and not very many moments that aren't happy. She didn't have enough to do to care for her own four children so she is keeping a five-year-old boy, and she loves doing it. They also had a snow-bound guest for several days. To me, she typifies true motherhood. Mr. Borton is a well known photographer—not his profession, but his hobby. He does fine work; also takes colored movies with his eight mm. camera. Some of his best work was done while they vacationed in Yellowstone National Park. He won first prize in 1946-47, in the West Side Camera Club contests; has been interested in photography since he was 12 years old. Swell people, the Bortons.

Kahlil Gibran said this in "The Prophet:"

"Your daily life is your temple and your religion.
Whenever you enter into it, take with you your all.
Take the plough and the forge and the mallet and the lute,

For in every revery you cannot rise above your achievements nor fall lower than your failures.
And take with you all men:
For in adoration you cannot fly higher than their hopes nor humble yourself lower than their despair."

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

HELLO FOLKS!! We're getting some old-fashioned winter weather these days. Brr! Looks like we'll have a white Christmas after all. (Just watch! By the time this is printed, we'll probably be basking in the warm sun. Can't tell what this weather will do next.)

The LEO MASTBAUMS, the GENE HURLEYS and the PAUL CAMPBELLS had a hard time keeping the frost off their noses "inside" the house. Their furnaces choked on a turkey bone, I guess.

And talk about the cold weather, GWENN MURRAY melted all the snow within 10 feet of everywhere she walked. She wore her red flannels, and I do mean RED.

MRS. HARRY DURR has a new son-in-law. Daughter EVELYN married her knight, RAY IRION.

HAROLD TODD got elected vice president of a new laymen organization of his church. Their first meeting will be held in a couple of weeks.

Speaking of meetings, our next Hi Ridge social will be held in January. With Christmas and all, we decided we'd all be more settled after the holidays. We had lots of fun at the American Legion hall on Sullivant. You neighbors who weren't there missed some free refreshments; and fun from bridge, euchre and canasta. Who knows—we may even decide to take our TV sets to the club, if that's what's keeping you home.

TRIXIE BEENE thought she did quite well roasting her first turkey last week—but when she scooped out a thimble in her dressing, she kept mum about it. In sewing up the turkey it must have slipped off her finger. She tells about it, now that her company is gone.

The BILL SCHAEFERS went to Indiana over the holiday week-end. Got caught in the awful snow storm, but they're recuperating now.

Drifting in the snow breeze (?) last Saturday, the BURT HAGERS were in a slight accident. Their car skidded on some icy snow and turned around twice. The MISSUS got some bruises, but the car got some dents on its fender.

RAY MALONEY and ART PAYNE went to the State game Saturday, but left at the "half." They got numb with cold, so went home and heard the last quarter over the radio.

ROB MOBLEY, BERT PECK, PETE PHILLIPS are the ones we know of that had to walk home from work late at night. There were probably hundreds of others snowbound with their cars, but we just can't' name everybody.

Overworked KIDNEYS SHOULD BE CHECKED ON-

Neglecting periods of rest and exercise, and continually overeating, burdens the kidneys with overwork.

Exercise and rest help to distribute some of the work of eliminating the waste products through other channels, and a HEALTHFUL DIET lightens the burden of furnishing the body with more material than it can utilize and less waste to be eliminated.

One of the first signs of Bright's disease is necessity for emptying the bladder about 4 A. M.

The faithful kidneys have been working "overtime" trying to clear the blood of impurities. At this stage, further progress of the disease can be prevented by prompt examination, proper advice and treatment. After a time, the individual is forced to empty the bladder at about 2 o'clock, and again about 4. At this stage there is usually some elevation of the blood pressure and frequently moderate shortness of breath upon mild exertion. As the disease progresses, the third stage brings more pronounced symptoms of "specks before the eyes," headache and exhaustion.

Front and complete statement to a competent physician who can properly diagnose through proper examination, would disclose the true state of the kidneys. Have regular yearly physical examinations, including urinalysis. Tell your doctor if your kidneys have been working "overtime."

Camp Chase Post News

By John Martindale

Where do we go from here? We, all of us, can, and should ask that question of ourselves frequently. In this country we are each able to chart our own course. Some folks, however, complain because they don't get there. In most cases an examination will disclose that these are the ones who just didn't get on the boat, they didn't try to get there.

Many veterans have missed the boat. They know what the score is. They know what needs to be done. They know how it can be done. But even with all of this what, why, where and how they can go AWOL, they just don't do anything about it, except talk. They are cousins to the person who wants the grafters out of public office but won't vote.

This nation has had for many, many years certain organizations that are just as much a part of the American way of life as the ballot box. Yes, the veterans organizations are just that for who has a greater right to being organized than those defenders of the nation. Through these organizations opportunity knocks at the door of every veteran. If this is true why don't more veterans belong to them? Some say they are too busy, some are put it offs, and some are like those that say if there is another war Uncle Sam is going to have a hard job to find them—they quit.

In spite of everything the veterans who have joined one, or more of those organizations have really accomplished a lot. In addition to looking out for their buddies they have also worked at defending their nation in time of peace as well as in time of war. They don't just talk. They know that there is a job to be done and that alone they don't get any place but together there is strength.

The next time you hear a veteran squawk—ask him what he has done about it.

Camp Chase Post No. 98 has done it again. For the third consecutive year this Hilltop post has attained its membership quota by Armistice Day. In Franklin County only three other Legion posts have met their 1951 quotas, Grove City, Hilliards and Bexley. However, the Camp Chase quota was even greater than the combined quotas of the other three. That's great but don't stop there. There is still plenty of room in Camp Chase Post for several hundred more. The Hilltop and Camp Chase Post can do anything.

At the last meeting of Camp Chase a resolution was passed that Buckeye Boys' State again be conducted at Ohio Wesleyan, or some other Ohio college. The facilities of the Ohio colleges are more suited to the program of the Legion's Buckeye Boys' State than Camp Perry, the site of the 1950 school. They boys selected to attend Buckeye's Boys' State are future citizens we can be proud of and such a school in practical government, in proper setting, can do much to guarantee the future of Ohio.

And Don't Forget . . .

When you shop on the Hilltop you are helping yourself because the best communities are those having the best merchants – those that are strongest because of your patronage.

Stretch Your Time and Money

Hours and dollars are particularly precious at Christmas time. You can get the greatest return from yours by doing your Christmas shopping right here at home.

You save time because Hilltop merchants are close to you . . . and there are no traffic problems here. Parking space is ample within two blocks of any store.

You save money because your local merchants, not having to pay high metropolitan rents, can afford to sell at lower prices.

Furthermore, modern distribution methods give your local merchants the same wide variety of high quality merchandise that is offered elsewhere.

When you buy here in this community you are dealing with people you know . . . people in whom you can have confidence; people who will be as interested in serving you after Christmas as now.

TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

1. Don't give useless gifts. The doo-dad era has passed.
2. Don't fail to remember that Christmas is your chance to repay those little obligations incurred during the year.
3. Don't be afraid to give simple gifts. It is better to be simple than bizarre.
4. Don't try to impress people who are wealthy by giving something beyond your means.
5. Don't try to be funny. The comic gift is not suitable for Christmas.
6. Don't try to give away something you received yourself. Sooner or later the truth will come out.
7. Don't fail to tie your gift with gift wrappings —or you may have us do it for you.
8. Don't let Christmas pass without bringing happiness into the heart of a child.
9. Don't let Christmas shopping fever make a nervous wreck out of you. Let our easy-to-shop gift stores take a load off your shoulders.
10. Don't forget to say "Merry Christmas" many times—and mean it.

BIBLE COMMENT

The Christian, Like The Athlete, Should Condition Himself

WITH grid activities at their peak, readers know how much conditioning means in the performance of a football team. In boxing, too, as well as a host of other sports, quick reflexes, good wind and supple muscles are a must for the athlete.

Physical health is very much like spiritual health in that it can only be achieved and maintained through discipline and self-control.

Said Paul to the Corinthians, "Every man that striveth for mastery is temperate in all things." His words are at sharp odds with those uttered by modern-day sophisticates who describe temptation as something to yield to.

As a football player goes through tough scrimmage sessions to perfect his abilities on the field, and as a boxer seeks to develop his coordination through bag-punching and rope-skipping, so must a Christian exercise his spiritual convictions and daily strengthen his faith.

Prayer is, of course, the best "work-out." Self-expression must be constantly examined for signs of pettiness. Jealousy must be recognized as a weakness of spiritual muscle. Lust must be fought as a decaying influence.

By earnestly seeking out God, the Christian increases his proficiency at finding God. With each prayer, the individual can offer a little more of himself than before. Each victory over temptation endows the follower of God with greater strength to resist and overcome the forces of evil.

By practicing a well disciplined program of faith and self-improvement, the Christian will find that, like the highly trained athlete, he will possess reserves of strength enabling him to meet life's most exacting challenges.

GUIDES TO CHRISTMAS

By Sara and Woodrow Bartges

Let us follow the path which the wise men trod
To the place where the Christ child lay.
Let us use for a lamp God's star of hope
To guide us along the way.
Let us take for our camels—Faith, Love and Prayer;
For our robes—the garments of praise;
Let us lay down our all at the Saviour's feet,
And he'll give us his peace always.

YOUR ATTORNEY WILL TELL YOU NOW IS THE TIME TO PLAN YOUR FAMILY BURIAL ESTATE

Lawyers know the crushing load of details that face a family following a bereavement. They will tell you—

"By all means select your cemetery lot now—while every member of your family can have his say and all will be in agreement."

Why not discuss this important subject with your family and then drive out to Sunset Cemetery and make your selection. Why delay?

Have A Heart For Charity Newsies

Saturday morning will find familiar sights around the community and all over the city. Charity Newsies will be out in force that day selling papers to secure money for needy youngsters in the city and county during the present winter.

It has been a pleasure to be a Newsie for several years now and the fine response from people of the Hilltop has been most appreciated. People of this community really open up their hearts and pocketbooks and dig down for this worthy cause.

We'll be seeing you Saturday. In the meantime any advance checks or cash may be mailed to me at The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st. All such contributions will be acknowledged.

Briefly Told: Ed Melvin was the first to pay me in advance for a copy of the Charity Newsies paper that appears Saturday . . . Looking forward to the usual fine response in the Newsie sale at Columbus State Hospital and State School . . . Walter Hanning is visiting here from Colorado where he raises quarter horses and Eskimo dogs . . . Nick and Lorena Gatterdam are back on the Hilltop after visiting in Florida and Cuba. . . . Bert Young, a Hilltopper almost all his life and dating back to the days of the toll gates on Broad-st, will be on his way to Florida in the next few days in his new Nash, accompanied by his son, Merrel and wife, the latter to return in about 30 days, leaving dad to enjoy a much longer vacation at Miami and perhaps St. Petersburg . . . Chet Wagner aided the Kiwanis tie party last week by contributing quite a collection of nice ones . . . Mrs. Sam Morrison is recovering from injuries received when she recently fell on the ice . . . A big word of thanks to "The Chaser" of Camp Chase Post for the nice words about The Record recently . . . Mose and Mildred Williams will leave after Christmas for an extended vacation through the South and Southwest . . . Louis Nicholson will take unto himself a bride on Saturday . . .

Highland Holds Open House Tomorrow

A multitude of changes greeted Highland Avenue School pupils and teachers on their return to their completely renovated school last Monday. Wooden stairways and wooden floored hallways have been replaced by stone, floors covered by bright new linoleum and the entire interior brightened up with pastel painted walls. Shown above is the upper hallway, now bright, clean and completely modernized.

The above scene is typical of one which will greet parents visiting the school open house tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Kiwanis Christmas Edition Will Go On Sale Tonight

Gus Johnson

Clarence Latham, Hilliards auctioneer and civic leader, always ready to assist in worthy causes, will sell the first editions of the Kiwanis Christmas newspaper tonight.

Local Members And Volunteers Turn Newsboys

This evening the entire Hilltop will be canvassed by more than 200 local Hilltop Kiwanis Cub members aided by approximately 100 volunteers who will conduct the fourth annual sale of the special Kiwanis Christmas Edition of The Hilltop Record.

The 32-page, two-color tabloid will contain a wide variety of Christmas features.

Entire proceeds of the newspaper sale and advertising revenue will be used in the 1951 projects planned by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

A great portion of the proceeds will be used to benefit underprivileged children of the community. The funds will aid in recreation program, maintaining sea, air and Boy Scout units, provide summer camping trips for deserving boys, continue the annual scholarship awards to West High School graduates and benefit many other worthwhile community projects.

This evening the more than 200 "Big Newsboys" will gather at the West High School cafeteria at 6 p. m. for the "kick-off dinner" following which auction of the first issues of this year's Christmas edition will be held. All Kiwanians are being urged to bring at least one volunteer worker to the dinner. At 7:15 p. m. the sale will be on and the workers will deploy over the Hilltop area to begin the ringing of doorbells to sell the annual Christmas newspaper.

After the sale the men will report back to Don Rice's Westgate American Legion Hall at 10 S. Burgess-av to turn in the money collected from their sale of newspapers and partake of coffee and donuts.

The Hilltop has been divided into eight sections for the sale. Section leaders are:

Ed O. Johnson, Herbert G. Deems, Sam N. Alford, Dr. Forrest L. Keiser, Larry G. Scales, Harold D. Cramer, Vernon D. Fiscus and E. O. Melvin.

The arrangement committee for the sale is composed of Ben Knepper, Sam H. Morrison, John E. Nepper and Howard W. Tuttle. General chairman is Dr. Fred Marsch.

Kiwanian officers when asked if bad weather would postpone or delay the sale said, "Even if we have weather like a couple of weeks ago the sale will go on.

An Editorial
Rabies Threatens Community

RABIES—the non-curable disease—is threatening this community with one of the worst outbreaks evidenced in this area in many years. Fatal to both animal and man the dread killer has to date been found in 16 instances within this locality and Franklin County health officials are currently treating 60 persons from this area with anti-rabies vaccines.

One case in particular has been definitely found right here on the Hilltop in close proximity to West Broad Street School where hundreds of small children play daily, unaware that what may seem to be a playful dog is but a harbinger of death.

It is time that some effective curb on this disease of animal and man be placed in effect. County and city authorities have sounded warnings of the presence of the malady in this area. They have asked that dogs be placed in restraint and not be permitted to roam and that any suspicious actions of animals be reported at once. This has apparently been to no avail because the disease is still taking its toll of livestock, pets and other animals and now poses a fatal threat to the health of the entire community.

Vaccination of dogs and other animals is one method of prevention of the disease and by the same token the manner in which the epidemic can be halted. There is, however, always that IF present. IF all pet owners in the community would take the time and the warning seriously enough to see that their animals are vaccinated against rabies. It is inexpensive and takes but a short time, but there is always the few who will not take such preventive measures, even though a fatal threat as exists today is present.

The only other alternative is to stamp out the epidemic by forceable measures and MAKE IT COMPULSORY that at the time licenses are issued for animals, rabies injections be required. It is a measure that is insurance to the health and safety of the community. It is a measure that MUST BE ADOPTED to protect the community and the entire county.

Other counties in Ohio have adopted the measure and greatly reduced the incidence of rabies. It is time that Franklin County followed the same pattern. Any animal found without proper license and indication of anti-rabid treatment should be impounded at once and held until the owner has provided sufficient evidence of the dog's immunization. If owners refused to immunize their pets then the animal, in the cause of public safety, should be destroyed.

YMCA Board of Directors met during this past week and amended the current by-laws of the organization to enlarge the present board of 12 members to a total of 15. Terms of four board members are now expiring and the additional three will cause seven to be elected at the annual meeting in January.

C. C. Hartley, chairman of the board has appointed a nominating committee composed of Ralph Jacobs, Ed. Ferguson and Don Rice to prepare a slate for the coming election. Board members whose terms expire are: C. C. Hartley, Jerry Spears, Herbert Deems and Dr. Howard Whitehead.

Rabies Epidemic Threatens Community; 16 Cases Found

County Health Board Reports 60 Local Persons Now Under Care

The threat of rabies in this community has reached near epidemic proportions despite efforts of the Franklin County Board of Health, Columbus City Board of Health and Humane Society officers to curb and contain the dread disease which is fatal to both animal and human.

To date 16 positive cases of rabies have been discovered by local health authorities. One case has been a bull and the other 15 are dogs. The alarming feature of the epidemic is the fact that 60 people from this immediate area are now being treated with a 21-shot course of anti-rabies vaccine, according to Howard Reynolds, county health inspector.

Of the 60 persons now being treated, according to Reynolds, 70 per cent are children and 30 per cent are adults who have been bitten by or had contact with a rabid animal. The danger in this situation, the health inspector reports, is that the disease is fatal and there is no known cure. He stated further that of the 60 contaminated persons, 14 were affected by one dog and 10 from another.

In the positive cases found thus far in this area 13 have been in the county, two in the Valleyview section and one in the city on Grace-st near West Broad Street School.

Several weeks ago the area in the county was placed in quarantine by health officials in an effort to localize the outbreak of the disease. Hunters were warned not to take dogs into the area unless properly immunized against rabies. Residents were asked to restrain their dogs and other pets, reporting any unusual behavior to authorities immediately.

At the present time Humane Society officers are picking up all stray animals in the vicinity and officials have sounded a warning that unless owners keep their dogs penned and off the streets, they will face arrest.

County and other health officials said today that the action was necessary in the face of the extreme danger presented by the disease. They again urged immediate vaccination of all dogs or other warm-blooded animals in the vicinity which have not been immunized I...

Call Is Issued To Form Hilltop Male Chorus

A call is being issued this week to men of the community who are interested in formation of a Hilltop Male Chorus.

For many years the community had a male chorus and it became renowned throughout this area. Numerous men of the community have since expressed a desire to continue singing in such a group.

In an expanded program of activities in the community the Hilltop YMCA is making plans for the formation of such a chorus among adults if enough men of the community desire to sing in it. If the group can be organized in time they will probably sing in the annual Hilltop Minstrel early next year.

Men who are interested and who will volunteer for the group are asked to write or call C. C. Hartley, care of The Hilltop Record, 2465 W. Broad-st. Further announcement of plans for the group will be made through the Record.

Newsies Assign Local Men To Cover Hilltop

Leroy S. "Lee" Weigand and C. C. Hartley will cover the Hilltop this Saturday for the Charity Newsies—occasion of the "100 Per Cent for Charity" organization's forty-fourth annual sale of special edition newspapers.

A new member, William F. Krause of 321 S. Richardson-av, will be selling papers at Broad and Grubb-sts, at the Ohio National Bank branch.

Several other Hilltop men, all members of the Charity Newsies, will be on duty at headquarters in the Memorial Hall west basement or at corner locations throughout the metropolitan area.

President Adam Maurer, Jr., yesterday, urged all friends of the Newsies to give generously Saturday, citing the need for help among the children of distressed families whose plight has been aggravated by the recent blizzard that paralyzed the community for a week.

Vote Grove City Water Project

Authorization for a $15,000 bond issue for improvement of the community waterworks at Grove City has been voted by village councilmen. Addition of a water softener is also included in the plan. The legislation for the issue will be taken up during the January meeting of the group.

The bonds will be paid back by the revenue of the water bills themselves primarily, but in dire need of funds, property owners will be liable for additional revenue, Lewis asserted.

The necessity for modifications to the water plant have been pointed out by the community's board of public affairs during the past several months. The necessary letter of approval from the state board of health was sent to the board Nov. 20.

It's 'Jingle Jangle' Time Again As Record Pays In Silver Dollars

There's a popular tune making the rounds these days titled "Silver Bells" but the jingle that 27 Hilltop Record employees will hear tomorrow and the merchants of the Hilltop community will hear for the next few weeks will not be a silver bell's tinkle. On the other hand it really will be silver—Silver Dollars, that is.

Following an annual custom of several years standing The Hilltop Record one week each year during the Christmas season pays its entire payroll in silver dollars. And each year the comment of local merchants has been, "Today was payday at the Record. Look at the silver dollars in the register." And there have been further evidences of the manner in which money spent on the Hilltop stays in the community. Some local business men report the silver "bucks" as showing up as late as two to three months after the holiday season.

Originally started by the Record as a means of showing the local merchants the potential buying power of the employees of the newspaper, the idea has become a community tradition and each year at this time local business houses look forward to the "rain of silver" that emanates from the Record.

Each year the staff of the Record has grown in proportion to the manner in which the plant facilities and the newspaper itself have grown, and this year is no exception, for more than 1800 silver dollars will be directed into local business channels.

As in the past, The Hilltop Record is offering a one year subscription to the Record for every silver dollar brought into the Record offices at 2465 W. Broad-st before Jan. 1.

HCC Supports Jaycee Home Decorat. Contest

Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce this week announced plans for a Christmas Home Decorating Contest to be conducted on a city-wide basis. Hilltop Community Council, according to Russell Carter, president, is aiding the Jaycees in the Hilltop area in promotion of the contest.

Carter said that the council was urging all local residents to enter the Jaycee competition, pointing out that in addition to vieing for the prizes offered by the Jaycees, Hilltoppers will, by decorating their homes, make the local Christmas season brighter for all.

Two awards are to be made in the contest. First a prize and plaque for the best decorated home or apartment and a plaque for each house on the best decorated block. (A block is defined as a street one block long on both sides).

Rules of the contest are: Only residential property (homes and apartments) is eligible. Decorations must be up on or before Dec. 19 and remain up through Dec. 28. All lighting must be between the hours of 7:30 p. m. and 10:30 p. m. Impartial judges, to be announced later, will render a decision which is final, and award winners on the following basis: General artistic effect, 50 per cent; originality, 20 per cent; conformity to the Christmas spirit, 20 per cent, and effective use of landscape and elevations, 10 per cent.

Application blanks, although not a requirement, are obtainable through community organizations, local merchants or the Junior Chamber of Commerce at 30 [redacted] Broad-st. To be sure judges don't miss your home it is advisable to submit an application.

Rabies Epidemic

rabies and the immediate report on any animal which acts in a suspicious manner.

Health Inspector Reynolds said that in most of the cases of persons who are now being treated for rabies they had been infected by attempts to extract what seemed to be a bone from the throats of their dogs. He pointed out that this was one of the first symptoms of the dread disease in which an animal acts as though something is choking it.

Immediate treatment is advised by medical men, who said that, although a person had been bitten, scratched or otherwise contacted by a rabid animal, immediate signs of the disease in a human are not always apparent. The incubation period after contact is from 19 days to one year after exposure. They urged that every precaution be taken and especially so in cases where bitten anywhere above the shoulder, when immediate treatments should be started within one hour after contact.

Authorities warned that any warm blooded animal is susceptible to the disease and reiterated that there is no cure whatever for either human or animal once the disease has had opportunity to begin its devastating damage.

"People must either get their dogs vaccinated against rabies, or keep them locked in," said Dr. Joseph H. Drayer of the Columbus Health Department, "preferably both."

He said that [redacted]l people have a common misconception that rabies is active only in the summer. "The last three outbreaks of rabies in Columbus have all occurred in the winter," added Dr. Drayer.

For A Merry Christmas — Play Safe

With the Christmas season nearly upon us and everyone making plans for celebration of the annual observance of the holiday. It is well to consider other types of plans which will aid in guaranteeing a merry and happy yule season.

Safe rules to guard against Christmas home fires have recently been issued by the Fire Safety Committee. It is well that everyone read them and take appropriate measures to observe them that this community may truly enjoy the Christmas season.

The rules as outlined for a Merry Christmas are:

Cut the Christmas Tree at an angle about an inch above the original cut and set the tree in water.

Use electric sets bearing the Underwriter's label only. Check sets for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. Do not overload circuits. Be sure lights are turned off before retiring or leaving the house.

Guard open fireplaces against sparks with a screen.

Use only flame-proof decorations sold in any store; Ohio law bans any other kind.

Avoid celluloid dolls, toys or non-flame proofed cowboy suits. Toys requiring alcohol, kerosene or gasoline to generate are especially dangerous.

Do not allow Christmas wrappings to accumulate. Don't allow smoking near the tree. Keep matches away from small children. Plan what you must do if a fire breaks out. If you can't put the fire out immediately call the Fire Department at once.

A Free Press — A Free People

Now with the dark clouds hovering over the international horizon the American people look to their newspapers with renewed confidence that they will continue to strive for the protection of the freedom of men. Our most powerful weapon against the infringements and repressions advanced by foreign ideologies which would destroy our American way of life is a continued free press guarded by the integrity of our newspapers and their editors and publishers.

At this time when the free world is being threatened by totalitarianism forces it is doubly important that we have an informed American public. The American press has a great responsibilty in keeping the people informed on international and domestic problems.

It is also important for our people to constantly keep in mind that nations which have lost their liberty have done so after their dictatorial governments have gained ownership or other controls over the press.

Compared with other nations of the world, the United States has been richly blessed with a free press which gives all the news while it is still news. Nothing is held back, and the people are told the truth.

No one in this country can "buy" a newspaper except on the streets or via the circulation departments. Americans must ever be certain that they do not permit the loss of freedom of the press. This would be a sorry country without the newspapers which are such an integral part of every American home.

A Questionable Guest

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

President Truman asks the "Lame Duck" Congress for an "excess profits tax" retroactive to July 1, 1950.

Many small businessmen hope Congress will not act without getting an honest expression of opinion. They have asked the National Federation of Independent Business to make a nationwide poll on the question. This is now being taken. As usual, the voted ballots go directly to Congressmen. The results will be published first in this column.

Since Korea, huge corporations have received phenomenal earnings. Therefore, an excess profits tax has great emotional appeal.

But small business is not engaged in a blind "holy" war against big business. Small business, resentful of certain big business practices, is not rushing pell-mell into supporting a measure that could wreck all business.

The method by which a profit will be determined as excess is the key to the entire question.

Any small business can have experienced bad luck during the base period used for a normal profit period. For example, a series of jurisdictional strikes promoted by big labor, or a "freeze-out" price war prosecuted by a big corporation, can make that base period one of subnormal profit for an independent concern. Thus, a normal year's profits can, as was done in the past, be taxed as excess profits.

In order to compete, small business must continually improve equipment. This is done out of profits.

However, under tax laws, money spent on production facilities is not tax deductible. During World War II this forced many small businesses either to close, or sell out to a big corporation.

Is it technically possible to write an excess profits tax law that will not ruin independent business? Many sincere Congressmen don't think so.

So when debates start, don't think all arguments against are by big business. Independent businessmen may have to be opposed for self-preservation. In previous votes, independent business has called on government to first try reduced spending on non-essentials. But, although bureaucrats urge reduction of non-essential consumer spending, little attention is paid to reducing non-essential government spending. Probably many a bureaucrat fears investigation would prove his job non-essential.

Gordon Gray, presidential economic adviser, wants American taxpayers to give another 10 billion dollars to the Marshall Plan, plus billions for armament grants to friendly powers.

Already big corporations are working to capture these billions in business. This is evidenced by the private "star chamber" sessions held by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer at Sea Island, Georgia, with top industrialists. The press was barred.

This has created a storm of protest by organized independent business.

Information on what went on behind these closed doors will be related next week. It now appears that the Marshall Plan is benefitting a few huge American corporations as much, if not more, than it is benefitting the peoples of other nations.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. Children as young as 16 months are sometimes fitted for glasses. The glasses, equipped with unbreakable lenses, must be checked frequently to see that the frames are not bent and that they are large enough to allow for the child's growth.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. It depends on where they live. According to statistics published by the United Nations, persons born in the United States, Canada or France have the longest life expectancy (68.3 years, 67.2 and 68.3), whereas the inhabitants of Egypt can only anticipate 38.6 years, of Mexico 33.3 years and of India 28.6. The difference lies chiefly in the health facilities available, as well as such factors as better nutrition and living conditions.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. It is a test by a doctor to determine if a person is allergic (sensitive) to various substances and to what extent. A small piece of surgical cotton to which the substance has been applied is attached to the patient with a pad held in place by an adhesive strip. The appearance of the skin is observed after removal of the patch and the extent of allergy is judged by the doctor.

A jet pilot had the job of carrying a VIP to NYC. After a short time in the air he turned to the big shot.

"We missed New York," said the pilot. "We'll have to circle back."

"How could you possibly miss a huge city like New York?" blustered the VIP.

The pilot confessed: "I blinked."

W. High School History Teacher To Become Navy Commander

By Myron T. Seifert

Tomorrow Commander Irven Harper Cammarn, West High Scvhool history teacher, will become commander of the U. S. Navy Destroyer Tender U.S.S. Shenandoah, and executive officer of that ship.

A veteran of many naval engagements, the modest mannered officer, when under heavy fire, never lost a man under his command, and by virtue of this record received high commendation from his government, and was the recipient of the coveted bronze medal.

First teacher in the Columbus Public School system to serve his country in World War II, he was the last teacher to return from active service. For seven years from July 1940, before U.S. entry into the war until February 1949, he was in active military duty.

He was executive officer of the popularly known Destroyer "Kane" in World War II; also commanded a submarine chaser PC 483 in the last war and during most of the seven years was commanding officer of a DE (Destroyer Escort). His particular DE was converted into an APD (Destroyer Transport) called the "Kephart." It was engaged in the retaking of the Philippine Islands. Near the end of the war he commanded a large division of DE's.

In 1946 he was stationed at the naval base in Charleston, S. C., returning soon afterward to his home in Columbus where he resumed his teaching duties.

Cammarn, affable and always a gentleman, is a man of few words, as his fellow officers, or subordinates can tell you. West High students, most of all, can attest to this.

During the last war when Cammarn was home on leave, it is recalled, a downtown newspaper reporter, eager to get a "scoop" from the commander, sought an interview with him. Cammarn treated him kindly, but was reluctant to talk about events of the war or himself. Next day the local paper carried a mammoth picture of him, with the banner headline, "Commander Cammarn Is Home, But Is Mum."

With a quarter century in naval service, enlisting in the US Naval Reserves April 28, 1926, he has served his country well. Since War II, he has been Commander of the Organized Naval Reserves, in Columbus for the past three years. (Three years as Commander of Reserves is the time-limit for this duty.)

He received his ensign commission in 1929.

His work as teacher in the Columbus public schools began at Roosevelt Junior High School in 1924, where he taught for 16 years. In 1947, upon his return to the Columbus public schools, following seven years in the navy, he was assigned to West High School, where he has been since.

His record as teacher at the Hilltop School is as laudable as his military citations. Principal I. F. Young put it this way. "We are all sorry to see Mr. Cammarn leave. He is a top teacher and we know that he will continue to serve his country in an adroit and honorable manner. We wish for him the best, and anticipate his early return to our teaching staff."

Mrs. Cammarn, a substitute teacher at West High School to whom he has been married for 23 years, taught school for two years while he served in the last war (Boys' Choir School and Ohio State University). She will continue her duties at the Hilltop school.

The Cammarns' one son, Irven Harper, Jr., is a student at Ohio State.

West Outscores London 40-30

By Dave Miller

Despite a "crowded quarters" handicap, West's cagers used a hot fourth quarter in which to triumph over London's Red Raiders, 40 to 30, in West's fourth game of the season played last Friday in the losers' city.

Big Roger Smith and Ted Fladt were the thorns in the sides of the Red Raiders, who together copped 33 of West's 40-point total for the evening. Smith, scoring mainly on fast break-away shots, took high scoring honors with 20 markers, while Fladt chimed in with 13.

The Cowboys and London (who were playing their first game) got off to a very slow first quarter—mainly due to the small "gym" of the host team. The court, originally built to be a national guard armory, was long enough to meet the required measurements, but was tremendously narrow.

A zone defense set-up on the court was almost insurpassable, while a man-to-man was more "open". West employed a zone, London a man-to-man, and the difference began to tell in the fourth period.

The initial period was very slow. In fact the quarter ended with West holding a 9-7 lead. The tempo stayed at its slow pace in the second canto with a West lead of 16-13 at the intermission.

The big difference came in the final eight minutes. West went into the final canto holding a 23-20 lead, but managed to out-tally the Darwin Keye-coached quintet, 17-10, in the final period to break open the contest.

Hilliards Soldier Is Wounded In Korean Fighting

A Hilliards GI in Korea, wounded in the fierce fighting with North Koreans and Chinese Communists, is at present recovering in Japan.

Pfc. Enoc L. A. Jeffers, 22, informed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jeffers, 3284 Dublin-rd, Hilliards, that he is recovering from wounds received in Korea on Nov. 30.

Pfc Jeffers entered the army last spring and was serving with the U. S. 7th Infantry Division when wounded. Before going into service he attended Skidmore School and was employed as a service station attendant. He trained at Fort Knox, Ky., and Camp Gordon, Ga.

West Cagers Whip Grandview By 66-42 Score

By Dave Miller

West continued their rapid and sensational field goal attempt average Dec. 5 as they easily disposed of an old rival, Grandview, 66-42, before a packed throng in the Bobcat gym.

The Cowboys, who hit 47.6 of their shots the Saturday before against Bexley, kept their hot pace rolling against the Central Buckeye representative, Grandview.

Grandview was rapidly drowned under a sharp-shooting Cowboy squad, which seemingly had been "pepped up" by Coach George Williams.

West height advantage and shooting-eye were the main factors in their drive. Their biggest spurt was of nine straight points, midway of the third period. The score was then 31-24, but West quickly upped that to a hearty 40-24 on points by Smith, Fladt, Jerry Trabue and Jerry Johnson. Smith and Fladt, in addition, played a prominent role in West's success in snaring enemy rebounds.

Throughout the entire game the Cowboys showed a definite advantage in their ability to hold Grandview to just one shot at intervals. West continued the pace for most of the fourth quarter, outscoring their opponents, 17-15, and, with the game in the final stages, turned over to the subs.

West's reserves rode to their second win in three tries, thumping Grandview's seconds, 36-17.

People who can't settle down, often have to settle up.

Those who think they are better than others, ought to take a better look.

The Rea-Bow Association News

Santa Claus will arrive at Rea-Bow Hall, 852 Clarendon-av, Tuesday night, Dec. 19, at 7:30. He will sit on his throne and talk to all the little boys and girls. He will also have a treat for each one who comes to talk to him. At his right will be a large Christmas tree, and Rea-Bow Hall will be sparkling with bells and tinsel. This will be the start of the sixth Christmas for the Rea-Bow Improvement Association, Inc., and will be followed by a big Christmas party for all the children Thursday, Dec. 21, at 7:30 in the hall. This program will open with on old fashioned community singing of Christmas carols, led by Marjory Thompson, and Alice Brokamp. William Marot will be the pianist.

After that an original play, "The Night Before Christmas" will be presented. Mrs. Mack Flynn, with the aid of Mrs. Emerson Miller and Mrs. Thomas Snyder, will present the children in song and recital. Santa Claus will again be with the children, and give each a stocking full of sweets and fruit.

This Saturday night, Dec. 16, the association will hold its last social of the year. E. Miller will be M.C. Music will be by "The Rangers." Community sing and games will make this a very pleasant evening for all. The public is invited, and there is no admission. Round and square dancing will be held.

Sunday, Dec. 3, the association sponsored the Whitaker players at the Veterans' Hospital at Chillicothe. Cigarettes, playing cards, jig saw puzzles and magazines were distributed to the veterans.

Camp Chase Post News

By John Martindale

In December of 1941 this nation was rocked back on its heels by Pearl Harbor. In December 1950 world conditions bring deep shadows over us all and we don't know what is to come.

When disaster hit us in that December nine years ago we quickly were awakened and then got together and worked together to protect our land. Today?

In the American Legion we stand back of a preamble to our Legion Constitution as being a summation of the why of our organization. That preamble starts out "For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America" — Yes, every one of us who wear the Legion button has defended that constitution and yet we still stand up and pledge ourselves that we will continue to protect it. We know that we can't quit.

There are thousands of people who don't know which way to turn or what to think. There are some who want us to be that way and they are doing everything that they can to get more and more people to grope in the dark. Yes, right here in Columbus there are some who are sowing just as many seeds of discontent as they can, and they will use every means possible to do it. They are Communists.

Each of us is a post in the life fence of our nation. Even more now than ever before we must stand firm. If we get the cobwebs out of our own minds we will know that the things that count for the most in our lives are our God, our country and our loved ones. What better Christmas present can we give our families and our friends than the knowledge that the posts in the line fence of our nation are firm. We are Americans.

Post meeting next Friday, Dec. 15, at 8:15 p. m.

Christmas party Friday, Dec. 22. Bring your children. Santa will be there.

Finishing The Job

Lynn Fullerton, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fullerton, 604 Racine-av, completes an urgent message to Hilltoppers, while her friend, Sharon Dawley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Dawley, 3019 Mountview-rd, assists. Lynn says, "It's time for us all to do our jobs! Do-It-Day is Monday, Dec. 18, but don't wait 'til Do-It-Day to send in the money for your Christmas seals. Do It Now!"

Procrastination in remitting for Christmas seals received has slowed down the progress of the 1950 Christmas seal sale, goal of $65,000 hoped for by Christmas. Total estimated by this week-end is $45,000. Prompt answering of Christmas seal letters will enable the Columbus Tuberculosis Society to halt the drive by Christmas and make immediate plans for expanding its free chest X-ray services for the New Year.

Lynn was selected by the Columbus Tuberculosis Society as one of the three angels who brought the 1950 Christmas seals to life recently on the cover of the Sunday magazine of a local newspaper. Lynn was the angel on the right, playing the Greek lyre. She also appeared on a local television show.

Rusk, Reeder Wedding Vows Are Exchanged In November

The marriage of Miss Maxine Rusk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max H. Rusk, 321 N. Ninth-st, Coshocton, and Mr. Jack A. Reeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gale L. Reeder, 617 Townsend-av, took place Friday, Nov 3, 7:30 p. m. in the East Seventh Avenue Church of Christ, Columbus.

The vows were pronounced by Rev. Ted Waller before the altar decorated with four candelabra and palms centered with two large baskets of white chrysanthemums. The ceremony was preceded by vocal selections by a male quartet.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a lovely white satin gown, styled with a deep square neckline edged with a net yoke bound in satin with satin buttons down the front. An imported Chantilly lace ruffle outlined the neckline and the skirt and the train. Her satin bonnet was trimmed in pleated net and seed pearls. White roses formed her bridal bouquet and she carried a yellow hand-painted handkerchief, a gift sent from Jamaica by her brother.

Miss Carol Rusk served as her sister's maid of honor while the bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Sheppard, Coshocton, and Mrs. Joyce Dickson, Columbus. Their frocks were of satin and net designed with a formal bodice and full net skirts worn over satin. They wore matching satin jackets and matching net hats. Miss Rusk's gown was of lemon shade and she carried yellow and white mums.

The bridesmaids wore coral and their flowers were coral and white carnations. Linda Ann Rusk, sister of the bride, was the flower girl.

Mr. Robert Reeder served his cousin as best man. Ushers were Mr. Charles Hensel and Mr. Edward Gehrke.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rusk chose a royal-blue crepe dress and black accessories. Red roses formed her corsage. Mrs. Reeder wore a black crepe dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink [illegible].

A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Later when the couple left for a few days trip to Chicago, the bride donned a gray tailored suit with which she wore hunter-green accessories. A white rose corsage was pinned to her shoulder and she wore pearls and matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Coshocton High School and Office Training School, Columbus. Mr. Reeder is a graduate of West High School and attended the Columbus Art School. He is employed by the Nippert Electric Co.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Reeder are residing at 218 Whitethorne-av.

Patients of the Columbus State Hospital will receive Christmas decorations made by the club ladies. There will be a variety of attractive decorations emphasizing the use of Christmas greens, light and shiny objects suitable for tree decorations, door, table and window sill arrangements, popcorn balls and candy. Mrs. W. I. Monaghan, 2915 Olive-st, is in charge of this project.

As in past years, the children of the West Side Day Nursery, 40 N. Grubb-st, will benefit from the contributions of jelly and jams gaily wrapped in Christmas paper by the Garden Club.

Rome Study Group Entertained

Mrs. W. J. Stormont, 121 Pasadena-av, was hostess Monday evening, Dec. 11, to the Rome Study Club. Mrs. Helen Barok, owner of the Colonial Floral Shop, 3290 El Paso-rd (formerly Barok's on W. Broad-st), discussed "Corsages and Personalities" at the meeting.

Mrs. Barok told the club that, contrary to ordinary belief, flowers should look up, not down, and should therefore be worn the way they grow. Several concrete suggestions were made for the selection of corsages to flatter the individual personalities of some of the ladies present.

It was recommended that Betty Jo Stormont, a pert, brownette type, student at Hilliards High School, wear a talisman rose hair corsage to compliment her personality as well as her orchid taffeta frock.

For Mrs. Elwood Rose, active young wife of the minister of the Columbia Heights Methodist Church, a corsage of dainty pink carnations was selected to emphasize her light brown hair, fairness and graceful carriage.

A salmon-pink glamelia corsage was chosen for Mrs. William Lamb, busy music teacher, church organist and mother, to accentuate her sparkling brown eyes and dark hair in contrast with her yellow gown.

For Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, mother, community leader and active club woman, who is a brownette type with hazel eyes, a rich, red rose corsage was recommended to go with her black frock.

A gardenia corsage with shattered ochre mums and a gold ribbon was suggested to be worn on the red sheer wool frock of platinum haired Mrs. Albert Caris.

Mrs. Barok's tip to the economical: separate the corsage from the ribbons and sprinkle flowers with water and place in cellophane bag in the refrigerator and you'll find that a single corsage can be made to do double, even triple duty, with this kind of care.

Local Teachers Will Be Worthy Matron, Patron

There will be a reception and refreshments following the installation with the 1950 officers as hostesses. All Eastern Stars are cordially invited.

Christmas Star, 1950

Search the heavens for the Christmas Star?
Oh do not lift your eyes to Heaven above
But look below in paths of service —there
The guiding star is leading men with love.

Each common deed for others; kindly thoughts
Are precious gifts the wise men bring today.
They give a fragrance only heart and soul
Can sense, and truest brother-love repay.

Within the manger of humility
The star of hope and peace for humankind
Shines with its radiant glow, and angel songs
Tell all the earth: "Receive the Christ-like mind."

According to "Sandy" Sanford, Courage, Incorporated will hold its annual Christmas party and bazaar at 8 p. m. Dec. 5, at the Fourth Avenue Church of Christ. Members of the organization and their friends are invited. Many articles made by members will be on sale. It will be a fine time to buy that last-minute Christmas gift. Sandy is one of the group's most enthusiastic boosters. The Batelle Institute Players will give their premier showing of their winter play, "The Ghost Goes South", at the party. The play is directed by Zane Schofield.

One reason I enjoy doing this alleged column is that I come in contact with such grand people. Was very happy to meet — via phone — Rev. and Mrs. Delbert S. Mills. They are delightful and sincere. They have been in radio 24 years, beginning their radio career with Rev. Don Falkenberg. If I may make a Drew Pearson, they will be heard (WHKC) another 24 years; their many friends hope that they will be.

Here is a poem grandmothers will understand:

"JUST ON A VISIT

Today I washed a little cup;
Picked up some scattered blocks;
Gazed longingly toward a high-chair
And at dainty, ruffled frocks.

A red engine steed, O, so still
Most lonesome seemed to be.
The box of toys in their place
Were taunting things, to me:

A tiny girl just half-past one
And a romping three-year boy
Whose merry laughing resounded,
Filing our hearts with joy

Have gone away for a visit.
That is why I am so blue,
Sort of missing all the antics
Of these little lively two.

Plagarism: "An executive is a man who wears a frown on his assistant's face."

Symptoms of Rabies Described By OSU Director

In order to acquaint the citizenry with vital information concerning the symptoms, prevention and cure of rabies, The Hilltop Record consulted Dr. Earl J. Calcott, director of the small animals clinic at Ohio State University, for the following information:

SYMPTOMS OF RABIES: There are two forms of rabies, dumb and furious. In the "dumb" type, the dog is unusually quiet and unresponsive. It avoids owners and other people, having a tendency to be by itself. The dog loses the ability to control the lower jaw, leaving saliva to drool from the mouth. The dog will also stop eating, and tends to pick up foreign objects, such as sticks, and start to chew them.

The "furious" type of rabies gives the dog a tendency to attack a person or other animal at the slightest provocation. The dog will run about wildly, and is extremely dangerous if allowed to stray. This type of rabies also results in the loss of ability to control the lower jaw.

PREVENTION OF RABIES: The most effective means of preventing the spread of the fatal disease is vaccination. An annual inoculation for the disease will be administered by any veterinarian or by the board of health. The average cost of vaccination is about $3.

CURE OF RABIES: Rabies is 100 per cent fatal when contracted. There is no known cure. Dogs should be confined in the immediate vicinity wherever they are diagnosed, until they die. This takes a period of from five to seven days after diagnosis. During this period of confinement, if the dog is placed in a cage, owners must be extremely careful, for the dog will bite the bars of the cage or any object within reach without provocation.

The Gate Post

By Pat Martindale

Should you happen to wander into the Glenwood Recreation these days you would most likely capture the Christmas spirit from all angles. First, informal caroling is being featured every evening. Too, every one is very busy working on the program which is to be presented Christmas week. The Center itself is being readied for the holidays with new drapes, slip covers and paint, as well as yuletide decorations.

Teen Age Room

The teen-age room has been newly decorated and will be open to local youth on Monday and Tuesday evenings. The room has been attractively done in a bright red and green color scheme. One-half of the floor has been carpeted for social gatherings while the other half remains bare for the purpose of small dancing groups and games. A kitchen is furnished for the convenience of the teen-agers.

Hilltop Decoration

The Christmas greeting and decoration which is to be placed on the hill in front of center will be completed and erected this week. The decoration, the only one of its kind to be placed on W. Broad-st, serves as a "gateway" greeting to the Hilltop. It is a project of the Hilltop Community Council and the Recreation Center. The actual work on the silhouttes was done by the youth of Glenwood.

Christmas Issue

The introductory issue of the Glenwood newspaper is being distributed in various local schools this week. The paper includes news items written by the youth of all ages who participate in the activities offered at the center. An article on the staff members is featured by Jack McAndrews, Sr., and a schedule of all basketball games and other programs is listed.

The Newspaper Club is open to all teen-agers on Tuesdays at 7 p. m. Work on the January issue has begun and any news items of interest to the center are welcomed.

A contest for a name for the paper is now being held. Boys and girls of all ages may submit entries on or before Dec. 15 to any staff member of the center.

Television

A sales tax stamp drive will begin this week and continue until enough stamps have been collected to purchase a television set for the center. Anyone wishing to contribute sales tax stamps, can drop these off at the center or call a staff member at Ra. 7416 and the stamps will be picked up by a member of the newspaper club.

Dancing and Bowling

It was announced this week that new tap dancing classes will start for beginners the first week in January. Registrations are being taken by Pat Mathews and Jeanne Williams.

Bowling classes have begun at the Hilltop Bowling Alleys. Boys and girls 10 and over are invited to join the classes on Fridays at 4 p. m. Any one wishing to start his own team of three persons may do so. Special rates are in effect for these classes.

Girls' Basketball

Basketball teams for girls 10 through 13 are now being organized. Girls wishing to play on a team should come to the gym on Tuesday and Thursday from 3:30 to 5 p. m. for instruction.

Boys' Basketball

The Junior League 1950-51 regular season entry dates are Dec. 12 to Dec. 20. Entries must be in not later than Dec. 20. The managers of all teams are requested to be at the league meeting at 4 p. m. Friday, Dec. 22, in the office at the Glenwood Recreation Center.

In the Intermediate League the entry dates are Dec. 18 to 26, at the office of Glenwood Center. Managers and coaches are requested to attend the league meeting at 7:30 p. m Friday, Dec. 29, for scheduling of the league.

Cleaner Washings, Better Rinsing Greater Satisfaction!

WITH THE NEW A-B-C-O-Matic COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC WASHER

IT'S NEW- IT'S DIFFERENT- IT'S BETTER!

Never before in the history of washers has there been such a remarkably efficient washer developed. Entirely new in conception, new in washing action, new in rinsing principle, the ABC-O-MATIC leads them all in washing and rinsing ability. Don't expect just another automatic washer. This new ABC-O-MATIC was developed by industry men who helped pioneer the first power-driven washer.

JUST LOAD IT... SET THE DIALS AND WALK AWAY FROM WORK!

LIMITED SUPPLY FOR DELIVERY RIGHT NOW

AMERICA'S FINEST AUTOMATIC WASHER

Cleaner Washing

"CENTRIC" AGITATION

A sensational improvement in washing action. Up to now, the standard agitator represented the most effective way of getting clothes clean. Now "centric" agitation is an important improvement. Instead of two-way start and reverse action, "centric" agitation is a continuous washing action—easier on the clothes and more effective because of even clothes distribution. It does not reverse—it pulsates.

DISTRIBUTES CLOTHES EVENLY

It makes no difference how you place clothes in your ABC-O-MATIC. "Centric" agitation action will quickly distribute the clothes evenly in the tub—automatically. The result is better, cleaner washings.

This washing principle causes clothes to circulate counter-clockwise and are surged from the bottom upward and down again every 30 to 50 seconds.

- There is no tangling of clothes . . . no balling . . . clothes are flexed, gently rubbed and squeezed.
- Clothes are swirled by the washing action . . . washing with, instead of against, the agitator. This means clothes are washed with more safety and far less wear and tear.

Better Rinsing

REVOLUTIONARY 3-STEP RINSING FOR CLEANER CLOTHES

1. DEEP POWER SPRAY RINSE
While tub fills with fresh water, the agitator is loosening all dirt and soap scum from the clothes

2. FLUSHING OVER-FLOW RINSE
After the agitator stops, water continues to flow, over-flowing tub and carrying away dirt and soap scum.

3. SPLASH-AWAY POWER RINSE
With tub full of water, the agitator splashes water up and out of the tub . . . dirt can never circulate back through the clothes.

SPINNER DRYING
ABC's wide tub allows greater centrifugal force to get clothes dry faster. Clothes are dry in a maximum of time, wrinkle-free, easy to iron.

Greater Satisfaction

THESE ADDED FEATURES MAKE THE AUTOMATIC AN EVEN BETTER BUY:

SIGNAL LIGHT
Shows when washer is operating. A convenient and step-saving feature — when light goes off, it indicates washing cycle has been completed.

AUTOMATIC LEVELIZER
Self-leveling device that compensates for the difference in floor level. This provides sturdy footing to eliminate excessive vibration even during the spin cycle of the washer.

LESS VIBRATION . . . NO BOLTING DOWN
Harmful vibration is reduced to a minimum without additional mechanism for balancing. "Centric" agitation washing principle in the ABC-O-MATIC distributes clothes evenly automatically, and provides a better balance of clothes in the tub during the spin period. Therefore, no bolting down is required. This feature alone adds years to the life of your washer.

Teacher Wins First Christmas Turkey Contest

Hazel Parrett, 2600 W. Broad-st, became the lucky winner in The Hilltop Record's annual turkey contest which began last week. Miss Parrett, a teacher at Fairwood School, said that it was the first time she had ever won in any contest. Her entry was selected by Turkey Editor, Jim Stewart, as the most outstanding and clever among those received in the first week's contest. Miss Parrett in the above photo holds her winning entry and receives congratulations from Stewart. The turkey prize will be delivered to Miss Parrett on Dec. 22.

City Council Owns 712 Gold Fish--All Dead

Columbus City Council is now the proud (?) owner of 712 dead goldfish.

A bill totalling $107.03 was paid last week to Hobart Trabert, [illegible] N. Princeton-av, an aquarium enthusiast, for the dead fish. Trabert operates an aquarium business locally at 2341 W. Broad-st.

It all started when Trabert asked the city not to spray his alley with the DDT "fog" machine, because he had an open aquarium in his backyard containing 712 goldfish. The city, it is alleged, told him it wouldn't spray there—but it did—and the goldfish died.

Trabert asked $110.13 damages. Dr. Ollie M. Goodlie, city health commissioner, agreed it was the DDT that killed the fish. The claim was referred to the city attorney's office for investigation.

Trabert, investigators discovered, had purchased 700 small replacements for his aquarium for $70 and 12 large-sized goldfish at [illegible] Shipping charges were $30.53.

A $3 item listed by Trabert was disallowed by attorneys. The sum found due was $107.13. Then city councilmen, working with sharp pencils, declared: "No. Ten cent error. It should be $107.03."

And that's what they paid Trabert.

West Jr. Cagers Seeking Win Over Barrett 5

By Dave Miller

Smarting from a close 34-33 "shave" by the Indianola Indians, West's junior high cagers seek their second win tomorrow afternoon when they match two-pointers with Chuck Koterba's classy youngsters from Barrett.

Coach Red Lehman of the Hilltoppers has never witnessed a West win over Barrett although he's turned the trick over all the other nine junior high schools.

According to records available West Junior beat Barrett in 1936 by four points (score, 23-19), and since then has never been able to do better.

Coach Lehman, in his regime as West coach since his return from the army has taken it on the chin quite often from the Southsiders. Here's his record.

1946-47—Barrett, 46, West 10.
1947-48—Barrett, 34; West 19.
1948-49—Barrett, 44, West 19.
1949-50—Barrett, 28; West, 27.

"It's amazing how a team can hold a jinx over another for that length of time," said Coach Lehman. "Koterba is always practicing with his boys, and that Schiller Park set-up certainly helps him. A win this year would be awfully nice."

Honors Accorded Top Four Seniors At West High

By Myren T. Seifert

West High School's honorary group, National Honor Society members of the January, 1960, class, presented its traditional program at the school Tuesday, Dec. 12.

Only four January seniors, who maintained top marks in their studies during senior high school years, were eligible for the school's highest scholastic award. They are Walter Nickens, Marcia Brady, John Rockwell and Nancy Uh.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Well, hyar we are again' Nothing gained nothing earned, I'll write some news of what I learned.

On Dec. 13, Circle 3 circled around the front room in MRS. BERTHA HALL'S home. They had a nice Christmas meeting.

And speaking of Christmas, MRS. A. H. HANK couldn't have gotten a nicer gift than the Bible she won on a telephone call. She knows her [illegible]

RED CALLIF went "all-out", it seems. After he bought a new Philco television set for his wife, he bought a booster for his insurance business — a bright new smooth Ford. He deserves it — works like a trooper, he does.

The ELECTRIC WATTS had a visitor for a week. Remember ESTHER CORDRAY, a former Butlerite? Well, she's moving to Cincinnati since "hubby" was transferred down there. We're always glad to hear how our former neighbors are progressing.

LIZ SMATHERS used milk of magnesia on her hands. Guess it didn't matter too much really but she thought she had picked up her hand lotion.

I saw a pre-Christmas gift on ANN WALDER—a new fur coat that ART gave her. Her husband said she might as well have it now while it's cold. After Christmas it may get warm, who knows?

"I'll be workin' on the railroad for another week or so" sings ALBERT SCHMITT. Yep AL is fixing up an electric train he bought 15 years ago for his son (now married) and he's giving it to an orphanage. Good work, ALBERT Havin' fun, too, I betcha, just fixin' it up.

I don't know what I'm getting my wife for Christmas. If I got her clothes, she'd say 42 was too big and she'd return it; if I got her a small size, she'd just say it was too expensive or something and back it would go

I saw a sharp lamp in a store up on the Hilltop. Had a horse's head as the base. But a horse stand might not reflect so good on wifey. She knows she looks like one, and I work like one, and she might get the wrong idea and break it over my head.

See — I can't win.

This "freedom of the press" is a wonderful thing. Since she doesn't know I write this, I can tell her what I think of her, all I want.

JOE BRIGGS Says:

Many a better half is a better half-wit.

Is only HALF of your home insured against fire?

Years ago, you paid a certain price for your home. Today, it's probably worth twice that price. Does your insurance reflect that increase? Is your fire insurance adequate to replace that home with a comparable one AT TODAY'S PRICES? Let us survey your protection—no cost to you.

The Gay Philosopher Calendar Is Available

Round about the community this week the Gay Philosopher calendar, issued annually by The Hilltop Record, is again making its appearance.

This year the famed character is in a frame by himself picking petals from a daisy. "She loves me, she loves me not."

A limited number of the small calendars are available at the Record office. First come, first served.

The Gay Philosopher says: "What you put into friendship always pays off."

Hilltop People Show Their Generosity

It was again a pleasure during the past week to work among Hilltop people and see how generous they are.

On the occasion of the annual Hilltop Kiwanis Newspaper sale last Thursday night we worked N. Burgess-av, and in three blocks had but one refusal of a contribution. It was a great satisfaction to have so many people have their money waiting, expecting the newsboy!

Then on Saturday we collected nearly $600 from generous Hilltop people who bought copies of the annual Charity Newsie paper. Lee Weigand and other local newsies report similar fine response.

To all who gave, may we take this opportunity to publicly say "Many thanks and may you have a happy holiday period for having helped someone else."

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Night Before Christmas Notes: Leo McComb and Helen Wright will start the new year off right as Mr. and Mrs. McComb, with the event taking place New Year's Eve . . . Bob Cramer was winner of the hat for selling the most ads in the Kiwanis Christmas edition and then auctioned it off to Lowell Shroyer for $25 which was added to the paper sale funds. . . . 165 Bruce-st, Grove City, is the new address of Lee and Ed Witherspoon . . . Lee Kramer will manage the Leo Phillips campaign for mayor next year is the report making the rounds at present . . . The author of this column has been prevailed upon to head up the annual Hilltop Minstrel committee and will be glad to hear from prospective acts . . . The show is set for sometime about the middle of April . . . Those new street decorations put up by the Hilltop Business Association are pretty if they are lighted up, but a lot of them needed some electricity . . . Nelson Green is a newcomer at the First Federal Hilltop office and a congenial chap to meet . . . What's Happened To Home?

A prominent New England ecclesiastic, addressing a church gathering recently, scored the break-up of the American home under the pressure of an "age of war," and emphasized the religious home as the bulwark of religion and society. He said that the home has lost many of its old functions and related that "people are not born in homes but in hospitals; they are brought up in day schools, learn to play at public playgrounds, go away to camp for the summer, meet their friends in night clubs, eat in restaurants, sleep in road cabins or automobiles, recuperate in sanitariums, and are buried from funeral parlors." He said that the home depends upon religion for inspiration, guidance and vitality, but "religion depends upon the home for the achievements of its own principal objectives."

Santa To Visit Hilltop Saturday; To See Shut-Ins Too

Santa Claus is scheduled to arrive on the Hilltop Saturday afternoon at about 2 o'clock, under the auspices of the Hilltop Sporting Club Inc., and amid the clamor of jingling bells will distribute candy, fruit and nuts to Hilltop youngsters as he wends his way through the streets of the community in his sleigh.

The jolly old fellow earlier this week asked that any shut-in youngsters who are unable to meet him on the streets have some one call Ronnie Henkel at RA. 0782 and give their addresses so that he will be able to call on them personally at their homes and give them a Christmas treat.

Mt. Carmel Loses Federal Aid Building Grant

An expected $280,500 federal aid grant to Mt. Carmel Hospital has been denied because of a cut in non-defense spending by Congress, it was revealed this week.

The money, slated to be spent for equipment in the new $3,500,000 addition to the hospital, represented a major goal in completion of the project.

The United Hospitals Building Fund, which has allocated $2,000,000 for the Mt. Carmel addition, will be sorely pressed to meet contractors' demands without the needed funds.

"The only way to achieve success in our project is to appeal to the kind-hearted citizens of Columbus," said Delbert L. Pugh, representing the United Hospitals Building Fund. "They are the only ones that can help us," he declared.

The federal report on the fund-slashing decision states:

"A large addition to this institution is underway . . . Our assistance has been sought for equipment only, as the sisters have extended themselves financially about as far as it seems possible to go. It appears now that without our help they probably will not be able to equip the entire institution."

Not only Mt. Carmel, but St. Ann's Hospital, has also been cut off from federal aid money. An appeal for $393,348 in federal grants for St. Ann's has also been denied.

This abrupt move represents the most serious obstacle in the path of completion of the Mt. Carmel Hospital addition that has yet been faced. Other difficulties have been overcome, but this challenge to the citizens of Columbus will result in the serious hampering of hospital service to the community if it is not met and defeated.

Hilliards-Rome Rd. Improvement Plans Revealed

Resurfacing is planned for a section of the Hilliards-Rome Road from U. S. 40 to .071 miles south of the village of Hilliards, according to Franklin County Engineer Guy Elbin who announced this week his plans for three major road improvements and bridge repair projects in the county.

The Hilliards-Rome-rd improvement is listed as one of the major improvements planned. Elbin said that a total of 5.92 miles of the highway will be resurfaced with asphaltic concrete.

Plans for the project are now 80 per cent complete, Elbin said, and the estimated cost is $45,000, with federal and county participation.

Rev. Joseph Shellhaas To Receive Degree At OSU Tomorrow

By Myron T. Seifert

Today, he's "Rev. Joe" to the teen-agers of the Hilltop, and by the adults he's addressed "Rev. Joseph Shellhaas. Tomorrow (Friday, Dec. 22) he may be called Dr. Joseph Shellhaas.

Tomorrow at 2 p. m. he will achieve the highest scholastic degree accorded by Ohio State University when he dons the scarlet and gray looped neckpiece and hood, with the handshake and congratulatory words from the president of the Ohio State University, H. Bevis, upon his completion of his doctorate work of philosophy at the autumn convocation.

This, of course, is the culmination of 11 years of hard work, earned the hard way and not through honorary channels. His doctorate work was undertaken shortly after his assignment to the Glenwood Methodist Church, back in September, 1939, from which goal he has never swerved. Sandwiched in between pastoral responsibilities, the ambitious clergyman made inroads from time to time on his laborious job of qualifying for his doctor's degree.

The well deserved title of "Doctor" affixed to his name is emblematic of his learning; we'll wager, however, that the titles "Rev. Joe" and "Rev. Shellhaas" would ever be his choices.

His Ph. D. dissertation was "The Life and Philosophy of the French Philosopher, Alfred Fouille."

As spiritual leader of the Hilltop's largest Protestant church, with a present membership of 2400, Rev. Shellhaas and his church exert a profound influence for good in this community.

Glenwood Church is the largest Methodist Church in Columbus and second largest in the Ohio Conference.

Beginning 11 years of service to the Hilltop church, Rev. Shellhaas carries on the principles of a spiritual institution organized 56 years ago as Glenwood.

Frequently interpolating his sermons with true-to-life humorous anecdotes, he likes to josh with his audience. He's a "natural" for a preacher — understands mass psychology as well as the religion that he espouses.

With many degrees already attached to his name, including an M. A., D. B., S. T. M. and a candidate for his Ph. D. in philosophy from Ohio State University tomorrow, Rev. Shellhaas, now only 56 years old (same age as the church he serves) has all the attributes of a genuine scholar.

During his tenure of 11 years at

Rev. Joseph Shellhaas

Glenwood, he has personally brought into his fold more than 1300 new members. Preaching twice every Sunday, he also teaches a Sunday School class. He presents a Bible lecture every Wednesday evening, and conducts a training class for young people from 18 to 30 years of age every Thursday evening.

Former pastorates of Rev. Shellhaas include St. John's, 1922; Elida, 1924; Carey, 1926; Wapakoneta, 1929; Bellefontaine, 1935, and Glenwood, 1939 to present.

He resides in the parsonage, 74 Highland-av, south of the church, with Mrs. Shellhaas; has one son, Glen, an attorney in Bellefontaine; a daughter-in-law, and a granddaughter of whom he is very proud.

For diversion—whenever he has leisure — he loves to do routine chores about a farm. Like the souls he mends, he, for example, enjoys mending the fences on the farm he recently owned, near Bellefontaine.

Local merchants were being warned Tuesday of the presence of a quick change artist at work on the West Side. One Hilltop firm Tuesday afternoon became a victim of the smooth operating racket when it was "bilked" out of $20.

Local Marshal Gives Warning To Dog Owners

L. W. Blum, Valleyview marshal, today warned residents of the area to take extreme precautions against the spread of rabies. In a statement to The Hilltop Record, Blum said:

"Some of the residents of Valleyview are permitting their dogs to run loose, violating an order of the Franklin County Board of Health. The people do not realize the seriousness of the situation, and the marshal of the village will have to resort to drastic measures unless the residents cooperate with this order.

"Just last week a dog in the 500 block on N. Hague-av was found to be infected with rabies. If you see a dog acting queerly, notify the proper authorities at once and, above all, keep your dog under control at all times."

Franklin County Health Inspector Howard Reynolds today reported another case of rabies discovered in the Hilltop area. The new case was revealed as being a cow on McKinley-av which was diagnosed by health authorities as a positive case of the disease. The inspector also reported that the number of humans in this area being treated for rabies has risen to 61. This represents one additional case during the week.

Health authorities today reiterated their warnings to dog owners to keep animals off the streets and also to report any cases where their pets were acting strangely.

Junior Says -- He Will Retire This Saturday

Junior's "Big Day" arrives this Saturday!

The little man who has been riding around the Hilltop these past few months atop a new Dodge telling of the Hilltop Record subscription campaign will reign in all his glory Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. when he plans to retire from the public scene for a while. Before he leaves the Record office though he has decided that some one in this area should have the Dodge car for which he has no further use.

Junior has asked Mayor James Rhodes, Kiwanis Club President-elect Harold Cramer and Hilltop Business Association President John Nippert to participate in a ceremony at the Record office at that time when he will part with his last gift of the year and endeavor to make it a real "Merry Christmas" for some Hilltop resident.

During the past few months Junior has been giving away turkeys, groceries and other articles and he's getting tired of it all and wants to part with his car now. So all Hilltoppers are asked to gather at the Record office Saturday afternoon to find out whom Junior will select as his choice for a new Dodge car.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

A Christmas party for kiddies and adults will be held Friday, Dec. 22 at Camp Chase American Legion post headquarters, W. Broad-st and Burgess-av. Be sure to bring the kids up to see Santa.

Santa To Star At Rome Community

The Rome Business Association will sponsor its first major community project at a Christmas community sing tomorrow night at 7:30 in the town business section.

A crowd of 300-400 children, along wih many adults, is expected at the gathering. The community sing, first of what may become an annual Rome Christmas tradition, will be under the direction of Mrs. James Long.

The big attraction for the children, however, will be the appearance of Santa Claus, who, if snow permits, will come gliding to a huge community Christmas tree on a sleigh. Dressed in his traditional white-trimmed red costume, Santa will have plenty of goodies for the kids.

Four churches will add much to the singing part of the program, with special renditions of Christmas carols. The choir group of the Columbia Heights Methodist Church will offer various Christmas selections. The group will be directed by Harry Warner.

Another choir group, from St. Cecilia Catholic Church, will sing. Their program will be directed by Victoria Breckler. Also participating in separate carol singing performances are the St. Paul's Lutheran choir, under the direction of John Swinehart; and the children of Rome School, directed by Mrs. Long.

The individual performances will precede the gigantic community sing, when every one will join in singing various well-known Christmas carols.

By Myron T. Seifert

Top officials of the celebrated Hilltop Shrine Club were announced this week.

Leo Phillips, Sr., 617 S. Ogden-av, is the new president for 1951, succeeding Dr. R. J. Miller.

The new officers, well known on the Hilltop, are civic leaders in this community and in their new roles as Shrine heads, bring new opportunities and responsibilities for service to Shrinedom.

Kiwanis News Sale Exceeds Other Years

Hilltop Kiwanians said today that their annual Christmas newspaper sale this year was the most successful since the beginning of the project and were unanimous in their praise of Hilltoppers who aided them in their drive and also those who gave so generously.

Said President-elect Harold Cramer, "The fact that this year our sale surpassed any previous years is an indication that the good people of the Hilltop are definitely interested in the youth work of this organization and are willing to give generously to see that work carried out successfully. We Kiwanians extend our heartiest thanks to those who gave and to those who worked with us."

More than 200 workers participated in the sale of the newspaper last Thursday evening with the Kiwanikwe Club furnishing dinner for the assemblage before the campaign started.

C. C. Hartley was the purchaser of the first edition auctioned at the start of the sale, paying $30 for the newspaper. The Kiwanikwe Club bought the second auctioned edition for $25. In other newspapers sold at auction a sum of $302 was realized.

Chairman Fred Marsch reported that $2700 was realized from sale of the newspaper and indicated that this sum would substantially bolster the Kiwanis funds set aside for its youth program in this community.

Pedigreed Scotties Die In Darkroom Fire On Hilltop

An ad for four pedigreed Scottie pups, supposed to run in this issue, was cancelled three days ago. The pups died as an indirect result of their own picture.

It all started when Curtis S. Taylor, 219 Binns-blvd, owner of the pups, took a photograph of them, and in making a print, forgot to turn off an electric print dryer. The dryer ignited a wooden bench, the blaze making a shambles of Taylor's photographic darkroom, equipment, and puppies.

Taylor estimated a loss of $300 to $500 on equipment plus several photographic negatives. Firemen said the fire was prevented from spreading by a cement wall that enclosed the darkroom.

The Spirit of Christmas

The Spirit of Christmas is very hard to define. It's something that can be felt in the air—it's "a can't be seen" feeling—a feeling that comes from deep inside of us. It is a combination consisting of Good Will, giving and doing for our fellowmen.

There are many symbolic things, big and little that help to make Christmas, such as the pine trees decorated and lighted, greeting cards and gifts we send to each other, but it takes a great deal more than these tangible evidences to make a true American Christmas Spirit.

Wouldn't it be horribly terrifying to lose our Christmas and all the fine sentiments associated with it. It's not impossible, although we would like to think so. Many countries throughout the world do not have the privilege of such a wonderful Christmas as ours.

Christmas as we know and celebrate it, began many centuries ago and spread over the entire world, but take a look what has happened to the many nations today. They have traded freedom for a government-controlled society. When that happens the spirit of individuality is lost. We in America couldn't begin to imagine the hustle and bustle at Christmas time, children's delight, cheery greetings and celebrations of a government proclaimed holiday. It takes more than state proclaimed laws and rules to inspire true fellowship and freedom of generosity.

It seems to us that no effort should be spared to preserve our American Christmas Spirit. Let us always remind ourselves of the things that have happened in other nations. There is no reason for us to experiment, when it has been proved elsewhere that citizens lose who trade their freedom for planned society and promise of government security. There can be no freedom of spirit in giving and sharing, without the freedom of individuality.

Our American way is the Spirit of Christmas. Let's keep it—always. "Peace on earth good will to men."

We of this community believe in this spirit and hope that we can do good for others by our services. We hope that the generous and unselfish Christmas Spirit as practiced by Americans will continue not only at the Yuletide but every day of the coming year.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Watch results of the Senate Small Business Committee hearings on the current Chicago fuel oil squeeze. They may indicate how small business will fare in the new Congress.

Three years ago, when the Chicago fuel oil situation became greasy, the committee, then headed by Sen. Wherry (Rep., Neb.), acted rapidly.

In the current case, the facts are simple. On August 21st, approximately 500 independent fuel oil dealers in the Chicago area were informed by major oil companies who supply them that on August 21st the dealer's margin would be cut from 2¢ per gallon to 1.7¢.

Previously the major oil companies had already raised both wholesale and consumer prices 1½¢ per gallon.

Approximately 100 independent fuel oil dealers courageously defying the tacit threats of retaliation filed affidavits with the Senate Small Business Committee through facilities maintained by organized small business.

These affidavits present a spine-chilling story. Major oil companies, from whom these dealers buy, also retail fuel oil. The affidavits give evidence of collusion, conspiracy and coercion.

Major oil companies were "Johnny-come-latelys" in fuel oil retailing. Some of the independent dealers filing affidavits, in business 50 years, pioneered oil for fuel in a traditional coal area.

Each dealer, even on a 2¢ margin, requires a big volume. His equipment investment runs into thousands. Even one-tenth of a cent difference in his margin spells profit or loss.

To serve a customer, a truck costing about $5,000 is needed. Drivers must be paid; business and vehicle taxes paid.

To accommodate his customers he also extends credit. Yet a fair size home in a severely cold month will use not more than $45 worth of oil at present prices as compared to $24 in 1949. Yet for delivery and bookkeeping services, even on a 2¢ margin, the dealer was only getting a very small gross profit on a $45 sale.

Yet such is the nature of monopoly, that even the proverbial "widow's mite" is not overlooked.

Major oil companies have long sought to take over the independent business.

Three years ago, the Senate Small Business Committee under the aggressive leadership of Senator Wherry stopped them, apparently temporarily. A puzzle still remains.

"Why," members of the Senate committee of that time asked, "did not the Justice Department take steps to prevent recurrences?"

Big Oil apparently wields an influence official Washington is reluctant to discuss.

Thus, the present Chicago hearings, conducted by Senators Bunton (Conn.), Long (La.) and Schoeppel (Kans.), may take in more territory than Chicago. The hearings may unearth the reason why fuel and gasoline prices are raised almost simultaneously by alleged competitors; why Pacific Coast oil prices to government skyrocketed right after Korea. Even race track stewards would be curious if every race ended in a dead heat.

MODERN POETRY

CHRISTMAS — HIS BIRTHDAY
An heir is such an important thing!
God's Son was born today
So let us with the angels sing
Of Christ—His Son—our King!

A Son to carry on His work—
A splendid Son who did not shirk
The heavy cross He had to bear—
That crown of thorns that He must wear!
This is His Birthday—let's not forget
He's with us still—He's reigning yet!
Millicent Easter, in her book
"Millicent Easter's Poems."

CHRISTMAS NIGHT.
Christmas night, and snowflakes,
Shops along the street,
We stopped for tea at Sherry's
Stomped snow packs from our feet.
You ordered wine and bon bons,
I said that I'd have tea,
You kissed my ear, and sniffed the scent
That you once bought for me.
We purchased gorgeous flowers and then
Some holly for the house.
Remember when I caught you buying me
A pink nosed mouse?
Oh, it's all so vivid,
Swing tunes, bright and new,
Blue candles in the windows
Along Fifth Avenue.
But all of this has vanished
And slipped from us to go,
To stardust, simply leaving
Dream prints against the snow.
Betty Jane Balch, in her book,
"To You, Darling."

CHRISTMAS PRAYER

As chimes ring in again
Tidings of Noel dear,
Let ring our doubt, anxiety,
Let angels sweep our conscience clear,
Deepen our piety.
For Gift of Gifts unto the earth,
In one small town watched over by the star,
Grant that we be in some way worth
The giving—walk with humbleness
And honesty. When chimes bring near
The wondrous Christmas story,
Let ring out hate and selfishness,
Ring in the quiet glory
Of love, and peace, and cheer.

HILLIARDS School Notes

The annual Hilliards Christmas musical was held on the afternoon of December 17, 1950, at Hilliards High School.

The band played Christmas carols and the mixed chorus sang three numbers which were: "The Shepherd's Story," "Today The Prince Is Born," and "What Would You Do in Bethlehem."

The elementary school gave a large part of the program, directed by Paul Kindinger.

The FHA club held its regular meeting on Friday, Dec. 8, in the music room at the high school. Sixty-eight members were present.

The student teachers, Miss Porter and Miss Henthorn were introduced to the club by Edna Wuertz and Janet Pierce. After the introduction Gail DeWolfe passed out a list of initiation rules to the new members of the club. The initiation was held Thursday, Dec. 14.

Miss Kohler then presented a new steam iron, a gift of the FHA, to the home economics department.

Christmas carols ended the meeting.

Central's Cage Jinx Over Cowboys Holds

By Dave Miller

Central's basketball crew continued their jinx over West's cage representatives last Friday as they disposed of the Cowboys, 44 to 37, on the West Court before a packed throng that attended the City Loop's "Game of the Week."

The loss to West snapped a three-game winning streak and handed them their second defeat in five games. The win was Central's fourth in a row and they have yet to be defeated this season.

The main factor in West's downfall was the inability to "hit" in the third and fourth quarters. They hit for only two buckets in the final half—one in each of the final two periods. Central swished the draperies for only a single two-pointer in the last quarter also, but hit six of 18 attempts in the third canto to more than spell the difference.

Another factor—not excuse—on the West side was that the entire first squad of West was down with colds—in addition to some first line replacements.

"We were too weak, physically," said Coach George Williams following the contest. "Both Smith and Fladt, our usual high scorers, were especially stricken. Fladt went scoreless, and he really shouldn't have played. He was awfully weak before the game and playing didn't do him any good."

Ted, who had hit 63 points previous to the Central game, was extremely missed by the Cowboys—especially his rebound and under-the-bucket scoring. His 6-6 frame was a thorn in the side of the four previous opponents, but he and Smith were slowed down by their recent attack.

Central displayed its superiority in the second half by outscoring West, 16-5, in the third quarter, which naturally turned the tide. It was probably one of West High's lowest scoring third periods in its history.

The Pirates' big forward, Ted Alexander, was the hero, grabbing nine of the Bucs' 16 tallies in the third quarter—most of the tallies under the bucket (and wide open, too). Alexander, along with another big boy, Bob Smith, later fouled out but not early enough to damage Central.

The Cowboys managed to outscore Central in the final quarter (8-4) but it was too late to make amends although the Cowboys gave the visitors a battle to the end.

Jerry Trabue of West was high scorer with 15 tallies while Alexander, Marv Hairston and Smith paced Central with 14, 12 and 10 markers, respectively. Rog Smith of West also gathered 10.

The West reserve squad won the eye-opener, 38-36, although Central gave them a scare. West hopped to a five-point lead at both the first and second periods, but Central grabbed a 30-28 margin at the third quarter. However, two last minute buckets by Bob Thornton decided the issue for the Hilltoppers. Bob Roddy of Central was high with 13 while Thornton grabbed 12. Jack Matson of Central had 11—nine coming in the final half.

Hints Listed For Fire Safe Yule Season

Foss H. Gragg, program director for the Ohio Fire Safety Committee, suggests this slogan for Christmas:

"The Ohio Fire Safety Committee wishes you a Fire-Safe Christmas and a Flame Proof '51."

To achieve this he suggests a few fire safety rules for Christmas:

1. Cut your tree at an angle at least one inch above the original cut and set it in water.

2. Use electric light sets bearing the Underwriters Laboratory label only. Check sets for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. Do not overload your circuits. Be sure that all lights are turned off before retiring or leaving the house.

3. Guard your fireplace against flying sparks with a substantial screen.

4. Use only flame-proof decorations. They can be purchased in any store selling decorations. (It is against the Ohio law to sell any other kind).

5. Avoid celluloid dolls, toys or non-flameproofed cowboy suits. Toys requiring alcohol, kerosene or gasoline to generate power are especially dangerous.

6. Christmas wrapping should not be allowed to accumulate. Don't allow smoking near the tree; keep matches away from tiny hands. Plan what you must do if fire breaks out. If you can't put it out immediately, CALL THE FIRE DEPARTMENT AT ONCE.

7. Be safe at Christmas and happy in 1951.

Wife: "A man tried to talk me out of some money on the street today."

Husband: "How much did you get?"

Adult Program

On Tuesday, Dec. 19, the adults assembled at the Glenwood Recreation Center for informal caroling, followed by the formal lighting of the Christmas tree. On Wednesday evening a canned goods movie was held. The admission was one can of food and all cans of food were given to the Volunteers of America to be distributed among needy families for Christmas.

This evening from 7 to 8 an amateur talent show will be put on and any one wishing to display their talent is invited to be on the program. Following the show, group caroling in the neighborhood, especially for the ill and elderly people, will be conducted.

On Friday, Dec. 22, a Christmas dance will be held at the center. At intermission there will be informal caroling and refreshments will be served. Adults and teen-agers are especially invited.

Teen-Age Program

Decoration of the center and the setting of the tree took place Monday, followed by a party in the teen-age room. On Wednesday a canned goods movie was held in the evening for the teen-agers.

This evening (Thursday) at 7 the teen-agers are invited to attend the talent parade or participate in the show and from 8 to 9 join in the group caroling in the neighborhood.

Children's Program

On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock a canned goods movie was held for the children. After the movie Santa Claus visited and treated each one to candy and goodies. The smaller children are also invited to attend the talent show this evening or to entertain with their own talent.

Holiday Hours

Starting Dec. 22 through Jan. 2 the Glenwood Recreation Center will open at 12 and close at 10 p. m. The center will be closed on Christmas and New Year's Day. There will be no newspaper club meeting Dec. 28 but the meetings will be resumed Tuesday, Jan. 2, at 7, in the teen-age room.

Sales Tax Stamps

The sales tax stamp drive which is now in progress at the center for the purpose of purchasing a television set has been a big success so far. Any one wishing to give tax stamps to the center can do so by either dropping them off at the office or calling RA. 7416 to have them picked up.

Craft Program

Craft classes will be conducted the entire week before Christmas for the benefit of those who wish to make or complete Christmas gifts. All ages may take advantage of this program.

Community Council Party

It was announced at the Community Council meeting last Wednesday night that a special Christmas party will be given for the children of this community on Wednesday, Dec. 27, 2 p. m. Each school is asked to supply something in the way of entertainment. Santa will visit with gifts of candy and goodies for each child. A movie of the "Littlest Angel" will be shown. The party will be held in the game room at the Glenwood Recreation Center and will be limited to ages through 12 years.

Hilltop Record Goes Half-Way Around World

Few advertisers of The Hilltop Record ever expected to appeal to 450,000,000 Chinese citizens.

E. M. Vaughn, stationed somewhere near China with the general headquarters of the U. S. Far East Command, has written a letter to Trabert's Aquarium, 2341 W. Broadst, revealing interest in an ad placed in a recent issue of The Hilltop Record.

From a point halfway around the world, Vaughn wrote:

Recently I saw your ad in The Hilltop Record. I have been in the command nearly two years and haven't seen an aquarium magazine. Tropical fish here are like looking for the hen with teeth. I would be very grateful if you would ship me an "aquarium magazine." Thanking you in advance, I remain,

Sincerely,
E. M. Vaughn

A Visit From St. Nicholas

(AS ARRANGED BY FIRST FEDERAL)

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.
All of the family were tucked in their beds,
With not one little worry to enter their heads.
Plans for their Christmas were sure as could be—
Presents galore would surround the big tree.
The kids would be happy and all would be gay,
For on January 1 there'd be no bills to pay.

First Federal had done it with one little plan,
So simple to follow that all of you can.
It's called a Christmas Club savings account
And you, too, can save up to any amount!
Half a dollar a week pays 25 in a year,
And more—up to twenty—brings a wealth of good cheer.

So now is the time to start planning the fun
That Christmas will bring you in the year '51.
Go to First Federal and start in to save
So you'll have the cash for the presents you crave.

Christmas Tree

Starling's annual Christmas tree was decorated by the Y-Teens on Friday, Dec. 14. It is located in the front hall downstairs where everyone may see it as he enters the main door.

Following an annual tradition, the Starling students and faculty will celebrate a White Christmas. This is a custom of placing under the tree inexpensive gifts of toys, wrapped in white, for those children at the Ohio State Home on W. Broad-st, who have no families.

Christmas Project

The Y-Teen Group of Starling Junior High School has been preparing two large baskets of food for a needy family from the school district. Anyone in the school may contribute to the project and make both his and another's Christmas merrier.

CHRISTMAS

Tonight gaze toward the heavens;
you will see
The same bright stars that shone on Bethlehem.
Two thousand years of human stratagem
Have not transformed the snow's white artistry;
Nor made less green the cedars'
filigree,
Where choral winds chant solemn requiem;
Nor altered by a star, the diadem
Which shed its light on dark Gethsemane.

The gleaming holly branch, the mistletoe,
Remain unchanged by man's inventiveness;
The moon's thin golden veil upon the sea
Eludes us now, as it did long ago.
Our hearts, years neither more nor any less
Than when Christ yearned, and walked in Galilee.

M P Stoddard, in his book

Nativity Theme Dominates Cards

Modern Christmas cards feature literally hundreds of interpretations of the popular Nativity theme. Many of these are reproductions from the old masters, while many others have been created especially for the Christmas card industry.

The Nativity theme, which naturally lends itself to an almost endless variety of interpretations and a wealth of detail, long has been a favorite subject of Christian artists. Many of the details, based upon certain Bible texts, have fostered various legends — such as those concerning the Magi—which grew until the Wise Men were identified and given kingdoms.

The Annunciation is among the earliest subjects represented in Christian art, antedating the Madonna and Child theme by several centuries, and it is interesting to note that the fathers of the church determined how the Madonna should be portrayed: her dress and mantle are usually blue and red.

Camp Chase Post News

By John Martindale

The National Emergency places a great responsibility upon the veteran. The armed forces may or may not again require his or her services or it may be that some other task may await them. Nearly all veterans of World Wars I and II will have such an obligation and the nation will look to them to bring us through such emergency.

When we discarded our uniforms we all hoped that we were through. Yes, at that time our government no longer needed our active service but we all had become a part of a potential reserve. We are trained.

At the present time Civilian Defense plans are being rushed. The numerous phases of this work will require the best of leadership and manpower that can be depended upon. A large part of this will be of necessity supplied by veterans.

As the various veterans organizations are aware of what faces the nation they are now taking steps to provide the leadership and the manpower. In normal years of peace these organizations would operate separately to achieve the purposes and mandates of their individual organizations but now they are seeing the need of a close liason so that they may cooperate in doing the job right. Only a few days ago representatives of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled Veterans and the AMVETS of Franklin County met to bring about such cooperation in this city and county.

Camp Chase Post is planning to do whatever may be required. Some of its members may again be called to active duty in the armed forces and others are already definitely aligned for certain duties. If, and when other personnel are needed, the Post will endeavor to supply that manpower with the least possible delay. The current planning will also serve in the event of a disaster. Donald Novak, third vice-commander and chairman of the Americanism Committee, has been appointed chairman of the committee to accomplish this planning.

Next Friday evening at 8 p. m. Camp Chase Post, American Legion, and its Auxiliary Unit will have their annual Christmas party for the members and their children. John E. Martindale and Mrs. Vernon C. Fiscus have been appointed as chairmen of their respective organizations for this party. Each adult is requested to bring a 50c gift, plainly marked as to whether it is for a man or a woman. It is not necessary to bring gifts for children as Santa will be there and will have something for each of them.

The Post will have its New Year's Eve dance at the Post club rooms on Saturday night, Dec. 30. An excellent dance band has been secured and members and their friends can be assured that a lot of fun is in store for them for a price that fits.

The toys of this Christmas season are nicer than ever. Children of this nation will have toys of every description but thousands of children in Europe will have none. Camp Chase Post will again join in the national Tide of Toys collection of toys to send to the children in Europe. Anyone having one or more toys to contribute is requested to bring them to the post headquarters, 10 S. Burgess-av, either Wednesday or Thursday evening, Dec. 27 or Dec. 28.

Townsend Club No. 7 will meet at the IOOF Hall, 24 W. Goodale-st, Thursday, Dec. 21, 7:30 p. m. for a regular meeting and a Christmas party. There will be a gift exchange and refreshments will be served. The public is invited.

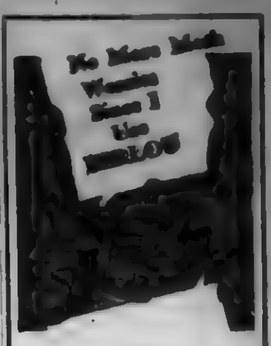
Friends Church Children To Offer Christmas Program

The Sunday School children of the Sullivant-av Friends Church, Sullivant at Guilford, have their big day next Sunday when they present their annual Christmas program. Proud parents and friends, as well as many visitors, will see the youngsters pay tribute in song and recitation to the Christ whose birth we celebrate during this holiday season.

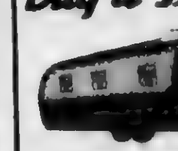


Included in the program will be a candlelight service presented under the direction of Alice Upperman. Miss Upperman is also directing a tableau of the manger scene and a series of individual presentations by the Little Helpers Class.

"The Voice of the Bells" will be given by the Young Disciples Class under the direction of Josephine Spaulding. Included in this arrangement will be Kenny Lewis, Robert Conard, Jerry Lewis, Billy Wood, Melvin Watrous, Robert Shaner, Roger Tompkins, Allan Nance, Jimmy Fenton and Gregory Lewis.

Mrs. Spaulding will also direct a skit entitled "In Bethlehem's Manger," with Kenny Lewis, Melvin Nichols, Robert Shaner and Robert Conard. Robert and Richard Shaner will sing their interpretation of C-H-R-I-S-T-M-A-S.

God's Messenger Class, under the leadership of Jessie Shaver, will present "Thrills," with Margie Ann Newman, Christina Beantz and Judy Harman, and "Christmas," with Carol Blatt and Barbara West. Shirley Fyler will recite "No Room for Jesus," and others of the Primary Department will participate under the direction of Daisy Anderson.



Following the program, the gathering will be treated to fruits and sweets in the usual Christmastime custom of Friends Church.

New Flags Given Highland Avenue School

The presentation of the American flag by Camp Chase Auxiliary was made by Mrs. Edgar Planck, Americanism chairman, to be used in the school auditorium. The flag presented by Mrs. Foto Johnson was the one she received from the War Department when her son, Chester Dean Fox, serving as a gunner in the navy, gave his life for his country at Beri, Italy, Dec. 10, 1943. This flag will fly on the flag pole outside the school. Receiving the flags from both ladies is Frank Mason, principal of the school. In the picture (at right) also is Mrs. Edward Thompson, president of Camp Chase Auxiliary. Approximately 300 persons attended the "open house" of Highland Avenue School, which just recently has been remodeled.

In the first 10 months of 1950, Volunteers of America, a Red Feather agency, provided 16,581 days work for homeless men employed there.

Columbus Cancer Clinic, Red Feather agency at 221 E. State st, serving residents of Franklin County, reports a monthly average of 559 visits for 1950.

Lucia Day Starts Christmas Season In Sweden

Celebration of Lucia day on December 13 inaugurates the Christmas season in Sweden. It takes its name from St. Lucia, or Lucy, martyred for her faith and virginity in Syracuse in 304, A. D., and venerated by the church each December 13.

The prettiest blonde in every home, office, factory, village and town is elected a "Lucia" and visits the sick, leads caravals and processions and attends banquets and balls accompanied by her "handmaidens."

The ancient custom coincides with the winter solstice, when the sun swings toward the earth once more and the days begin to lengthen.

Dressed in long white robes, wearing crowns of lighted candles (the traditional costume for "Lucias") the girls present gifts and the traditional Lucy day coffee and rolls to hospital patients, etc. The queen and her maidens, enthroned in a star spangled horse-drawn chariot, lead festive processions around the village squares and through city streets.

Parade participants depict alternate scenes from Sweden's picturesque Lapland and the Wild West of the United States, while musicians in multi-colored costume alternate playing northern folk tunes and American jazz.

New Year Observed March 25 In England Before Calendar Change

Prior to England's adoption of the Gregorian calendar in 1752, New Year's Day was observed on March 25, and of course, New Year's eve was March 24.

The English always had a big time on New Year's Eve, and after the Puritan government abolished Christmas and absolutely forbade any solemnization or celebration thereof, the people vented all their holiday spirit on the New Year.

Even after the restoration of the Stuarts brought about a revival of Christmas customs and traditions, Christmas never reattained its former eminence; but New Year went right along, surviving Puritanism and later, in 1752, the switch in calendars and the date of its observance.

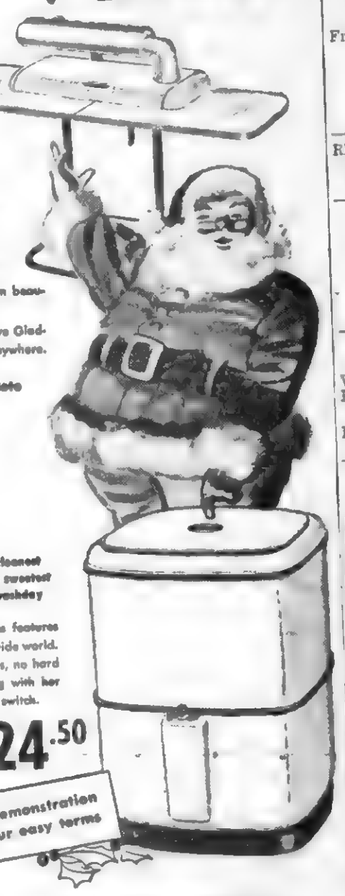
Christmas Eve Candlelight Service Scheduled At Hillcrest Baptist

A third annual late hour Christmas Eve candlelight service is announced by the Hillcrest Baptist Church, to be held Sunday evening at 10 o'clock. Similar services the past two years have attracted unexpectedly large attendance.

Included in the service this year will be an audio-visual version of Mary Whitlock's famous Christmas story, "When The Littlest Camel Knelt." A youthful group of traditionally costumed carollers, bearing candles, will form the manger adoration scene.



Robert E. Snyder will direct the Hillcrest Choir, with Mrs. Paul V. Crosier at the organ. The service has been arranged by the pastor, Rev. A. L. Roth, who will give a brief Christmas message. Spirited congregational carol-sing will conclude the program, to which the public is invited.

Christmas Booklet Being Distributed By City Rec. Dept.

To provide greater enjoyment of the Christmas holidays, particularly on the family level basis, the Columbus Recreation Department has prepared a pamphlet, "Joyous Christmas," and is distributing it free-of-charge at its office in city hall.

The pamphlet is divided into two parts — part one dealing with Christmas in the home and describing various ways to make Christmas cards, gifts, decorations and the origin of Christmas customs. It also contains Christmas stories and poems for reading to smaller children.

Section two presents ideas and suggestions for Christmas parties, decorations and active games which would be useful to large groups, clubs and other organizations in celebrating the Christmas holidays.

The booklet contains forty pages and is being distributed as a public service by the Columbus Recreation Department.

THIS CHRISTMAS
By Raymond Orner

This year there'll be a Christmas Day
In lands throughout the world;
The Christmas bells will softly ring
Where once the shells were hurled.
This year the Christmas lights will shine,
While children's hearts are gay,
And in our hearts Christ lives anew
Upon this Christmas Day.

This year the Christmas bells will ring
In tones so sweet and clear . . .
Across the sea, and round the world,
There'll be real Christmas cheer.

"O God, our Father, on this day,
Help men to keep the Peace . . .
In every land around the world,
May wars forever cease!"

Cooper Avenue Church, Johnstown, Pa.

The Safety Council makes this plea to young folks: Don't' let your confidence and restless energy lead you into recklessness at the wheel of a car. Don't turn your happy teens and twenties into the makings of lifetime tragedy. Save your energy and your eagerness—and your life—for bigger and better things. Learn to drive well and safely.

Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

'Twas the night before Christmas
When all thru the house
Not a creature was stirring
'Cept one eager "louse".

He left his dear wife
By the chimney with care
And told her he had not
A moment to spare.

Their baby was nestled
All snug in his bed
While daddy had ideas of
His own in his head.

And mama in her kerchief
Saw him put on his cap
While a smile started to widen
All over his map.

As he made his way off
His teeth started to chatter,
It echoed and echoed,
They made such a clatter.

He ran to his office,
The "Record" of course,
And grabbed all he could
Of the mail bags by force.

His pack was crammed full
With prizes inside,
But he dropped not a one
When he once got outside.

So back to the Hi-Ridgers
He hurried so fast
To "the neighbors with spirit."
Yes, that's how they're classed.

He went well all over
From Ryan to Mound
Belvidere, Townsend
And all around.

A large printed scroll
"The Hilltop Record"
Wrapped in a roll.

He knew the non-subscribers didn't Know what they were missin'
So he did this good act
But I'm not through, SO LISTEN!

When I started this out
I called him a "louse",
I've got to retract,
He's as quiet as a mouse.

His character's good and
His good-will is such
That the neighbors all like him
So very much.

He sprang to his senses,
Pursed his lips to a whistle,
Ran home to his wife
Like the down of a thistle.

He kissed her and said
As his heels gave a click,
"Tonite, dear, I feel like
The old real "St. Nick."

His eyes how they twinkled,
Just like his son Larry,
His cheeks were like roses,
His nose like a cherry.

Their Christmas tree glowed
And each little light
Seemed to say by itself,
"Happy Christmas—goodnite."

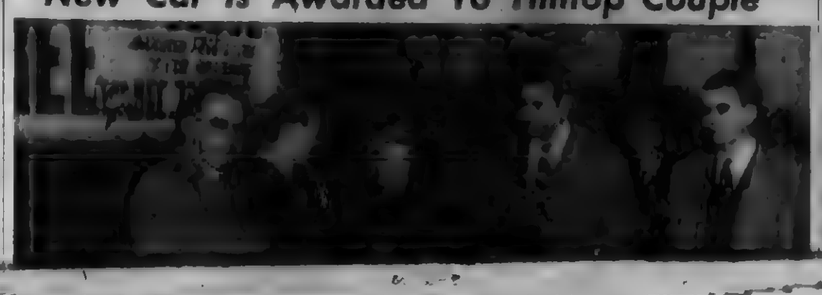
Volunteers For Hilltop Male Chorus Are Sought

Several men of the community have expressed a desire to sing in a male chorus. With the thought in mind of rendering another service to the community the Hilltop YMCA will try to organize such a chorus.



It is about time for the annual Hilltop Minstrel again and it is the hope of the Y that the chorus can be organized in time to offer its services to the Hilltop Business Association for the big annual show.

If you are interested in singing in such a group drop a line to The Hilltop Record or call C. C. Hartley at RA. 1125 and ask that

Prizes Await First Baby of New Year

Sunday, Dec. 31, at the hour of midnight, the 13th annual "First Baby of the Year" contest will again be under way. Each year The Hilltop Record, in cooperation with merchants of the Hilltop community, has sponsored this contest, in which many gifts are showered upon the first baby in the community born in a new year.

Dozens of gifts, all of them very worthwhile, await the first boy or girl born after midnight Sunday. The race is on, and the paramount question is: "Who will be the first baby of 1951 on the Hilltop?"

Rules governing the current baby derby are:

1. Parents of babies, being entered in the derby must furnish The Hilltop Record with date, hour, minute and place of birth.

2. Full names of parents and their address must be furnished.

3. The name (if chosen), sex and exact weight of the child must be provided.

4. A statement with this information must be furnished together with the name and signature of attending physician.

5. If the birth is to be considered for the contest, proof of the time of birth MUST be established at The Hilltop Record offices at 2465 W. Broad-st no later than midnight Tuesday, Jan. 2. Should statements be brought to the Record offices after closing hours they may be deposited in the mail slot.

In order to establish eligibility to enter the contest parents must reside in the area bounded on the east by Central-av; on the west by the western Franklin-twp boundary line (including New Rome); on the north by Trabue-rd and on the south by Frank and Clime-rds. Also eligible are any parents who are regular subscribers of The Hilltop Record who live in Franklin County, west of the Scioto River.

Mother and father of the first baby born in 1951 have not been overlooked by the many Hilltop merchants cooperating in the annual Derby. Here is a list of merchants offering prizes:

Electric vaporizer by Goodwin Pharmacy, 2772 Sullivant-av; baby scales by Gearhart Hardware, 2387 Sullivant-av; $5 grocery order by Fox Food Shop, 2422 W. Two Local Men Are Recalled To The Service

Averille Thorn

Two local men have been called to return to service within the past week in accordance with the emergency declared by the president. They are Averille Thorn, current executive secretary of the Hilltop Branch of the YMCA, and Guy W. Snyder, council clerk at the village of Hilliards.

Thorn, a first lieutenant in the Ohio Air National Guard, is scheduled to report for duty Jan. 3 with the 166th Fighter Squadron (jet) stationed at Lockbourne Army Air Base, to begin processing of the balance of the unit which is to report for active duty no later than Feb. 1. He will serve as officer in charge of the air police unit.

Thorn's previous service with the armed forces was with the air corps, with the 5th Air Force. He was a pilot of a B-25 with the 17th Recon Bomb Squadron and chalked up 66 missions in the South Pacific before returning to the States from Tokyo in December, 1945.

At Hilliards the village council will have a find a replacement for Guy Snyder before Jan. 14, the date on which he is slated to report for duty. Snyder, who has been a clerk for the council for the past year, received orders to return to duty in the Troop Transport Command.

Snyder served three years and 10 months in the last war as a glider pilot in the ETO, covering from Egypt to Normandy. He is a native of Bremen, O.

Tuesday evening the local board of directors of the Hilltop YMCA Branch advanced Jack Downing, program director of the local branch, to the post of executive secretary, succeeding Thorn.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

"And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."—Luke 2:13, 14.

So far as most of us are concerned, "Silent Night" will always be the most beloved Christmas song.

The Powell Avenue EUB Church is a friendly church; strangers are given a warm and sincere welcome. Rev. Harold Dutt, pastor of the church, will talk on The Coming of Christ in Humility at his Christmas service.

Two fine Christmas traditions are the reading by Loretta Young of "The Littlest Angel" on Irwin (Early Worm) Johnson's Christmas morning program, and the Verse Writers' Guild annual Christmas party at which gifts are collected for patients at Columbus State Hospital.

Shopping thoughts: Why don't the adults move back so the kids can see the electric train . . . the cross made by lights in the Lincoln Leveque tower should mean more this year . . . wonder how the recipient of those loud ties that lady is buying will react when he sees them . . . wonder how many ex-Gi's will pass up the Salvation Army kettles without dropping in a dime or two — not many, if they have a dime to spare and if they remember the coffee and doughnuts of several years ago . . . how did the mother answer her little daughter who asked why they didn't buy a gift for Christ, since it was His birthday.

What a warm glow is around your heart when a Christmas card comes from somebody you thought had forgotten you!

Since 1947, Hilltoppers have enjoyed the Christmas carols at midnight on Christmas eve, played on the 38-note Liberty carillon in the tower of St Aloysius Church The carillon is played by Mrs. Herald Gillivan of 77 S. Brinker-av, who has been full-time organist of the church for the past 28 years. She also directs the men's choir and the children's choir; plays at weddings, funerals and all services at the church. It has been said of Mrs Gillivan that she raised three children on the organ bench. The St Aloysius Church carillon is the only one in Columbus that can be placed in octaves; it may be heard above traffic noises at a great distance, due to its four large amplifiers, and was installed in honor of the members of the parish who served in the war. Hundreds of Hilltoppers will look forward to hearing the Christmas carols played again this Christmas eve.

Here is my sincere wish to everyone, for a very happy Christmas and a healthy, happy New Year. Shakespeare said it first; I say it to you: "Thine own wish wish I thee."

THE STORY OF CHRIST

There was something strange
In the air that night
Before the Christ Child came.
Even the stars' cresset light
Wasn't exactly the same.
Happiness crept into souls
That had never known its reign
And from that night on,
The world was changed
For the God in Heaven had sent a King.
He was born in a manger
And He lived only for us
And He died on a cross for our sins.
Then He arose in God's glorious trust.
In His eternal life, He gives us hope
For our life and love to behold,
And never again will God give the world
A story so beautifully told.

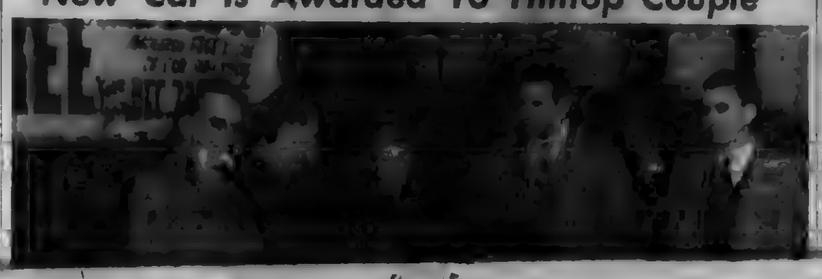
Volunteers For Hilltop Male Chorus Are Sought

Several men of the community have expressed a desire to sing in a male chorus. With the thought in mind of rendering another service to the community the Hilltop YMCA will try to organize such a chorus.



It is about time for the annual Hilltop Minstrel again and it is the hope of the Y that the chorus can be organized in time to aid for its services to the Hilltop Business Association for the big annual show.

If you are interested in singing in such a group drop a line to The Hilltop Record or call C. C. Hartley at RA. 1125 and ask that your name be added.

Prizes Await First Baby of New Year

Sunday, Dec. 31, at the hour of midnight, the 13th annual "First Baby of the Year" contest will again be under way. Each year The Hilltop Record, in cooperation with merchants of the Hilltop community, has sponsored this contest, in which many gifts are showered upon the first baby in the community born in a new year.

Dozens of gifts, all of them very worthwhile, await the first boy or girl born after midnight Sunday. The race is on, and the paramount question is: "Who will be the first baby of 1951 on the Hilltop?"

Rules governing the current baby derby are:

1. Parents of babies, being entered in the derby must furnish The Hilltop Record with date, hour, minute and place of birth.

2. Full names of parents and their address must be furnished.

3. The name (if chosen), sex and exact weight of the child must be provided.

4. A statement with this information must be furnished together with the name and signature of attending physician.

5. If the birth is to be considered for the contest, proof of the time of birth MUST be established at The Hilltop Record offices at 2465 W. Broad-st no later than midnight Tuesday, Jan. 2. Should statements be brought to the Record offices after closing hours they may be deposited in the mail slot.

In order to establish eligibility to enter the contest parents must reside in the area bounded on the east by Central-av; on the west by the western Franklin-twp boundary line (including New Rome); on the north by Trabue-rd and on the south by Frank and Clime-rds. Also eligible are any parents who are regular subscribers of The Hilltop Record who live in Franklin County, west of the Scioto River.

Mother and father of the first baby born in 1951 have not been overlooked by the many Hilltop merchants cooperating in the annual Derby. Here is a list of merchants offering prizes:

Two Local Men Are Recalled To The Service

Averille Thorn

Two local men have been called to return to service within the past week in accordance with the emergency declared by the president. They are Averille Thorn, current executive secretary of the Hilltop Branch of the YMCA, and Guy W. Snyder, council clerk at the village of Hilliards.

Thorn, a first lieutenant in the Ohio Air National Guard, is scheduled to report for duty Jan. 3 with the 166th Fighter Squadron (jet) stationed at Lockbourne Army Air Base, to begin processing of the balance of the unit which is to report for active duty no later than Feb. 1. He will serve as officer in charge of the air police unit.

Thorn's previous service with the armed forces was with the air corps, with the 5th Air Force. He was a pilot of a B-25 with the 17th Recon Bomb Squadron and chalked up 66 missions in the South Pacific before returning to the States from Tokyo in December, 1945.

At Hilliards the village council will have a find a replacement for Guy Snyder before Jan. 14, the date on which he is slated to report for duty. Snyder, who has been a clerk for the council for the past year, received orders to return to duty in the Troop Transport Command.

Snyder served three years and 10 months in the last war as a glider pilot in the ETO, covering from Egypt to Normandy. He is a native of Bremen, O.

Tuesday evening the local board of directors of the Hilltop YMCA Branch advanced Jack Downing, program director of the local branch, to the post of executive secretary, succeeding Thorn.

Burglar Believed Wounded During Robbery Attempt

A burglar was believed to have been wounded early Saturday when four shots were fired at him as he tried to enter Iles' Cafe, 2142 Sullivant-av.

Bruce Iles, 24, an employe of the cafe, who lives above the grill, said he was awakened by noises at 3:30 a. m. Saturday.

The army veteran said he fired four shots at the burglar, who was attempting to enter the grill with a jimmy bar. Iles said he fired at the prowler with a 38-caliber pistol and believes one of the shots struck the man.

Close 2 Streets For Coasting, Winter Sports

Two West Side streets have been restricted to traffic and opened to coasting and other winter sports by the Columbus Recreation Department and Safety Director Donald D. Cook.

Director Cook has ordered that the streets be closed between 3 p. m. and 9:30 p. m. whenever there is enough snow to permit coasting. The streets are barricaded and closed off to traffic by police.

Local streets affected by the order are Skidmore-st between Grubb and State-st and Springmont-av, between Columbian and Nashoba.

Legend Of The Christmas Tree

We bring you this little story of the origin of the Christmas tree because it seems to express so well the spirit of Christmas. Your friendship and good will are cherished ornaments on our Christmas tree and we wish for you and all the world peace, happiness and contentment during the coming year.

What would Christmas be without the Christmas tree? It is the one universal symbol of the Christmas season. Whether it is indoors or out, flickering with candles or glittering with colored bulbs, trimmed with fragile ornaments or home-made popcorn balls, it is welcomed the world over as the joyous sign of the Christmas festivities.

But why do we have a Christmas tree? The probable answer would be, "Why, everyone does," which leaves us just where we started. It is true, "everyone does" and it is just as true that strangely few people know the reason. It has been claimed the Christmas tree originated in Egypt hundreds of years ago when it was a general practice to decorate the house with branches of the date palm at all religious festivals, the date palm being the symbol of life over death. Other traditions place its origin with the Jews, as a heritage of them from of the Light, of which lighted candles were a feature.

The most popular tradition of all comes from Germany, and is told in a popular German legend. It seems that Hans and Gretchen, two German youngsters, were left all alone in their cottage one winter evening. As the wind howled about they huddled before the fire and told each other stories of the strange sights they had seen in the forest. Suddenly there came a faint knock at the door. They were very much frightened, yet Hans bravely advanced to the door and flung it open. Standing before them was a little boy, smaller than either one of them. His feet were bare, his clothes were thin and he stood shivering with the cold.

In a timid voice he asked them if he might come in and warm himself at their fire. "Yes indeed," cried the children, and eagerly made a place for him before the small blaze, depriving themselves of most of the warmth. Then they urged him to eat their frugal supper which meant that they themselves would go hungry.

As he grew warm and sleepy they persuaded him to go to sleep on their bed and tried to make themselves comfortable on hard wooden benches.

After they had finally gotten to sleep, Hans and Gretchen were awakened by strains of soft music outside the cabin. Rushing to the window, they found a band of children, dressed in shining robes and playing beautiful golden harps. As the boy and girl stared in amazement, the strange child whom they had sheltered stood before them. Gone were his thin rags, gone the hungry look. The child was dressed in shining robes and a strange light shone around his head. In a soft beautiful voice he was speaking:

"I was cold and ye took me in. I was hungry and ye fed me. I was tired and ye gave me your bed. I am the Christ child wandering through the world to bring peace and happiness to good children. As ye gave me, so will this tree give you every year at this time rich fruit.

So saying, he broke a branch from a fir tree planted it in the ground, and with a word to the slumbering children they all disappeared. But the small branch grew into a beautiful tree and every year bore a crop of toys and all things good for the two children.

Mistletoe Has Come Long Way Since Days Of Druid Worship

The mistletoe has come a long way from the days when it was worshiped by the British druids to its present status as a criminal killer of forests. However it use as a symbol of love persists and goodwill succeeds to the traditions intact from the pre-Christian days of the ancient Scandinavian light god, Balder, whose palace stood in the Milky Way.

The beloved Balder so the myth goes was slain by a mistletoe arrow but was restored to life at the intercession of the other gods. The mistletoe plant was then entrusted to the goddess of love who ordained that henceforth anyone passing beneath its boughs should receive a kiss in token of love, not vengeance. Held high, it never could be evil.

The tired looking man sat facing the judge. "So you want to divorce your wife?" said the judge. "Aren't your relations pleasant?"

"Mine are," came the answer, "but hers are terrible."

Safety Measures Urged In Driving

Safety officials today urged local motorists and pedestrians to drive and walk safely during the winter season and pointed out hazardous conditions which are constantly threatening during the current inclement weather.

"This is not an idle request," a local official emphasized. "Traffic accidents are usually high in December because of seasonal hazards resulting from reduced visibility due to earlier and longer periods of darkness and from inadequate traction due to bad winter weather, ice and snow."

These safety tips were offered for those who must drive in bad weather and on wet or icy pavements:

(1) Be alert and drive at lower speeds.

(2) Keep a greater distance between your car and other vehicles.

(3) Apply your brakes gently rather than jamming them on.

(4) Keep your windshield and windows clear.

(5) Don't drive after drinking.

"Don't Let Death Take Your Holiday" safety conscious officials said, "can be more than just a slogan. It can be grim reality from the drinking, careless or speeding driver!"

Pedestrians were warned to be especially alert, to wear or carry something white so that motorists will be more likely to see them, and to avoid carrying so many Christmas packages that they can't see over them.

Snow

In what wonders the day has brought
Born of the soft and slumbrous snow!
Silent slowly wrought;
Even as an artful thought by
Wh[illegible] expression on lip and brow

Hanging garlands the eaves o'er brim
Deep drifts smother the paths below.
The elms are shrouded, trunk and limb,
And all the air is dizzy and dim
With a whirl of dancing snow.

Christmas Tree Is 150 Years Old In This Country

A Christmas tree will be put up in two out of every three American homes this year. Yet the trimmed Christmas tree, as it is known today, is only about 150 years old in this country.

The Pilgrims forbade Christmas celebrations on the grounds they were pagan. A Massachusetts law in 1659 subjected anyone to a fine who observed the day by feasting, refraining from work or in any other manner.

It was not until near the end of the American Revolution that the Christmas tree took hold. German immigrants, homesick for the tradition of their native land, put them up.

The custom of the lighted Christmas tree, some historians tell, originated with Martin Luther. He was fascinated by evergreen trees, glistening with starlit-snow, pointing to the heavens at Christmas time. So he brought an evergreen tree into his house and lighted it with candles for his children.

Another old German legend credits St. Boniface with the origin of the Christmas tree. Having converted some oak-tree-worshipping Druids to Christianity, he took them into a forest, cut down an oak and pointed to a stately fir along side. "Take this tree," he said, "into your homes as a sign of your new worship. Celebrate God's power no more with shameful rites, but in the sanctity of your homes with laughter and love."

Christmas Candles Have Been Used By Many Peoples

It would be astonishing, indeed, if no candles appeared in homes throughout the nation on a Christmas Eve. The legend which surrounds the custom is believed to have started in Ireland.

There on Christmas Eve a large candle was burned which could be snuffed out only by one named Mary. As the Irish put it: "Who knows, on some Christmas Eve, Jesus and Mary and Joseph may come again, not to Palestine, but to the Holy Isle on the farthest edge of Europe?"

Their first use for Christmas is not recorded in the annals of any nation, but that the "Christ Child Candle," burned in the window of Christmas Eve is, according to an old legend, placed there to light His way if He makes an earthly visitation and in atonement for the night of His birth when there was no room for Him.

Also among the legends is one about bayberry candles burned on Christmas.

During the early history of our country, animal fats were relatively scarce. The branches of the bayberry shrub were covered with wax-giving berries and children were given the task of gathering the berries when candles had to be made so that the animal fats could be conserved.

According to tradition, one who burned a bayberry candle on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day would have long life and a happy life.

An old verse reads:

"To learn your luck for the year they say,
Burn a bayberry dip on Christmas day.
If the flame burns bright and the light shines clear,
Good luck will be yours throughout the year."

Two Local Men Are Recalled To The Service

Averille Thorn

Two local men have been called to return to service within the past week in accordance with the emergency declared by the president. They are Averille Thorn, current executive secretary of the Hilltop Branch of the YMCA, and Guy W. Snyder, council clerk at the village of Hilliards.

Thorn, a first lieutenant in the Ohio Air National Guard, is scheduled to report for duty Jan. 3 with the 166th Fighter Squadron (jet) stationed at Lockbourne Army Air Base, to begin processing of the balance of the unit which is to report for active duty no later than Feb. 1. He will serve as officer in charge of the air police unit.

Thorn's previous service with the armed forces was with the air corps, with the 5th Air Force. He was a pilot of a B-25 with the 17th Recon Bomb Squadron and chalked up 66 missions in the South Pacific before returning to the States from Tokyo in December, 1945.

At Hilliards the village council will have a find a replacement for Guy Snyder before Jan. 14, the date on which he is slated to report for duty. Snyder, who has been a clerk for the council for the past year, received orders to return to duty in the Troop Transport Command.

Snyder served three years and 10 months in the last war as a glider pilot in the ETO, covering from Egypt to Normandy. He is a native of Bremen, O.

Tuesday evening the local board of directors of the Hilltop YMCA Branch advanced Jack Downing, program director of the local branch, to the post of executive secretary, succeeding Thorn.

'Chet' Cook and Local Shriners Continue A Christmas Tradition

For the last 17 years, underprivileged and unfortunate children on the West Side have called on Chester C. Cook, 81 N. Warren-av. "Santa Claus," and with good reason.

From the depths of the depression, through World War II, and up to the present time, "Chet," along with members of the Aladdin Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine, started and continued a Christmas tradition of playing Santa Claus to boys and girls who would know little about the spirit of Christmas, without their helping hand.

Children in 36 Ohio counties who had received health aid treatments from the Aladdin Crippled Children Fund, were furnished Christmas by the Aladdin Shriners. Again this year, children receiving treatments will benefit by the charitable gesture of the local Shriners.

Chet is always happy when he can bring cheer into the lives of these boys and girls, providing entertainment, toys, candy, fruits, nuts, and many other welcomed gifts. Each Christmas eve, he and his committee find their way to places where kids are sometimes forgotten.

The Aladdin Shriners' funds are spread far and wide, to the Franklin County Children's Home, Methodist Children's Home, Worthington; Hares' Orphanage, the Nightingale Cottage, Hannah Neil Mission, Florence Crittenden Home, and all the crippled children cared Garbed in a big red suit with white trimmings, hood, mask, and beard, Chet fills his pack and migrates with his Shrine reindeer to these different institutions, where all receive him with open arms.

His jolly laugh assures the kids that their Christmas stockings will be filled, and many a child will not easily forget the confiding chat with the round-bellied Santa. They look forward to seeing him again next year.

Judging from the remarks of superintendents in charge of these agencies and letters received years later, Chet has learned that the kids ever remember him. These are but a few of the reasons Chet gets enjoyment from dispensing gifts, planning the schedule and party, and playing Santa Claus.

On Christmas Day, the Shriners see that every kid in each agency has his traditional Christmas dinner. The week before Christmas, Chet checks to see that complete turkey dinners will be available for children and mothers at these day nurseries: South Side, North Side, East Side, West Side, Goodale, Hannah Neil Mission, and Florence Crittenden Home.

A thumbnail sketch of Chet Cook's career reads like Haratio Alger; a recital of all his activities would make interesting reading about the Hilltop's busiest citizen.

Besides being president of the Sunday Creek Coal Co., Chet is trustee for several estates; president and treasurer of the Granville Inn and Golf Course; has been trustee of the Children's Hospital for 20 years; trustee of Mt. Carmel Hospital; trustee of the downtown Masonic Temple; and trustee of the Columbus Tubercular Society since 1922.

Chet has also been auditor-trustee of the Ohio Public Health Association since 1936; past president (for four years) and director of the Columbus Country Club; vice-president of the Columbus Club; member of the Columbus Athletic Club; past president and director of the Columbus Rotary Club; and member of the Hoge Memorial Church.

His Masonic history began at York Lodge in 1907, and as charter member of the West Gate Blue Lodge in Oct 1913. He was treasurer of the Hilltop body in 1913-14. Affiliated with numerous other Masonic groups he was made 33rd Degree Mason, highest official honor in Masonry, on Nov. 11, 1940. He is now Grand Standard Bearer of the Grand Imperial Council of Red Cross of Constantine.

Since the death of his wife in 1945, he has made his home with his foster-daughter, Dorothy D. King, and his brother, Ralph E. Cook. Chet has one son, Chester Herbert Cook, of 1930 W. Lane-av, in Arlington.

MY CHRISTMAS LIST
By Eva D. Woodward

Now, what would my dearest Christmas wish be?
That the whole world might heed the Master's call!
I am sure it is peace for you and me
That Jesus has promised may come to all.

Another gift for the world I now crave
That certainly always will bring much good,
And what is needed the whole world to save
Is an understanding world brotherhood.

Still a third gift which I wish to receive
That over the earth its fragrance may spill,
Can come from those who like Jesus may live
An international Christian good will.

But all of these gifts have a single source
And that is the love of God in the heart;
Only this great love has the mighty force,
And only through him can we do our part.

So my Christmas list covers many lands
And reaches from heaven to earth today,
But thankful I am that God understands,
That he put it within my heart to pray.
Griggs St. Church, Grand Rapids, Mich.

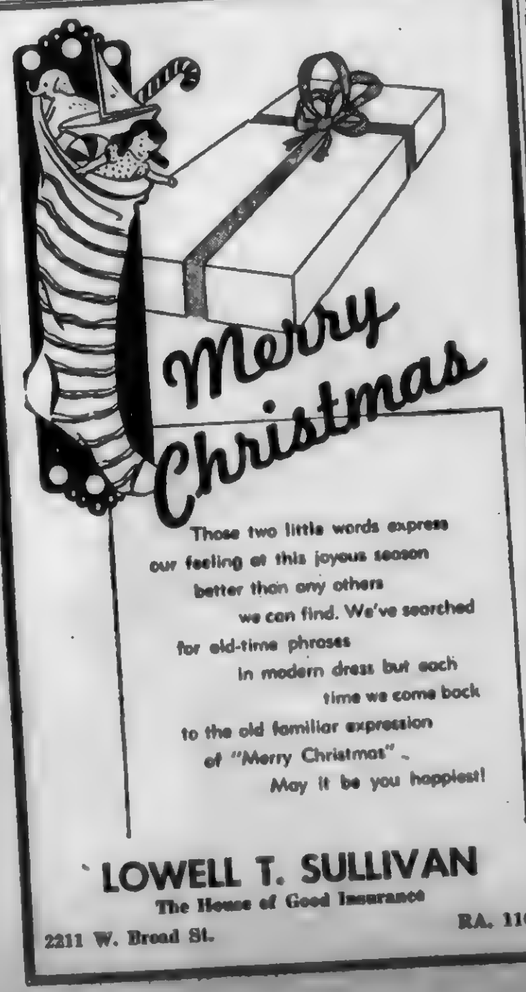
Nurse: I gave him the figs you ordered, doctor, but he keeps asking for dates.

Candlelight Service To Be At Westgate EUB Christmas Eve

A Christmas eve candle light service will be held at the Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church on Christmas eve from 11 p. m. to midnight.

Rev. Robert Howard, a student at the Evangelical Theological Seminary of Naperville, Ill., will give a Christmas sermon. Mrs. Carl Glade, Jr., will be the soloist, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. J. C. Cummins.

Special music will be given by a quartet composed of Henry Ruegg, Wendell Glass, John Glass, and Dr. E. B. Heisel. James Conley, president of the Senior Youth Fellowship will preside, according to Rev. Harold Dutt, pastor.



The tree of love grows tall and stout,
It reaches to the stars or thereabout.
The tree of love bears fruit in every clime,
It has withstood all wars of father time.
The tree of love restores the weary heart,
It beckons from afar tonight, o'er yon rampart.

Two Local Men Are Recalled To The Service

Averille Thorn

Two local men have been called to return to service within the past week in accordance with the emergency declared by the president. They are Averille Thorn, current executive secretary of the Hilltop Branch of the YMCA, and Guy W. Snyder, council clerk at the village of Hilliards.

Thorn, a first lieutenant in the Ohio Air National Guard, is scheduled to report for duty Jan. 3 with the 166th Fighter Squadron (jet) stationed at Lockbourne Army Air Base, to begin processing of the balance of the unit which is to report for active duty no later than Feb. 1. He will serve as officer in charge of the air police unit.

Thorn's previous service with the armed forces was with the air corps, with the 5th Air Force. He was a pilot of a B-25 with the 17th Recon Bomb Squadron and chalked up 66 missions in the South Pacific before returning to the States from Tokyo in December, 1945.

At Hilliards the village council will have a find a replacement for Guy Snyder before Jan. 14, the date on which he is slated to report for duty. Snyder, who has been a clerk for the council for the past year, received orders to return to duty in the Troop Transport Command.

Snyder served three years and 10 months in the last war as a glider pilot in the ETO, covering from Egypt to Normandy. He is a native of Bremen, O.

Tuesday evening the local board of directors of the Hilltop YMCA Branch advanced Jack Downing, program director of the local branch, to the post of executive secretary, succeeding Thorn.

Burglar Believed Wounded During Robbery Attempt

A burglar was believed to have been wounded early Saturday when four shots were fired at him as he tried to enter Iles' Cafe, 2142 Sullivant-av.

Bruce Iles, 24, an employe of the cafe, who lives above the grill, said he was awakened by noises at 3:30 a. m. Saturday.

The army veteran said he fired four shots at the burglar, who was attempting to enter the grill with a jimmy bar. Iles said he fired at the prowler with a 38-caliber pistol and believes one of the shots struck the man.

Close 2 Streets For Coasting, Winter Sports

Two West Side streets have been restricted to traffic and opened to coasting and other winter sports by the Columbus Recreation Department and Safety Director Donald D. Cook.

Director Cook has ordered that the streets be closed between 3 p. m. and 9:30 p. m. whenever there is enough snow to permit coasting. The streets are barricaded and closed off to traffic by police.

Local streets affected by the order are Skidmore-st between Grubb and State-st and Springmont-av, between Columbian and Nashoba.

Common Sense and Paint Can Stretch Toy Budget

THE jingle of Christmas bells is drowned out for many parents each year by the hollow jangle of piggy banks which contain insufficient funds to provide the lavish gifts they'd like to provide for their families.

This year, instead of allowing worry to cloud your Christmas spirit, give a little thought in advance to solving this problem.

One way to make the holidays merry with little expense is to ask your relatives and neighbors to save for you any toys their older children may have outgrown and discarded.

If you have in your attic or basement playthings that have been tossed aside by big brother or sister, drag those out, too, to see if they can be fixed up for your younger children.

Often minor repairs with a hammer or screw driver will make "broken" toys workable again. And a can of enamel can aid you in not only restoring their new look, but also in glamorizing them beyond their original state. Gay designs, such as those employed by Peter Hunt in his distinctive folk art, are particularly effective. These are easily done by using the basic tear-drop stroke recommended by Hunt.

As for toys purchased in the stores, let common sense be your guide. Give a bit of time in advance to observing your child at play, so you'll know exactly at what level his interests and abilities currently are.

Select soft stuffed toys for a child under two, but remember a big boy of five might be insulted at such a choice. Conversely, don't frustrate a three-year-old with puzzle games too complicated for his years; save those for the seven-year-olds on your list.

If the heart's desire of your child runs into dollars rather than cents, don't deprive him of it if you sanction his choice and can reasonably afford it.

If your budget simply won't stretch to cover it, try buying such things as electric trains piece-meal. With a starter set, he can get along until fancier gadgets can be added next Christmas or on his birthday.

It might also be a good idea to have him earn a part of the necessary money, in order to help him understand the true value of his expensive toys and hobby equipment.

An old wagon, a cast-off wheel barrow and other playthings painted in Peter Hunt's technique gleam bright and gay beneath the Christmas tree. The pieces were decorated peasant style with the tear-drop stroke recommended by Hunt.

As he paid his bill the departing guest turned and yelled to the bell boy: "Quick, run up to room 454 and see if I left my pajamas and razor. Run because I've got just six minutes to catch my train."

Four minutes later the bell boy was back, all out of breath.

"Yes, sir," he reported, "they're up there."

CHRISTMAS PRAYER

As chimes ring in again
Tidings of Noel dear,
Let ring our doubt, anxiety,
Let angels sweep our conscience clear,
Deepen our piety.
For Gift of Gifts unto the earth,
In one small town watched over by the star,
Grant that we be in some way worth
The giving—walk with humbleness
And honesty. When chimes bring near
The weadrous Christmas story,
Let ring out hate and selfishness,
Ring in the quiet glory
Of love, and peace, and cheer.

WHEN CANDLES GLEAM

Oh candle lights gleam from the windows tonight,
To tell the tale of His birth long ago;
So ever re-echoes the Bethlehem light.
Oh rough was the journey, yet lear-ried the flight;
For wearied was Mary, and heavy and slow;
Oh candle lights gleam from the windows tonight.
The city was crowded, and Joseph in fright
Searched over the taverns, for Mary must know;
So ever re-echoes the Bethlehem light.
And angels sang over the manger a-glow;
Oh candle lights gleam from the windows tonight.
Oh small was the Babe, yet forever His might,
Though born in a manger so nar-row and low.
Oh candle lights gleam from the windows tonight.
So ever re-echoes the Bethlehem light.

Volunteers For Hilltop Male Chorus Are Sought

Several men of the community have expressed a desire to sing in a male chorus. With the thought in mind of rendering another service to the community the Hilltop YMCA will try to organize such a chorus.

It is about time for the annual Hilltop Minstrel again and it is the hope of the Y that the chorus can be organized in time to offer its services to the Hilltop Business Association for the big annual show.

If you are interested in singing in such a group drop a line to The Hilltop Record or call C. C. Hartley at RA. 1125 and ask that

Prizes Await First Baby of New Year

Sunday, Dec. 31, at the hour of midnight, the 13th annual "First Baby of the Year" contest will again be under way. Each year The Hilltop Record, in cooperation with merchants of the Hilltop community, has sponsored this contest, in which many gifts are showered upon the first baby in the community born in a new year.

Dozens of gifts, all of them very worthwhile, await the first boy or girl born after midnight Sunday. The race is on, and the paramount question is: "Who will be the first baby of 1951 on the Hilltop?"

Rules governing the current baby derby are:

1. Parents of babies, being entered in the derby must furnish The Hilltop Record with date, hour, minute and place of birth.

2. Full names of parents and their address must be furnished.

3. The name (if chosen), sex and exact weight of the child must be provided.

4. A statement with this information must be furnished together with the name and signature of attending physician.

5. If the birth is to be considered for the contest, proof of the time of birth MUST be established at The Hilltop Record offices at 2465 W. Broad-st no later than midnight Tuesday, Jan. 2. Should statements be brought to the Record offices after closing hours they may be deposited in the mail slot.

In order to establish eligibility to enter the contest parents must reside in the area bounded on the east by Central-av; on the west by the western Franklin-twp boundary line (including New Rome); on the north by Trabue-rd and on the south by Frank and Clime-rds. Also eligible are any parents who are regular subscribers of The Hilltop Record who live in Franklin County, west of the Scioto River.

Mother and father of the first baby born in 1951 have not been overlooked by the many Hilltop merchants cooperating in the annual Derby. Here is a list of merchants offering prizes:

Electric vaporizer by Goodwin Pharmacy, 2772 Sullivant-av; baby scales by Gearhart Hardware, 2387 Sullivant-av; $5 grocery order by Fox Food Shop, 2422 W. Yes Virginia:

There Is A Santa Claus

In early September of 1897 there was received in the offices of the New York Sun that letter from little Virginia O'Hanlon which in the years since has become the perennial Christmas story to many Americans. The answer to Virginia's letter by Francis B. Church of the Sun stands even today as an expression of faith in God and a spiritual insight into the thoughts of mankind.

Virginia's letter and its answer are reprinted here because they always will deserve to be read and re-read again.

New York, N. Y.
Sept. 8, 1897

Dear Editor:
I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, "If you see it in the Sun, it's so." Please tell me the truth—is there a Santa Claus?

Yours truly,
Virginia O'Hanlon

Church wrote in the columns of the Sun, this reply:
Dear Virginia:
"Yes, indeed!

"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age—they do not believe except what they see—they think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds.

"All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little.

"In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.

"He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies!

"You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus—the most real things in the world are those neither children nor men can see.

"Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there—nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, or even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside the curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond.

"Is it all real?—ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus! Thank God!—he lives, and he lives forever—a thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

The cheer, the joy, the happiness we wish you is best said in the simple statement, "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to You all."

A Christmas Prayer

Christmas, Jesus' birthday is here,
The most glorious, happiest time of all the year.
Help us, or Lord, at the time of Thy birth,
To not forget others
Who are lonely and sad on this earth.
Help us to think kindly of those Whose hearts are broken—
For whom there is no repose,
The sick, the helpless, the ones who are lost
Out in the world so weary, worn and tossed—
Without the loving peace
That Christ alone can give.
Help us, dear Lord, to show
The goodness and mercy
Thou alone can bestow.

What is this Christmas?
A glorious, beautiful, time
Rejoicing, peace on earth,
Happiness sublime.
A time the good God has given.
We praise Thee, O Lord
Our Father in heaven.
Teach us this day to speak kindly to all
To wish no evil to any befall.
Show us thy way—
Help us this most wonderful time
To show to all others,
Our hearts have been made Thine.

Please lead us and direct us
When Christmas day is past.
That we will not forget it was Jesus' birthday
And it sets our hearts aglow
Knowing it was Jesus only
This happiness could bestow.

We praise Thee again, dear Lord,
For mercy, truth and grace.
Knowing that in heaven
Thou hast prepared for us a place.
So let us not forget it's Christmas
The birthday of our King
And Christmas time again.
And on this glad and happy day,
We praise Thee and adore Thee.
The Christ of Christmas day.

THE GREAT SONG

When I was a shepherd lad
In Bethlehem, in Bethlehem,
When I was a shepherd lad
In Bethlehem of Juda,
I saw a cloud of angels' wing
Across the sky, and heard them sing
The glory of the newborn King
In Bethlehem of Juda.

Then with the shepherds, in I went
To Bethlehem, to Bethlehem,
Then with the shepherds, in I went
To Bethlehem of Juda.
There were no courtiers making rest,
But humble folk and beasts about
An infant in a swaddling clout
In Bethlehem of Juda.

The air rang with the angels' song
In Bethlehem, in Bethlehem,
The air rang with the angels' song
In Bethlehem of Juda.
And when the mighty song was done
The echo of it lingered on While on the Child a great light shone
In Bethlehem of Juda.

When we went back to tend our flocks
In Bethlehem, in Bethlehem,
When we went back to tend our flocks
The sheep were lying bathed and still
To hear, for echoes seemed to fill
The hollows of each lonely hill
Of Bethlehem of Juda.

Dozens of gifts, all of them very worthwhile, await the first boy or girl born after midnight Sunday. The race is on, and the paramount question is: "Who will be the first baby of 1951 on the Hilltop?"

Two Local Men Are Recalled To The Service

Averille Thorn

Two local men have been called to return to service within the past week in accordance with the emergency declared by the president. They are Averille Thorn, current executive secretary of the Hilltop Branch of the YMCA, and Guy W. Snyder, council clerk at the village of Hilliards.

Thorn, a first lieutenant in the Ohio Air National Guard, is scheduled to report for duty Jan. 3 with the 166th Fighter Squadron (jet) stationed at Lockbourne Army Air Base, to begin processing of the balance of the unit which is to report for active duty no later than Feb. 1. He will serve as officer in charge of the air police unit.

Thorn's previous service with the armed forces was with the air corps, with the 5th Air Force. He was a pilot of a B-25 with the 17th Recon Bomb Squadron and chalked up 66 missions in the South Pacific before returning to the States from Tokyo in December, 1945.

At Hilliards the village council will have a find a replacement for Guy Snyder before Jan. 14, the date on which he is slated to report for duty. Snyder, who has been a clerk for the council for the past year, received orders to return to duty in the Troop Transport Command.

Snyder served three years and 10 months in the last war as a glider pilot in the ETO, covering from Egypt to Normandy. He is a native of Bremen, O.

Tuesday evening the local board of directors of the Hilltop YMCA Branch advanced Jack Downing, program director of the local branch, to the post of executive secretary, succeeding Thorn.

Letters to 'Santa Claus' Come From World Over

Postoffice officials in Santa Claus, Ind., are accustomed to overloaded sacks of mail during the pre-Christmas rush. Senders want their cards and gifts stamped with the famous Santa Claus postmark, plus thousands of wistful letters "Santa Claus, Santa Claus, Ind."

And then there is the annual crop of "Santa Claus" letters written by youngsters in far-away places who haven't heard about Santa's permanent address in Indiana, U.S.A. At least a dozen versions of the time honored note-in-the-bottle story find their way into metropolitan newspapers every year.

The notes, sealed in small bottles and securely tied to Christmas trees, are discovered by Christmas tree dealers, housewives; and even enlisted men at naval centers and military barracks; they come from places like Repous, a village in New Brunswick, Canada, boasting a total population of 85 inhabitants.

The notes range from the wistful to the desperate, requesting such things as a mamma doll, a sled, a sweater, or a pair of overshoes.

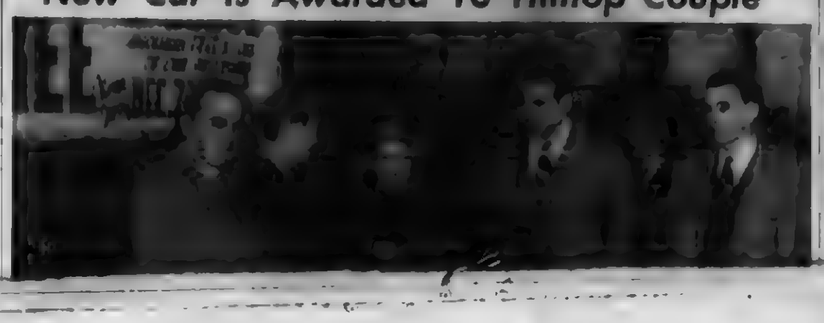
Several men of the community have expressed a desire to sing in a male chorus. With the thought in mind of rendering another service to the community the Hilltop YMCA will try to organize such a chorus.



It is about time for the annual Hilltop Minstrel again and it is the hope of the Y that the chorus can be organized in time to offer its services to the Hilltop Business Association for the big annual show.

Each year The Hilltop Record, in cooperation with merchants of the Hilltop community, has sponsored this contest, in which many gifts are showered upon the first baby in the community born in a new year.

Dozens of gifts, all of them very worthwhile, await the first boy or girl born after midnight Sunday. The race is on, and the paramount question is: "Who will be the first baby of 1951 on the Hilltop?"

Thorn's previous service with the armed forces was with the air corps, with the 5th Air Force. He was a pilot of a B-25 with the 17th Recon Bomb Squadron and chalked up 66 missions in the South Pacific before returning to the States from Tokyo in December, 1945.

At Hilliards the village council will have a find a replacement for Guy Snyder before Jan. 14, the date on which he is slated to report for duty. Snyder, who has been a clerk for the council for the past year, received orders to return to duty in the Troop Transport Command.

Snyder served three years and 10 months in the last war as a glider pilot in the ETO, covering from Egypt to Normandy. He is a native of Bremen, O.

Tuesday evening the local board of directors of the Hilltop YMCA Branch advanced Jack Downing, program director of the local branch, to the post of executive secretary, succeeding Thorn.

Burglar Believed Wounded During Robbery Attempt

A burglar was believed to have been wounded early Saturday when four shots were fired at him as he tried to enter Iles' Cafe, 2142 Sullivant-av.

Bruce Iles, 24, an employe of the cafe, who lives above the grill, said he was awakened by noises at 3:30 a. m. Saturday.

The army veteran said he fired four shots at the burglar, who was attempting to enter the grill with a jimmy bar. Iles said he fired at the prowler with a 38-caliber pistol and believes one of the shots struck the man.

Local streets affected by the order are Skidmore-st between Grubb and State-st and Springmont-av, between Columbian and Nashoba.

New West High Teen-Age Club Embraces Christianity

By Myron T. Seifert

Newest teen-age club, meeting at West High is the Hi-Be (High School Born-Againers). Its background follows this origin and platform.

Spreading through the high schools of America schools of America is a new spontaneous and student sponsored religious movement in the form of high school Christian clubs. These clubs have grown from desire of youth for a vital practical and working Christianity to supplement the theoretical "Sunday only" type of "Churchianity."

Wide awake youth is beginning to realize that the only answer to the world crisis that baffles our elders is a return of America and the world to God. Thus hundreds of clubs have been formed for the purpose of Bible study, prayer and Christian fellowship. Over half a million youths in the Greater New York area are members of such clubs and they are joined by thousands more all over the country. These clubs are identified by different names such as "Hi-C"—High School Crusaders; "Young Life", Hi-Ba and others.

As for Columbus, two years ago a small group of students from West High began to meet together in different homes with this general idea in mind. Members heard of such clubs springing up not only in the schools but in many different fields. U. S. congressmen, Hollywood movie stars and Christian businessmen in many professions. Soon young people from many denominations began to hear about the West High group and became interested. Soon they outgrew their homes and had to seek a new meeting place.

For several months it moved to the Community Christian Church across from West High. This choice was made because of its location. For the past two years the group has met each Monday morning of the month, and every Friday except the first in each month, also the first and fourth Tuesday of the month. The local group meets jointly with other Hi-BA clubs of the city.

The Christmas meeting and banquet will be held at the YMCA tonight. Each will bring a gift to be taken to Children's Hospital.

The advisor is Mrs. L. S. Will, ex-president of the West PTA. The officers are Jerry Witherspoon, president; George Brown, vice president; Marjorie Ingram, secretary, and Tom Cox, treasurer.

Old News Items Recall Christmas In France, 1918

From an old and yellowed news clipping which appeared in The Hilltop Record of January, 1919, comes a remembrance of Christmas times in France during the first World War.

The news item of that day concerned letters written to John Wagner, who resided at 2293 W. Broad-st, by his sons, Chester and George, who were then serving with the American Expeditionary Forces in France.

Of the Yule celebration Chester Wagner wrote his father on Christmas night, 1918: "We had a Christmas tree. Our company entertained the children of the village. I alone hauled 500 children to the tree in a sled, 75 or 80 at a trip, and there were many more.

"Every little French child was made happy with a gift. The boys fixed up the tree, collecting $400 among themselves.

"A chorus of 40 voices from the company sang in the evening. Tomorrow we will give a play at the village theater for the benefit of the French children.

"Everybody received their Christmas boxes."

"So you have had 29 soldiers out from the Barracks for dinner," wrote Chester's brother, George. "I am glad. But why didn't people think of being kind to soldiers and entertaining them years ago instead of looking down on them and trying to shove them down?"

Choral Music To Highlight Sunday Service

Sunday morning services at the Burgess Avenue EUB Church will be highlighted by the combination of two choirs, namely, the Senior Choir and the Junior Choir, according to Rev. Irwin Lane. Both choirs will work in combination during the worship service. Christmas music will be in the offering.

The pastor will deliver a Christmas sermon, "A Saviour Is Born." Otterbein Home offerings will be received that have not as yet been turned in.

New members will be received into church Dec. 24, at the morning service and a christening service for children will also be offered.

The Sunday evening service will be a brief carolling service in the church, sponsored by the choir and worked in conjunction with the pastor's final words on Christmas eve to the church. Exact time is yet to be announced.

Great Christmas Carols Work of Inspired Clergy

Since that first Christmas when the angels sang "Glory to God in the Highest," music has been a vital part of the holiday season, schools, churches and homes ring with joyous hymns and songs. The first singing of carols in the streets, we are told, was in the year 1224.

When we think of Christmas we think of the pictures you see on Christmas cards of houses almost buried in snow, candles burning in windows, and carolers grouped around a doorway, singing with all their hearts to the distant peal of church bells. Christmas must have been picturesque in those days, no automobiles whizzing by, just the merry jingle of sleigh bells.

"Hark the Herald Angels Sing" was written in 1739 by Charles Wesley, younger brother of John Wesley, who founded the Methodist denomination but was not published until 1744. Inspiration for the piece came to Wesley as he wanted to observe one Christmas morning.

Bishop Phillip Brooks, rector of the Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia, was asked to write a Christmas carol for the children of the Sunday school. He was busy on other matters and put off writing the piece. After several days he hurried to the church organist and asked him to furnish a tune. The organist, Lewis H. Redner, says the air came to him in a flash of inspiration and it was finished for the next day's services.

But most beloved of all Christmas music is "Silent Night, Holy Night," written, we are told, by Father Josef Mohr, who found himself without means of music for the Christmas services because mice had eaten the bellows of the church organ. Father Josef was greatly troubled over the calamity, and as he returned from administering rites to a dying woman he stood on a hilltop, at midnight, and it came to him that it must have been just such a silent night that the Christ child was born, so he went home and composed the words to our famous Christmas hymn.

Then, of course, it needed music, so he went to his old schoolmaster, Franz Gruber. And so Franz played his guitar and Father Josef sang a Christmas hymn that will never die.

Few think of this lovely hymn without remembering how we watched our radio dial at Christmas time for its rendition by one of the most beloved of singers Madame Schumann-Heink.

Ah, those were days of simplicity, when people sang about holy subjects, Christmas processions, poets, and organists turned composers to furnish the music, music that goes on forever.

They would indeed be gratified if they could hear our present Christmas carol programs, pouring out of all the concert halls of the country, that classical love have come a long way from that pipe organ and a gentle voice replacing a violin. They'd be upset to learn their boss now does its Christmas shopping to their inspirational tunes.

Cave of the Nativity Now Religious Grotto

The "stable" in which Christ was born does not conform to the modern conception of the word.

In Biblical times, places of shelter were hewn in rocky ledges; Judean travelers, frequently housed in such caves, welcomed joint tenancy with beasts because of the extra warmth provided by animals' bodies.

The birthplace of Jesus was such a cave. Now a grotto beneath Bethlehem's Church of the Nativity, the entire surface has been elaborately ornamented. Pilgrims to the shrine often wish, nonetheless reverently, that its original simplicity might have been preserved.

Volunteers For Hilltop Male Chorus Are Sought

Several men of the community have expressed a desire to sing in a male chorus. With the thought in mind of rendering another service to the community the Hilltop YMCA will try to organize such a chorus.

It is about time for the annual Hilltop Minstrel again and it is the hope of the Y that the chorus can be organized in time to offer its services to the Hilltop Business Association for the big annual show.

If you are interested in singing in such a group drop a line to The Hilltop Record or call C. C. Hartley at RA. 1125 and ask that your name be included in the first call.

Dear Mr. Hartley:

I thought you might like to know that a young friend of mine, aged seven years old, was a national winner in the latest "Cheerios" contest, sponsored by the "Lone Ranger."

The lucky and proud little guy is Steven August Anderson of 2016 Olive-st, here on the Hilltop. He was the lucky winner of a complete outfit, from hat to boots, and six-shooters, tailored to fit, and exactly like his hero's. You never saw a happier guy. Wish I were his age again.

Hi Yo Ho, Silver, little fella.

Court Schedules Local Bus Line Suit For Jan. 18

Whether or not the W. Mound-st bus will continue to run to Binns-blvd and make its "back-around" will be decided in Franklin County Common Pleas Court before Judge Joseph M. Harter on Jan. 18, according to information released by the court during this past week. That date was decided in continuation of an injunction suit to halt operation of the bus at its new west terminus.

Until the Jan. 18 date set by the court, the bus will continue to run as per agreement reached by Columbus City Council and the Columbus Transit Co. earlier in the month.

The court controversy arose earlier last week when Charles S. Blackmore, 689 Binns-blvd filed suit as a taxpayer to halt the procedure of using Binns-blvd as a "back around." Blackmore in his suit attacked the ordinance passed by city council and charged the buses with creating a traffic hazard when they head south into Binns-blvd and then back westward into Mound-st to turn east and start their return trip.

Earlier a court order had been granted by Judge Harter to halt operation of the buses on the recently extended route. This action was later revoked and the case continued to permit the plaintiff, Blackmore, more time in obtaining additional evidence to present to the court.

Columbus City Council on Dec. 11 had directed the Columbus Transit Co. to employ the "back-around" as a result of protests of S. Roys-av residents against a proposed loop by way of Roys-av and Eakin and Wiltshire-rds.

Columbus Council President Henry Koontz said today that a special council session had postponed any further action on the bus line terminus pending the decision of the court after the hearings are resumed on Jan. 18.

New Car Is Awarded To Hilltop Couple

C. C. Hartley, publisher of The Hilltop Record, is shown above as he presented a new Dodge sedan to Mrs. Mima Gahm, 74 S. Ogden-av, Saturday afternoon as a surprise Christmas present from The Hilltop Record. Shown also in the photo, left to right, are Harold Cramer, Kiwanis Club president, Hartley, Mrs. Gahm, Mayor James Rhodes and John Nippert, president of the Hilltop Business Association, all of whom aided in the selection of the lucky person.

Mrs. Mima Gahm of 74 S. Ogden-av, a former school teacher, and resident of the Hilltop for a twenty-nine-year period, on Saturday afternoon became the most surprised and dumbfounded woman in the community when she answered the doorbell to a representative from the Hilltop Record.

"I never in my life expected anything like this," she gasped as she was informed that she had been declared the lucky recipient of a new Dodge sedan from the Hilltop Record. As a matter of fact, Mrs. Gahm was still in an unbelieving state of mind as she was taken to the Record offices and faced photographers for the picture shown above. "It isn't at all possible. I never was this lucky in my whole life," she declared.

Orville Gahm, her husband, was equally surprised at their good fortune and said, "I never thought these things were really true. Now it's happened to me! There is a Santa Claus."

The Gahms have resided at the Ogden-av address since 1921 and have been readers of the Hilltop Record since that date. They are the parents of two children, a daughter, Margaret Louise, Springfield, and a son, Orville, Jr., who has just finished training at Lackland Air Base in San Antonio, Tex., and is now enroute to Lowry Field at Denver.

On Christmas Day the old car of the Gahms, a 1941 Pontiac, was evicted from its garage in favor of the new Dodge and the Gahms said they planned to sell the old car.

Hilltop's Lack of Interest Scored

Editor's Note: The letter below is self explanatory in its content in which the people of this community are called to task for a lack of interest in giving blood whenever the bloodmobile pays its visit to the Hilltop area. Records of past visits of the bloodmobile unit to this area also reveal a startling lack of interest on the part of local residents. It is pathetic that men must die in far-off lands for want of blood, because we here at home couldn't or wouldn't take time to give, not money or other worldly goods, but just a pint of blood.

This is the first time in my life that I have ever written a letter to a newspaper for I have never had time or a desire for any publicity of any kind. Today the Blood Donor Unit came to the Hillcrest Baptist Church and by noon five people came in. Now I know it was a cold day and people were busy but the West High teachers had a half day off. The Kiwanis held their usual Thursday luncheon. What's the matter with Hilltop people, they are not all sick or selfish. When it comes to giving money to Community Projects they are more than generous.

Rather than have such a poor record for the day, five of the nurses and staff gave blood. Then they gathered around the piano and sang Christmas carols. Can't you tell the people that they can't let the boys in Korea down like that.

Next week when business is slack and schools are out let's go down to Blood Donor Center and show Columbus people that the Hilltop has plenty of loyal and patriotic citizens.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Chase C. Kimes,
Canteen Worker

Last week in the little town of Ashville there were 86 donors.

Hilltop Teacher Is Collector Of Historical Data On Movies

By Myron T. Seifert

Best known to Hilltoppers for his ability as an art teacher at West High School is Richard E. Teichert.

Few people have had the opportunity to know that, aside from art, his hobby is the collection of all sorts of data pertaining to the development of the moving picture.

His assortment of motion picture stills, posters, press books, magazines, and actual films covers the complete history of the early film. It is undoubtedly one of the most interesting and voluminous individual collections in the country.

Some of the items were found right here in Columbus. Numerous "stills" in the collection were found in New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, and Denver, Colorado. A few rare photos relative to the early film came from such far-off places as London and Paris.

His interest in the history of the film is closely tied to its relationship with the other arts and with Twentieth Century development as a whole. The film has proved a valuable record of historical events.

More than that, Mr. Teichert points out, motion pictures reflect the customs, styles, and attitudes of every exciting era in our rapidly changing century.

The collection strikes a nostalgic note for those who remember the early film idols. There are many stills from pictures starring William S. Hart, Mary Pickford, and Wallace Reid, the great matinee idol of the 'teens. Marguerite Clark, Douglas Fairbanks, the fabulous Rudolph Valentino, and others who hypnotized audiences of by-gone years, are represented. A list of the material would fill volumes.

Kiwanians Review 1950 Activities

At today's luncheon meeting of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club the annual achievement report will be read recounting the activities and accomplishments of the local service club during the year of 1950.

Plans will also be discussed and completed for the installation of new officers which is to take place Jan. 4 at the Army-Navy Club at Fort Hayes Barracks. Tickets and reservations are now being sold for the annual affair.

Hilltop Man Killed Under Truck Wheels

Paul J. Gallagher, 64, 202 Algonquin-av, employed at the Franklin County Engineering Department garage, 970 Dublin-av, as a laborer, was killed outright Tuesday afternoon when he was run over by a truck in the rear of the building.

According to the sheriff's department, Gallagher was directing traffic in the yards while trucks were being loaded with cinders, at the time of the accident. They said a truck driven by John Sheppard, 23, 1030 S. Washington-av, struck Gallagher while backing. Gallagher was knocked to the ground and run over by the truck's right wheels. He was pronounced dead at White Cross Hospital.

Hospital attendants said his head and chest were crushed.

Deputies said Sheppard will be questioned today to learn details of the accident.

A veteran of World War I, Gallagher was a county employe five years. He was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary Magdalene Church and of Camp Chase Post, American Legion.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Edna M. Gallagher; three sons, Paul and John A. Gallagher, both of Columbus, and Don Gallagher of Chicago; a daughter, Mrs. Walter Scherenberg of Chicago; two brothers, Emmet and Walter Gallagher, both of London, O., and three grandchildren.

Rev. Schreiber

Sunday, Jan. 7, 1951, exactly 10 years and one month after its beginning in West High School, and less than five years after its building was begun, Westgate Methodist Church announces the dedication of its first basement unit debt-free.

The church has paid off $24,000 of its debt and taken 225 new members into its fellowship since Rev. Norman L. Schreiber was appointed to the pastorate in June of 1948.

Bishop Hazen G. Werner will preach the sermon and dedicate the basement unit at the 11 a. m. dedication service. The pastor, the student pastor, Norman Roettger, and a retired minister belonging to the membership, Rev. Charles F. Bowman, will assist in the dedication service.

A five-year plan is being initiated on Dedication Sunday which will set as a goal, the beginning of the completion of the entire church in about five years.

The dedication committee which completed the plans for the celebration is composed of Paul Leighninger, George Levisay, Royce Huegely and Mrs. William Jacobs.

Two Local Men Are Recalled To The Service

Averille Thorn

Two local men have been called to return to service within the past week in accordance with the emergency declared by the president. They are Averille Thorn, current executive secretary of the Hilltop Branch of the YMCA, and Guy W. Snyder, council clerk at the village of Hilliarda.

Thorn, a first lieutenant in the Ohio Air National Guard, is scheduled to report for duty Jan. 3 with the 166th Fighter Squadron (Jet) stationed at Lockbourne Army Air Base, to begin processing of the balance of the unit which is to report for active duty no later than Feb. 1. He will serve as officer in charge of the air police unit.

Thorn's previous service with the armed forces was with the air corps, with the 5th Air Force. He was a pilot of a B-25 with the 17th Recon Bomb Squadron and chalked up 66 missions in the South Pacific before returning to the States from Tokyo in December, 1945.

At Hilliards the village council will have a find a replacement for Guy Snyder before Jan. 14, the date on which he is slated to report for duty. Snyder, who has been a clerk for the council for the past year, received orders to return to duty in the Troop Transport Command.

Snyder served three years and 10 months in the last war as a glider pilot in the ETO, covering from Egypt to Normandy. He is a native of Bremen, O.

Tuesday evening the local board of directors of the Hilltop YMCA Branch advanced Jack Downing, program director of the local branch, to the post of executive secretary, succeeding Thorn.

Burglar Believed Wounded During Robbery Attempt

A burglar was believed to have been wounded early Saturday when four shots were fired at him as he tried to enter Iles' Cafe, 2142 Sullivant-av.

Bruce Iles, 24, an employe of the cafe, who lives above the grill, said he was awakened by noises at 3:30 a. m. Saturday.

The army veteran said he fired four shots at the burglar, who was attempting to enter the grill with a jimmy bar. Iles said he fired at the prowler with a 38-caliber pistol and believes one of the shots struck the man.

Each year The Hilltop Record, in cooperation with merchants of the Hilltop community, has sponsored this contest, in which many gifts are showered upon the first baby in the community born in a new year.

Dozens of gifts, all of them very worthwhile, await the first boy or girl born after midnight Sunday. The race is on, and the paramount question is: "Who will be the first baby of 1951 on the Hilltop?"

Rules governing the current baby derby are:

1. Parents of babies, being entered in the derby must furnish The Hilltop Record with date, hour, minute and place of birth.

Care Of Tropical Fish

Many folks received aquariums for Christmas. BE SURE THAT YOUR PETS ARE WARM. The great majority of fishes that are kept as pets are tropical and cannot be kept in temperatures less than 70 degrees F. for more than a few hours.

To be kept healthy they must be kept in temperatures ranging from 72 to 80 degrees and must be protected from sudden temperature changes, especially from chilling. Unless they are kept in rooms with constant high temperatures, there is only one practical way to keep them heated properly, and that is by means of an electric thermostatically controlled heater. The heating element is simply an electric heating coil in a water proof jacket.

The control is a thermostat that should be adjustable and sensitive to within a couple of degrees, some aquarium heaters are built as a single unit, but the most satisfactory type has the thermostat separate from the heating element. The thermostatic control should be located in the tank some distance from the heating element itself so that it will not cut off the electric current before the whole tank has become properly heated.

Trabert's Aquarium at 2341 W. Broad-st, is the place to go for bona fide information regarding your finny pets. Care should be taken not to use a heater that is too small for the size tank it must heat; otherwise a burned out heater and dead fish may result.

It is possible to employ several heating elements in different tanks with a single thermostat. The various tanks should be fairly close together so that they are all subject to the same external temperatures. The thermostat should be kept in the smallest tank, since the greatest temperature fluctuations tend to occur in the smallest body of water.

For more detailed information on this timely subject, stop in at Trabert's Aquarium, 2341 W. Broad-st, and get some professional and technical information for more healthy fish. —Adv.

DON'T S'KID YOURSELF!
Test Facts That May Save Your Life

This shows average Braking Distances from 20 m.p.h. on glare ice of conventional natural rubber tires, special winter tires and tire chains on regular tires. Skid distances for synthetic rubber tires are 10 to 50 per cent more.

This illustrates average Pulling Power on loosely packed snow of regular natural rubber tires, specialized winter tires of various types, and tire chains on regular tires. Traction ability of cold synthetic tires averages 35 per cent less.

Engineers Find Answer to Winter Traction Puzzle

Winterized tires and mud-snow tires may or may not stop somewhat shorter on glare ice than conventional tires made of natural rubber, but tire chains stop much shorter. Not shown on above charts but generally understood is the fact that tires made of cold synthetic rubber—which wears better—skid or spin 10 to 35 per cent more than natural rubber. Tests were made at Clintonville, Wis., by National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards. This committee consists of public officials and automotive and safety engineers. Tests were made to end confusion over conflicting claims which involve traffic safety during winter months.

SAFE WINTER DRIVING "Tips" from National Safety Council

1 Get the "feel" of the road by trying your brakes while driving slowly and when no other vehicles are near.

2 Keep your windshield and windows clear of snow and ice, fog and frost. Be sure your headlights, windshield-wiper blades, and defrosters are in good working order. You must see danger to avoid it.

3 When you have to stop, pump your brakes up and down—jamming them on may lock the wheels and throw your car into a skid.

4 Use tire chains on ice and snow. They cut braking distances on cars and trucks 40 to 70 per cent and provide needed "go" traction. Even with definite help of chains, careful driving is necessary.

5 Adjust your speed to road and weather conditions. Slow down on wet, snowy or icy roads so you can stop when you have to.

6 Follow other vehicles at a safe distance—remember that, without chains, it takes from 3 to 12 times as far to stop on snow and ice as on dry concrete.

March of Dimes Campaign To Open Jan. 8

Inspired by the enthusiasm of one of their co-workers, Mrs. Lawrence Mack, herself a polio victim, women volunteers who are to act as colonels in the March of Dimes polio fund campaign in Franklin County met at a recent tea at Children's Hospital to discuss plans. The drive will open Jan. 8 with house-to-house solicitation by 3500 workers.

Mrs. Mack, 176 S. Algonquin-av, will act as co-colonel for the Westgate territory, doing most of her work by telephone. She is pictured, center, with five other women who are to take the lead in their territories: left to right, Mrs. John Kell, Grove City; Mrs. Lewis W. Eakin, Lockbourne; Mrs. V. A. Gleich, 852 S. 22nd-st; Mrs. Howard Lloyd, 126 N. Eureka-av; and Mrs. John Gerspar, 1158 Lexington-av.

The 1951 March of Dimes polio fund campaign will get under way in Columbus and Franklin County during January.

House-to-house solicitation by 3500 women volunteers will begin Monday, Jan. 8, when the workers, carrying their Polio Kits of Kindness, will call upon housewives in Columbus and outlying territories. It is their hope that they will receive a donation from each home to help pay for care of an unprecedented number of polio victims as the result of the three blackest years in polic history.

"Throughout the nation the number of polio victims reached more than 30,000 during 1950," Sid R. Phillips, chairman of the Franklin County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said in urging generous giving during the 1951 campaign. "In Franklin County 72 cases have been reported, which is the largest number ever recorded with the exception of 1947."

Local women colonels who will be in charge of groups of workers in various sections of the community include: Valleylands, Mrs. Howard Willson, 379 S. Wayne-av; Hilltop, Mrs. Howard Lloyd, 126 N. Eureka-av; Westgate, Mrs. Lawrence Mack, 176 S. Algonquin-av; Mrs. Don Rice, 112 N. Huron-av; Prairie, Pleasant, Jackson and Franklin Twps., Mrs. John Kell, Grove City; and Washington, Norwich and Brown Twps., Mrs. John Yore, 7032 Rings-rd, Hilliards.

Can We Have Both Freedom and Security?

In our relations with society or the State, we might as well face the fact that the more security we demand, the less free we shall be.

Obviously, there are situations in which we must prefer security to absolute freedom. We could not drive without traffic regulations, or survive without submitting to the orders of the military high command in war time. Even marriage involves giving up some of our freedom in return for the security of a home of our own.

The problem of balance between freedom and security is an outstanding instance of the fact that normal life can be achieved only through compromise between opposing psychological as well as practical extremes, either of which by itself would be disastrous. If a life without freedom is unbearable for an adult human being, a life without security would be no less so. You can be free and secure at the same time in the measure in which you are able to take care of yourself, but the respects in which this is possible in modern life are limited.

Where the balance between freedom and security shall be struck for society or for any given person is not for a psychologist to say, but this much can be said. The more self-reliant you are and can train your children to be—above all, in thought and feeling—the less you or they will lean toward a compromise in which the progress of mankind is arrested because of a maximum of individual freedom has been ignored.

BIBLE COMMENT

The Christmas Story Holds Out Hope to a War-Troubled World

IN contrast to the first Christmas, when the wise men "rejoiced with exceeding great joy" as the Eastern Star led them to Bethlehem and the new-born babe Jesus, Christmas, 1950, is sombered by the realization that another war threatens to displace a precarious "peace on earth."

Just as many, who had seen the Eastern Star, troubled King Herod with the question, "Where is he that is born King of the Jews?" so have people of every peace-loving nation observed new portents of war and asked their leaders, "Where shall peace and good will toward man be born?"

King Herod answered the question asked of him by gathering "all the chief priests and scribes of the people together." After a consultation with these wise men, Herod sent his people to Bethlehem, where they found the Christ child and "fell down and worshipped Him."

Similarly, the United Nations has been the banding together of modern-day wise men in an attempt to find a guiding light by which the world may again live in harmony, and in the spirit of Christ.

The analogy goes even further. An angel of the Lord warned Joseph, "Take the young child . . . and flee into Egypt . . . for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him."

Like Herod, certain representatives of mighty nations in the UN, openly clamoring for peace, bear false colors and seek only to crush any newly-conceived peace plan not compatible with their ruthless plans for further power.

The Christmas story, however, still holds forth a message of hope and faith to all mankind. For with the birth of Jesus beneath a bright star over Bethlehem, there began a brotherhood of men who later called themselves "Christians."

Let our hope on Christmas, 1950, be that all mankind will come to realize, as have true Christians, that by entering into His service, peace can be restored to earth; and Christmas can once again be free from fear and full of "exceeding great joy."

THE FIRST GIFT
By Lillian E. Krieser

Far, far away in a lowly manger,
Jesus came to earth,
There, in the form of a baby stranger,
Mary gave him birth.

Then, from afar, the wise men followed,
Followed the star that led them there,
Knelt down before him, the King of the ages,
In adoration and prayer.

Father for us,
Sending his Son, on earth to be born,
Showing the spirit of grace and mercy,
In Bethle'm babe, on that first Christmas morn.

Far, far away, on that first Christmas morning,
Yet near to all through eternity,
Oh, blessed Christ, in thy heart what yearning,
To give thy life for a sinner like me.

Silver Dollar Payday Is Observed By Record

The Hilltop Record, Fri., Dec. 15, observed an annual custom of paying the employes of the firm in silver dollars and during the past few days the local merchants have been deluged with a "rain of cartwheels" as the more than $1800 went into circulation. Shown above receiving their stipend of silver from chief bookkeeper, Jean Trott, are Bill Coon of the advertising department and Kenneth McVey, shop superintendent. Following the usual custom, any of the silver dollars brought to the Record office before Jan. 1 are good for a one year subscription. At press time today at least 78 Hilltop merchants had reported receiving several of the cartwheels which are still circulating.

Chillicothe Raps West, 59-33; Locals To Meet Marysville

By Dave Miller

Attempting to undo what they committed last Saturday in the basketball-crazy town of Chillicothe, West High's basketball crew will invade Marysville tomorrow evening in hopes of bettering their present 3-3 mark.

Coach George Williams was pretty much disgusted with his squad following their 59-33 defeat to the Chillicothe Cavaliers Saturday evening, and has been working his forces hard for the game to renew things Friday night.

"We played in the Chillicothe game the same as we've played in our practice sessions all the week previous," said Williams during halftime to his boys as the Hilltoppers were on the opposite end of a 30-13 score.

Two big six foot four inch seniors from Chillicothe were the lads who were reasonably responsible for the Cowboy loss. Center Tom Bryant, who is probably one of the most dead-eye under-the-basket men in Ohio, took the high scoring honors for the night with 24 points on 11 baskets and two of three free throws. Last year he scored 18 points against the Cowbows in much the same fashion.

Chillicothe's "pride and joy," Scotty Greisheimer, dunked the nets for 17 points, two less than what he garnered last season for high scoring honors as Chillicothe whipped the Cowboys 66-46.

In the recent Cavalier tangle not much can be written home. Chillicothe wasted no time in grabbing a lead, and soon (within one-half minute) were leaving West in the dusk.

Bryant, Griesheimer and Bill Cousins were the Cavalier scorers as the host five hopped to a quick 8-0 margin in the initial stages of the game.

From here, Chillicothe grabbed a 19-7 first quarter margin, and outscored the Cowboys, 11-6 in a low-scoring second canto to take a 30-13 halftime lead. The decision of defeat was clearly stamped in the third quarter as the host five, coached by likeable Ed Alexinas, grabbed a 49-18 margin.

The reserves took over in the final quarter, and, strangely enough West outscored, 15-10.

Little Russell Friend who didn't play until the fourth quarter, was West's high scorer with seven points while Ted Fladt, Jerry Trabue and Wimpy Potts had six apiece. Bryant's 24, and Greisheimer's 24 paced Chillicothe.

The Cowboys travel tomorrow evening to meet Marysville's quintet, tested locally by North, Upper Arlington and Plain City. High scorers for the Monarchs is their versatile athlete Jim "Buddy" Hoffman, who is averaging 23.4 points per game.

Hoffman is a guard with his running mate, Bob Evans. Forwards will be Dick Coder and Bob Kleiber or Nick Waters with Bob McCracken in the pivot.

With the New Year practically here the Glenwood Recreation Center is planning many pleasant, instructive and entertaining activities for all ages in this community.

With sincere wishes for happiness during 1951 the Glenwood staff hope[illegible] permitted to supply many of their happiest hours to the "Hilltoppers and West Siders."

The recreation center will be open from 12 to 10 each evening through Dec. 29. The Saturday hours are 9 a. m. to 12, and closed on New Year's Day.

After Jan. 1 the regular hours will go back into effect, 2 to 10 p. m. during the week and half day on Saturdays.

The Glenwood newspaper was named the Glenwood Echo this week. The winning name was submitted by Carolyn Cooper.

The next edition of the paper is scheduled to be ready for distribution the first week of January. The next newspaper club meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 2, 7 p. m. in the teen-age room at the center.

The Junior and Intermediate Basketball League scheduled to start in January is now being formed. All boys wishing to make the league must register at once. Entries may be obtained from "Doc" Reistor at the Recreation office and returned to him before Jan. 1.

Little Carol had a new dime. She decided to invest it in an ice cream soda.

"Why don't you give your dime to the missions?" asked the minister, who was calling.

"I like to make people happy", said the little miss, "so I'll let the ice cream man give it to the missions."

The good scores the Hilltop alleys are having are mostly because of lighter pins. Dick Ardle again connected as he had 225-189-247, 661. Buckeye Tent and Awning had 1019 and Ross Hansel Real Estate totaled 2781.

Jim Matheny came in with 232 and Gene Manson a 624. Allen Milks had 997-2813 in the Recreation.

In the K of C late Lee Blackburn connected for 242-609. He paved the way for Westgate Co. 994-2714. He had assistance with Ralph Fischer's 608.

West High Boys Share Christmas

By Myron T. Seifert

Winners of the West Senior High School PTA money award, gained by virtue of garnering more than 150 members for the local group, were boys in room auditorium C at the Hilltop school.

Money received from this source, together with additional solicitations, by the boys, was used to help needy families on the West Side last week.

All the boys in the home room contributed food, toys, etc., and raised more than $10 to provide many extras for the deserving families for Christmas morning.

The boys planned the surprise, prepared the baskets and made delivery to a well known local clergyman, who in turn played Santa Claus for the family.

Boys doing much on the project were Lugene Spangler, Jack Robers, Phil Redick, Ed Whitehead, Bill Cline, and others.

Cook Meat Carefully for More Flavor and Less Waste

BY BETTY LYNN CURTICE, NEA Staff Writer

WITH meat prices so high, it is especially important to learn the best way to cook your roasts. Here are a few tested methods and recipes to help you get more good taste from your meat dollar and at the same time cut down on shrinkage.

Roast Leg of Lamb

Place roast side up, on a rack in an open pan. Use no water. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) according to the schedule below. If a meat thermometer is used, roast to 175 degrees F. internal temperature for medium doneness, or to 182 degrees F. internal temperature for a well-done roast.

If desired, slash fat covering on leg of lamb the last 15 minutes of roasting. Cut a clove of garlic into slivers and insert them into the slashes in the roast. Finish roasting and remove the garlic before serving.

COOKING SCHEDULE

	Min. per lb. 5 to 8 lbs.	Approximate Cooking Time	Min. per lb. 6 to 8 lbs.	Approximate Cooking Time
Leg—medium	35 min.	3¼ hrs.	30 min.	3½ hrs.
Leg—well done	40 min.	3⅔ hrs.	35 min.	4 hrs.
Crown—well done	45 min.	3 hrs.
Shoulder—well done	35 min.	3¼ hrs.

Pork Roasts

Allow ⅓ to ½ pound of meat and bone for each serving. A roast of 3 pounds or more from the leg, rib, loin or shoulder (either bone-in or boned) makes an excellent meal.

Roast fat side up on a rack in an open pan in a slow oven (325 degrees F.). Cook a 5-pound loin or fresh shoulder approximately 3½ hours; one weighing 8 pounds about 5 hours. If a meat thermometer is used, 185 degrees F. will indicate that the pork is done.

Stuffed Baked Pork Chops
(4 servings)

Four 1-inch rib pork chops, 1½ cups savory bread dressing, 1½ teaspoons salt, pepper. Slit a pocket on the bone side of the rib chop Stuff the dressing into the pocket. Season the chops. Place in a baking pan. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for one hour. Uncover and continue baking for 30 minutes to brown.

Chops may be browned first in a heavy skillet, then baks covered for one hour or until chops are tender.

Careful roasting of this leg of lamb resulted in a tasty, well-cooked main dish with very little waste or shrinkage.

Modern Poultry Establishment Flourishes On The West Side

Enterprising Bill Southworth, 1557 Sullivant-av, his brother, Marvin, 66 Powhatan, and their father, A. W. Southworth, 1510 Sullivant-av, operate one of the most up-to-date and progressive poultry establishments, with main office at the latter address, that can be found.

Eighty per cent of their business, both wholesale and retail, is confined to the West Side area.

Three gigantic buildings, two of which were recently completed, house the Southworth poultry concern the object of much interest to motorists who travel over Sullivant-av.

"What is the purpose of that large concrete building at 1529 Sullivant-av?" is a common query to folks who have seen the new structure at this address.

Our curiosity got the best of us and we, non-chalantly, made investigation to ascertain the answer to Hilltop's latest puzzle.

It proved to be the future home of the "House of a Million Fresh Eggs". Here 2500 to 3000 cases of eggs (30 dozen to a case, we learned) may be cooled, processed, cartoned, graded, distributed and delivered.

The building covers approximately 5000 square feet; the cooler itself is 13 by 47 feet. At present one section of the building is used to accommodate vehicles used by the Southworths in the poultry business.

By virtue of its location within a stone's throw from the central office at 1510 Sullivant-av, the "House of a Million Eggs," when in full operation, will provide much interest and information on a large scale for West Siders. Neither expense nor material has been spared in order to bring to the West side the largest and best egg cooler and storage in central Ohio.

Another mammoth building, recently completed, just east of 1510 Sullivant in the rear, is a concrete structure, 53 by 120 feet.

Several compartments, equipped with every device known to science, are found here.

Rooms, all of which are as sanitary as your own kitchen, include a cooler room, 16 by 20 feet, a live chicken room, 40 by 80, two freezer rooms, one thermostatically controlled at zero temperature, dimensions, 25 by 13 feet, and adjoining is another room eight by 13 feet, that is set at 20 below.

The killing room is 40 square feet; scale room, with largest Toledo scales made and a blackboard for computations, is near the killing room. A wall sprayer is continuously and automatically applied to the walls during the dressing process, keeping entire room clean and sanitary.

"Sometime in the future we expect to freeze, package and market frozen poultry from here," Bill Southworth said.

Then at the main office and poultry office in the rear of 1510 Sullivant is a modern poultry market to which thousands of customers come for their dressed birds. In a separate building to the rear after the birds are killed, are huge vats or tanks, with capacity for 2400 chickens.

With customers all over the West Side, including many restaurants, the Southworths deliver their birds daily. Many of their customers who began to order from them when they opened their enterprise are still patronizing the establishment.

The business is not necessarily a seasonal one; however come Thanksgiving, Christmas or New Years, and the Southworths do a land office business.

For weeks during these holiday seasons the telephone number Ra. 6990 and Ra. 12411 is a familiar one to localites. When they want poultry meat for their tables. The telephones at the Southworth market are then in constant operation—folks inquiring about the cost of fowl, deliveries, placing orders, etc.

Imagine, if you can, the problem the Southworths face, in providing the necessary fowl as the "centerpiece" on your seasonal menu—dressed and delivered to your home with dispatch and ease.

The bookkeeping alone, incidental to the "closing" of thousands of orders, is a tremendous job in itself.

How would you like to be responsible for buying, dressing, storing and delivering 25,000 chickens, 1500 turkeys, hundreds of ducks, etc. This is precisely what the Southworths' volume of business entailed the past several weeks for the holidays of Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Marvin and Bill began the business with the help of their father, A. W. Southworth, and Homer Wood (still with the business) when they were 16 and 18 years of age respectively.

Marvin was then a sophomore at West High School and Bill had just graduated from the Hilltop School.

It was then depression days, but the boys and their father vowed that some day they would provide the West Side and Central Ohio the finest poultry establishment that money and good-will would would buy, and they have now done just this.

CAN DO
There's a Wood For Every Purpose

CABINETMAKERS and carpenters—people who work with wood much of their lives—come to regard the material of their trade with the same sort of loving kindness that yachtsmen reserve for their yachts and horse trainers for their horses.

They know the functions and purposes and qualities of any specific kind of wood, and each wood does have its own individuality.

Moreover, if you're going to do much woodworking, even on an amateur scale, it's pretty important to know the characteristics of some of the woods. Here's a list that might help:

Ash is very heavy, hard and coarse-grained. It is reddish brown in color, with the sapwood almost white. Principally used for interior trim, tool handles and some furniture and cabinet work. Next time you're in the hardware store examine the handles on some of the axes, hatchets, hammers and shovels to get an idea of what a tough, durable wood this is.

Cherry is light and close-grained. It works easily and takes a good finish. Color is reddish brown, with a yellowish white sapwood. It is used for cabinet work and interior trim.

Mahogany is strong, durable and open-pored. It works easily and takes an excellent finish. Color is red-brown, although inferior quality mahogany contains small gray specks. It is used for furniture and in ship building.

White Oak is a close-grained wood with open pores, very heavy and hard and difficult to work. It takes an excellent finish, however, and is used for furniture and interior trim. Color is tan-brown, with light sapwood.

White Pine is widely used as almost an all-purpose wood. It is soft and light, durable and very easy to work. Yellow Pine, on the other hand, is hard, tough and strong, very difficult to work. It is used mainly for heavy structural purposes, such as flooring, beams and so on.

Walnut is the aristocrat with the common touch. It is heavy, hard, strong, durable and, at the same time, easily worked. It's used in fine cabinet work, furniture, interior trim and any other place that calls for handsome display. Of course, it takes an excellent finish.

Save the Wall

DEPEND upon it, sooner or later you wife will want another electric outlet or two in the kitchen or someplace. Then you'll find yourself setting about to do the job and wondering how you can cut the necessary hole in a lath-and-plaster wall without cracking half the wall away.

Here's how to do it. First, drive a long wood screw through the plaster into a lath at the approximate center of the hole you're going to cut. Then, pulling outward on the screw to hold the lath firmly against the plaster, you simply cut the hole with a hacksaw blade. Hold the blade with the teeth pointing toward you so that you cut only on the pulling stroke.

Mrs. Anna H. Wright

Services for Mrs. Anna Hart Wright, 77, 873 E. 11th-av, a former Hilltop resident, who died Saturday in White Cross Hospital, were held at 10 a. m. Wednesday at Wylie E. Shroyer Funeral Home, 2553 W. Broad-st.

Widow of Dr. Irvin C. Wright, Mrs. Wright was a member of Hansberger Memorial Methodist Church and Lorraine Chapter, OES.

Surviving are four nephews, Roy, Robert, Charles and Herbert Minister, and a stepdaughter, Mary Reynolds. OES services were held at 8 p. m. Tuesday. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Logan.

Margaret Crum

Margaret J. Crum, 315 Columbian-av, died Tuesday, Dec. 26, at the residence.

She is survived by three sons, William E., Thomas A. and James F., all of Columbus; a daughter, Mrs. Sue Jenkins, Painesville; a sister, Kathryn S. Kennedy, Newark; 10 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Schoedinger's Hilltop Chapel will be in charge of the services to be held Friday, Dec. 29, at St. Aloysius Church. Interment will be at St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Friends may call at the residence after noon Thursday.

Hilltop Clubs Remember Children

Through the joint efforts of the Hilltop community's three service organizations, the Kiwanis, Hilltop Business Association and Kiwanikwe, the children of Woodrow "Woody" Clark, deceased member of the units, were remembered at Christmas time.

Billy, nine, and Carole, seven, received many useful gifts from the organizations at their home, 2523 Ridge-av.

H. J. Hoffman

Funeral services for Harland J. Hoffman, 79, 209 S. Ogden-av, who died Saturday in his home, were held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday in the Jerry Spears Funeral Home.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. L. O. Linville, and two brothers, William L. and Lyman W. Hoffman, all of Columbus. Burial was made in Green Lawn Cemetery.

Pat Murphy attended a plant given some printed instructions safety meeting. The boys had been and the Safety Man wanted to check results.

"Pat", he said, "can you give me six good reasons for safety?"

Now Pat wasn't up on his reading but he was quick on the comeback.

"Sure," he replied; "the four little Murphys, one wife, and myself."

To be appreciated, my love,
You must be seen.
I'm willing to look
With perception most keen;
I'll not miss a curve,
A line, or a dimple
My limitations are plain
The solution is simple:
Be caressed by the moon,
By the breeze be teased,
Be kissed by the rain,
And give yourself a squeeze.

Junior: She wants to marry a capitalist.

Topics of the Teens

Anytime you grow tired reading that young America is heading for the rocks, drop in here sometimes.

This particular meeting may go by any number of names. But in a general way, we'll call it a "town meeting for teen-agers"—and it's being held in the basement or conference room of a neighborhood church.

Listen in a minute. There's a lot of pros and cons being tossed about in here. Don't worry about that. Instead, hark back to your own teens when you were trying to get the world straightened out for yourself.

Here you'll hear current events, world and community happenings discussed as frequently as a page from the Bible. Good! For the Bible, as these young Americans are realizing, is much more than a book of ancient history. It is a set of precepts and principles that must be applied to the modern world—and are being applied right here.

As a good citizen yourself, you have a right to be proud of these church discussion groups. In them, a part of America's future is being forged by young people who believe wholeheartedly that the future belongs to those who prepare for it . . . now!

That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth; that our daughters may be as corner stones. . .
—Ps. 144:12

Local Minister Gives Up Annual New Year Custom

For the first time in more than thirty years a familiar custom will be broken on the Hilltop when Rev. Jacob Asburn, Jr., pastor of the Oakley Avenue Baptist will not make his annual New Year's Day visitation to more than 456 local homes. Ill health this year has forced the veteran minister to give up his house to house visitation.

Instead of his annual visitation the pastor is holding open house at the church parsonage located at 300 Oakley-av on New Year's Day from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m.

She is the wife of Rev. W. E. Riebel.

Nylon Jersey Blouses Win Applause

Spun nylon jersey, a new blouse fabric, fashions this tailored blouse with modified bat-wing, three-quarter sleeves and high, round neckline. A deep, curved yoke is edged with a covered cord which ties at center front in a small bow.

Need No Ironing—Warm as Wool

SPUN nylon jersey, which won't shrink, sag or bag, is making its first appearance in blouses combining high fashion with extreme practicality.

The nylon jersey, heat-set to stabilize shape and size, dries speedily and needs no ironing. It has, thus, the good nylon characteristics in combination with the look and warmth of jersey. Wrinkle recovery, too, is good. Creases hang out in a very short time.

One jersey blouse knitted entirely of spun nylon, and designed by Penny Potter, has a deep V neck and three-quarter length sleeves. Fine shirring curves sunburst fashion at the waistline to define the figure. This blouse is done in both pastels and dark colors, to harmonize or contrast with dark winter skirts.

Another such blouse, simply and smoothly tailored, has a high, round neckline as focal point for jewelry touches. A deep, curved yoke is edged with a covered cord which ties at the center front in a small bow. Modified bat-wing sleeves are three-quarter length.

Both blouses are ideal travel companions as each can be washed in a jiffy and worn an hour or so later. Like men's nylon shirts, which also require no ironing, the nylon jersey blouses should prove popular with saleswomen and weekend travelers

This spun nylon jersey blouse, which washes like a handkerchief, has simple V neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Shirring at the center of the waist molds the lines of the blouse. The fabric has been heat-set to stabilize its shape.

Friends Church Revival Meeting Starts Sunday

Sullivant Avenue Friends Church revival meeting will begin next Sunday, Dec. 31, and continue through Jan. 7, 1951.

Walter Crosby and wife bring the gospel message in preaching, magic and music.

Services each evening during the week at 7:30, announced J. William Crumrine, pastor.

"My ambition in life is to be a great doctor. I want to be a bone specialist."
"Well, you've got the head for it."

THE ART OF GETTING ALONG

Business life is a mixture of good days and bad, victory and defeat, give and take.

It doesn't pay to be a sensitive soul—let some things go over your head like water off a duck's back.

He who loses his temper usually loses.

All men have burnt toast for breakfast now and then, we shouldn't take the other fellow's grouch too seriously.

Carrying a chip on his shoulder is the easiest way to get into a fight.

The quickest way to become unpopular is to carry tales and gossip about others.

It doesn't matter so much who gets the credit so long as the business shows a profit.

Buck passing always turns out to be a boomerang, it never pays.

The business could run along perfectly well without you.

Even the janitor is human. It doesn't do any harm to smile and say "good morning" even if it is raining.

Most of the other fellows are as ambitious as you, they have brains that are as good or better. Hard work and not cleverness is the secret of success.

Sympathize with the youngster coming into business, remember how bewildered you were when you first started out.

Do not worry when you lose an order, because experience has shown that if you always give your best your average will break pretty well.

No man ever got to first base alone, it is only through cooperative effort that we move on to better things.

Bosses are no monsters, trying to get the last ounce of work out of you for the least amount of pay they are usually fine men who have succeeded through hard work and who want to do the right thing.

The gang is not any harder to get along with in one place than another, "getting along" depends about 98 per cent on your own behavior.—Author Unknown.

AT CHRISTMAS

How blessed we are who have a faith to share,
Who know we are remembered in another's prayer.
If we but put our hands in His,
Then He can lead us where still waters are;
Never is He so far but prayer can life us where
His quiet strength forever more endures
I give you this day
What is unchangingly yours — I cannot say
That paths are smooth,
When all too well I know the hilly road,
The pressure of the load,
The unchoser way we often walk because we must.
But we who dare not trust
In anything but Him have all we need;
How great our comfort, if we but remember
Our Saviour came to us one long ago December.
Then we may face another year, though fear
Walks close beside,
Because we know His love forever shall abide.
Our strength, our faith, our only hope is He—
But more than enough to last, for you—for me.

Ticklers — By George

"Our new waitress is a DP. She used to be in a skating act in vaudeville."

The young farm boy now wearing a soldier's uniform had difficulty expressing himself. During sentry duty one evening, the youth challenged the officer of the day with: "Halt! Look who's here."

"Will you step chewing gum while I'm kissing you?"
"I can't understand you . . . the slightest things annoy you."

"My father always proposed a toast before he disciplined me."
"That's funny. What was it?"
"Bottoms up."

"To make a woman hold her tongue, be you first silent."

He asked her for a burning kiss.
She answered in accents cruel—
"Like any discriminating miss,
I ain't nobody's fuel."

YET WHAT SATISFACTION THERE IS IN GETTING THIS DECISION MADE
"Some other day," we say, as somehow we hate to face one of life's most important decisions—the choice of a family burial estate.

But how sensible to choose it now. Then this family matter will be a family decision. Everyone concerned can have his say, so decide today to visit Sunset Cemetery and make your selection.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

THE NEW YEAR
A flower unblown; a book unread;
A tree with fruit unharvested;
A path untrod; a house whose rooms
Lack yet the heart's divine perfumes;
A landscape whose wide border lies
In silent shade 'neath silent skies;
A wondrous fountain yet unsealed;
A casket with its gifts concealed—
This is the year that for you waits
Beyond tomorrow's mystic gates.
Horatio Nelson Powers
(1826-1890)

"A New Year's gift to the world," said the Frost,

Here is a different "traveling salesman story": This particular salesman had spent 30 of his 55 years traveling about the country. When he was awarded first prize in a nation-wide Bible quiz contest he was asked how he happened to know the Bible so thoroughly. He answered, "I've spent 30-odd years of evenings in hotel rooms with nothing to do but read the Bibles on the dressers there."

If you can't sleep nights, tune in on "Open House" heard each night, rather early morning, over WLW. The host of Open House is Ken Linn, a real host who is more than a d-j. He opens the doors at 12:30 a. m. and closes them at 5. His audience is vast; letters and phone calls reach him from California to Maine; from Canada to Florida. This program is a boon to insomnia victims.

Lifted from The London Prison FARMER: "A young newlywed stood in the meat market looking over the different meats in the showcase. The clerk asked, 'And what can I do for you, madam?' Shyly, she replied, 'What do you have that I can make over if I don't cook it right the first time?'"

Pome to end all pomes (and to make Ogden Nash feel superior):
THE POET
He was sure Fate had decreed he'd be a poet
and decided if the world was skeptical, he'd show it.
So he wrote reams of verse, and his faith no one could shake it,
but it seemed that none of the editors to whom he sent it, could take it.
They said "This stuff is not available,"
still our poet was confident it was saleable.
He discovered there is many a slip—
of the common or rejection variety—between flip Fame
and Genius's flame.
One day a homing sonnet
returned with the well-known slip clipped upon it,
and in his haste to send it off to another editor,
he forgot to remove the rejection-slip
which the first editor had attached with a paper-clip and sent it along to the second editor, who—seeing the first editor's slip—reckoned
HE didn't want any, either,
so he scribbled at the bottom of the slip: "Me neither!"

Two Christmas cards came, signed "The Thing." Thanks, whoever is hiding behind that alias.

My granddaughter, age 2½, had announced to her family that she would eliminate the middle man and tell her Christmas wants to nobody but Santa Claus, himself. So Grandpa undertook to disguise his voice and find out, via phone, what she wanted. All went well during the preamble—the usual questions: "What is your name, little girl?"; "Have you been a good girl?" (this was of course answered in the affirmative and Grandma defies anyone to contradict); and the $64 question, "What do you want me to bring you?" She got as far as the second item on her list, then turned to her mother who was standing by, taking notes, and said in disgust, "Mommie, that's Grandpa!" It took the combined efforts of the Weakly clan the rest of the day to explain that one.

Austrian 4-H Youth On Visit Here, Finds America Amazing

By Mrs. James W. Whalen

The students of the Rome School were delighted and impressed by Johan Ebner, 16-year-old youth from Salzburg, Austria, who visited classes during Wednesday and Thursday and was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hoffman, 758 Rome-Hilliards-rd.

Johan Ebner, a handsome, gracious 4-H Club enthusiast, won his trip to our country through actual and honest endeavor, and his marvelous personality. His project was his brown Swiss calf. He arrived in the United States on Nov. 22, along with 11 other boys and girls who had qualified through their 4-H work and were awarded this trip through the Marshall Plan. All are interested in agriculture and are visiting rural homes throughout the country.

Johan's reaction to our high standards of living, intense acceleration, educational system, ice cream (first introduction in this country), fascinating kitchen appliances and units, fabulous mechanical farm equipment, television, and all things which are America, was "It's just wonderful, wonderful indeed!" "Our councilor prepared us in a small degree for the magnificence and breath-taking wonders we would all observe, but not sufficiently," concluded Johan with a happy smile.

All of Johan's clothes were handmade by his mother, and beautifully tailored. His buttons he carved himself from the horns of a steer. He has completed his academic schooling and plans further education in agriculture in a nearby university upon his return home on Jan. 5.

Johan enjoyed the companionship of Roy, age 13, Larry, 10, and Ruth Ann, nine, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hoffman, and especially their family life together. Mrs. Hoffman had a special treat for Johan on his last day with them—fried chicken—and he expressed his delight and said he had never tasted this before either.

Johan's younger sister, Johanne, is eight years old and is a source of great pride to him. He obviously is from a family of above-average income, background and temperament. His father owns a 70-acre farm, which is comparable to our western ranches, as the majority of farms are very small and intensively tilled.

He was impressed by our American ways and our gracious and wonderful hospitality, and sincerely hopes that he may again return or possibly that one of his friends from his home community may be equally as fortunate.

Almanac Makes Debut For '51

The coming year will be cold and humid. Easter will fall on March 25, and the best time to cut your locks to produce a full head of hair is on the increase of the moon, according to Baer's Agricultural Almanac for 1951.

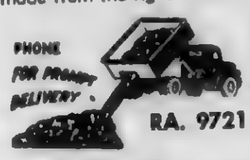
This almanac, now in its 126th annual edition, is known to many residents hereabouts as the "Lancaster" Almanac, since it has been published at Lancaster, Pa., since 1825 by John Baer and his successors.

One of the few publications of this type still existing, the almanac is known to many as "the encyclopaedia on a string" because from early times it was hung by a piece of string near the kitchen stove and referred to daily.

The 1951 edition contains a number of interesting items, such as the information that there will be two "ring" eclipses of the sun, on March 7 and Sept. 1. The latter will be visible in this area if the sky is clear.

A date with a modern girl is an open and shut proposition—eat, eat, eat.

Churches Join In New Yr. Services



Two periods distinctly cover the New Year's Eve service at the Burgess Avenue EUB Church this coming Sunday evening. At 8:30 the young people of the Burgess Avenue EUB Church Youth Fellowship and Hilltonia Youth Fellowship will meet in the basement for a period of fun and fellowship. The period will consist of group singing led by Orla Bradford of Westerville, light refreshments, and some youth games. This part of the New Year's service will be conducted at 10 p. m.

The second part of the evening's gathering will begin at 10 o'clock in the main auditorium. This will include a song service, a colored chalk drawing by artist Orla Bradford, a candlelight communion service, the forming of a Friendship Circle and a bidding goodbye to the old year and the welcoming in of the new year.

This service will include the Burgess Avenue EUB, the Hilltonia EUB, and the Westgate EUB Churches, with each of the visiting ministers participating in the program.

There will be no 6:30 service nor 7:30 service at the church. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bradford will be present to render their services in the planned program. Mr. Bradford is now a student in Otterbein College at Westerville.

Prince Of Peace Winner Seeks More Practice

Wanted—audiences on which to practice. That was the desire today of Gail Hinton, 2739 Sutton-av, who has won the county silver medal Prince of Peace declamation contest and is now in training for the district gold medal contest, to be held just after the holidays.

Acting on a suggestion from the office of the Ohio Council of Churches, sponsor of the annual Prince of Peace Contest, the local county winner is ready to arrange engagements to give the medal-winning declamation before church groups, luncheon clubs or other organizations.

"Such engagements will help spread the peace message, which after all is the primary purpose of this contest, and in addition will give you valuable experience and practice in facing audiences and delivering your declamation effectively," Rev. B. F. Lamb, president of the Ohio Council of Churches, said in a letter to all silver medal winners in the state.

Miss Hinton will compete with about six or seven others in a district contest on either Sunday, Dec. 31 or Sunday, Jan. 7. The winner of that contest will be awarded a gold medal and will be eligible for the state competition, in which cash prizes and college scholarships will be given to the successful contestants.

The time and place of the district competition is to be announced later. There will be about 21 such contests in the state.

Senior: "What do you do with your clothes when you wear them out?"

Town girl: "Why, silly boy, I wear them back home again, of course."

"This pen leaks," complained the convict, as the rain came through the roof.

Turkey Contest Winner Named

Rosemary Wolfe, 731 S. Eureka-av, was the winner of the Dec. 14 Christmas Turkey Contest with her entry of a miniature record player with the records representing the various entries. Mrs. Wolfe is shown above receiving the award of a certificate for her Christmas turkey which was delivered to her home Dec. 22. Winner of last week's contest was Mildred Phaler, 125 S. Powell-av. Miss Phaler is librarian at the Hilltop Branch of Columbus Public Library.

Dog License Sales Reported On Decrease

Dog license sales to date amount to about one-half the number sold at this time last year, according to reports from the office of the county auditor. Officers of the humane society, cooperating in the sale of dog licenses, also state that the number of applications they've received is lower than in previous years. At the same time, cases of rabies are still being brought into the animal shelter from the county.

A license is required by law for every dog three months of age and older, and is the best protection your pet can have. Through a license tag, the owner of a lost or injured dog can be located within a few minutes by checking with the county auditor's office. The threat of rabies can be almost entirely eliminated if owners purchase license tags for their dogs and make certain the animals are kept under proper control and restraint at all times.

You can obtain a dog license by visiting or writing the office of the County Auditor, Court House, or you can file an application with humane officers. If you mail in your application, be sure to include the proper amount for the license fee together with a description of the dog giving age, sex, breed, or type, etc. License fees are $1 for male and spayed female dogs; $3 for female dogs, and $10 for a kennel license.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Old Father Time has only a few more days before he passes out of the picture—while Baby New Year is just around the corner smiling at the folks who are making New Year's resolutions, wondering how many will really keep them.

One person, BOB WOODLAWN, has resolved to spend no more money than his weekly check provides. A wise owl is he. "No more charge accounts," he says.

We all had a happy holiday here in the Hi Ridge section, while BETTY LOU ROEDERER went South for a taste of summer in Texas where her sister lives. Together they went to a ranch home in Mexico.

Betty decided, since the weather man said "no white Christmas" this year, she may as well go where it's warm. Wait until she hears we had a white Christmas after all.

MRS. BROBECK'S daughter on our street was the first in our neighborhood to put reindeer and Santa up on her roof. Later we saw some hover on Whitethorne.

Most of the Christmas trees were trimmed before time, and the only accident we heard of so far was when BILLY GOODLOE pulled the lower branch and the entire setting fell over on him. He wasn't hurt except for the spanking he got.

New Year's Eve parties are coming up at the various homes—the WATTS', the MONROES, the C. C. WILLIAMS', and no doubt others that we haven't heard about yet.

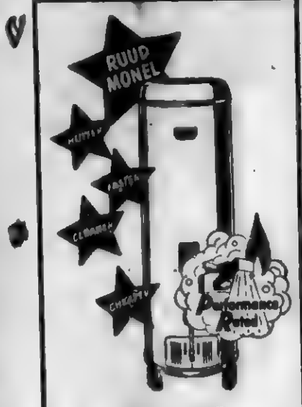
JULIA CLINE is a clever person. She won a table setting on a radio telephone quiz when she was called the other day.

Sunday MRS. RICHARD HUTTON opened her door to husbands as well as members of her guild. Her home was all decorated for the holidays and she fed them a casserole supper at her luncheon.

LOREN HIGHFILL has a new green "Olds". Santa had a hard time sliding it down the chimney, and he wore out a battery doing it. But L. G., good natured as he is, went out and got a new battery, chalking it up to "experience".

Happy New Year, folks! See you next year.

Many fortune hunters are window-shopping.



Most of us know how to say nothing; few of us know when.

"All you think about is golf, golf, golf. I'll bet you don't even remember the day we were married."

"Yes, I do, dear. It was the day I sank that fifty-foot putt."

Notice in college paper to all vets on the campus still wearing GI garb: "Don't forget to change to summer issue on May 12."

Landlady: "Has Mr. Newboard found something fresh to complain about this morning?"
Cook: "No. It's the eggs."

Pvt: "I landed in the army but I should have been in the navy. It's a tradition in my family. My father was a famous sea captain. All his life the finance company referred to him as 'The Old Skipper'."

A student had an inspiration for a new kind of college with drive-in classes. Students won't have to leave their cars. They simply drive up and park, then listen to the professor over a speaker system. When it comes to answering questions, one honk means "Yes." Two honks, "No."

THE NEW YEAR

A flower unblown; a book unread;
A tree with fruit unharvested;
A path untrod; a house whose rooms
Lack yet the heart's divine perfumes;
A landscape whose wide border lies
In silent shade 'neath silent skies;
A wondrous fountain yet unsealed;
A casket with its gifts concealed—
This is the year that for you waits
Beyond tomorrow's mystic gates.
Horatio Nelson Powers
(1826-1890)

Here is a different "traveling salesman story": This particular salesman had spent 30 of his 55 years traveling about the country. When he was awarded first prize in a nation-wide Bible quiz contest he was asked how he happened to know the Bible so thoroughly. He answered, "I've spent 30-odd years of evenings in hotel rooms with nothing to do but read the Bibles on the dressers there."

If you can't sleep nights, tune in on "Open House" heard each night, rather early morning, over WLW. The host of Open House is Ken Linn, a real host who is more than a d-j. He opens the doors at 12:30 a. m. and closes them at 5. His audience is vast; letters and phone calls reach him from California to Maine; from Canada to Florida. This program is a boon to insomnia victims.

Lifted from The London Prison FARMER: "A young newlywed stood in the meat market looking over the different meats in the showcase. The clerk asked, 'And what can I do for you, madam?' Shyly, she replied, 'What do you have that I can make over if I don't cook it right the first time?' "

Pome to end all pomes (and to make Ogden Nash feel superior):

THE POET

He was sure Fate had decreed he'd be a poet
and decided if the world was skeptical, he'd show it.
So he wrote reams of verse, and his faith no one could shake it,
but it seemed that none of the editors to whom he sent it, could take it.
They said "This stuff is not available,"
still our poet was confident it was saleable.
He discovered there is many a slip—
of the common or rejection variety—between flip Fame
and Genius's flame.
One day a homing sonnet
returned with the well-known slip clipped upon it,
and in his haste to send it off to another editor,
he forgot to remove the rejection-slip
which the first editor had attached with a paper-clip
and sent it along to the second editor, who—seeing the first editor's slip—reckoned
HE didn't want any, either,
so he scribbled at the bottom of the slip: "Me neither!"

Two Christmas cards came, signed "The Thing." Thanks, whoever is hiding behind that alias.

My granddaughter, age 2½, had announced to her family that she would eliminate the middle man and tell her Christmas wants to nobody but Santa Claus, himself. So Grandpa undertook to disguise his voice and find out, via phone, what she wanted. All went well during the preamble—the usual questions: "What is your name, little girl?"; "Have you been a good girl?" (this was of course answered in the affirmative and Grandma defies anyone to contradict); and the $64 question, "What do you want me to bring you?" She got as far as the second item on her list, then turned to her mother who was standing by, taking notes, and said in disgust, "Mommie, that's Grandpa!" It took the combined efforts of the Weakly clan the rest of the day to explain that one.

Austrian 4-H Youth On Visit Here, Finds America Amazing

By Mrs. James W. Whalen

The students of the Rome School were delighted and impressed by Johan Ebner, 16-year-old youth from Salzburg, Austria, who visited classes during Wednesday and Thursday and was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hoffman, 758 Rome-Hilliard-rd.

Johan Ebner, a handsome, gracious 4-H Club enthusiast, won his trip to our country through actual and honest endeavor, and his marvelous personality. His project was his brown Swiss calf. He arrived in the United States on Nov. 22, along with 11 other boys and girls who had qualified through their 4-H work and were awarded this trip through the Marshall Plan. All are interested in agriculture and are visiting rural homes throughout the country.

Johan's reaction to our high standards of living, intense acceleration, educational system, ice cream (first introduction in this country), fascinating kitchen appliances and units, fabulous mechanical farm equipment, television, and all things which are America, was "It's just wonderful, wonderful indeed!" "Our councilor prepared us in a small degree for the magnificence and breath-taking wonders we would all observe, but not sufficiently," concluded Johan with a happy smile.

All of Johan's clothes were handmade by his mother, and beautifully tailored. His buttons he carved himself from the horns of a steer. He has completed his academic schooling and plans further education in agriculture in a nearby university upon his return home on Jan. 5.

Johan enjoyed the companionship of Roy, age 13, Larry, 10, and Ruth Ann, nine, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hoffman, and especially their family life together. Mrs. Hoffman had a special treat for Johan on his last day with them—fried chicken—and he expressed his delight and said he had never tasted this before either.

Johan's younger sister, Johanne, is eight years old and is a source of great pride to him. He obviously is from a family of above-average income, background and temperament. His father owns a 70-acre farm, which is comparable to our western ranches, as the majority of farms are very small and intensively tilled.

He was impressed by our American ways and our gracious and wonderful hospitality, and sincerely hopes that he may again return or possibly that one of his friends from his home community may be equally as fortunate.

Almanac Makes Debut For '51

The coming year will be cold and humid, Easter will fall on March 25, and the best time to cut your locks to produce a full head of hair is on the increase of the moon, according to Baer's Agricultural Almanac for 1951.

This almanac, now in its 126th annual edition, is known to many residents hereabouts as the "Lancaster" Almanac, since it has been published at Lancaster, Pa., since 1825 by John Baer and his successors.

One of the few publications of this type still existing, the almanac is known to many as "the encyclopaedia on a string" because from early times it was hung by a piece of string near the kitchen stove and referred to daily.

The 1951 edition contains a number of interesting items, such as the information that there will be two "ring" eclipses of the sun, on March 7 and Sept. 1. The latter will be visible in this area if the sky is clear.

A date with a modern girl is an open and shut proposition—eat, eat, eat.

Churches Join In New Yr. Services

Two periods distinctly cover the New Year's Eve service at the Burgess Avenue EUB Church this coming Sunday evening. At 8:30 the young people of the Burgess Avenue EUB Church Youth Fellowship and Hilltonia Youth Fellowship will meet in the basement for a period of fun and fellowship. The period will consist of group singing led by Orla Bradford of Westerville, light refreshments, and some youth games. This part of the New Year's service will be conducted at 10 p. m.

The second part of the evening's gathering will begin at 10 o'clock in the main auditorium. This will include a song service, a colored chalk drawing by artist Orla Bradford, a candlelight communion service, the forming of a Friendship Circle and a bidding goodbye to the old year and the welcoming in of the new year.

This service will include the Burgess Avenue EUB, the Hilltonia EUB, and the Westgate EUB Churches, with each of the visiting ministers participating in the program.

There will be no 6:30 service nor 7:30 service at the church. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bradford will be present to render their services in the planned program. Mr. Bradford is now a student in Otterbein College at Westerville.

Prince Of Peace Winner Seeks More Practice

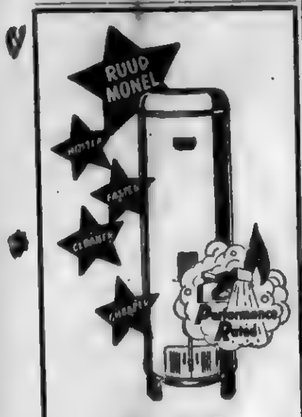
Wanted—audiences on which to practice. That was the desire today of Gail Hinton, 2739 Sutton-av, who has won the county silver medal Prince of Peace declamation contest and is now in training for the district gold medal contest, to be held just after the holidays.

Acting on a suggestion from the office of the Ohio Council of Churches, sponsor of the annual Prince of Peace Contest, the local county winner is ready to arrange engagements to give the medal-winning declamation before church groups, luncheon clubs or other organizations.

"Such engagements will help spread the peace message, which after all is the primary purpose of this contest, and in addition will give you valuable experience and practice in facing audiences and delivering your declamation effectively," Rev. B. F. Lamb, president of the Ohio Council of Churches, said in a letter to all silver medal winners in the state.

Miss Hinton will compete with about six or seven others in a district contest on either Sunday, Dec. 31 or Sunday, Jan. 7. The winner of that contest will be awarded a gold medal and will be eligible for the state competition, in which cash prizes and college scholarships will be given to the successful contestants.

The time and place of the district competition is to be announced later. There will be about 21 such contests in the state.



Senior: "What do you do with your clothes when you wear them out?"

Town girl: "Why, silly boy, I wear them back home again, of course."

"This pen leaks," complained the convict, as the rain came through the roof.

Dog License Sales Reported On Decrease

Dog license sales to date amount to about one-half the number sold at this time last year, according to reports from the office of the county auditor. Officers of the humane society, cooperating in the sale of dog licenses, also state that the number of applications they've received is lower than in previous years. At the same time, cases of rabies are still being brought into the animal shelter from the county.

A license is required by law for every dog three months of age and older, and is the best protection your pet can have. Through a license tag, the owner of a lost or injured dog can be located within a few minutes by checking with the county auditor's office. The threat of rabies can be almost entirely elliminated if owners purchase license tags for their dogs and make certain the animals are kept under proper control and restraint at all times.

You can obtain a dog license by visiting or writing the office of the County Auditor, Court House, or you can file an application with humane officers. If you mail in your application, be sure to include the proper amount for the license fee together with a description of the dog giving age, sex, breed, or type, etc. License fees are $1 for male and spayed female dogs; $3 for female dogs, and $10 for a kennel license.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Old Father Time has only a few more days before he passes out of the picture—while Baby New Year is just around the corner smiling at the folks who are making New Year's resolutions; wondering how many will really keep them.

One person, BOB WOODLAWN, has resolved to spend no more money than his weekly check provides. A wise owl is he. "No more charge accounts," he says.

We all had a happy holiday here in the Hi Ridge section, while BETTY LOU ROEDERER went South for a taste of summer in Texas where her sister lives. Together they went to a ranch home in Mexico.

Betty decided, since the weather man said "no white Christmas" this year, she may as well go where it's warm. Wait until she hears we had a white Christmas after all.

MRS. BROBECK'S daughter on our street was the first in our neighborhood to put reindeer and Santa up on her roof. Later we saw some hover on Whitethorne.

Most of the Christmas trees were trimmed before time, and the only accident we heard of so far was when BILLY GOODLOE pulled the lower branch and the entire setting fell over on him. He wasn't hurt except for the spanking he got.

New Year's Eve parties are coming up at the various homes—the WATTS', the MONROES, the C. C. WILLIAMS', and no doubt others that we haven't heard about yet.

JULIA CLINE is a clever person. She won a table setting on a radio telephone quiz when she was called the other day.

Sunday MRS. RICHARD HUTTON opened her door to husbands as well as members of her guild. Her home was all decorated for the holidays and she fed them a casserole supper at her luncheon.

LOREN HIGHFILL has a new green "Olds". Santa had a hard time sliding it down the chimney, and he wore out a battery doing it. But L. G., good natured as he is, went out and got a new battery, chalking it up to "experience".

Happy New Year, folks! See you next year.

Many fortune hunters are window-shopping.

Most of us know how to say nothing; few of us know when.

"All you think about is golf, golf, golf. I'll bet you don't even remember the day we were married."

"Yes, I do, dear. It was the day I sank that fifty-foot putt."

HILLIARDS School Notes

Farewell Luncheon

Faculty members of Hilliards High School held a luncheon on Dec 21, honoring Mrs. Faythe Sheehan, instructor here for the past four years. Mrs. Sheehan has resigned her position as English teacher and will be replaced the first of the year by Mrs. Virginia Swanington, a graduate of Denison University.

Mary Kohler and Mildred Mitchell served on the committee of arrangements. Richard Barton presented Mrs. Sheehan with a gift from the group.

Tea Honors Teachers

Mrs. A. F. Fassig of Hilliards gave a tea on Wednesday, Dec. 14, at her home on Rome Hilliards-rd, as a Christmas courtesy to the women teachers of Hilliards High School.

Refreshments of tea, assorted sandwiches, and Christmas cookies were served by the host.

Hilliards Wins

The Hilliards "Wildcats" were victors over University's "Little Bucks" Wednesday, Dec. 20, by a score of 50 to 46.

Jack Galbraith and Dick Hansen were Hilliard's main sparks. University's high scorers were Ferguson and Schmidt.

After a fairly even first half, Hilliard pulled away in the third quarter with a 13 point lead. University then powered back in the fourth quarter to come within two points of winning the game.

Honor Roll

Measles For Christmas

Beverly, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen, 2277 Sullivant-av, is confined with the measles and the was wary that old Santa would not call on her because of her ailment. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Steele, former Hilltoppers, however, report that the old gent was not in the least worried by the quarantine sign and came to the Steele home as usual.

"My worst sin," she sighed, "is vanity. I spend hours each day before a mirror admiring my beauty."

NAMES MAKE NEWS

Every week the Record carries in its local news columns hundreds of names of people from the Hilltop and nearby areas and their friends.

If you are interested in people, you will be interested in the Record, for in no other place can you find out what so many of the people you know are doing.

True, the greatest part of these names were not involved in big news. And this is fortunate, for big news is usually bad news. But if you want to know the things that happened, good and bad, to the people around you, read The Hilltop Record.

And, by the way, you can help us by telephoning your items in to us.

Starting The New Year Off Right

We would like to have the time to write a personal letter to all the many people who have been so cooperative in our various contacts in work in the community during the past year.

Just this week we received a mighty welcome letter from the head of one local organization in which he expressed the opinion that our service in his group had been very helpful in the realization of a successful year. Such words are most kind and welcomed. It makes us feel good that our efforts are not unnoticed.

On the start of another new year we take this opportunity to again say "Thanks for everything" and we sincerely hope our year of 1951 may be filled to overflowing with service to an ever increasing number of people.

Maybe We Have Been In The Hour Before Dawn

That hour before dawn is most always the darkest and we are all aware of some very dark hours recently. There are many who are inclined to be very pessimistic over the outlook for 1951. Rather than assume such an attitude it would be better to be realistic and face the future with a determination to do something about our situation.

Most certainly 1951 should be a year of determinationon the part of the American people that we want no part of the isms that have brought the world to its present condition. And likewise we should be insistent on the establishment of a government of truth, one in which we may have faith.

The American people have a way of standing up for the things that are good and the things they believe in. This goes for leadership in our government.

With such a demand on the part of the great majority we can face the new year with a lot of hope that the future can be bright and mine again.

Things We'd Like To See For The Hilltop In '51

2. Completion of the new Sullivant Avenue fire house.
3. Unified opening and closing hours of local merchants to better accommodate the public.
4. Progress in the direction of establishing extra school facilities near Mound-st and in Westgate.
5. Marked progress in the program of the Hilltop YMCA and continued growth of the 'Y' building fund.
6. More parking space made available by reduction in the space given to the buses.
7. A well planned and executed program of decorating in the business sections at Christmas time.
8. Establish the requirement that all dogs must be vaccinated for rabies before licenses are issued.

10. Provide for more adequate control of traffic on W. Mound-st in order to reduce the number of accidents.
11. Stricter enforcement of the law against red light jumping, speeding, etc.
12. A determined effort to see that the Hilltop redeems itself in the eyes of the Red Cross Blood Bank by conducting a well organized blood donation campaign.
13. Steps taken to assure the development of the McKinley Avenue Expressway.
14. The opening of the new municipal golf course during the year.
15. Further development of the white way lighting on the Hilltop.

S. Wheatland-av Couple Become Parents Of The First Hilltop Baby Of The Year

Proud parents of the Hilltop's first Baby of the Year beam as Norman Eugene Milan gets his first photograph taken. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Milan, 114 S. Wheatland-av, were surprised to learn that their first son had been accorded the honor.

It's a BOY!

That's the winner of the 1951 Stork Derby just concluded by The Hilltop Record in cooperation with many Hilltop merchants who offered valuable prizes to the first baby of the Hilltop born in 1951.

Westgate Marine Missing In Korea

Mr. and Mrs. Russell S. Forgrave, Sr., 169 S. Westgate, were notified Tuesday by the Marine Corps that their son, Russell S. Forgrave, Jr., was reported missing in action in Korea on Nov. 28.

He was a graduate of Columbus Evening High School and the Merchant Marine School at St. Petersburg, Fla. He was a member of the Columbus Marine Reserve Unit called to active duty Sept. 4, and was a member of Co. C, 1st Battalion, 7th Infantry, when he was reported missing.

Hilltop Mother Deeply Thankful For Blood Donors

There is one Hilltop mother who is very thankful that there is available a blood bank in Columbus and she says that without it her son would in all probability not be among the living today.

Mrs. Ruth H. Smith, 36 S. Wheatland-av, this past week expressed her deepest gratitude to the score or more of blood donors and the Red Cross in furnishing 17 pints of the life-giving fluid for her son, Richard, 24, who was rushed to Mt Carmel Hospital Dec. 11, suffering from internal hemorrhages.

Immediate surgery and blood furnished by the Red Cross, Mrs. Smith says, were the factors which enabled her to return her son from the hospital on Dec. 30. Between tears of thanksgiving she said, "Thank them all for me."

Mound-Hague Is Scene of Fatal Auto Accident

BULLETIN

Robert F. Cochran, 17, 3064 Sullivant-av, driver of the death car which claimed the life of Lee B. Shott in a traffic accident at W. Mound-st and Hague-av early Sunday, has been slated for a hearing in juvenile court today on charges of second degree manslaughter and not possessing a driver's license.

A South Side youth of 20, Lee B. Shott, died at 1:38 a. m. Sunday in Mt. Carmel Hospital less than four hours after an auto accident in which he was involved at one of Hilltop's most dangerous intersections, W. Mound-st and Hague-av.

According to police, Shott, who lived at 429 Hanford-st, was westbound in Mound-st when his car was in collision with an auto driven by Robert F. Cochran, IV, 3064 Sullivant-av, traveling north in Hague-av.

Shott suffered a fractured skull and chest injuries and his niece, Patricia Havens, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Havens, 2369 Wicklow-rd, who was a passenger in the car, suffered shock and knee, hands and face cuts. Her condition is listed as "fair" by Mt. Carmel Hospital attaches.

Cochran suffered only minor face cuts and was ordered to police headquarters Tuesday for further questioning by Patrolman Robert E. Gloeckner, traffic investigator, and juvenile bureau authorities.

Police said that the impact of the crash carried both cars into the lawns of homes 25 feet from the intersection. The jeepster driven by Shott was demolished and the car driven by Cochran caught fire after the impact. Firemen extinguished the blaze.

Shott, an employe of the Ohio State Life Insurance Co., is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shott, with whom he lived. Three brothers, Walter, Jr., James and Pat Shott, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Havens and Mrs. Delores Mayer, also survive.

J. F. HURD NAMED AIDE

Hilltopper James F. Hurd was appointed corporation counsel in the secretary of state's office Wednesday. Ted W. Brown, Republican, who becomes secretary of state next Monday, announced the appointment.

'How Much Longer Will We Wait?'

How much longer is it going to take the residents of this community who are dog owners to realize that their pets are harbinger of death?

How much longer will the people of this community ignore warnings which have been sounded throughout this area of the danger of rabies?

Are the people of this community going to go complacently until death by rabies robs them of a loved member of the family?

Are the dog owners of this area going to permit their dogs to loose, become infected with rabies, bite some trusting child, then become remorseful and contrite because they were too lazy or too stubborn to restrain their dogs from wandering at large?

This past week-end two more small children were bitten by rabid dogs in this community. One child was bitten in the Mound-st danger zone for anyone so bitten, according to health authorities.

This recent outbreak confronts the entire community with a danger that cannot be casually shrugged aside as a matter of fact. Health officers and humane officers are not going to take this attitude toward the rabies menace. They are not going to permit residents of this community lightly. They are going to enforce the quarantine. Dogs running loose are not going to be tolerated. They are going to be chased home and when the owner cannot be found or will not be found of the dog determined, an arrest is going to be made.

One of the rabid dogs discovered in this area this week had bitten at least 30 other dogs in the Money Road area. Residents of this area are especially urged to restrain their pets and to beware of any strange dogs in the community. Any such dogs should be reported to the Humane Society and report that dog's presence should be made.

COMPULSORY IMMUNIZATION OF DOGS

necessary and essential to public health. The Hilltop Record strongly urges that a measure of this kind be passed in Franklin County health officials immediately and that all agencies cooperate to the fullest extent in the enforcement of such an order.

On the people of this community rests the responsibility of keeping their pets off the streets and from roaming at large, of not permitting a dog to run loose from any premises. Developments in the rabies situation in this area are a threat to the health and safety of the community and should be treated with the utmost seriousness in the severest manner permissible.

Report Rabies Increase; Arrests Now Threatened

Franklin County Health Inspector Reynolds today sounded a definite warning to all dog owners in this vicinity that Humane Society Officers were beginning a canvass of the community for stray dogs. He said that a dog would not be picked up by the officers until they had traced it to its owner and then that arrests would be made for violations of quarantine imposed several weeks past in an effort to halt the incidence of rabies.

The drastic action was brought about during this past week when two more rabid dogs were discovered in the vicinity of Wilson and Fisher-rds. One of the rabid dogs had bitten a small boy in the face and health officials feared that the case may take on serious results. They pointed out that bites above the shoulders from a rabid animal can be fatal if not treated within one hour from time of infection.

The two dogs found this week were owned by William Koogler, 3449 Fisher-rd, and Melvin Planck, 901 Wilson-rd. The dog owned by the Koogler family is reported to have bitten their young grandson in the face. The youth and his grandparents are now taking treatment against rabies.

Residents in the Moneyback Addition reported that the dog owned by Planck had bitten at least 30 other animals in that neighborhood. The dog is alleged to have bitten Richard Six, 3344 Brookside-dr, on the left hand.

In the meantime county and health authorities are studying a plan of compulsory immunization for all animals in this area in an effort to reduce the danger of the current rabies epidemic. Action is expected within the next few days as soon as a complete study of the situation can be made.

Health authorities from both city and county are urging all dog and pet owners to place their pets under restraint and to keep them off the streets. It is urged that pets acting in an odd manner be reported to health officials immediately.

Seven Are Hurt In Collision

Two persons were seriously injured and five others injured when a station wagon rammed the rear of a parked truck inside the General Motors Ternstedt Division plant grounds Tuesday morning.

Admitted to Mt. Carmel Hospital were the driver of the station wagon, Charles Yeder, 33, of 1979 Ormond-av, who suffered back and head injuries and Ernest Badurina, 26, of 3203 Oaklawn-av, who suffered right arm and knee injuries.

Injured less seriously were Mrs. Marie Morrison, 29, of 1554 E. Cooke-rd, back and leg injuries; Howard Davis, 28, of 1837 of Elmore-av, right eye cut; Edward D'Andrea, 33, of 3175 Oaklawn-av, leg injuries; Ray Lilly, 42, of 1172 Lenore-av, stomach and knee injuries; and Mrs. Mary Keller, 27, of 1980 Lahner-rd, leg injuries.

Jack Downing Is Named New 'Y' Secretary

"I have no prediction to make in regards to my plans for the local branch of the YMCA," said the new executive secretary Jack C. Downing today, "I'll do my best and let what achievement I make speak for itself. The work I'll do will be entirely within the concepts of the rules of the YMCA."

Such was the statement Downing issued today as he took over the post vacated by Averille Thorn who has been recalled to duty with the Army Air Forces. Downing is no newcomer to the Hilltop having been familiar with the area for most of his life.

During the past year and a half he has acted in the capacity of program secretary at the local "Y" a job which he assumed after his graduation ffrom Otterbein College where he majored in physical education and sociology. As a student at Otterbein he had formulated plans for a teaching and coaching career but this has been bypassed in order to continue work with youth and providing a guidance program for them.

Downing at present time resides at 2298 Lexington-av with his wife Mary Alice and son Jack Raymond who is 4 years of age. He plans to move to the Hilltop area whenever suitable housing is available.

He is a graduate of West High School of the class of 1936. After graduation he served in the [illegible] forces in the Central Pacific [illegible]

Jack Sherick Again Becomes Sa[illegible] To Children Of Three Local O[illegible]

Jack Sherick [illegible] on the stage drank so[illegible] from sippled bottles, while chewing crackers to blow the biggest bu[illegible] dropped clothes pins [illegible] bottles.

A red and green crepe paper bedecked dance studio became heaven for 100 orphans Sunday afternoon, when Jack Sherick gave his 12th annual Christmas party for children from St. Vincent's, St. Ann's and Hare orphanages.

Shouts of "look what I got" mingled with "ohs" and "ahs" of admiration as the groups of youngsters, aged 2 to 15, unwrapped their presents.

Regulation footballs flew over heads, mama and baby dolls were dressed and undressed, red guns clicked in imitation warfare and everyone, including the spectators and sponsors, wore grins that spread ear to ear.

But the biggest grin in the studio, located at 88½ E. Long, belonged to Jack Sherick, 396 Demorest-st, who gave the party, and to Sally Flowers, WTVN-WBNS comedienne, and George Hardy, 466 S. Richardson-av, of local minstrel fame, who emceed the party.

The party began with performances by a group of Mr. Sherick's students. Then, after consuming quantities of ice cream, the orphans became the main attraction, when audience participation games were held.

The audience alternately laughed, cheered, whistled, stomped and held their breath as their friends [illegible] Hardy's skillful handl[illegible] fright disappeared and

In Franklin County 1950 was the second highest year in history in the number of polio cases. To date 72 have been reported, a number which is exceeded only by the 1947 record of 118 cases. In some counties in northern Ohio the epidemic struck with one case to every 500 inhabitants. This year more than ever it is necessary to contribute to the March of Dimes.

Prayer Service Planned For Local Church

Morning prayer services for workers on their way to their jobs, students school-bound and all others residents of the Hilltop community will be sponsored by the Hilltop Church of Christ, 122 S. Burgess-av, next week.

The hour and a half services will begin at seven o'clock and conclude at 8:30. They are planned so that worshippers may come any time they wish and leave when they wish, whether they stay five minutes or an hour. There will be no sermons or talks. The time will be devoted entirely to music, short Scripture readings and prayers from the pulpit. The programs for each day will include suggested prayers and Scripture readings which those attending may use at the service or in their homes.

In describing the series of services, Rev. Carl Smith, minister of the Hilltop Church of Christ, said, "These services are simply sponsored by our church. They are meant for all members of the Hilltop who feel the need of prayer in these times. And that includes us all."

The theme for the week will be "Making ourselves fit for peace." Although there will be no sermons or talks, the prayers and Scripture readings will be centered around the following themes: Monday, "Peace in the midst of conflict"; Tuesday, "The peace of God shall keep you"; Wednesday, "Blessed are the peacemakers"; Thursday, "This is the victory", and Friday, "Making ourselves fit for peace."

The week of the prayer services is also the Universal Week of Prayer which is being observed by churches around the world.

Prince of Peace District Contest To Be Sunday

The District Prince of Peace Declamation Contest in which Gail Hinton of West High, winner in Franklin County will compete, will be held Sunday, Jan. 7, at the First Baptist Church in Newark, Rev. B. F. Lamb, president of the Ohio Council of Churches, Columbus, has announced.

Other counties to be represented in the competition will be Wayne, Muskingum, Belmont, Coshocton, Guernsey and Knox.

The winner will receive a gold medal and will become eligible to enter the state contest in Columbus, in which cash prizes and college scholarships will be awarded.

This contest will be one of 22 district competitions to be held in the state this year in the annual contest sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches. One hundred fifty boys and girls of high school age who have won silver medals in their respective counties will participate.

These 150 are "survivors" among the more than 4300 who entered the opening contests in their local churches throughout the state on Armistice Sunday.

In Passing

By Esther Weakley

And, ever wistful of the doom to come,
I built her many a fire for love . . .
for mirth . . .
When snows were falling on our oaks outside,
Dear, many a winter fire upon the hearth!
(Farewell . . . farewell . . . farewell . . . farewell . . .)
We dare not think too long on those who died,
While still so many yet must come to birth."

Understanding Is Necessary

We believe that intercultural understanding as well as equality of opportunity is basic to the development of both character and citizenship. Much of the achievement of the past in the history of our country has been due to the combined contributions of many cultures. It is logical to suppose, then, that the future hope of our civilization depends upon the continued intermingling of cultures. To this end, we believe that this community should make a definite effort to utilize the talents and abilities of these different cultural groups.

We recognize the danger to character development that is inherent in racial or social prejudice, a danger no less real to the prejudiced individual than to the dispossessed individual against whom the feeling is directed. For this reason, we must guard our children against this contagion of intolerance as vigilantly as we would guard them against any other scourge. We should, therefore, keep a watchful eye on our own actions and beliefs because prejudice is not an inherent trait; rather it is the result of education, either conscious and unconscious.

Believing that the source of prejudice is fear, we would urge freedom from fear. Believing that intolerance grows out of economic insecurity, we would urge provisions for social security for all groups.

All this applies not merely to our relations with the peoples in our own country but to our relations with the peoples of the whole world. The recent revolutionary changes in methods of communication and modes of travel have tended to minimize both time and space. We now find ourselves living in close contact with all the nations of this globe. The necessity for maintaining harmony with these nations is imperative. For this reason we advocate that everyone foster and promote, with all the zest and energy of united conviction, the following attitudes among themselves and their fellow citizens:

1. Unwavering support of the United Nations and its auxiliary, UNESCO.
2. Faith in the peaceful settlement of disputes.
3. Patience in compromising differences within and among nations.

GOOD HEALTH

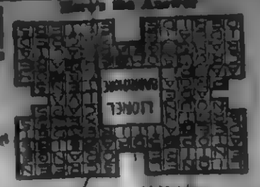
Answer to Question No. 1:

Children make up almost one-third of the United States' 160 million citizens. Thanks to a continued high birth rate and a steadily falling death rate, the child population reached an all time high of 47.5 million in 1949. This is six million greater than in 1940.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. They are probably more health conscious than any other people in the world. Foreign visitors often comment on the widespread interest of the average American in medical discoveries. Newspapers, magazines, radio and television have contributed to this education and there are 20,000 voluntary organizations in the United States interested in health. These are aside from the many federal or state organizations which deal with health.

Answer to Question No. 3:



3. The so-called "stenographer's breakfast" is a cup of coffee and a cigarette. The custom of eating skimpy breakfasts is blamed by doctors for mid-morning fatigue, frequent errors by workers and low grades by students. Breakfast should contain whole wheat bread or whole grain cereal, milk, fat in the form of butter or margarine, and protein, such as egg or meat.

Ticklers By George

"Are You Sure Your Razor Isn't in the Medicine Cabinet?"

STRICTLY FRESH

WITH congressmen threatening to impose all sorts of price, wage and rent controls, we hope they will find time to impose a little "self control."

A confidential tip: "the thing" is a nasty letter from President Truman.

An Indian in Elbowoods, N. D., is reported to have changed his name from George Drags Wolf to George Crow Flies High. You'd get tired of dragging wolves too!

Lots of people get disappointed things they've wanted for years. (They bought them for their husbands at Christmas.)

Baghdad scientists are trying to find the missing link between the first cave man and the first primitives to till a field. They link will probably turn out to be nothing more startling than an old hoe.

WHERE Science FEARS TO TREAD

"Fools rush in where angels fear to tread" might well apply to the casual manner with which people accept medicine containing thyroid, and the claims made for such remedies. Thyroid in any form should not be taken except under the direction of, and CONTINUED OBSERVATION of your doctor.

Your doctor will tell you that each person who needs thyroid gland treatment, is an INDIVIDUAL problem requiring careful study before the proper dosage can be determined, and that careful supervision is necessary to be sure of results. Science treads lightly and slowly.

The fact is, the true physician has too much respect for the potency of various gland substances to use them carelessly. They have their scientific uses, achieving excellent, useful results where indicated, but certainly are not something with which the layman can temper.

To take thyroid substance without scientific supervision is foolhardy, and may result in chronic trouble. Thyroid is not a universal "reducing medicine." It is a potent, powerful, necessary substance, which may be a boon to health, if administered properly—WHEN NEEDED. But only your doctor can determine whether or not you NEED it.

BIBLE COMMENT

Corinth Was Hostile To Paul, Who Later Wrote Love Sermon

IN this day and age of world affairs-consciousness it is surprising to note how many people know little of the ancient world in which the disciples lived.

One of the most interesting old world cities was Corinth, called the "eye of Greece." Located on the great trade lines between the east and the west, the city was destroyed by the Romans in 146 B. C., but exactly one hundred years later Julius Caesar restored it and made it a Roman colony.

It was in Corinth that Paul lived for a year and a half during his second missionary journey. There he met Aquila and Priscilla and joined them in their craft, tentmaking.

And it was in Corinth that Paul first spoke in the synagogue before a skeptical and embittered crowd of Jews. His sermon met with furious opposition for the Jews were already angered by the fact that the Christians worshiped in an adjacent building, the house of Justus.

The response to his preaching might well have justified Paul in singing a song of hate. Instead he wrote the famous sermon on love in the Thirteenth Chapter of the First Epistle.

It is said that adversity serves as a stepping stone to greatness and the story of Paul's struggle in Corinth and his triumph bear out this time-honored maxim.

The atmosphere in Corinth was unusually hostile and the church was faced with problems whose number was legion. Yet Paul met the challenge and emerged stronger and wiser in every way.

Hence the Epistles to the Corinthians offers us the most intimate picture of the early church in all its realism and provides fresh inspiration for those attempting to preach the Gospel in hostile parts of the world.

The average man can tell all he knows in one hour. Then he begins to talk about women.

John was hurt in an accident. The neighbors carried him into their house and called the doctor. When he arrived and started to take care of John, the agitated wife asked: "What's that stuff you are giving my husband?"

"An anesthetic," explained the doctor. "After he has taken it he won't know a thing."

Local Men Head Religion School

Rev. Norman L. Schreiber, pastor of the Westgate Methodist Church, is again chairman and dean of the Franklin County Council of Churches School of Religion which will convene in the First Congregational Church for six Monday nights beginning on Jan. 8.

Rev. Harold Dutt, pastor of the Westgate EUB Church, will teach a course entitled "A Faith For Modern Man."

Twenty courses are being offered in two 50-minute sessions. There are Bible courses, courses for Church School teachers and a course on "Home and Marriage" which will be taught by Dr. Floyd Faust of the Broad Street Church of Christ.

These six sessions will begin at 7:30 p. m. with a worship service, at which the dean will present a series of meditations on the theme, "Learning From the Master Teacher." The first class period is from 8:05 to 8:55 p. m. and the second from 9 to 9:50 p. m. The classes for Church School teachers meet for the full two periods.

The registration of this school was almost 700 last winter, and more than 75 churches in and about Columbus were represented.

This leadership training and adult education endeavor is one of the annual projects of the Franklin County Council of Churches.

"Pete" Case Quits Railroad After 48 Years Of Service

J. C. "Pete" Case, recently retired from the New York Central Railroad after serving a total of 48 years and one month with that transportation system, hangs up his uniform for the last time. "The uniform goes into retirement too," said "Pete" as he relegated it to the closet.

Jasoh C. "Pete" Case of 181 N. Harris-av, veteran Hilltopper since 1921 and for more than 48 years a railroad man has finally doffed the cap and uniform of a conductor and decided to "take life just as it comes," from now on.

"Pete" as he is more familiarly known to Hilltop folk and those men with whom he worked on railroads for nearly half a century kept the knowledge of his plans to retire from active railroad work a secret from his co-workers and his family for more than a year and only made known his plans on the very last day. Even then he confessed that he was in doubt as to whether or not he should continue to work.

As a matter of fact, "Pete" Case worked on the railroad the last time on Oct. 31. He came home to his Hilltop residence as usual, although he knew it was to be his last day as a railroader. He said nothing about his year long plans of retiring. That evening he called the yards and told them to "mark him off the board" that he would not be available for the next run. Later that evening as he gave more thought to his action, he changed his mind and again called the yards telling them he would be ready on the next day.

Next morning, however, "Pete" again changed his mind, had his name taken off the board, went back to his bed to sleep some more and thereby begin his retirement and bring to an end a railroading career of 48 years and one month. He now is reconciled to the change and has decided that it is best to "take it easy."

It was while he was a youth of 20 years that Case first became associated with railroads starting as a brakeman on the old T & OC line which was later taken over by the New York Central lines. He stayed on with the NYC and eventually took over as a conductor with the greater portion of his runs being made on the Corning Division of the line. For a while he was conductor of a passenger run which traveled from Columbus to Charleston and return.
